This story is about a centaur who lives in the forests of Himalayan mountains as the title suggests. This centaur's life revolves around Lassie an Indian beverage made of buttermilk and yoghurt . Lassie is very popular beverage all over the Indian sub continent.

Uptill now you have read stories about centaurs who live in Greece in four books.

LASSIE. AND. CENTAUR 2006. YEARBOOK

A GIRL CALLED. LASSIE

LASSIE AND. CENTAUR. REUNION

LASSIE PART 2. PRINCESS CYNISICA

मैं अपने 3 भाई बचपन में बचपने बड़ा हूँ, लेकिन
 इसी जन्म का दुख है। यह भी सारी जिम्मेदारियाँ हूँ
 यह सीप ही जाती हैं और दुख-दुखों, दो सपनी-सपनी
 बचपने हैं कि बचपने भाई बचपन अभी छोटे हैं। ये ना उनकी

Once upon a time, there was a Centaur named Chetak who lived in the forest in the Himalayas. He loved lassie simply loved to drink lassie. Chetak was different from other centaurs who lived in Greece, those centaurs were savage and wild, they drank wine and fought with each other.

Chetak lived with three friends.

a woman named Paro, a little girl,

an elephantaur named Gani

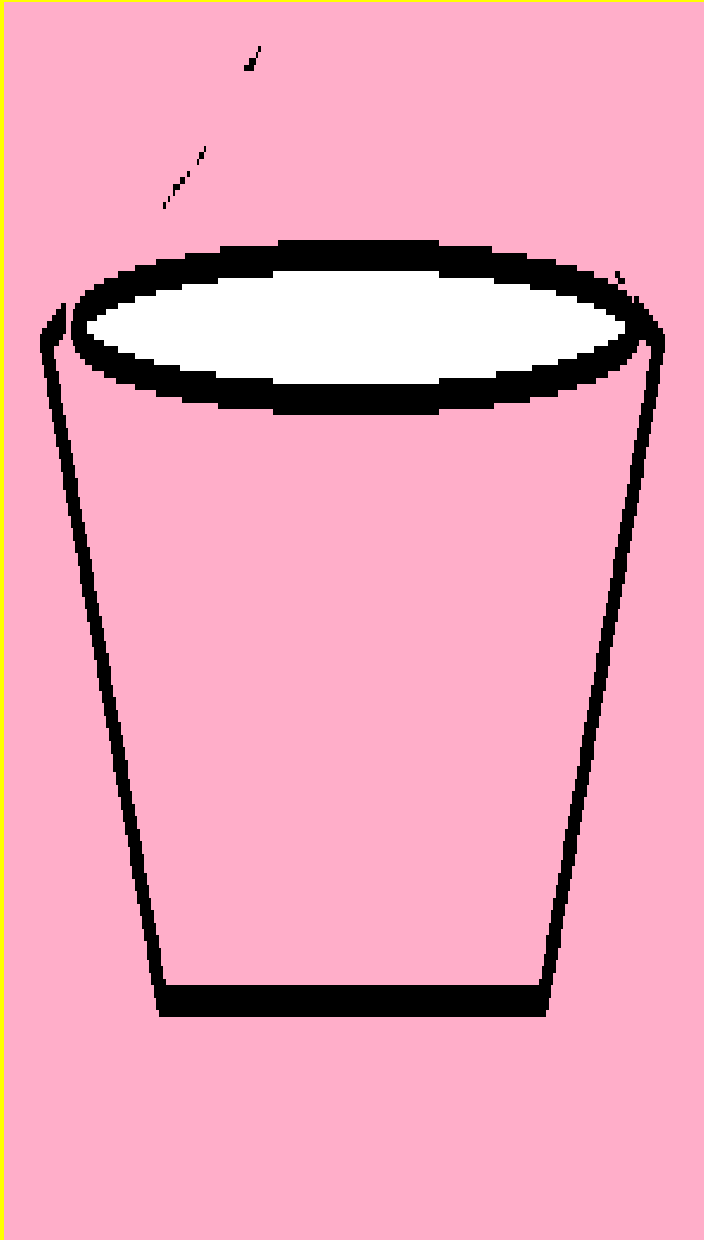

Rati and Chetak were inseparable

Before. I recount Chetak's funny.
adventures

Let me tell you how the four came together.

