One word:

Whatever we thought it reflects our true identity. If our thoughts are pious, it makes us pious. If our thoughts are good, it makes us good. If our thoughts are corrupt, it makes us corrupt. Our thoughts make us divine. Our thoughts make us devil. It is because; before anything happens everything begins in our thoughts. We're made of our thoughts. The way we thoughts the way we become.

If our thoughts are strong, we feel strong and if our thoughts are weak, we feel weak. Our thoughts are like chemistry. It reacts with us and diffuses everywhere. Every thought impact us both internally and externally.

If we ever allow our thoughts to roam freely, it'll lead us somewhere else. Our thoughts are like the seven horses of a chariot. We've to control it; otherwise it'll start controlling us. Therefore our thoughts need proper direction and proper guidance. It is only possible through our knowledge and wisdom.

Do your work, don't postpone it. Never allow your mind to postpone anything in your life. Only a weak person postpones his work again and again.

Laziness makes you dull, though you're alert. Your laziness is like a self made disease. This will tear out your talent.

The best book always inspires you; it is like your best friend. The worse book always despairs you; it is like your worse foe.

If you want to improve yourself, then first of all you've to ask yourself.
Always remember that nobody can improve you accept yourself.

If you know how to judge yourself, then you, too, know how to judge others.

Before you inspire others, first of all you should inspire yourself.

Love is the feelings of inner heart. Once you know how to love yourself, you, too, learn how to love others.

Positive thoughts are like medicine, it'll always heal you. But negative thoughts are like poison, it'll always harm you.

Many people tried to teach others before they learn anything.

Negative thoughts are like weeds which grow unwanted in our fertile mind. It makes us weak and coward. And it kills us before anything happens.

The harsh situation of life would be smile with you when you adjust yourself according to it.

Start your day with some strong thoughts; you will see even in your tough situation, you'll feel strong.

You can't stop the worse part of your life, but if you apply the tactics of positive perspective in your life, then you can fight back against the worse part of your life.

While chasing your life's goal, you must forget your hungry desires, because yours hungry desires will burn you down. It'll divert your mind from your goal.

If you play a game to win, and by chance you loss it, it'll break your moral. But if you play a game to enjoy it, then you'll never feel anything.

Always wait for the ultimate come out of your work. Never allow yourself to trap in speculations and anticipations. Nothing happens before time and nothing happens after time; everything happens in time.

Always observe the things closely with your open eyes, with open mind and with open heart, analyze it until you wouldn't satisfy with yourself, and then finally approach for it.

Quarrels always happen due to misunderstandings. Misunderstandings are like clouds of doubts which sealed your conscience.

Never over react with anybody, it'll not only steal your happiness but also wear out your cool and calmness.

Always try to nourish your mind with beautiful thoughts. Because your thoughts are like seeds before it germinate into beautiful seedlings.

Right choice and right approach lead you to the right path of your life. It is like a right angle of your life. If you choose the right angle in your life; you'll reach in your right destiny. And if you choose the wrong angle in your life; then you'll reach in your wrong destiny.

Another name of life is sacrifice. Nobody can achieve anything without sacrifice. Sometimes you've to sacrifice your happiness and comfort to achieve anything in your life. Never feel bad for that. It is a part of life.

Don't disclose your secrets to anybody; but try to disclose the real meanings of your secrets so that you would practice in your life.

To develop yourself, always keep positive auto suggestion. It'll make you feel strong and keep you focus in your goal.

If you recall your bad experiences of life, you can't live in your present moment. It is like you're trapping yourself into deep ditch. It is like you want to spend your entire life in dark cell.

Life is very precious. Never waste your life in meaningless things. Make your life meaningful.

Every time you can't get special moment in your life. But you can try to make your every small moment special.

When you cultivate great ideas and thoughts in your life, you'll rise to greatness. The great men are made of great ideas and thoughts.

If your deeds are good, its results are always good. It is like if you sow good seeds in your field, then you will always reap good fruits.

To understand anything in your life, first of all you must know yourself. The better you know; the better you become.

Don't live your life in darkness, light your candle before it engulfs you into its darkness.

See the two wheelers, it always running on the road. If anytime, one of the wheels will get imbalance, then what will happen. Similarly our life is. Our life always needs balance.

Always try to become a responsible person in your life, because only a responsible person can make a great mark in his life. And the others will follow him.

Whatever you do in your life; whether for yourself or for others, only your good deeds will be count.

