Brett Kavanaugh Cannot Have It Both Ways

As the former dean of Yale Law School, I'm shocked by the judge's partisan turn.

Brett Kavanaugh and I differ on most fundamental questions of constitutional law. Nevertheless, as a former dean of the institution where he received his law degree, I have withheld comment on the merits of his appointment. I am proud of the rich diversity of views that Yale Law School has produced.

Over the past decade, Kavanaugh has been a casual acquaintance. He seemed a gentle, quiet, reserved man, always solicitous of the dignity of his position as a judge on the United States Court of Appeals for the District of Columbia Circuit. It was therefore with something approaching unbelief that I heard his speech after Christine Blasey Ford's testimony.

With calculation and skill, Kavanaugh stoked the fires of partisan rage and male entitlement. He had apparently concluded that the only way he could rally Republican support was by painting himself as the victim of a political hit job. He therefore offered a witches' brew of vicious unfounded charges, alleging that Democratic members of the Senate Judicial Committee were pursuing a vendetta on behalf of the Clintons. If we expect judges to reach conclusions based solely on reliable evidence, Kavanaugh's savage and bitter attack demonstrated exactly the opposite sensibility.

I was shell-shocked. This was not the Brett Kavanaugh I thought I knew. Having come so close to confirmation, Kavanaugh apparently cared more about his promotion than about preserving the dignity of the Supreme Court to which he aspired to join. Even if he sought to defend his honor as a husband and father, his unbalanced rantings about political persecution were so utterly inconsistent with the dispassionate temperament we expect from judges that one had to conclude that he had chosen ambition over professionalism.

His performance is indelibly etched in the public mind. For as long as Kavanaugh sits on the court, he will remain a symbol of partisan anger, a haunting reminder that behind the smiling face of judicial benevolence lies the force of an urgent will to power. No one who felt the force of that anger could possibly believe that Kavanaugh might actually be a detached and impartial judge. Each and every Republican who votes for Kavanaugh, therefore, effectively announces that they care more about controlling the Supreme Court than they do about the legitimacy of the court itself. There will be hell to pay.

I was in the end prompted to write this essay because on Thursday Kavanaugh published a remarkable editorial in the Wall Street Journal in which he apologized for his rash words and attempted to reclaim for himself the “independence and impartiality” so necessary for judges. But judicial temperament is not like a mask that can be put on or taken off at will. Judicial temperament is more than skin-deep. It is part of the DNA of person, as is well illustrated by Merrick Garland, who never once descended to the partisan rancor of Kavanaugh, despite the Senate’s refusal even to dignify his nomination with a hearing.

Judge Kavanaugh cannot have it both ways. He cannot gain confirmation by unleashing partisan fury while simultaneously claiming that he possesses a judicial and impartial temperament. If Kavanaugh really cared about the integrity and independence of the Supreme Court, he would even now withdraw from consideration.

But I see no evidence that he is about to withdraw. Kavanaugh will thus join the court as the black-robed embodiment of raw partisan power inconsistent with any ideal of an impartial judiciary. As the court moves to the right to accommodate Trump's appointments, Kavanaugh will inevitably become the focus of distrust and mobilization. His very presence will undermine the court's claim to legitimacy; it will damage the nation's commitment to the rule of law. It will be an American tragedy. Hear Trump's remarks

Dear Reader,

He's a successful businessman who never held public office before winning the Presidency...

He's coming into power after an electoral college landslide...

And he did it by beating an out-of-touch New Yorker opponent.

Once in office, he launches a vast trade war, promising to stand up for America's heartland, with 890 increased tariffs in total.

He even slashes immigration levels to America by 90%, while cracking down on illegal immigration through deportations targeting as many as 1.8 million people.

You may think I'm talking about Donald Trump.

But I'm actually describing Herbert Hoover, America 31st President.

The similarities between Trump and the man who saw a Great Depression happen under his watch are eerie.

And they won't stop here.

Over the last six months, my firm and I have spent hundreds of hours (and tens of thousands of dollars) in research to reach one shocking conclusion.

My research shows...

President Trump is about to face a crisis on the level of what President Hoover saw in 1929.

But it's not the kind of crisis anyone expects.

And just like with Herbert Hoover – the crisis could shut Republicans out of the White House for a generation or longer.

This presentation reveals exactly why.

On Friday, a Florida man known to have attended Trump campaign events was charged in connection with mailing at least 13 suspected explosive devices that targeted high-profile Democrats, including former pres. CNN's Tapper Compares Trump to Gangsters After Press Conference on Midterms
Share

Tweet

Email

BY: Paul Crookston

November 7, 2018 1:53 pm

CNN anchor Jake Tapper compared President Donald Trump to mafia bosses Wednesday, saying his leadership is reminiscent of films such as The Godfather.

Tapper was discussing Trump's press conference after the midterm elections in which Republicans lost control of the House but gained seats in the Senate. Trump downplayed the problem and blamed Republicans in the House who did not embrace him in their campaigns and subsequently lost.

Tapper said Trump "started out by doing a dance on the graves of Republicans who did not show him enough fealty."

"He danced on their graves. He said because they didn't embrace him they lost, and he was flip about it," Tapper said. "I've never seen a president take delight in people of his own party losing. And the only thing I can compare that to is some of the works of Francis Ford Coppola or Martin Scorsese."

Coppola directed The Godfather films, which won Academy Awards for Best Picture and Best Director and established his legacy as a Hollywood legend. Scorsese directed another classic mob movie, Goodfellas, and won Best Director and Best Picture Oscars for The Departed.

"That's how gangsters act—the idea you're not loyal to them and, therefore, you deserve the punishment," Tapper added.

To Tapper, Trump's behavior is the opposite of past presidents.

"There are plenty of presidents we've seen, whether Bill Clinton or George W. Bush or Barack Obama, who lose elections, who lose members of Congress in these wave elections whether it's '94 or 2006 or 2010, and there are members of Congress who didn't want them to campaign with them because it would be bad for their re-election, and they understand that," Tapper said.

"Trump did that in addition to all the lies and falsehoods he shared in that press conference and the denial of the fact that he had a—at best—mixed election night and the Democrats taking over the house is a huge problem for him," Tapper said.

Trump's press conference also included multiple spats with reporters, including Tapper's CNN colleague Jim Acosta. Trump angrily called him a "rude, terrible person" after Acosta sought to ask an extra question about Russia and sparred with the president over his rhetoric about the migrant caravan in Mexico.-

Trump fires Sessions, vows to fight Democrats if they launch probes

Sessions - an early Trump supporter who ran afoul of the president by recusing himself from an investigation into Russian meddling in the 2016 White House campaign - said in a letter to Trump that he had submitted his resignation "at your request." The 71-year-old former U.S. senator was informed on Wednesday morning by White House Chief of Staff John Kelly in a phone call that it was time to go, said an aide who spoke on condition of anonymity. Sessions' departure was the first in what could be a string of high-profile exits as Trump reshapes his team to gird for his own 2020 re-election effort. The Republican president named Sessions' chief of staff, Matthew Whitaker, as acting attorney general and said he would nominate someone for the job soon. Beautiful rainbow forms over Capitol Building on election night

We must protect the independence and integrity of Mueller's probe as it catches up to Trump and his team. Already, Mueller has secured multiple indictments and guilty pleas from Trump associates. We can't let Trump bring in a crony who could shut down this crucial investigation and deny us the truth and accountability we deserve.

This is a red alert moment, and we must respond. Americans will peacefully protest across the nation to let Trump and his administration know that they are not above the law.

Join us on Thursday, November 8th at 5:00 p.m. local time at an event near you. That's when most events will be, but double check the date and time for yours when you RSVP!

Trump thought that by waiting until after the polls closed on Election Day, our voices would be silent -- but he was wrong. With your help, our democracy will weather this challenging moment.

I hope you can join us,

P.S. If the website isn't loading for you, it's likely because thousands of Americans have signed up to peacefully protest in just the past 6 hours. Albert,

The New York Times just reported that Trump has fired Attorney General Jeff Sessions -- teeing the President up to hijack control of the Mueller investigation.

We are on the case -- and planning our rapid response plans. But this news just underscores the resounding message the American people sent yesterday -- we urgently need -- and now have -- a check on President Trump and his enablers in Congress.

Albert --

Donald Trump has fired Attorney General Jeff Sessions in a brazen attempt to stop the Robert Mueller investigation.

Our immediate response will determine the future of our democracy. Can you attend a rapid response rally?

Trump quickly announced that Matthew Whitaker will be in charge of the Mueller investigation. Wheeler said over a year ago that the direction of the Mueller investigation was “deeply concerning.”

Now, thanks to Trump, he's being setup to have final say on the scope, budget and indictments.