Chetak was crazy about Lassie ,he could drink gallons of Lassie, sometimes he went on a stealing spree in neighboring hamlets

Rati as baby was abandoned in the forest by her parents who wanted a son.

They had a pet dog Kukur who had followed the couple in forest. Kukur the loyal bitch stayed beside the tiny helpless baby , guarding and suckling her.

The baby girl grew up , healthy and strong but unable to speak like a human

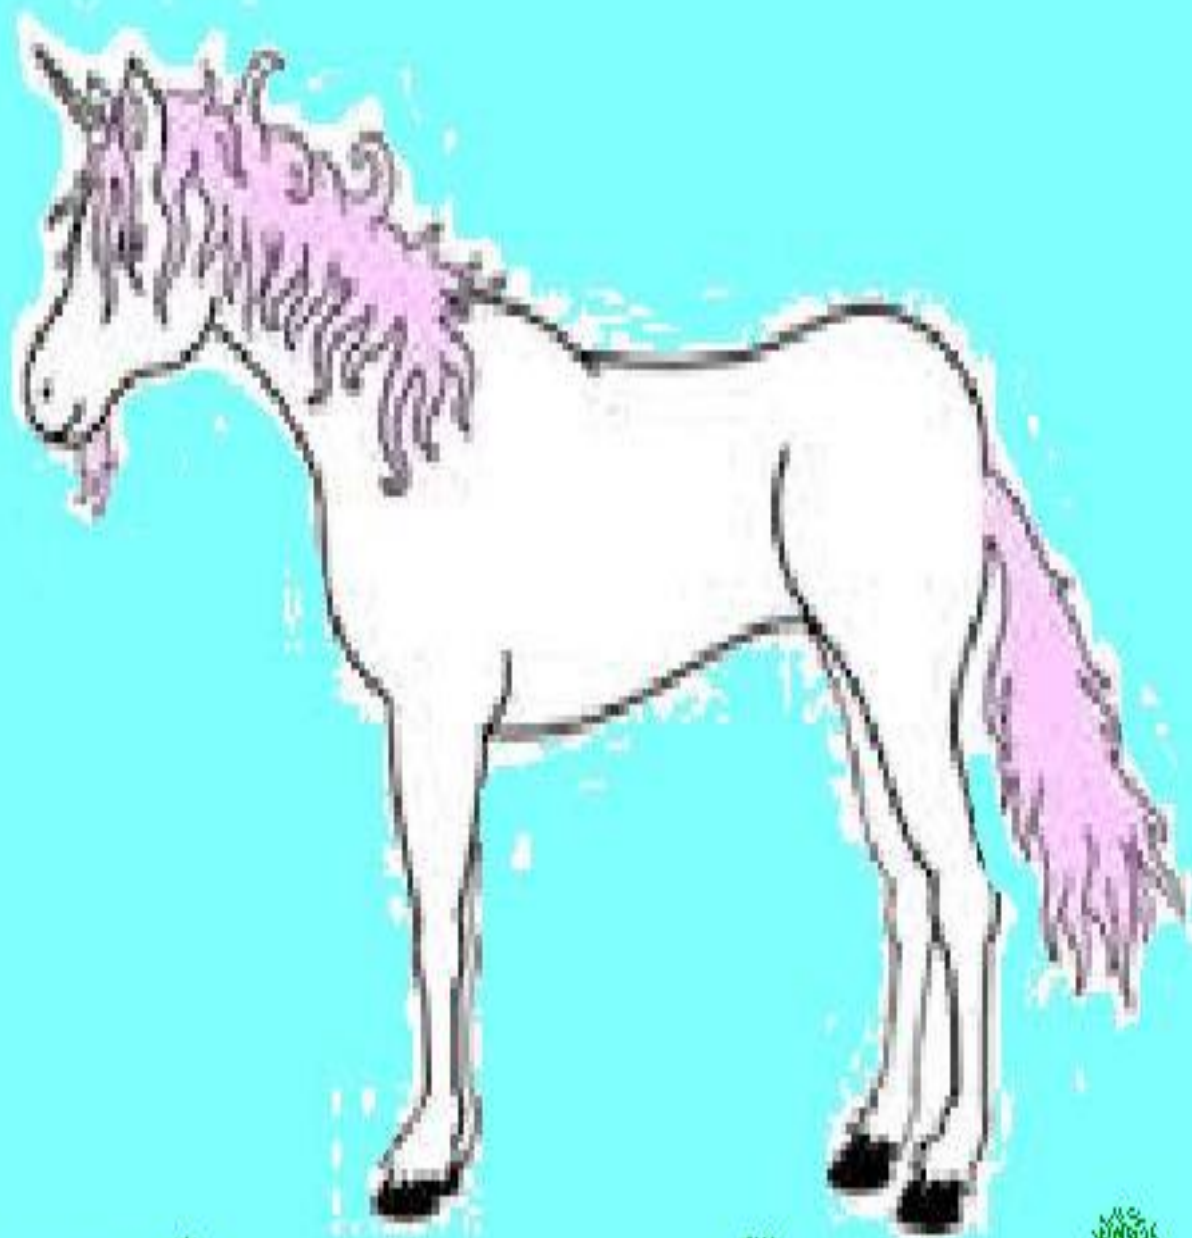

One night Cobra a black snake attacked the sleeping girl ,the dog Kukur died defending the little girl

Rati. was. heartbroken ,she always thought that. Kukur was her mother

Now She was alone with Chetak the Horse. who was like a brother,

Poor Rati. never knew that she was actually the mistress of the dog and horse

Rati spent her days roaming in the forest. One day she met an elephantaur, a man with an elephant head who was picking apples from an apple tree near a lake. Rati was frightened, she had seen many humans who came with spears, bows and arrows to hunt in the forest. In her fright, Rati fell off horse's back. The girl was more frightened when the elephantaur called out in a human voice.

The elephantaur's picked the frightened girl in his arms and carried her to his mother and whistling to the runaway stallion who followed them to his hut hidden inside a banyan tree. Elephantaur a three eyed woman who hugged the girl. The motherless child and her horse began to live with them

Three eyed woman's name was Paro while Elephantaur was Gani

Dumb girl was given a name Rati and the horse Chetak

Paro commanded Dumb girl to look into her third eye , soon Rati began to understand human tongue.