Many people passed their career exams with flying colors; but only few of them could pass their life's exam with the same colors. Always remember that life is also a big exam. And we all like examinee.

Many people failed in their life, because of their fear of failure. They don't know that failure is neither permanent nor temporary. Failure is also a part of life.

Self-believe is the biggest source of your inspiration. It is well said that faith can even moved the giant mountain. So never lose your self-believe. If you believe, you can do anything in your life.

Inspire will make you good or bad, high or low, successful or failure.

One who stops to care others, others will stop to care him.

Our destiny is always unknown to us. But we've to work harder and harder whatever we do in life. Then our work will decide our destiny.

Habit makes you its servant. If you cultivate good habits in your life; your life will become like a heaven. And if you cultivate bad habits in your life; your life will become like a hell.

If you want to notice from others, then you're making fool of yourself.

Absence of common sense is the biggest enemy of ours.

Never ever try to comment on anybody's personal life whether he is good or bad or he is your closed mate.

Some people enjoy while giving comments on others' bad times. But they forget to give any comment on their own bad times.

If you want to maintain a good relationship with anybody, then always try to understand his or her feelings. Never try to hurt their feelings.

Always try to keep your inner and outer world in proper balance, because only a balance man can do anything in his life.

Your mistakes are the first lesson to learn something better in your life.

Complete your commitments when it comes into your mind. Never leave for the next day.

You can't live your life in the world of dreams and fantasies, because life is the world of practices and realities. Your life demands action from you.

Thoughts are very powerful. It is more powerful than anything else. It makes you both very powerful and very weak. Don't allow to roam it freely. Control it!

What the whole world think and talk about you, you just forget about them and move on in your cherish goal. Never react with them.

Some people concentrate on other people's life rather than in their life. That's why they are always remained unhappy in their life.

If you know that you're correct then it is meaningless to react with some other's false criticisms.

If you're puzzled with yourself, then it is quite difficult for you to move ahead in your life. A puzzle person has two heads.

It is your hard work and patience that lead you to your final goal. But if you're out of patience, then your hard work will never pay you anything and you'll never reach to your final goal.

If you're always seeking easy way to go in your life, then you're inviting troubles for yourself.

Proper maintenance is the wit of a wise man.

While chasing your target, never divert your mind, heart and soul, no matter what happens.

One who shed tears for you; it means he really loved you.

You can make others fool, but you can't make yourself fool, because your instinct never allows you to hide anything.

Life is the stories of mysteries, anything can happen in life. So always prepare for it. Wear out your false pride and ego.

Success always demands sacrifice from you. If you can sacrifice; success will be yours.

Another name of life is struggle, and a life without struggle is miserable.

Many people forget their bad times, and make fun of others' bad times. Never ever forget your bad times, because it makes you down to earth. It gives you a great meaning of life.

One bad decision of yours leads you to the doors of thousand downfalls.

Over smartness shows your foolishness.

Good listeners always become good thinker.

Watch your thoughts. Judge it. Analyze it. Then you know your true self.

Before you want to help weak and helpless, first of all you must become a strong enough to hold their poor hands.

Once you lost your rhythms of life, it is quite difficult to retain it. So always try to keep your momentum of life. Never halt it. Continue it.

Mistakes are not sin, but if you couldn't correct it in time, it'll make you sinner.

Learn from the mistakes of others before you commit any mistake. A wise man always learns from the mistakes of others. And a foolish man never learns anything, even he can't learn from his own mistakes.

Man decides his own rise and fall. That's why it is well said that man is the maker of his destiny.

Never expect anything from anybody. It'll hurt you a lot if you wouldn't get anything. Too much expectation always gives you hard disappointments.

In every incident of our life, there is always a great lesson to learn. And one who learns it; he will get the nectars of real life.

Always try to learn every possible thing in your life, because you never know what things will bear fruitful for you.

There is a great impact from our own actions and reactions on others. Our actions and reactions interpret everything.

Good image always brings you respect and honor. So never allow it to catch anything on it. It is like a white cloth, everything is clearly visible on it.

Never take any decision when you're clouded with emotions, excitements, anger and confusion. And if you ever go ahead, then it'll always create problems for you. Always take your decision when you're cool and calm.

When the problems arise before you, don't get disturb, keep your nerve cool and calm, try to see with wider angle and search for its correct solutions.

Near put your steps in looking for the unknown destiny. If you go ahead with blindfolded eyes, you'll always meet with trouble.

