

The adventures of Adriela book 1-

Chapter 1- the beginning

Zion walked to the black castle with guilt, he had guilt on his hands because he had just given up his beloved daughter to her grandfather Trivan. He hoped Adriela would do very well as a guardian and not fail in her mission against the evil of Corsatas. Of course she will succeed I have taught her magic well unlike those other guardians that get kidnapped all the time he thought. If only Corsatas never backstabbed me he thought sadly. He wished he knew why Corsatas had backstabbed him.

It was a bright sunny morning in Moda , Adriela had just woke up to a unicorn giving her breakfast.

“Here is your breakfast your guardianship” the unicorn said.

“Your guardianship my name is Adriela thank you” Adriela said crossly.

“Oh do you want me to call you Adriela instead of your guardianship?” the unicorn asked.

“Yes that would be perfect, may I inquire of your name ?” Adriela asked.

“My name is sparkle light” replied the unicorn.

“So sparkle light you are to call me Adriela and thank you for giving me breakfast today” she said. When the unicorn left Adriela decided to dig in to her breakfast. She studied the tray. Purple diamonds on the edges and handles and the tray was gold. Two choc chip biscuits with some milk and two plain biscuits and Rosy dreams. She decided to eat the biscuits and drink everything else. When she was finished breakfast she decided to explore her surroundings. First she went outside and walked a long walk and explored the forests. Everything is so beautiful Adriela thought until she came to a black tower. She decided to go in the tower thinking there might be some evil person who lived there. She opened the front door and she saw a beautiful woman who was facing her.

“Why hello” said Corsatas.

“Hi” said Adriela.

“L have a special assignment for you” Corsatas said.

“What is it?” asked Adriela.

“Give this drink to Queen Isibella” she said.

“What for?” asked Adriela opening the bottle. “It stinks” she complained.

“L know but it is important for you to do it” Corsatas said.

“L don’t trust you, are evil” Adriela said.

“I’m not evil I’ve been cursed, my husband denied me and forced me to live in this junk yard” Corsatas explained. “So please give this potion to Queen Isibella, it will make her live forever” Corsatas lied.

“Okay” said Adriela “I will”.

Adriela walked back to the Palace in peace and in determination to give the potion to Isibella.

“Queen Isibella I have something for you” she said waking up the queen from her sleep.

“What is it?” asked the queen.

“A potion that will make you live forever” explained Adriela.

“Where did you get that from?” asked the queen.

“A woman” replied Adriela.

“What woman?” asked Isibella

“I don’t know but she has brown hair do you know her?” asked Adriela. The queen gasped and said “Corsatas”.

“Who is Corsatas?” asked Adriela.

“The evil witch of Moda” replied queen Isibella.

“oh, but she isn’t” Adriela said to that.

“Oh but she is” said Isibella.

“She was abandoned by her husband and forced to live in junk” said Adriela.

“That’s what she tells everybody” Isibella said.

“She isn’t evil like you think I can prove it” said Adriela taking the cap off the potion and drinking it.

“Adriela don’t” cried out Queen Isibella. It was too late Adriela already had drunk the potion and turned green and collapsed. Everything on her turned green, she was laying lifeless on the floor. “Trivan, Eric” she called out for the guardians. The guardians heard the queens plea for help and came to the rescue.

“What is it?” asked Trivan.

“This” said queen unicom in panic and in heavy breathing.

“Oh no” said Eric.

“What happened?” asked Trivan.

“Well she drank a potion that Corsatas gave her and she turned green and is like this now” Queen Isibella said.

“We should have warned her about Corsatas” Trivan said.

“I tried to warn her but she ignored me and to prove that Corsatas was not evil she drank the potion and this happened, I should have knocked the potion out of her hands” Queen Isibella said.

"Well it's too late now, we need to find a way to undo the spell' Trivan said.

"Yes, I agree we must" said the queen.

"L need to find a cure and quick" said Trivan going off.

"Grandpa where are we going" twelve year old Eric asked.

"To help Adriela" Trivan replied.

"Where are we going?" asked Eric.

"To the cave of secrets" replied Trivan. When they got there they talked to the stone of Zion. The stone of Zion was a big Emerald Diamond with twenty Edges and was layed down upon a silver platform with glass holding up the platform one metre high.

"What is your purpose?" the stone asked.

"Well my granddaughter Adriela drunk a potion and now is green all over and can't move, can't breathe" Trivan explained clearly.