Elephantaur. is. a man with the head of. an. elephant.

The one eyed woman's husband was a wicked blue skinned wizard who knew black magic. He lived in the snow bound Himalayas He had a magical cow who ate only silver grass , their son Gani 's duty was to feed the cow He drank Lassie and star shaped cheese made from the milk of this cow He made his wife do all the work in the blistering cold . She ran away from his cave with her little son Gani The angry blue wizard turned Gani into a elephantaur and his wife into a three eyed woman

One night Rati had a bad dream that Chetak had fallen off a cliff and died. She woke up crying, the three-eyed woman embraced the sobbing girl. Paro told her that her husband Sadhu, the blue wizard, could turn Chetak into a boy as he knew black magic. Chetak will be saved from death as a horse. All she will have to do is to become Sadhu's slave for one year and please him.

Rati decided to go up in the Himalayas and request blue wizard Sadhu

Chetak and Rati went into the dark forest on to a winding road which led up high into the mountains

Both girl and horse struggled up the ragged mountains shivering
and slipping

The blue wizard Sadhu was delighted to meet Rati , he agreed to fulfil Rati's wish if Rati completed the task he gave to her.

First task was to convert hundreds of gallons of Yogurt into LASSI

Second Rati must make star shaped cheese

One whole year both horse and girl will stay in his cave in the Himalaya mountains.

They must sing the happy songs and never complain that it was freezing cold

The wizard Sadhu made Rati wash his stinky tresses and Chetak massaged his body with the tongue , tickled his toes with his tail .