Good things and bad things are parts of our life. It'll always strike in our life. Nobody can stop it. The former follows the later. It is like day and night.

Always try to keep your company with positive people. It is because only positive people can give you positive energy and vibrations.

Some problems are raised due to our carelessness and foolishness. And we start blaming on others.

Winners have no excuses. But losers have thousands of excuses. That's the great difference between them.

Winners accept every challenges of life whether it is big or small, hard or easy, but losers don't.

The sweetness of hard work is never compared with anything. It is like divine and heavenly.

Watching your AIM is very important to gain momentum in your life. Your AIM gives you the blue print to go ahead in your life. It shows you right directions and vivid reasons.

Thinking low and weakness of self is a great crime. And it is a sight of weak person. A weak person always thinks low and weak.

If you want to rise up in your life, then you must know how to inspire yourself. Inspirations give you not only moral boost but also give you strength to go ahead in your life.

Always try to vow yourself that you wouldn't repeat the same mistakes in your life. And if you ever repeat your same mistakes, then you're making yourself fool.

Never compare yourself with anybody in such a way that you become weak and frustrated.

Wisdom only comes with experiences and hardships.

If anybody talks about his success and failure, then try to listen to him carefully and learn from his success and failure. It will play your success guide.

Nobody is foe to anybody. It's only the situations and needs which make friends and foes in our life.

Only two things happen in life, either good or bad, either happiness or sorrow, either success or failure.

When you take any responsibility in your hands then try to complete it. Never leave it in half way. Always remember that there is a great strength in responsibility. Only responsibility unveils your hidden secrets and inborn talents.

Nothing left in the relation of friendship if one friend befooled the other. A relation of friendship is greater than any blood relation.

A superior man is one who comes over all the challenges of life. Only challenges of life make us superior. Never run away from the challenges of life. Accept it with brave heart. There is no bigger challenge than life.

Most of the people failed in their life, because they are scared of failure. That's why they never reach the place where they are made for.

Before doing anything, never measure its shape and size, but measure it with your skills and talents.

Every day you should think how to improve yourself.

Examine your own thoughts like an examiner checks the examination papers thoroughly.

In the struggle of life, you're a lone soldier. You're born alone. You'll die alone. This life is yours. This world is yours. Why fear? Be a fighter.
Never lay down before you swing your sword.

Never ever try to live in your false pride and ego. It will spoil your life.

Whoever you're in the past, it's not important for you, but whoever you're right now in the present moment is important for you.

It is hundred percent depend upon you, whether you want to be strong or you want to be weak.

Only a fighting spirit can hold you firmly at the time of strong and hard circumstances in your life. Always keep your fighting spirit alive no matters what happen.

The rule of this world is that if we laugh today, then the next day we'll cry.

When your approaches are correct, then nobody can make you wrong.

Every moment of life is a new experience to learn.

To win any game of your life, you've to play your game differently.
Think differently. Plan differently. Act differently.

Some problems are not only created by the situations but also created by our own carelessness and foolishness.

Before you fight against anything, you must know your strong points and weak points. Then work for it, victory will be yours.

Sometimes to keep your good rapport with your friends, you should ignore their shortcomings and errs.

Don't leave behind anything in your life, because it makes you unhappy.

Don't count your past with your mistakes and setbacks, but count your strong points and good points and what you've learned from it.

Try to pick up good things in your life, so that you can gain wherever you go and whatever you do.

Count how many blessings you've received in your life rather than you starts counting your curses.

If there is no love, there is no world and there is nothing left. Only love can change everything.

Beware from the barking dog like people, because they not only bark you but also bite you.

A relationship without love is a weak foundation which is easily crumbles down like a house made of cards.

Always try to set your good example, no matter what others speak about you.

Train yourself before somebody turns you into his prey. Be a trained man. Nobody can touch a trained man.

Your small balance acts as great balance at the time of your crisis. Never neglect small things in your life.

One who always depend on others, he can't do anything in his life. He will become like a handicap.

Always remember that your life is a series of events. It comes in your life one after another. Sometimes it brings you good result and sometimes it brings you bad result. You can't stop it. But you've to face them bravely.

Enemy of our own people is more dangerous than the enemy of other people.

Whatever you're doing today is important for tomorrow. Tomorrow is depends on today. Tomorrow never comes.

False compliments are always dangerous for you. It is dangerous than any poison. Never accept it. It leads you towards your downfall. Always beware from false appreciations and compliments.