That is more than just deeply concerning, it is a constitutional crisis in the making.

Donald Trump said black people were 'too stupid' to vote for him, his former lawyer Michael Cohen claims

Donald Trump once claimed black people were "too stupid" to vote for him and regularly used explicitly racist language before coming into office, his former lawyer has claimed. Michael Cohen, who served as the president's lawyer and fixer for a decade, claimed he witnessed Mr Trump making derogatory comments about black people throughout the 2016 election campaign. Cohen has publicly split from Mr Trump since he was charged with campaign finance violations and tax fraud earlier this year. He pleaded guilty to several charges this summer, claiming he violated election laws at the direction of Mr Trump, to pay a porn star in a hush money agreement. In his first interview since his guilty plea, Cohen told Vanity Fair Mr Trump said "black people are too stupid to vote for me" after he made an observation that crowds at the candidate's rallies were largely caucasian. Cohen, who once said he would 'take a bullet' for the president, made a series of claims on Friday Credit: Reuters Cohen further claimed that after Nelson Mandela's death, Mr Trump said "name one country run by a black person that's not a shhole". He added that Mr Trump once said his decision not to pick a black Harvard graduate on The Apprentice "there's no way I can let this black f*g win". It is not the first time Mr Trump has been accused of racism. Earlier this year Mr Trump faced claims he had referred to African nations as "s hole countries". Omarosa appeared on The Apprentice before coming to work at the White House Credit: AFP Former aide Omarosa Manigault Newman also claimed Mr Trump had used the n-word during filming of reality TV show The Apprentice. At the time Sarah Sanders, the White House press secretary, said she could not "guarantee" that Mr Trump had never used the slur. The White House has not yet responded to these latest claims. It came after a week in which the US president amplified his hard-line stance on immigration, even suggesting American soldiers could open fire on a migrant caravan if its members threw rocks. In an address from the White House on Thursday evening, Mr Trump said: "If they [migrants] want to throw rocks at our military, our military fights back...I told them, consider it a rifle." Our men and women in uniform are better trained, better equipped, and better led so they meet any threat with confidence. A wasteful deployment of over-stretched Soldiers and Marines would be made much worse if they use force disproportional to the threat they face. They won't.- GEN(R) Marty Dempsey (@Martin_Dempsey) November 1, 2018 Mr Trump rowed back on the comments on Friday after former US generals, including a former Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, rebuked the idea and questioned the legality of such action. The US president changed course saying, "They [soldiers] won't have to fire.

What I don't want, I don't want these people throwing rocks." He added: "What they [migrants] did to the Mexican military is a disgrace. They hit them with rocks...they do that with us they are going to be arrested."

Earlier on Friday, the Nigerian Army, which has been accused of numerous human rights abuses, used Mr Trump's remarks to justify its fatal shootings of rock-throwing protesters this week. The Nigerian Army's official Twitter account posted a video of Mr Trump's remarks, saying: "Please Watch and Make Your Deductions". The tweet has since been deleted. The "Tent City" will house numerous soldiers for Operation Faithful Patriot, the deployment of military personnel to the border

Credit: AFP Mr Trump also defended his plans to sign an order next week to end what he called the "abuse" of the US asylum system, including the potential construction of "massive tent cities". He insisted that migrants seeking asylum status would be made to wait at the border while their requests are processed. "Everything we're doing is totally legal," he told reporters. "But we have one of the few systems where instead of telling people you can't come in, we take them in and we have to bring them to a court. It is the most ridiculous system in the world."

Caravan of hope | Despite Trump's warnings, weary migrants march The US military confirmed on Friday that more than 7,000 soldiers will be pre-positioned in states bordering Mexico by the end of the weekend. It is thought to be the largest peacetime deployment of active-duty troops to the border in nearly a century. Opponents have suggested this is a political stunt by the president, coming just days before critical midterm elections, and accused Mr Trump of spreading division. Asked whether he was creating violence, Mr Trump told a reporter: "You're creating violence by your question. The fake news is creating violence." Obama: "They're telling you the existential threat to America is a bunch of poor refugees 1,000 miles away. They're even taking our brave troops away from their families for a political stunt at the border. The men and women of our military deserve better than that." (via ABC) pic.twitter.com/cre2EF5Z2G- Kyle Griffin (@kylegriffin1) November 2, 2018 At the same time, former President Barack Obama was at a campaign rally in Florida warning against rhetoric he said was designed to sow fear. "In the closing weeks of this election, we have seen repeated attempts to divide us with rhetoric designed to make us angry and make us fearful," he told an audience in Miami. "You can be a check on that kind of behaviour." "They're telling you the existential threat to America is a bunch of poor refugees 1,000 miles away," Mr Obama said. "They're even taking our brave troops away from their families for a political stunt at the border. The men and women of our military deserve better than that."

As the midterms roared into their final weekend — with the biggest names in both parties exhorting their followers to vote — tight races across the country were setting the stage for an uncertain, but dramatic, conclusion. Much is on the line as voters will render a nationwide judgment on whether Trumpism is a historic anomaly or a reflection of modern-day America.

Author Stephen King has launched another

It all began with a question from author Don Winslow:

King replied:

It was at least the second time that King has referred to Cruz as a “slimy crawdad.” He also used the insult earlier this month when he implored Texans to vote for Democratic Rep. Beto O'Rourke:

King and Cruz have something of a history. In 2016, the man known for putting fear into the hearts of millions with his horror stories described Cruz as "very scary."

"Cruz is a fundamentalist Christian and it would almost be like electing the analog of an imam," King told the Daily Beast. "Someone whose first guiding principle would be the scripture rather than the Constitution."

Earlier this year, when King made a similar plea to vote for O'Rourke, Cruz fired back with a tweet calling the author a "limousine liberal."

King, a long time Harley-Davidson enthusiast, didn't let that one slide:

So far, Cruz hasn't responded to the "slimy crawdad" insult.

Democrats on Track to Win House as G.O.P.
Retains Senate Majority

Live From Our Reporters ›

Elizabeth Dias9m ago

An anti-abortion constitutional amendment passed in AL, and another is ahead in WV with 99% reporting. Both aim to challenge Roe in the Supreme Court.

Matt Flegenheimer20m ago

Major news in NY state politics: Dems take control of State Senate. Huge implications for liberal policymaking going forward.

Elizabeth Dias23m ago

As we wait for Georgia governor news: Exit polls show 89% of white evangelical voters supported Kemp.

Jeremy Peters27m ago

Alabama has voted to amend its constitution to allow Ten Commandments displays on public property. Roy Moore lives on.

Jeremy Peters29m ago

Trump is getting — and taking — a lot of credit for R victories. But Kris Kobach, a Trump ally considered for a cabinet job, lost big for Kansas gov.

Matt Flegenheimer31m ago

Remarkable on Florida: The swing-iest swing state on the presidential map, and a Dem hasn't been elected governor since 1994.

Nate Cohn40m ago

Mike Bishop has a four-point lead in MI-8, but we continue to estimate that Elissa Slotkin is the favorite.

Astead Herndon43m ago

Great night for minority House candidates in white swing districts. Allred in Texas.

Underwood in Illinois. Delgado in New York.

Jeremy Peters55m ago

In Trump's first tweet of the night, he declares victory even though Rs are on track to lose House. "Tremendous success tonight. Thank you to all!"

Nate Cohn57m ago

Lauren Underwood is the projected winner in IL-14, another stunner in an overwhelmingly white and reliably Republican district.

Matt Flegenheimer1h ago

Evidence of Beto coattails down ballot, even in defeat? Dems are running strong in key suburban districts like TX-7 and TX-32.

Matt Flegenheimer1h ago

Gillum concedes in Florida gov race. Maybe the biggest win tonight for GOP, and a major disappointment for Dems who cheered his progressive platform.

Astead Herndon2h ago

Re: Beto, few progressives in Texas thought he'd win. They hoped he'd build lasting infrastructure for Dems to compete there statewide going forward.

Astead Herndon2h ago

Gretchen Whitmer wins race for Mich. governor, another Dem pickup in a state Trump won. Crowd here at her Detroit watch party is going wild.

Nate Cohn2h ago

This would be a huge surprise. A Democrat is leading in Oklahoma's 5th with 78% counted. Kendra Horn is favored in our forecast at the moment.

Astead Herndon2h ago

Jared Polis has won in Colorado, making him the country's first openly gay man elected as governor — and likely the country's most progressive gov.

Elizabeth Dias2h ago

It's official: Ilhan Omar of Minn. and Rashida Tlaib of Mich., both Democrats, will make history together as the first Muslim women in Congress.

Matt Flegenheimer2h ago

Cruz scoffed at Beto talk of changing Texas electorate. “Perhaps in Massachusetts,” he told me in August. Tonight, he sweats a bit, but survives.