Chetak and Rati were told to consume this LASSI which is a very delicious beverage

The crafty sadhu was rather poor magician , he threw some colored sand in the fire

Chetak was changed into a centaur that's half man and half horse

Chetak and Rati toiled day and night
Converting the gallons of yogurt in Lassie
and star shaped cheese
Blue wizard Sadhu enjoyed their hard work and did not complete his promised creation.
The truth was he knew only half magic
He had turned Gani into a half elephant and Chetak into a half horse

Another six years passed Rati and Chetak got bored waiting for the crafty
Blue wizard to turn Chetak into a boy

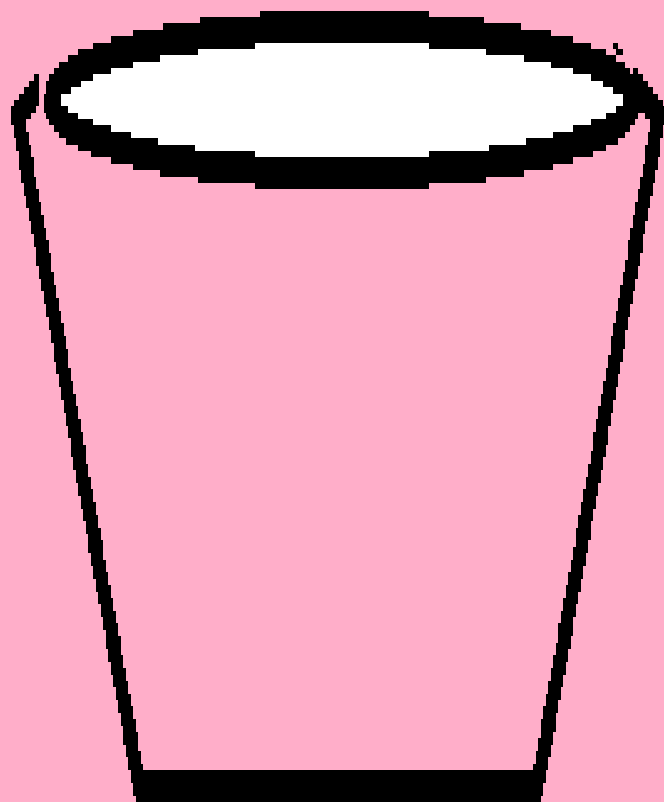

Hence they ran away from the cave of the blue wizard Sadhu and came back to live with Gani and his mother .

Chetak was a full fledged Lassie addict
He could drink gallons of Lassie .

In the himalayan regions carnivals are known as Mela ,circus acts are known as Tamasha . Melas are usually around summer .Harvest festivals match with Mela . Tamasha artists moved around the countryside from one Mela to another . Sometimes they dressed like clowns or Behrupia .

Chetak began to follow circus groups around and act like a clown. Nobody guessed he was a centaur.

When everyone was busy watching the tamasha, Chetak would sneak into the food section and drink up all the Lassie.

Sometimes Gani would join him. Nobody guessed that he was an elephantaur.