If you hide your mistakes today, tomorrow it'll disclose you. You'll never hide it. You never run away from it.

We failed in our missions, because we quickly 'GIVE UP' in the half way pass.

For a time being you can quit from your problems, but your problems will chase you wherever you go. Until and unless you can't solve it, it'll chase you continuously.

A decision taken without proper thinking and judgment, always give you trouble.

You gain experience after facing the tough situations of your life, but you can't gain nothing when you quit from it.

Every moment of your life is important for you whether you're laughing or crying, whether you're successful or failure.

Happiness and sorrows never last longer; it is like a momentary rotation like day and night. Sometimes good days delay, but definitely it'll arrive in your life. Keep your patience!

If you once learn the art of smiles at the tough moment than you can face anything in your life.

Our life is very beautiful if we explore it thoroughly.

Life is not stagnant water; it is always changing into good to bad and bad to good. Life is a continuous process. It never stops.

Always keep your smiles alive on your face; it is the language of your heart and soul.

Beware from the people who give you their conclusion without finding the correct remedies of your problems. They are not your friends. They are worse than your foes.

If you commit any mistake by chance, then don't blame anybody, but try to correct it as soon as possible, so that you will well away from the upcoming bad results.

The loss of one finger means the loss of other four fingers.

Arguing for a small matter shows ones foolishness.

Before you conquer the entire world, you must conquer your inner world. First of all you've to fight with your evil forces which are dwelling inside you.

If you blame anybody for your failure, it means you're committing a crime for yourself.

The physical beauty doesn't last forever, but the inner beauty last forever. One who knows its deep meaning; he knows the secret of life.

Never try to do two things at the same time. It will never give you any fruitful result. It is like you're trying to drive two vehicles at the same time.

When you learn how to love, you'll learn how to live in this world.

Always beware from the scissor like people, before they try to cut you, it is better to avoid them.

If your boat of life is overloaded with problems, then you can't complete your voyage to the shore, soon you will capsized.

No matter whatever happens, never curse anybody in your life.

Failures are the temporary setback, not the ultimate. Learn from your failures. Turn your failures into a stepping stone of your success.

If you want to avenge your foe, then attack his weak points.

There is a huge difference between an experience man and an inexperience man. An experience man always thought before doing anything. But an inexperience man always does without thinking anything.

Patience controls our temper. Without patience we can't get anything in life.

To learn or to know anything, you need good guidance. Without good guidance you can't learn anything and you can't know anything.

If your mind is disturbed by itself, then it is useless to shut down the doors and windows of your house. Find out its reason with cool head.

Life is the events of unexpected things. Anything can happen in life. So always prepare for it. Open your heart, mind and soul. Accept it whatever comes in your way.

Never ever ignore small things in your life. Always remember that a small ball of fire can burn the entire forest.

False things never last long. With the foundation of falsehood you can't build anything.

Always try to become like a solid rock which never get dissolve in any solution.

A strong man is like a firm rock, nobody can move him. But a weak man is like sand, anybody can blow him.

Share your good and bad experiences of your life with your dear ones; it will always act as their guide.

Never ignore small or little things in your life, because these small or little things make a great difference in your life. Remember a small pebble may kill the flying birds in the sky.

Life is not a joke. Never play with life. When it'll slap you, you never retake in your life.

Always try to become like a rock so that nobody can move you away from your path.

When you're true to yourself, then good things are always coming to you.

Whatever you're looking around is all about your mind set and your thoughts. Once you change your mind set and your thoughts, then everything becomes yours.

When you become strong and powerful, then you'll find that nobody could stop you to do anything in your life. Always remember that there is no place for weak and cowards in this world.

The greatest news in the world is SUCCESS and the worst news in the world is FAILURE.

In everything there are always causes and its effects. Like our life is full of actions and reactions.

You never know who is following you, whether your friend or your foe, but you've to keep your work continued without any other second thought.

If you once know your talent, then nobody can stop you to get your success. Your talent is the only source of your success. Without talent you're far away from your success.

Judge yourself before taking anything in your hand, evaluate your capabilities and then proceed further. Success will be yours.

Never doubt about your own capabilities, it is just like committing a great crime against yourself.

Those who are fools; they are easily spotted by their foolishness. And those who are wise, they are easily spotted by their wisdoms.

A thought without wisdom is like a song without melody.

If you really love your work, then it'll never remain as your work, but it'll become your close mate. Always love your work whether big or small. Never differentiate your work.