Nate Cohn2h ago

Ted Cruz is on track for a comfortable victory in Texas, according to our estimates, even though Beto leads in the reported vote.

Matt Flegenheimer2h ago

With apparent Dan Donovan loss, New York City has exactly zero Republicans in its congressional delegation.

Nate Cohn2h ago

We also believe that Democrats are on track for victory in NY11 (real upset), TX7, MN3, CO6, KS3, FL26, and TX32.

Elizabeth Dias2h ago

Marsha Blackburn's win in Tennessee is big for Republicans looking to build their Senate margin. Also, what Taylor Swift effect ...?

Elizabeth Dias2h ago

Guess who is headed to the Senate? Mitt Romney.

Nate Cohn2h ago

Don't get excited about Beto. Ted Cruz is on track for victory. Almost all of the remaining vote is Republican territory.

Jeremy Peters3h ago

Fox News — yes, Fox — projects Dems will win the House. A startling call given how many races are so tight and how many Californians are still voting.

Matt Flegenheimer3h ago

Donnelly's loss in Indiana is a bitter one for Senate Dems. It severely narrows any path to taking the majority.

Astead Herndon3h ago

Detroit Mayor Mike Duggan expects big wins for Dems across the ticket. He says the party is leading in even traditionally weak parts of Michigan.

Jeremy Peters3h ago

Two Republican governors in blue states, two very different outcomes. Rauner (Ill.) loses. Baker (Mass.) — who called Trump "hateful, racist" — wins.

Matt Flegenheimer3h ago

Bob Casey's Senate win in Pa. was expected but still notable. As with Brown in Ohio, a Dem coasts in a Trump state.

Astead Herndon3h ago

Amendment 4 in Florida has passed, meaning 1.5 million felons will get voting rights restored.

Nate Cohn3h ago

I still see the Dems on track to take the House. Not D+40. But more like our polls showed, which added up to D+32 with a ton of super close races.

Matt Flegenheimer3h ago

Senator Bob Menendez wins re-election in NJ. He'd been hobbled by federal corruption charges, and Dems had been a bit worried.

Astead Herndon3h ago

One thing looks certain: the Dems' dream scenario, where the House was decided early after wins in places like VA-5 or KY-6, is not happening.

Elizabeth Dias4h ago

The vice president's brother, Greg Pence, just won his race for Congress in IN-6. (He is also a Republican.)

Jeremy Peters4h ago

Donna Shalala's House win in Florida suggests some Dem rebound in the last 2 weeks. The GOP thought they had a good chance there pre-mail bomber.

Astead Herndon4h ago

Ayanna Pressley has become the first black woman elected to represent Massachusetts in Congress. Expect more barriers broken tonight.

Lisa Lerer4h ago

Elizabeth Warren wins, as expected. That brings us a step closer to 2020: She said she'd "take a hard look" at a presidential run after the midterms.

Elizabeth Dias4h ago

Texas is a test case: how many hidden white evangelical and suburban women voters will turn from the GOP for Beto?

Jonathan Martin4h ago

First Dem pickup of the night appears to be in Va., where Jennifer Wexton is routing Rep. Barbara Comstock. She's up 16 pts with under 60% reporting.

Nate Cohn4h ago

I don't see anything indicating a systematic House forecasting error. From here, the GOP needs a ton of luck: Scratch out narrow wins, over and over.

Jeremy Peters4h ago

Some context. The House has flipped control only three times since 1954. Two of those times have been in the last 12 years: 2006 and 2010.

Jonathan Martin4h ago

Chesterfield County, Va., usually posts its returns right out of the gate. To defeat Dave Brat, Abigail Spanberger will need a healthy margin there.

Astead Herndon4h ago

Tim Kaine cruising toward victory in Virginia is not a surprise. More important for the party: That he lifts Dems in much closer House races.

Elizabeth Dias5h ago

It's about more than Manchin in West Virginia:

Voters are deciding on amending the constitution to ensure it doesn't contain a right to abortion.

Matt Flegenheimer5h ago

No Dem senator has done more to present himself as bipartisan/Trump-tolerant than Manchin. We'll see if he's rewarded.

Nate Cohn5h ago

It's early, but it looks as if the urban-rural split is just going to keep getting deeper.

Elizabeth Dias5h ago

Unsurprising: Bernie Sanders won his re-election in Vermont.

Matt Flegenheimer5h ago

One big Florida Q: Can Gillum carry Sen. Nelson? Dems are hoping young/nonwhite enthusiasm for Gillum can lift all boats.

Jonathan Martin5h ago

Still VERY early in the vote-counting, but Donnelly is running behind his 2012 performance (when he won by about 5 points) in a few Indiana counties.

Lisa Lerer5h ago

From AP's exit poll: More than a third of voters said Trump wasn't a factor. That feels high, given how often they brought him up to me in interviews.

Nate Cohn5h ago

Turnout is way higher than anyone could expect. One example: In Pinellas County-St. Petersburg, Fla., turnout with time still to go is 87% of 2016.

Astead Herndon5h ago

In Georgia governor's race, poll hours have been extended in Gwinnett County after voting issues. Good news for Dems, who need a big turnout.

Elizabeth Dias5h ago

To give you an idea of how important Indiana is to Republicans tonight, Trump went there twice in last four days. (Obama went once.)

Elizabeth Dias6h ago

Anti-abortion groups have had a huge ground game this cycle — they especially targeted Indiana to oust Donnelly, so this is their first test tonight.

Jeremy Peters6h ago

Remember, Donnelly's opponent in 2012 was weak. Richard Mourdock blew up his campaign over an insensitive comment on rape and pregnancy.

Jonathan Martin6h ago

If you're looking at Miami County (Indiana) and wondering: Yes, Donnelly did far better in 2012 than he's on track to at the moment.

Matt Flegenheimer6h ago

Hard to overstate the combo of hope/dread in convos with voters lately, from both parties.

Anxiety is bipartisan.

Astead Herndon6h ago

One example I just heard for those watching youth vote: At Penn State, student participation up 5 times among registered voters, per Next Gen America.

Elizabeth Dias6h ago

Turnout voter groups to watch tonight: millennials, evangelicals, African-Americans, Hispanics, and suburban women.

Lisa Lerer6h ago

Hot take: It's all about turnout. I always find it a bit of a relief when all the campaigning is done and only one thing matters: counting votes!

Astead Herndon6h ago

Polls in Kentucky's Sixth were deadlocked. But Dems hoped a big fund-raising advantage would give them a critical edge in the final days.

Jonathan Martin6h ago

About that House race in Kentucky: Local political pros say that Amy McGrath needs around 57% in Fayette County to offset her rural losses.

Early turnout is high even in some states without competitive elections, like Maryland and Louisiana.

By Steve Benen

Soon after the 2016 election, Donald Trump had a private meeting in the White House with Barack Obama, and the sitting president walked his successor through his daily duties. As regular readers may recall, the Wall Street Journal noted at the time that Trump “seemed surprised by the scope” of the presidency.

It quickly became obvious that Trump sought a job he knew very little about. He soon after admitted as much, telling Reuters, “This is more work than in my previous life. I thought it would be easier.” He added in an Associated Press interview, “I never realized how big it was.”

The question then became how the nation’s first-ever amateur president would adapt. Would he rise to the challenge, roll up his sleeves, tackle his monumental tasks with vigor, and learn the value of a hard day’s work? By all accounts, no. Axios reported in January that Trump’s official schedule tends to start late and wrap up early, leaving him with an abundance of “executive time” – a charitable euphemism for the time the president spends watching television, making calls, and tweeting.

Politico reports today on the latest evidence from the Republican’s official schedule, which points to a president who doesn’t appear to be burning the candle at both ends.

As a freewheeling president in one of the world’s most regimented jobs, Trump appears to be redefining the nature of the role. Past presidents were disciplined in their scheduled time, squired from meeting to meeting, event to event, from the moment they arrived in the Oval Office until they headed up to the residence at night.

Trump, by contrast, enjoys huge blocks of unscheduled time in which he can do as he pleases. He is hardly the first president to have an erratic schedule.... But even Trump allies who say the president is always working concede that the Trump presidency is uniquely defined by his down time, when his short-term bugaboos become the drivers of his agenda, rather than any long-term vision.

The reporting points to two unrelated points. The first is that Trump, on a typical day, doesn't appear to be doing a lot of actual work. Last Tuesday, for example, his official duties took up just over three hours. In contrast, he had nine hours of "executive time."

Not surprisingly for a post-policy president, this also means, as Politico added, that Trump's schedules are "remarkably light on policy discussions." Last week's schedule, for example, included just two hours for policy briefings.