"L will find a cure" said Zion. "Return in two hours" the stone continued.

"Okay" Said Trivan.

Chapter 2-Finding a cure

Zion looked through the books in the cave of secrets to find anything on how to help Adriela, to his surprise he found nothing so he decided to confront Corsatas himself and get information about how to cure Adriela. He opened the front door to Corsatas' place which she had turned black herself to highlight her new wickedness.

"Hello Zion" she said evilly.

"Hi" said Zion. "Corsatas what have you done to my daughter?" he asked crossly.

"What do you mean?" asked Corsatas.

"You gave her a potion that was meant for queen Isibella and she drank it and now my little baby is all green and lifeless, sound familiar Corsatas?" he asked.

"L don't know what you're talking about" she said to that.

"Yes you do know now how can I help her?" asked Zion.

"Don't you know that, all powerful black wizard, heir to Rudalia's throne" she replied.

"This is not a game Corsatas, how can I help her?" asked Zion again.

"Why should I help her she drank that potion on her own accord and I can't help that she drunk it" Corsatas said.

“You gave it to her so now help me before I take over your mind” Zion said cruelly. Corsatas almost started crying but she resisted the urge, she didn’t want her enemy to see her cry.

“Heleon , that will help her heleon” Corsatas replied.

“Do you have that in your possession?” asked Zion.

“No” replied Corsatas. “I only make spells I don’t have anything to undo them” she replied. Zion sighed and said

“Okay”

After this Zion went to Zyne’s house. Zyne’s specialised in magic cures and undoing spells for those affected. Zion knocked on Zyne’s door .

“Hello your highness, how may I help you today?” Zynes asked. Zynes was a medium size, had curly shoulder length blonde hair and was handsome and wore white robes as he was a healer.

“Zynes do you have any Heleon?” asked Zion.

“Yes, I think I might have” replied Zynes . Zynes searched his catalogue for Heleon and found it, he gave it to Zion and Zion asked.

“How do I use it?”

“Well you pour it over the victim and the spell will come undone” replied Zynes.

“Okay thank you, bye Zynes” said Zion leaving.

“Bye your highness” said Zynes. Zion went back to the dark castle and played his role as the stone of Zion. Trivan and Eric came just as he had told them to come two hours later when they first came.

“L have a cure” said Zion the stone lighting up.

“What is it?” asked Trivan.

“Heleon and I bestow it upon you now” The bottle of Heleon magically came into Trivans hand and Zion continued “Pour it over Adriela and she will be released from her spell”

“Thank you” said Trivan leaving with Eric. The stone of Zion flashed off and Trivan went back to the castle. “Isibella, I have a antidote” explained Trivan.

“Oh good, I can’t believe the potion was meant for me” said Isibella.

“You know Corsatas how evil she is” said Trivan.

“Now let’s give Adriela the antidote” Isibella said.

“Okay” said Trivan pouring the potion over Adriela. Adriela turned back to her normal colour and was brought back to life. “Adriela” said Trivan with surprise. “You’re back”

“L know” said Adriela lifting herself up. “L should have never trusted Corsatas that evil witch, I shall never trust her again” said Adriela determined.

“I’m glad you said that” said Trivan.

“I’m glad too” said Adriela.

Chapter 3- L wonder why?

Adriela was looking innocently at some castle paintings one day. She saw a portrait of Corsatas and Zion and some kids together. She wondered at what Corsatas once was and who she was. Then she saw a portrait of a little unicorn and Isibella and a black unicorn all together. She wondered who the two other unicorns were and why she hadn’t seen them before. She decided to ask queen Isibella about it.

“Queen Isibella who are those two unicorns in the picture with you?” asked Adriela.

“What picture?” asked Isibella.

The one in the throne room”

“Oh I see what you mean, the little unicorn is my son Elard and the big unicorn is my husband king William” replied Isibella.

“Where are they?” asked Adriela.

“Well they are in heart field” replied Isibella.

“Why are they in heart field?” asked Adriela.

“L don’t want to talk about it” replied Isibella. Well after that Adriela decided to do some investigating. She decided to talk to some unicorns in Moda.

“They left, gone to heart field” was one unicorns answer.

“Why though why?” asked Adriela.

“Because there was a fight between the black unicorns and white unicorns because a black unicorn knocked off a white unicorns horn on purpose and that’s how the fight began and in the end the black unicorns left Moda to end the fighting among us” said the unicorn.

“Is it true?” asked a curious Adriela.