The way we behave with the people, they will also behave the way we behave.

Grasp your opportunity when it knocks at your door, because once you miss it, you can't get second chance. The face of opportunity is always undercover. Nobody can recognize it.

A man is not judge by his educational qualification, but he is judge by his wit and wisdom.

When you're alone, be careful of everything, money, food, shelter and about yourself.

There is a huge difference between a mature man and an immature man.

Never feel jealous of other's success, but try to find out their secret of success. Then you, too, find your success.

Confused man makes you confused. He will always misguide you. Avoid his company.

We come to know about the real identity of a person at the time of crisis.

If you want to keep your friendship intact forever, then never ever deal with him in any business related matters.

Control your anger otherwise it'll spoil your beautiful life. Anger is like wild fire, it'll burn your beautiful life and beautiful world.

Our mind is like changing clouds, within a second it turns into many colors.

It doesn't matter how many people are loyal to you, but always be loyal to yourself. It'll lead you towards your greatness.

A man without work is always living a life of miserable. Only a devil like man can live without work.

If you learn how to take care of yourself, then you can take care of others.

When you discover yourself, then you'll find your true self.

Our every deed whether we're doing good or bad it always reflects our identity.

Never allow to think that your work is bondage, no matter what you do, because a life without work is never possible. Work is life. Life is work.

You're not known by yourself, but you're known by your great works.

It is very easy to criticize other's works, but it is too difficult to criticize your own works.

Your thoughts can make you beautiful. Your thoughts can make you ugly.

It is depend upon you whether you want to make your house as a battlefield or a Greenfield, a heaven or a hell.

Always preferring an easy route doesn't make you a successful person in your life.

What you're doing right now is more important than what you've done in your past.

Any moment of your life, no matter what happens, never loss yours cool and calm.

The evil thoughts of man are the most dangerous thing in the world.

Always listen to your conscience. It'll always show you the right path.
It'll never misguide you. Make friendship with it.

If you choose a wrong road in your life then it is always a self-destruction.

It is our lust for taste which makes us victim of bad stuffs.

There is always a great meaning in every incident of life. Learn it and gain from it.

To do anything right, it is important to keep your mind peace and calm.

Everything in this world always indicates something before it happens.

Don't disturb anybody so that he wouldn't disturb you.

If you view with the same angle of life, then you can view everything equal and same.

It is your common sense to know what others likes and dislikes.

If we change our point of view, then everything in the world will be changed.

If your understanding is strong enough, then your relationship will always remain strong. There will be no chance of break ups.

The greatest thing in life is to maintain peace in every juncture of life.

Due to our ignorance of knowledge and wisdom, we commit countless number of mistakes in our life.

We're our own creator and we're our own destructor.

The sweetest thing in the world is the result of your hard work.

Wisdom is not measure with the age of a man. Even we can learn from a small kid.

The golden words of the great men never rusted with time. But with time their words start glowing like the sun.

If you always keep the baggage of setbacks of your past, then you can't move ahead in your present moment. It creates obstacles in your every path.

Tears make you weak. Smiles make you strong. And laughter makes you stronger.

Without losing your present moment, you've to work to reach your goal. Never wait for anything. Do it right now!

Your past is like silver. Your present is like gold. And your future is like diamond which is waiting for you.

Frustrations make you weak and helpless. It clouded your mind, heart and soul. It blocks you from everywhere. Give it up as soon as possible. It is nothing but a self-created ghost.

You never think yourself low and weak, because the way you think the way you become. There is a great power in your thoughts.

Never get nervous in your life, because it is not only break down your knowledge but also your confidence level.

Every day is very special for you; never waste it for unwanted things.

Every day is a learning experience for you. You learn everyday whether good or bad.

If things are not going in your favor, then wait for your right time with patience. Don't try to become desperate and frustrated to get it. It'll spoil your chances.

An overloaded mind never works properly; it's just like a vehicle with overloaded goods which can't move fast.

Never ever accept your defeat until and unless you try till the end.

Always take reference from your experience elders. They will guide you in the right direction.

Always try to be flexible in your life. Those are not flexible in their lives; they will sooner or later break into pieces like glasses.

Finding your own mistakes and improvise yourself is the greatest thing in life.

Learn from your mistakes, but never regret from it, otherwise it'll demoralize you.

Never forced yourself to do anything in your life, you will never get good results. It will make worse.

When you become worried, nothing will go right. At that time, think about the causes of your worries and try to find out its right solution.
Then it'll give you the right way.