The other point is that Trump, by virtue of his erratic schedule, is easily distracted since he has so little focus on substantive work. (He reportedly demands a White House "organized to answer to his immediate impulses.")

This presidency didn't start out this way, but Politico added that Trump "chafed at back-to-back meetings that kept him off his phone and away from the television."

Whether this dynamic is encouraging or discouraging – would Trump do more bad things if he took his job more seriously? – is a matter of perspective. Either way, presidential descriptions of all the "hard work" he does are very difficult to take seriously.

THIS NATION IS IN DANGER

I've commented freely about my personal views of this administration. Now, I'd like to comment as a mental health professional and psychotherapist. I've been trained extensively in diagnosis and treatment as well as in the study and understanding of human development and behavior. Confidentiality demands that I protect the privacy of my patients and not wildly speculate about the behavior and functioning of people not observed extensively. My mandate as a professional is to protect my patients and the public -- to prevent self-harm as well as harm to others. This ethical mandate overrides my obligation to privacy when public safety is at risk.

It is in this context that I am ethically bound to comment about the dangerousness of Donald Trump and his administration. There is a vast body of readily observable behavior we have witnessed which far exceeds information we may obtain in personal interviews and which clearly points to the danger Trump represents for this nation.

For now, I want to address one aspect of this danger -- his aggressive use of language to incite violence among his supporters. He has repeatedly used threats and bullying tactics with those he sees as his enemies who he identifies as anyone opposed to his views. His divisive rhetoric spares no-one -- other politicians, world leaders, the disabled, minorities, and the media. He delights in provoking anger and inspiring altercations, such as taking pride in body-slams to a reporter.

This is dangerous behavior in any context, but it is especially dangerous when spoken by someone in a position of power. This leads to acts such as today's bombs delivered to the media he despises and those in public office he calls his enemies. This is the behavior we've witnessed in history where aggression destroys a nation. Independent of what we learn of those who sent the bombs today, there's no doubt that violence is far more likely when stirred by a violence-prone leader. Mental health professionals' warnings need to be heard. Silence is complicity.Dr.C. Silverman

Psychologist Says
Trump is Literally

Making Americans Sick

Both professional and amateur psychologists have long been speculating about President Donald Trump's mental instability. Evidence of this is on display every day in the White House and in the media as the president's latest lies and misbehavior are reported on insatiably.

And now there is new evidence that Trump's mental illness may be contagious. According to a prominent psychologist, his manic episodes and the need for constant attention is making more and more Americans filled with anxiety and in need of their own professional mental health care.

Jennifer Panning, a psychologist from Evanston, Illinois, recently spoke with POLITICO, and shared her views on the mental health of the president and the entire country.

According to a Panning, Trump has a distinctive combination of “provocation, brinkmanship, and self-drama,” that has caused what she calls “Trump Anxiety Disorder.” She has achieved a new degree of fame for being the person who first identified and named that particular malady. She said this anxiety disorder is very widespread throughout the country (possibly the world) and it even affects people who don't closely follow politics or the news.

Panning says that "Trump Anxiety Disorder" can be identified by noting such symptoms as "increased worry, obsessive thought patterns, muscle tension and obsessive preoccupation with the news."

Another professional therapist, Cynthia Baum-Baicker, agrees with this diagnosis. She is treating a married couple whose sex life has been undermined by conflicting opinions about Trump. She said the president is an omnipresent figure who now looms darkly over everyone's lives whether they want him to or not.

“Authority figures represent the parent, so President Trump now sits in the seat of parent for all Americans,” explained Baum-Baicker. “So my ‘father figure’ is now a bully. He is an authoritarian who doesn’t believe in studying and doing homework. Rather than giving reassurance he creates uncertainty.”

Trump’s negative effect on the mental health of America is not affecting just liberals either. “Trump Anxiety Disorder” affects everyone across the political spectrum and even conservatives are having major anxiety issues.

Washington D.C. psychotherapist Elisabeth Joy LaMotte had these insights into this new mental health phenomenon:

“Conservatives are hurting, too. I view this anxiety as collective in a very strong sense. They’re hurting in part because they feel they don’t have permission to share their real views, or they feel conflicted because they agree with things that the president is doing but they’re uncomfortable with his language and tactics.... And they feel alienated and isolated from friends and family who differ from their views, as if there’s not permission to view it in a different way in D.C.”

New York psychiatrist Michael Dulchin said Trump's unpredictability is creating a great deal of stress and uncertainty that people don't like. "Human beings hate two things," Dulchin said. "One is to look to the future and think you don't have enough energy to succeed and live up to your expectations. The other is to not be able to predict the environment."

He then added when these two thing are added together you get one result: "Anxiety and depression."

According to POLITICO:

"Empirical data bolsters the anecdotal reports from practitioners. The American Psychiatric Association in a May survey found that 39 percent of people said their anxiety level had risen over the previous year—and 56 percent were either “extremely anxious” or “somewhat anxious about “the impact of politics on daily life.” A 2017 study found two-thirds of Americans’ see the nation’s future as a “very or somewhat significant source of stress.”

So now the truth is out. Trump is driving almost everyone insane. His mental illness is indeed contagious. Our only hope to get back on an even keel is to retire him as quickly as possible from public life. We need to get him out of our White House and get a new president who will project calm and stability and unity and certainty. The nation's health depends upon it.

China's record trade surplus with the US means Trump's strategy is "failing"

China posts record trade surplus with the US in September, Beijing says

China recorded a record trade surplus of $34.13 billion with the U.S. in September amid intense trade tensions between the world's two largest economies.

today

The US-China trade war has made China's trade surplus bigger than ever

Donald Trump's tariffs on China are going great, the US president assured the world yesterday. “Their economy has gone down very substantially,” Trump said ...

Dear Reader,

He’s a successful businessman who never held public office before winning the Presidency...

He’s coming into power after an electoral college landslide...

And he did it by beating an out-of-touch New Yorker opponent. Once in office, he launches a vast trade war, promising to stand up for America’s heartland, with 890 increased tariffs. He even slashes immigration levels to America by 90%, while cracking down on illegal immigration through deportations targeting as many as 1.8 million people.

You may think I'm talking about Donald Trump. But I'm actually describing Herbert Hoover, America 31st President.

The similarities between Trump and the man who saw a Great Depression happen under his watch are eerie. And they won't stop here.

Over the last six months, my firm and I have spent hundreds of hours (and tens of thousands of dollars) in research to reach one shocking conclusion. My research shows...

President Trump is about to face a crisis on the level of what President Hoover saw in 1929.

But it's not the kind of crisis anyone expects.

And just like with Herbert Hoover – the crisis could shut Republicans out of the White House for a generation or longer.

This presentation reveals exactly why.

The Fraudulence (and flatulence) Of Susan Collins

“We talk about how many women were raped last year, not how many men raped women. We talk about how many girls in a school district were harassed last year, not about how many boys harassed girls. We talk about how many teenage girls in the state of Vermont got pregnant last year, rather than how many boys and men impregnated teenage girls.

So you can see how the use of the passive voice has a political effect. It shifts the focus off of men and boys and onto girls and women. Even the term ‘violence against women’ is problematic. It’s a passive construction; there’s no active agent in the sentence. It’s a bad thing that happens to women, but when you look at that term ‘violence against women,’ nobody is doing it to them. It just happens to them. Men aren’t even a part of it.” - Jackson Katz elizabeth_gilbert_writer My father is a Vietnam veteran. A few months ago, I witnessed a very touching conversation between my dad and a woman his age, who had been a hippie and anti-Vietnam protestor. The woman said to my father, "I was against the war, but I'm sorry that we didn't respect your service and your sacrifice back then." My father reached across the table, took this woman's hand and said, "Thank you for saying that. But here's the thing — your side was right. The protestors were correct. The Vietnam War was unjust and inhumane. I didn't know it back then, but I know it now. You were right to protest. You were on the right side of history. Without your protests, the war would've gone on even longer." The woman said, "But all the same — I thank you for your service." And my father said, "And I thank you for your protest." #america taylorswift I'm writing this post about the upcoming midterm elections on November 6th, in which I'll be voting in the state of Tennessee. In the past I've been reluctant to publicly voice my political opinions, but due to several events in my life and in the world in the past two years, I feel very differently about that now. I always have and always will cast my vote based on which candidate will protect and fight for the human rights I believe we all deserve in this country. I believe in the fight for LGBTQ rights, and that any form of discrimination based on sexual orientation or gender is WRONG. I believe that the systemic racism we still see in this country towards people of color is terrifying, sickening and prevalent. I cannot vote for someone who will not be willing to fight for dignity for ALL Americans, no matter their skin color, gender or who they love. Running for Senate in the state of Tennessee is a woman named Marsha Blackburn. As much as I have in the past and would like to continue voting for women in office, I cannot support Marsha Blackburn. Her voting record in Congress appalls and terrifies me. She voted against equal pay for women. She voted against the Reauthorization of the Violence Against Women Act, which attempts to protect women from domestic violence, stalking, and date rape. She believes businesses have a right to refuse service to gay couples. She also believes they should not have the right to marry. These are not MY Tennessee values. I will be voting for Phil Bredesen for Senate and Jim Cooper for House of Representatives. Please, please educate yourself on the candidates running in your state and vote based on who most closely represents your values. For a lot of us, we may never find a candidate or party with whom we agree 100% on every issue, but we have to vote anyway. So many intelligent, thoughtful, self-possessed people have turned 18 in the past two years and now have the right and privilege to make their vote count. But first you need to register, which is quick and easy to do. October 9th is the LAST DAY to register to vote in the state of TN. Go to vote.org and you can find all the info. Happy Voting! 🗳️😊🌈

unpopular across globe and America's standing dropped, new poll shows

The Pew survey comes as Trump's second year in office draws to a close. In that time, the American president has made waves across the world with his attacks on multilateral institutions, such as the United Nations and NATO, and his public spats with key allies, including Canadian Prime Minister Justin Trudeau and British Prime Minister Theresa May.