“Yes I think so the black unicorns will say no to this but we say yes” said the unicorn.

“Okay I will go talk to some black unicorns, goodbye thanks for the information” said Adriela disappearing.

“L wonder why she wanted to know that for” said the unicorn after Adriela had left.

Adriela went straight to heart field after hearing that and decided to chat up some black unicorns for information.

“Hey unicorn” said Adriela greeting a black unicorn.

“The name is Elard” said the unicorn.

“Oh Elard I want to talk to you” said Adriela.

“Whatever about?” asked Elard.

“About how to come back from Moda to here, don’t worry I’m not going to kill you I’m a guardian you see of the unicorns so I won’t harm you” said Adriela.

“Well Anneliese, that wicked witch chopped off Zirus’ horn and then he blamed it on some black unicorns nearby because as those black unicorns say she threatened him” he said.

“Why would she do that?” asked Adriela.

“Probably doing her mothers work, anyway after the black unicorn was accused of knocking off Zirus’ horn fighting broke out between the black and white unicorns and the black unicorns left Moda in the end because they couldn’t stand the fighting any more” replied Elard.

“That’s what the white unicorn told me” said Adriela.

“Well ask anyone you’ll get the same or opposite sides of the story” said Elard.

“Well you have been very helpful Elard” said Adriela walking off.

“Wait don’t go” said Elard stopping her.

“What is it?” asked Adriela.

“How is my mother?” asked Elard.

“Is your mother Isibella, queen Isibella told me that she had a son called Elard” said Adriela.

“Yes that is my mother, queen Isibella of Moda” said the Elard.

“I’ve known her only for a day” said Adriela.

“I know princess that you’ve only just come to Moda yesterday, we unicorns follow the Hampton royals very closely” said Elard.

“Are you more happy here than Moda?” asked Adriela.

“No Moda is much more peaceful and beautiful” Elard said to that. “And we don’t have to co-exist with unicorn hunters”

“What do unicorn hunters do that is so bad?” asked Adriela.

“You know hunt us and almost extinguish us until we came to Moda and just recently king Rudalia put a ban on unicorn hunting” said Elard.

“Well that’s good” said Adriela to that. “Am I bothering you?” asked Adriela not wanting to annoy the unicorn.

“No, you don’t bother me at all in fact I like you princess” said Adriela.

“Do you know of a witch called Corsatas?” asked Adriela.

“Yes I do know of her indeed I know of her” replied Elard.

“She gave me a potion for your mother to drink but instead I drank it and as I was told turned green and lifeless” said Adriela.

“Well” said Elard in shock. “I can believe that she would try to do that to my mother but did you know what you were doing when you took the potion?” asked Elard.

“Well no, she told me it would make her live forever but it was a trick, a deceitful lie she lied to me she wanted to kill Isibella” said Adriela.

“Don’t accept potions from strangers” reminded Elard.

“Well I should have never accepted her potion I should not have listened to her I was convinced she was evil for a minute until she convinced me so otherwise” said Adriela regretting her decision.

“What did she tell you to convince you that she was not evil?” asked Elard.

“She said that her husband denied her and was forced to live in a junkyard” said Adriela.

“Not true, she made herself live in a junkyard” said Elard.

“You know what Elard?” said Adriela.

“Yes” said Elard waving his mane.

“I like you too” she said in a soft honest voice.

“Oh I am glad princess that you like me” said Elard.

“Anyway I must get home to Moda before Haylem catches me” said Adriela. “Bye Elard I will see you again I promise” she said leaving.

“Bye princess” said Elard saying goodbye to his newfound friend. Adriela proceeded to magically go back to Moda and ate lunch.

Chapter 4- Getting to know Isibella

“I talked with your son Elard today” said Adriela sitting at the palace dining table.

“How, did you leave Moda?” asked Isibella taking a sip of strawberry water.

“Yes in fact I did because you did not tell me of the unicorns feud with each other” replied Adriela.

“Oh , sorry for that you know I once told your father about it once and after that I wanted to tell the story no more” said Isibella.

“That’s okay, I made a new friend today” explained Adriela.

“My son?” asked queen Isibella.

“Yes” replied Adriela.

“Do you get on along well with my son Elard?” asked Isibella.

“Yes, definitely” said Adriela taking a sip of Rosy dreams.

“Interesting, is his father alive?” asked Isibella.

“L wouldn’t know, I never asked” replied Adriela.