Always try to become mentally strong. It'll give you tremendous will power within yourself.

Your worries are like the wild weeds which steal your happiness, so never allow these weeds to germinate in your life.

Never mind what others are saying about you, only mind what you believe in yourself. Because you know yourself better than anybody.

Nobody can understand better than you.

It is not a crime to become a selfish for own benefits without hurting anybody's emotions if the situation demands.

If you want to march forward in your life, then never turn back. It'll pull you backward.

Too much concern about your future make you frustrated. Concentrate in your present moment and work with full faith.

Never compare your life with others, because you're different from them, and they are different from you. Always think that you're special for yourself. You're unique.

Always love yourself. And try to live a discipline life. Then you'll see success will be yours.

Always be steady in your approach.

Wear the jewels of smile, gentle and simplicity on your face.

Never laugh at anybody. Laugh at your yourself. Laugh at your own foolishness.

You can't make pools to understand anything. It is like you can't convert a stone into a gold.

If you enter into the world of dirt, you'll soon get its dirt.

Stop a little before you think. Stop a little before you speak. Stop a little before you walk. Stop a little before you act.

If you keep thinking about meaningless things in your life; you're life will become meaningless.

Don't live your life in yours selfish pride of materialist possessions.
Sooner or later it'll perish. Nothing is permanent in this world.

Open your account of knowledge bank and count it, how much you've gathered today.

There are only two roads in our life, one leads you to the success; and another leads you to the failure.

A life without purpose is wasteful life. Make your life purposeful.

Never caught in the webs of emotions in your life, it will trap you forever.

The words of a jealous person are always poisonous.

If you see the things with the eyes of others, you'll never see the things with your eyes.

Beware from the people of too much sweetness of their unusual behaviors. There may be something wrong.

Smile like a flower and spread your sweetness everywhere. Smile cost nothing. It makes you feel good.

Don't take your life so serious that you forget your smile and happiness.
Take it easy and go with confidence and faith.

Accept gladly all the criticisms of others as their blessings and keep busy in your work with the positive frame of mind. Then nothing will distract you.

When you worried too much for something, nothing will come in your way, but everything will start falling over your head.

Learn to be happy even in your despairs.

It is good to be happy in the happiest moments of others.

Take your tragedies of life as a great lesson and experience. It will help you immensely in your coming days.

When others are one step or two steps ahead from you in life, you've nothing to worry, keep cool and calm and concentrate in your work. But never stop. Keep going on! Success will surely smile with you one day.

You can't please each and everyone in your life. It is quite difficult and it is not possible. So don't worry about that.

You can improve yourself when you know what is right and what is wrong for you.

You can earn both fame and defame with your good deeds and bad deeds.

Smartness doesn't mean that you know everything and the rest of the world doesn't know anything.

You should speak those things which you know very well. Don't speak those things which are not in your knowledge.

Our fear kills us many times before our death.

You'll never become great while keeping others under your feet.

It is a very tough job to find a person of your choice.

Your worries are not only stealing your happiness of today but also stealing your happiness of tomorrow.

If there is only failure in your life right now, it doesn't mean that in the coming days or months or years you'll only witness your failure. Work hard. Keep your burning candle of hope alive. Never put it off.

Don't go beyond your limitations in your life. It will create a lot of problems for you.

Don't shed your tears for unwanted things in your life, but if you can, then shed your sweats for valuable things.

Learn how to spend your money, it is like your friend and it is like your enemy. And it brings both of them.

Keep one thing in your life and concentrate on it fully. Give your mind, heart and soul. You'll always get success.

One who discovers himself, he will become precious like a diamond.

A man of bad behavior is like a scorpion. He will never leave his sting behavior.

Our life is a game of cycle. Sometimes happiness and sometimes sorrow. But anyhow we've to live. We can't quit.

Don't close your mind, heart and soul from good things, but close your mind, heart and soul from bad things.

Bad things always attracts more than good things. Learn how to judge between them.

You never run away from the realities of life. You've to accept it.

You've to evaluate your plus points and minus points if you want to progress in your life.

It is better to forget those experiences which are hurting you continuously.

You've to accept all the challenges of life with bold heart which are given by the tough situations.

Every day you try to promise to do good things for yourself and for the others. Then you will see the beautiful world surrounding around you.

Don't kill your great ideas and thoughts. It'll not only mould you but it also moulds the entire world. It'll make the great difference.