The poll also comes just one week after Trump and other world leaders gathered in New York for the U.N. General Assembly. Trump's message – vowing to put American sovereignty over multilateralism – was not well received. Key U.S. allies also sharply rejected Trump's hard line against Iran.

Pew surveyed more than 26,000 people in 25 countries, from May 20 to Aug. 12. The center, which studies public opinion and demographic trends, released the poll late Monday.

There were some bright spots for the U.S., with residents of Israel, the Philippines and South Korea registering overwhelmingly positive attitudes toward America.

But in other countries, many respondents said the U.S. is not stepping up to solve global crises like it used to, and America's reputation as a champion of freedom has also waned.

“Frustrations with the U.S. in the Trump era are particularly common among some of America’s closest allies and partners,” the Pew report concludes.

In Germany, for example, only 10 percent of those surveyed said they had confidence in Trump, 75 percent said the U.S. is now doing less to address global problems, and many believe the U.S. no longer respects personal freedoms.

Trump gets his lowest marks from those living right next door in Mexico – with only 6 percent of respondents saying they trust Trump as a leader. The president repeatedly pledge since his presidential campaign to build a wall on the southern border with Mexico. About one-quarter of Canadians rate Trump positively.

In Russia, only 26 percent of those surveyed voiced a favorable opinion of the U.S., a drop from 41 percent in 2017, and just 19 percent Russians have a positive view of Trump.

German Chancellor Angela Merkel has the highest rating among the five leaders tested, with 52 percent saying they trust her. French President Emmanuel Macron earned a 42 percent positive rating.

In a similar 2017 poll, Pew found that global opinion of the U.S. had "dropped precipitously" after Trump's election. Former President Barack Obama, who championed multilateralism and nurtured ties with foreign leaders, was seen as a more trustworthy steward of global affairs, with a median of 64 percent expressing confidence in his ability to direct American foreign policy, the 2017 survey found.

Senator Susan Collins said she is “confident the FBI will follow up on any leads that result from the interviews.”

Trump's refusal to allow Kavanaugh to talk to the FBI means only one thing: He is guilty of sexual assault and if he talks, he'll lie. And if he lies, he'll be committing a federal crime. And if he commits a federal crime, he could go to jail. Just what you want in a SC justice.

Donald Trump's divisive agenda is threatening health care, immigration, voting rights, and campaign finance reform.

But standing together, we can stop the Trump agenda and work towards a brighter future for America. Can you contribute $5 to take back the House this fall? (It'll be Triple-Matched).

Albert, we MUST win the House in November.

We've got tremendous momentum already. Every day, more people join our movement to fight back against the intolerance, discrimination, and injustice of the Trump Administration.

It's crucial that we keep it up through Election Day.

2018 is our chance to put our grassroots energy to the test. It's our chance to reclaim the House and restore the people's voice in our politics.

That's why it's CRITICAL we stand with Democrats Joe Radinovich (Minnesota), Anthony Brindisi (New York), and Lauren Baer

(Florida). Please chip in now!

TRUMP TOOK PART IN SUSPECT SCHEMES TO EVADE TAX BILLS

Behind the Myth of a Self-Made Billionaire, a Vast Inheritance From His Father

This article is by David Baron, a senior writer at The New York Times.

President Trump participated in a series of schemes to evade taxes, including the use of offshore trusts and the creation of a trust for his children, according to a review of over 100,000 pages of records, including confidential tax returns, that The New York Times has obtained.

Mr. Trump used the previously undisclosed trust to shelter millions of dollars in assets, including real estate and stocks, from the federal estate tax. The trust was created in 2003, and Mr. Trump transferred assets to it, including a large portion of his father's estate.

The president declined to provide records on several issues in connection with this article.

Charles J. Haden, a senior writer at The New York Times, provided a written statement on Mr. Trump's tax returns.

Mr. Haden said, "There was no fraud or any criminal activity." The review of records shows that Mr. Trump's father, Fred C. Trump, was a successful businessman and a member of the New York City elite.

'Better to Drown': A Greek Refugee Camp's Epidemic of Despair

A Fostering Symbol of Europe's Hardening View of Migration

By PATRICK KINGLEY
MORIA, Greece — He survived the journey to Greece, and a promise of a better life. But for Mr. Thanasis, a 35-year-old Greek, the journey to the island of Moria was a nightmare.

At the height of the European migrant crisis in 2015, Moria was a place of hope for many. But now, it is a place of despair. The camp is overcrowded, and the conditions are terrible.

Mr. Thanasis said he had been in the camp for over a year. He said he had seen many people die, and he had seen many people suffer.

Outside Europe, the European Union has a reputation for being a place of hope. But now, it is a place of despair. The camp is overcrowded, and the conditions are terrible.

In July 2016, I signed the Citizen Therapists Against Trumpism Manifesto. Unfortunately, everything we feared has come to pass. As we prepare for the next election, please reread this depiction of the dystopian society we now endure. If we do not choose wisely, it will get worse:

A Public Manifesto: Citizen Therapists Against Trumpism

As psychotherapists practicing in the United States, we are alarmed by the rise of the ideology of Trumpism, which we see as a threat to the well-being of the people we care for and to American democracy itself. We cannot remain silent as we witness the rise of an American form of fascism. We can leverage this time of crisis to deepen our commitment to American democracy.

What is Trumpism?

Trumpism is an ideology, not an individual, and it may well endure and grow after the Presidential election even if Donald Trump is defeated. (Variants can be seen all over Europe.) Trumpism is a set of ideas about public life and a set of public practices characterized by:

- Scapegoating and banishing groups of people who are seen as threats, including immigrants and religious minorities.
- Degrading, ridiculing, and demeaning rivals and critics.
- Fostering a cult of the Strong Man who:
 - Appeals to fear and anger
 - Promises to solve our problems if we just trust in him
 - Reinvents history and has little concern for truth
 - Never apologizes or admits mistakes of consequence

- Sees no need for rational persuasion
- Subordinates women while claiming to idealize them
- Disdains public institutions like the courts when they are not subservient
- Champions national power over international law and respect for other nations
- Incites and excuses public violence by supporters

At the political level, Trumpism is an emerging form of American fascism, a point being made by social critics across the political spectrum, including Robert Reich, Robert Kagan, and

Andrew Sullivan. As journalist Adam Gopnik points out, whether or not the term “fascism” fully fits, it’s clear that the American Republic faces a clear and present danger when the candidate of a major political party embraces an anti-democratic ideology. At the cultural level, the Urban Dictionary has defined Trumpism as “the belief system that encourages pretentious, narcissistic behavior as a way to achieve money, fame, and power.”

What are the Effects of Trumpism?

- Fear and alienation among scapegoated groups, beginning with Latino immigrants and Muslims, and then other groups

who become identified as threats

- Exaggerated masculinity as a cultural ideal, with particular influence on young people and economically insecure men

- Coarsening of public life by personal attacks on those who disagree

- Erosion of the American democratic tradition which has emphasized the agency of we-the-people instead of the - ----- Strong Man tradition of power

Where Did Trumpism Come From?