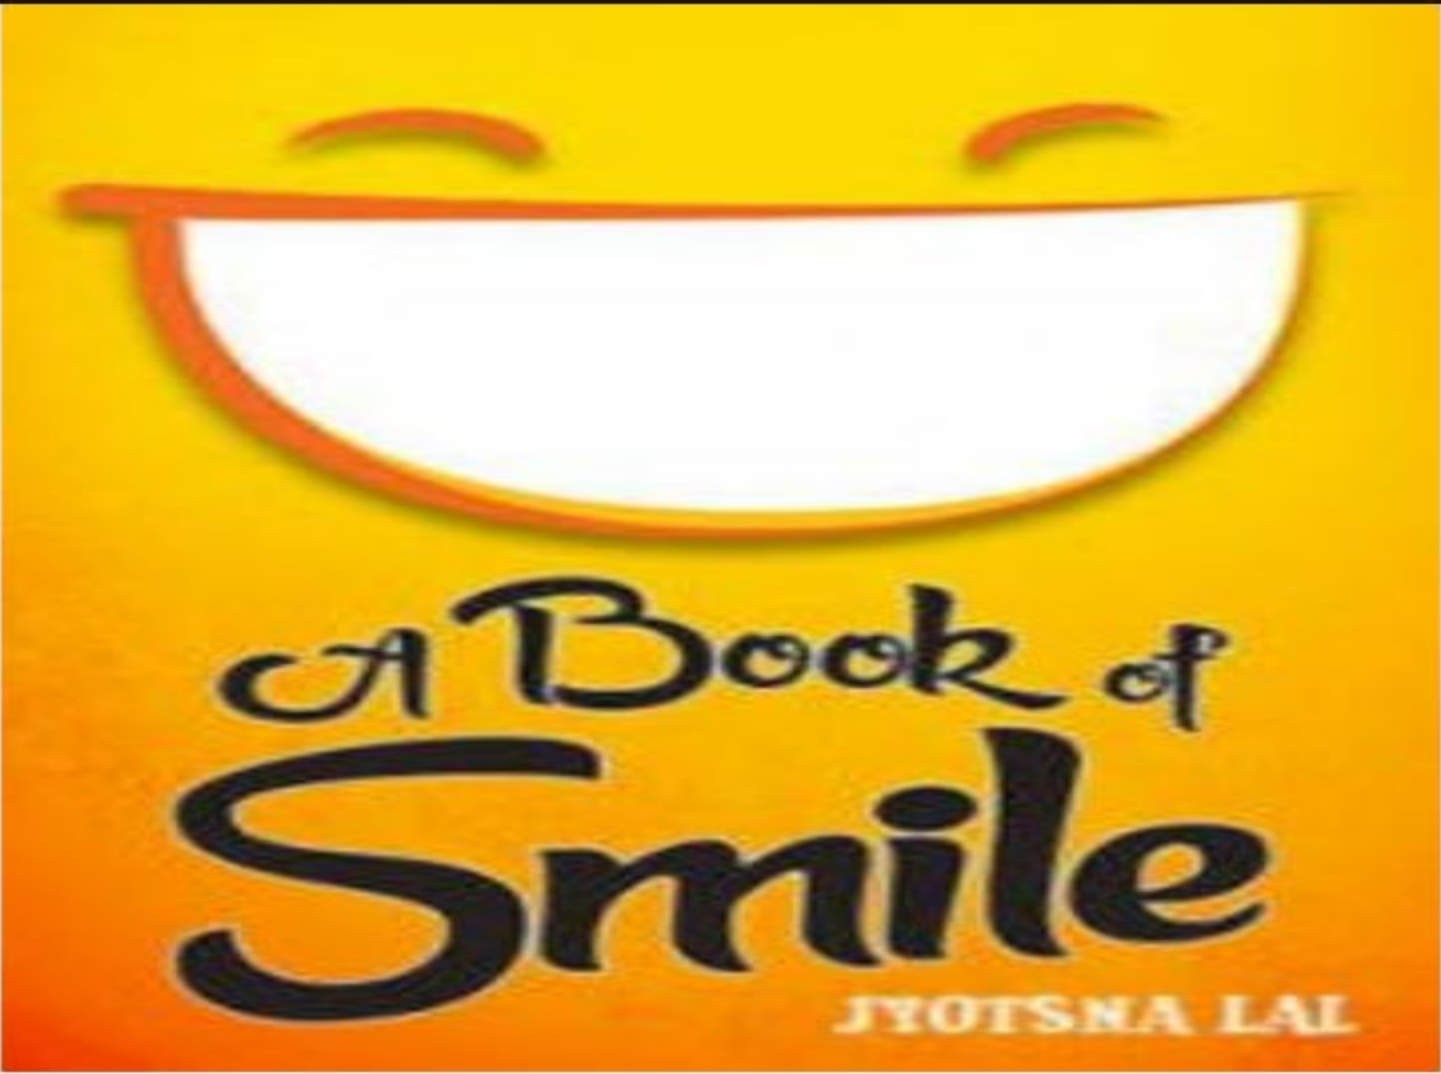

Gani dressed like a clown in a funny act of a clerk going to his office .

Sometimes Paro and Rati also went to perform in the Tamasha

And the four friends lived happily everafter.