This question is bigger than Donald Trump. The next public figure to capture the wave of Trumpism may be less clownish and have a better set of movement-building skills, and thus be even more dangerous. Following is a partial list of forces that underlie Trumpism:

- Economic insecurity, particularly among working-class Americans
- The threat of terrorism since 9/11
- Fear of immigrants (related to economic insecurity and threats of terrorism)
- Distrust for government and politicians at a time of polarized

gridlock

- Growing distrust for other institutions such as religion, the press, and the courts
- Rapid cultural change that has left many people confused and alienated

Why Therapists Must Speak Out

We must speak out for the well-being of people we treat and care for in our work. Trumpism will undermine the emotional health of those seen as the “other” in America—both historically denigrated groups and those whose turn will come. And it will compromise the integrity of those who are seduced by the illusion that real Americans can only become winners if others become losers. The public rhetoric of Trumpism normalizes what therapists work against in our work: the tendency to blame others in our lives for our personal fears and insecurities and then battle these others instead of taking the healthier but more difficult path of self-awareness and self-responsibility. It also normalizes a kind of hyper-masculinity that is antithetical to the examined life and healthy relationships that psychotherapy helps people achieve. Simply stated, Trumpism is inconsistent with emotionally healthy living—and we have to say so publicly.

We must speak out for the well-being of our democracy, which is both a way of living and acting together and a set of political institutions. Therapists have taken for granted how our work relies on a democratic tradition that gives people a sense of personal agency to create new narratives and take personal and collective responsibility for themselves, their families, and their communities. Reliance on a Strong Man who will solve our problems and deal with internal and external enemies is a direct threat to the democratic basis of psychotherapy. Therapy only flourishes on democratic soil.

Why speak collectively? Our responses thus far have been primarily personal—and too often confined to arm-chair diagnoses of Donald Trump. But a collective crisis faces our nation, a harkening back to the economic depression and demoralization of the 1930s (which fed European fascism) and the upheaval over Jim Crow and Black civil rights in the 1950s. Fortunately, the resolution of these crises led to a deepening of American democracy, not the abandonment of it. Martin Luther King, influenced by his mentor Bayard Rustin and by theologian Reinhold Niebuhr, didn't just critique unjust systems from the outside. He called for strategic, collective work to take back an American democracy that belongs to all the people. As therapists, we have been entrusted by society with collective responsibility in the arena of mental, behavioral, and relational health. When there is a public threat to our domain of responsibility we must speak out together, not just to protest but to deepen our commitment to a just society and a democratic way of life. This means being citizen therapists who are concerned with community well-being as much as personal well-being, since the two are inextricably joined.

Where We Stand as Citizen Therapists

We understand the draw of Trumpism and we acknowledge that some of our fellow citizens, and some of our clients, voted for Donald Trump not because they embrace all aspects of Trumpism but because they are frustrated with their circumstances and fed up with the current political system. We are against Trumpism and its architects, not against those who are inclined to give it a chance to change the direction of the country.

But we reject the false equivalence of saying that because there is dishonesty and demagoguery on all political sides, why not support someone from the outside? Trumpism is qualitatively different. To repeat: Trumpism undermines the core of American democracy by promoting the idea of a single leader who will bring greatness to the nation by battling Those People. Democracy requires personal and collective agency so that we can work together across differences to solve problems and develop a shared way of life.

Psychotherapists must be firmly on the side of democracy and work in solidarity with groups directly threatened by current and future versions of Trumpism. This work does not end with the election. The wake-up call has been received. Our first response is this manifesto. More to follow.

Therefore, as citizen therapists, we stand united against the dangerous ideology of Trumpism, and we encourage others to join us in a deepened commitment to a democratic way of life that engages the talents, yearnings, and capacities of all the people.

Professor HILL in her testimony identified a number of specific incidents in which Judge CLARENCE THOMAS made embarrassing comments to her about sexual activities. Among these was the reference to Judge THOMAS' sexual prowess and size. She made reference to a pornographic movie in which an individual by the name of LONG DONG SILVER played a role. She cited an instance in which she was in his office and he referred to a coke can and made the statement, "Who left their pubic hair on my coke," or words to that effect. During the interview on September 23, 1991, Professor HILL did not mention any of the above incidents.

Professor HILL stated she did not discuss specific incidents in detail because the interviewing Special Agent had advised her that, if the subject was too embarrassing, she did not have to answer. In fact, SA LUTON apologized for the sensitivity of the matter, but advised Professor HILL that she should be as specific as possible and give details. She was further advised if the questions were too embarrassing, SA LUTON would leave the room and she could discuss the matter with SA JAMESON.

THE TRUMP INHERITANCE

Trump Engaged in Suspect Tax Schemes as He Reaped Riches From His Father

President Trump has long sold himself as a self-made billionaire, but a Times investigation found that he received at least $413 million in today's dollars from his father's real estate empire.

The president participated in dubious tax schemes during the 1990s, including instances of outright fraud, that greatly increased the fortune he received from his parents.

11 Takeaways From The Times's Investigation

Into Trump's Wealth

Based on a trove of confidential financial records, the Times report offers the first comprehensive look at the inherited fortune and tax dodges that guaranteed Donald Trump a gilded life.

New York City has joined state regulators in examining whether Mr. Trump and his family underpaid taxes.

Re: Supplemental Background Investigation of Judge Brett Kavanaugh

Dear Director Wray and Mr. Boente:

It has been five days since the United States Senate Committee on the Judiciary and the White House announced that the FBI had been directed to conduct a supplemental investigation of Judge Brett Kavanaugh to investigate credible allegations of sexual assault made by our client, Dr. Christine Blasey Ford.

On Friday evening, after a telephone conversation with Mr. Boente, we sent an email offering Dr. Ford's full cooperation, including her willingness to be interviewed by FBI agents. We have repeatedly asked you to identify the Supervisory Special Agent responsible for this investigation, so that we could contact him or her directly. We have received no response.

We also sent you a series of emails and letters in which we identified witnesses and evidence that would likely assist the FBI in its investigation into Mr. Kavanaugh's sexual assault of Dr. Ford and asked you to forward them to the supervisory agent.

Despite these efforts, we have received no response from anyone involved in this investigation, and no response to our offer for Dr. Ford to be interviewed. This afternoon, we learned of media reports that the FBI does not intend to interview either Dr. Ford or Judge Kavanaugh. We hope that this reporting is inaccurate. It is inconceivable that the FBI could conduct a thorough investigation of Dr. Ford's allegations without interviewing her, Judge Kavanaugh, or the witnesses we have identified in our letters to you.

Statement from James Roche

I was Brett Kavanaugh's roommate at Yale University in the Fall of 1983. We shared a two-bedroom unit in the basement of Lawrence Hall on the Old Campus. Despite our living conditions, Brett and I did not socialize beyond the first few days of freshman year. We talked at night as freshman roommates do and I would see him as he returned from nights out with his friends. It is from this experience that I concluded that although Brett was normally reserved, he was a notably heavy drinker, even by the standards of the time, and that he became aggressive and belligerent when he was very drunk. I did not observe the specific incident in question, but I do remember Brett frequently drinking excessively and becoming incoherently drunk.

I became close friends with Debbie Ramirez shortly after we both arrived at Yale. She stood out as being exceptionally honest, with a trusting manner. As we got to know one another, I discovered that Debbie was very worried about fitting in. She felt that everyone at Yale was very rich, very smart and very sophisticated and that as a Puerto Rican woman from a less privileged background she was an outsider. Her response was to try hard to make friends and get along.

Based on my time with Debbie, I believe her to be unusually honest and straightforward and I cannot imagine her making this up.

Based on my time with Brett, I believe that he and his social circle were capable of the actions that Debbie described.

I do not consider myself to be a political person and I have no political agenda. I have shared this information with a small number of reporters who reached out to me directly because Debbie has a right to be heard and I believe her.

I have been asked for more detail and additional stories, but this is all that I am comfortable sharing. If I could contribute more first-hand information, I would, but I will not be granting any more interviews or answering any more questions at this time.

The Violence Against Women Reauthorization Act of 2013 passed the Senate 78-22.

The following 6 Republicans voted against it:

Senator Grassley

Senator Hatch

Senator Graham

Senator Cornyn

Senator Lee

Senator Cruz

Those 6 Senators are the ranking members of the Senate Judiciary Committee, who would be questioning Christine Blasey Ford.

Is it any wonder why she, as well as anyone seeking the truth, prefers to have the FBI investigate her claims against Judge Kavanaugh, rather than facing this group of misogynists?

And lots of other people helping. No we've broken a lot of records. We've broken virtually every record. Because you know, look I only need this space. They need much more room. For basketball, for hockey and all of the sports, they need a lot of room. We don't need it. We have people in that space. So we break all of these records. Really we do it without like, the musical instruments. This is the only musical: the mouth. And hopefully the brain attached to the mouth. Right? The brain, more important than the mouth, is the brain. The brain is much more important."

in Cuba (TS)

→ 1. The Joint Chiefs of Staff have considered the attached Memorandum for the Chief of Operations, Cuba Project, which responds to a request of that office for brief but precise description of pretexts which would provide justification for US military intervention in Cuba.

2. The Joint Chiefs of Staff recommend that the proposed memorandum be forwarded as a preliminary submission suitable for planning purposes. It is assumed that there will be similar submissions from other agencies and that these inputs will be used as a basis for developing a time-phased plan. Individual projects can then be considered on a case-by-case basis.

3. Further, it is assumed that a single agency will be given the primary responsibility for developing military and para-military aspects of the basic plan. It is recommended that this responsibility for both overt and covert military operations be assigned the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

JUSTIFICATION FOR US MILITARY INTERVENTION IN CUBA (TS)

THE PROBLEM

1. As requested* by Chief of Operations, Cuba Project, the Joint Chiefs of Staff are to indicate brief but precise description of pretext which they consider would provide justification for US military intervention in Cuba.

FACTS BEARING ON THE PROBLEM

2. It is recognized that any action which becomes pretext for US military intervention in Cuba will lead to a political decision which then would lead to military action.

3. Cognizance has been taken of a suggested course of action proposed by the US Navy relating to generated instances in the Guantanamo area.

4. For additional facts see Enclosure B.

DISCUSSION

5. The suggested course of action appended to Enclosure A are based on the premise that US military intervention will result from a period of heightened US-Cuban tensions which place the United States in the position of suffering justifiable grievances. World opinion, and the United Nations forum should be favorably affected by developing the international image of the Cuban government as rash and irresponsible, and as an alarming and unpredictable threat to the peace of the Western Hemisphere.

6. While the foregoing premise can be utilized at the present time it will continue to hold good only as long as there can be reasonable certainty that US military intervention in Cuba would not directly involve the Soviet Union. There is

* Memorandum for General Craig from Chief of Operations, Cuba Project, subject: "Operation MONGOOSE", dated 5 March 1962, on file in General Craig's office.
 Memorandum for the Chairman, Joint Chiefs of Staff, from Chief of Naval Operations, subject: "Instances to Provoke Military Actions in Cuba (TS)", dated 8 March 1962, on file in General Craig's office.

as yet no bilateral mutual support agreement binding the USSR to the defense of Cuba, Cuba has not yet become a member of the Warsaw Pact, nor have the Soviets established Soviet bases in Cuba in the pattern of US bases in Western Europe. Therefore, since time appears to be an important factor in resolution of the Cuba problem, all projects are suggested within the time frame of the next few months.

CONCLUSION

7. The suggested courses of action appended to Enclosure A satisfactorily respond to the statement of the problem. However, these suggestions should be forwarded as a preliminary submission suitable for planning purposes, and together with similar inputs from other agencies, provide a basis for development of a single, integrated, time-phased plan to focus all efforts on the objective of justification for US military intervention in Cuba.

RECOMMENDATIONS

8. It is recommended that:

- a. Enclosure A together with its attachments should be forwarded to the Secretary of Defense for approval and transmittal to the Chief of Operations, Cuba Project.
- b. This paper NOT be forwarded to commanders of unified or specified commands.
- c. This paper NOT be forwarded to US officers assigned to NATO activities.
- d. This paper NOT be forwarded to the Chairman, US Delegation, United Nations Military Staff Committee.

MEMORANDUM FOR CHIEF OF OPERATIONS, CUBA PROJECT

Subject: Justification for US Military Intervention
in Cuba (TS)

1. Reference is made to memorandum from Chief of Operations, Cuba Project, for General Craig, subject: "Operation MONGOOSE", dated 5 March 1962, which requested brief but precise description of pretexts which the Joint Chiefs of Staff consider would provide justification for US military intervention in Cuba.

2. The projects listed in the enclosure hereto are forwarded as a preliminary submission suitable for planning purposes. It is assumed that there will be similar submissions from other agencies and that these inputs will be used as a basis for developing a time-phased plan. The individual projects can then be considered on a case-by-case basis.

3. This plan, incorporating projects selected from the attached suggestions, or from other sources, should be developed to focus all efforts on a specific ultimate objective which would provide adequate justification for US military intervention. Such a plan would enable a logical build-up of incidents to be combined with other seemingly unrelated events to camouflage the ultimate objective and create the necessary impression of Cuban rashness and irresponsibility on a large scale, directed at other countries as well as the United States. The plan would also properly integrate and time phase the courses of action to be pursued. The desired resultant from the execution of this plan would be to place the United States in the apparent position of suffering defensible grievances from a rash and irresponsible government of Cuba and to develop an international image of a Cuban threat to peace in the Western Hemisphere.

4. Time is an important factor in resolution of the Cuban problem. Therefore, the plan should be so time-phased that projects would be operable within the next few months.

5. Inasmuch as the ultimate objective is overt military intervention, it is recommended that primary responsibility for developing military and para-military aspects of the plan for both overt and covert military operations be assigned the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

FoxNews' Twitter account shared clips of Trump talking immediately before and after the UN General Assembly laughed at him.

The laughter isn't in either clip.

This is what state-run propaganda channels do when their boss is humiliated on the world stage.

A republican President fired a republican head of the FBI, and is now furious with his republican Attorney General for stepping down and allowing his republican Deputy Attorney General to assign a republican former head of the FBI to lead the investigation into Russian collusion. Also so far that person has overturned evidence to a presidentially hand picked republican State Attorney General who authorized the republican President's attorney to have his office raided.

And this is all somehow the fault of the Democrats.

Donald Trump in London

Dear Reader,

He's a successful businessman who never held public office before winning the Presidency...

He's coming into power after an electoral college landslide...

And he did it by beating an out-of-touch New Yorker opponent. Once in office, he launches a vast trade war, promising to stand up for America's heartland, with 890 increased tariffs.

He even slashes immigration levels to America by 90%, while cracking down on illegal immigration through deportations targeting as many as 1.8 million people.

You may think I'm talking about Donald Trump.
But I'm actually describing Herbert Hoover,
America 31st President.

The similarities between Trump and the man who saw a Great Depression happen under his watch are eerie. And they won't stop here.
Over the last six months, my firm and I have spent hundreds of hours (and tens of thousands of dollars) in research to reach one shocking conclusion. My research shows...
President Trump is about to face a crisis on the level of what President Hoover saw in 1929.

But it's not the kind of crisis anyone expects.

And just like with Herbert Hoover – the crisis could shut Republicans out of the White House for a generation or longer.

This presentation reveals exactly why.

Sincerely, Brett Aitken,

Director, Stansberry Research

RAPE CULTURE SOUNDS LIKE THIS

A selection of what our politicians have to say about rape.
(compiled by Pragna Belarona Vieira)

"SOME GIRLS RAPE EASY."

- Former WI Rep. Roger Rivard (R-75)

"From what I understand... if it's a legitimate rape, the female body has ways to try to shut that whole thing down."

- Former U.S. Rep. Todd Akin (R-MO)

"RAPE VICTIMS SHOULD MAKE THE BEST OF A BAD SITUATION."

- Rick Santorum (R)
Former Presidential Candidate

"The facts show that people who are raped—who are truly raped—the juices don't flow, the body functions don't work and they don't get pregnant."

- Former NC Rep. Henry Aldridge (R-9)

"WHAT DID THEY EXPECT?"

- Liz Trotta (FOX pundit, referring to women who are raped in the military)

"We do need to plan ahead, don't we, in life? I have spare tire on my car. I also have life insurance. I have a lot of things that I plan ahead for."

- KS Rep. Pete DeGraaf (R-81)

"THE ODDS ARE ONE IN MILLIONS AND MILLIONS AND MILLIONS. AND THERE IS A PHYSICAL REASON FOR THAT. RAPE, OBVIOUSLY, IS A TRAUMATIC EXPERIENCE. WHEN THAT TRAUMATIC EXPERIENCE IS UNDERGONE, A WOMAN SECRETES A CERTAIN SECRETION, WHICH HAS A TENDENCY TO KILL SPERM."

- Rep. Stephen Freund (R-PA)

"Rape is kinda like the weather. If it's inevitable, relax and enjoy it."

- Clayton Williams (R)
Former TX gubernatorial Candidate

"I WOULD HOPE THAT WHEN A WOMAN GOES INTO A PHYSICIAN, WITH A RAPE ISSUE, THAT THAT PHYSICIAN WILL INDEED ASK HER ABOUT PERHAPS HER MARRIAGE, WAS THIS PREGNANCY CAUSED BY NORMAL RELATIONS IN A MARRIAGE, OR WAS IT TRULY CAUSED BY A RAPE."

- ID Senator "Chuck" Winder (R-14)

"In the emergency room they have what's called rape kits, where a woman can get cleaned out."

TX Rep. Jodie Laubenberg (R-89)

"CONCERN FOR RAPE VICTIMS IS ARED HERRING BECAUSE CONCEPTIONS FROM RAPE OCCUR WITH APPROXIMATELY THE SAME FREQUENCY AS SNOWFALL IN MIAMI."

- Judge James Leon Holmes, Bush appointee

Please share this letter regarding children being held in detention camps:

Dear President Trump,

As of September, hundreds of children remain separated from their parents, in spite of the deadline set by a federal judge in late July for your administration to reunite the more than 2500 children that had been separated from their parents due to your Zero Tolerance Policy. We now know that over 13,000 migrant children are locked in family detention centers throughout the United States.

Make no mistake, Mr. Trump: detaining children and their parents is not an alternative or a correction of the Zero-Tolerance Policy. It is a substitution of one traumatizing and terrorizing situation for another. And it is our expert opinion that indefinite detentions of children and their parents is child abuse.

President Trump, your consistently misguided and inhumane immigration policies are traumatizing children and families seeking asylum. By implementing your policies, Jeff Sessions and the Justice Department, along with Kirjsten Nielsen and the Department of Homeland Security, are criminally and intentionally perpetuating child abuse. In addition, you are all defying the 1997 Flores Agreement, which mandates that migrant children shall not be held longer than 20 days in detention. You have either come to the irrational and illegal conclusion that detaining children in custody with their parents is less abusive or, alternatively, you simply do not care that these children are being traumatized. Let us remind you that within these detention centers, children and parents are given badges and numbers. Their lives are dictated by schedules enforced by guards they do not know who treat them like criminals. While there is variability from child to child, we know that it is destabilizing for a child to see a parent in a consistent state of fear, hopelessness, or helplessness. When a child continually sees his or her parents confused and disempowered, the world turns into a frightening place where they can feel responsible for their parents' well-being in a role reversal that can have long-lasting effects.

You are a parent, Mr. Trump. You must know that in optimal environments, parents help children know when it is time to sleep, eat, or wake up. In detention centers, it is the guards, untrained in child care or family health, who are in charge of children and parents. There is limited opportunity for families to be together and play together freely, and there are reports of children being disciplined for climbing into their mothers' beds for comfort. You may not care that parents must endure having to decide between holding their frightened child and not doing anything that might threaten the possibility of asylum, but we do.

President Trump, there are multiple reports of children in detention centers becoming violent towards themselves and others; of not eating; of not sleeping; of not playing; of having suicidal thoughts; of exhibiting symptoms of anxiety and depression and acute and post-traumatic stress. There are also reports of physical and sexual abuse and the denial of medical treatment when timely care is critical. These children will be more likely to suffer from substance abuse, future trauma, heart disease and poorer overall health, difficulty in relationships, attention problems, and are likely to live a life of looking over their shoulder in fear and avoiding social programs that could ease their suffering.

We want you to know, resident trump, that we are unwavering in our position that these cruel and abusive policies are a consequence of your misguided and dangerous thinking. And your Republican held Congress continues to fail to hold you and your administration accountable for the enactment of policies that are inhumane and illegal. To be clear, Mr. Trump, the indefinite detention of children amounts to child abuse, and the International Criminal Court identifies engaging and enforcing child abuse a crime against humanity. In the United States of America and in the year 2018, children are being moved in the middle of the night with no more regard for the psychological and physiological disruption this causes than we would show farm animals. President Trump, you are traumatizing over 13,000 children without blinking an eye, but we are not blind. Our eyes will be kept open and we will continue to speak as witnesses of a deliberate cruelty that does the opposite of keeping us safe. Both the law and our basic humanity compel us to hold you accountable for this abuse, and we will continue to do so. We are watching, Mr. Trump. The world is watching. And we will remember this atrocity ten fold in November.

Among them: 46-year-old Amy Coney Barrett. As a devout Roman Catholic, she is seen as toxic to some Democrats. In a confirmation hearing for her appointment to the 7th Circuit Court of Appeals, ranking member Dianne Feinstein, D-Calif., said of her Catholicism, "The dogma lives loudly within you, and that's of concern."

Barrett's response was measured. "If you're asking whether I take my Catholic faith seriously, I do, though I would stress that my personal church affiliation or my religious belief would not bear on the discharge of my duties as a judge," she said.

Kislyak goes on Russian State TV and says: It would take him “20 minutes” to name all Trump officials he met during campaign

When asked to name names: “First, I’m never going to do that,” he said. “And second, the list is so long that I’m not going to be able to go through it in 20 minutes.”

This is stunning for two reasons: 1) The fact that there were so many involved, and 2) the fact that he’s now admitting publicly to the meetings.

Dear Reader,

He's a successful businessman who never held public office before winning the Presidency...

He's coming into power after an electoral college landslide...

And he did it by beating an out-of-touch New Yorker opponent. Once in office, he launches a vast trade war, promising to stand up for America's heartland, with 890 increased tariffs.

He even slashes immigration levels to America by 90%, while cracking down on illegal immigration through deportations targeting as many as 1.8 million people.

You may think I'm talking about Donald Trump.
But I'm actually describing Herbert Hoover,
America 31st President.

The similarities between Trump and the man who saw a Great Depression happen under his watch are eerie. And they won't stop here.
Over the last six months, my firm and I have spent hundreds of hours (and tens of thousands of dollars) in research to reach one shocking conclusion. My research shows...
President Trump is about to face a crisis on the level of what President Hoover saw in 1929.

But it's not the kind of crisis anyone expects.

And just like with Herbert Hoover – the crisis could shut Republicans out of the White House for a generation or longer.

This presentation reveals exactly why.

Sincerely, Brett Aitken, Dir., Stansberry Research

BERLIN, April 25 (AP).—Among the German Centrists there is a growing feeling that an attempt should be made to bring the Nazis into the government before their strength has increased any further. They argue that once the Nazis participate in the government they will become more moderate, and at the same time their political ascendancy will be curbed because, in the nature of things, they will find it impossible to keep the numerous promises made in the course of the recent election campaigns.

If Herr Hitler becomes the dominant factor in a coalition ruling Prussia, it will mark the high point of the Fascist movement he has developed from a joke to the greatest political power in the Reich.

Dear Reader,

He's a successful businessman who never held public office before winning the Presidency...

He's coming into power after an electoral college landslide...

And he did it by beating an out-of-touch New Yorker opponent. Once in office, he launches a vast trade war, promising to stand up for America's heartland, with 890 increased tariffs.

He even slashes immigration levels to America by 90%, while cracking down on illegal immigration through deportations targeting as many as 1.8 million people.

You may think I'm talking about Donald Trump. But I'm actually describing Herbert Hoover, America 31st President.

The similarities between Trump and the man who saw a Great Depression happen under his watch are eerie. And they won't stop here.

Over the last six months, my firm and I have spent hundreds of hours (and tens of thousands of dollars) in research to reach one shocking conclusion.

My research shows...

President Trump is about to face a crisis on the level of what President Hoover saw in 1929.

But it's not the kind of crisis anyone expects.

And just like with Herbert Hoover – the crisis could shut Republicans out of the White House for a generation or longer.

This presentation reveals exactly why.

Sincerely, Brett Aitken,
Director, Stansberry Research

The president of Bolivia slammed Trump to his face:

"The United States could not care less about human rights or justice. If this were the case, it would have signed the international conventions and treaties that have protected human rights.

It would not have threatened the investigation mechanism of the International Criminal Court, nor would it promote the use of torture, nor would it have walked away from the Human Rights Council.

And nor would it have separated migrant children from their families, nor put them in cages."

Twitter to pay tribute to Dr. Christine Blasey Ford, who accused Kavanaugh of sexual misconduct against her decades ago. The actor's latest artwork depicted Ford awash in the colors red, white and blue.

Donald Trump's divisive agenda is threatening health care, immigration, voting rights, and campaign finance reform.

But standing together, we can stop the Trump agenda and work towards a brighter future for America. Can you contribute $5 to take back the House this fall? (It'll be Triple-Matched).

Albert, we MUST win the House in November.

We've got tremendous momentum already. Every day, more people join our movement to fight back against the intolerance, discrimination, and injustice of the Trump Administration. It's crucial that we keep it up through Election Day.

2018 is our chance to put our grassroots energy to the test. It's our chance to reclaim the House and restore the people's voice in our politics.

That's why it's CRITICAL we stand with Democrats Joe Radinovich

(Minnesota), Anthony Brindisi (New York), and Lauren Baer (Florida). Please chip in now!

A close-up portrait of Lindsey Graham, a man with grey hair, looking downwards with a serious expression. The background is dark and out of focus.

Lindsey Graham blocked
President Obama's nominee for years.

And said if Hillary Clinton won he would not confirm any of her Justices.

Now he accuses Democrats of playing politics while pushing an accused sexual harasser to the Supreme Court.

The stamp is in perfect order.
There is nothing wrong with the adhesive.