“Maybe ask next time” Isibella said.

“L definitely will” said Adriela to that.

“So how do you find life here? Different to heart field” she asked with pleasure.

“Oh definitely different, here it is more” she paused. “More interesting”

“How is it more interesting?” asked Isibella.

“It is more prettier and everything is beautiful except for Corsatas’ tower” replied Adriela.

“L know” said Isibella. “So are you Corsatas’ child?” asked Isibella.

“What do you mean?” asked Adriela.

“Well Corsatas and your father are married so they must have had you recently” explained Isibella.

“No I don’t know” said Adriela. “It is unthinkable that I could be related to that witch” said Adriela with disgust.

“Trust me somehow you are” said Isibella taking a sip of strawberry water.

“L don’t even know who my mother is” said Adriela with shame.

“One day you shall know” said Isibella.

“Do you know who she is?” asked Adriela innocently.

“No, I don’t know what goes on in the secret forest” replied Queen Isibella.

“What is the secret forest?” asked Adriela.

“Where the non-guardians descended from Corsatas and Zion go” replied Isibella.

“Oh” said Adriela.

“Any way let’s enjoy our meal”

Chapter 5-Adriela’s dream

Adriela went to sleep on a quiet night, she had a dream that she was back in heart field.

“Adriela, Adriela” a voice called out to her in her dream. The voice was Corsatas and she was standing in a beautiful forest with butterflies and fairies.

“Yes” called out Adriela.

“Hey” said Corsatas.

“Hey” said Adriela back.

“Look at this place isn’t it beautiful?” asked Corsatas.

“Yes very” said Adriela looking around.

“Adriela” said Corsatas. “What do you think of me?” she asked.

“That you are wicked and I will say no more” replied Adriela firmly.

“Your father is the wicked one, he is an adulterous to me” she said to that.

“Really, I don’t believe you or any of your lies” Adriela said firmly.

“L gave you life and breath you should appreciate me” said Corsatas.

“L do appreciate you but I can’t stand your wickedness”

“Wicked” Corsatas said smiling coming over . “Wicked, you call me wicked, well look at yourself first before you judge” reminded Corsatas.

“L will not stand you any longer get out of my sight Corsatas you wicked witch” Adriela said as she woke up. When she woke up she stared heavy breathing and was relieved that it was all a dream.

Chapter 6- A walk in the forest with Eric

“Hey Adriela, want to come on a walk with me today” asked Eric.

“Sure I’d love to get out of here” said Adriela. When they had reached the forest and Adriela touched a tree branch Eric asked

“So I heard you scream last night something like Corsatas you wicked witch” said Eric looking at her.

“Yes I did scream, I was having a dream about Corsatas” Adriela said.

“So how was this dream like, was she trying to hurt you?” asked Eric.

“No, I was the one that was being hurtful by saying to her face that she was evil” replied Adriela.

“Why wouldn’t you say that?” Eric said smiling at her.

“L said that because she asked me Adriela what do you think of me?” Adriela said.

“Oh so that’s what you think of her, that she is evil?” asked Eric in his deep voice.

“Yes I think that she is an evil” replied Adriela.

“So uh, how do you find life in Moda?” asked Eric.

“Queen Isibella asked me the same question, and I find life in Moda to be very good and very beautiful” replied Adriela sincerely.

“Oh I’m glad to hear so, so Adriela do you play any music?” he asked.

“Yes my father taught me to play piano” replied Adriela sweetly. Eric rubbed his head and asked

“Do you play anything else”

“Well I can sing” said Adriela with a wide smile on her face.

“Really sing for me” requested Eric.

“No, not now” said Adriela smiling.

“Really not now?” asked Eric.

“Really I don’t feel like it” said Adriela to that.

“Okay, I won’t force you to sing then” said Eric.

“It’s okay” said Adriela smiling at Eric.

“Hey I want to know, how you are related to me if you are?” asked Eric.

“I’m not sure” said Adriela tripping over.

“Oh” Eric said catching her.

“Oh thank you” said Adriela smiling as he brought her back up.

“It’s okay” said Eric. “So you tripped over a branch” he said hands behind his back.

“Yes I did” she said laughing. “Oh I am such a fool” she said joking.

“Oh no you’re not” said Eric to that comment.

“Do you know what Eric?” asked Adriela.

“Yes” said Eric.

“L want the black and white unicorns to reunite and live together as one again” said Adriela.

“That sounds like a good idea, but how are you going to fulfil it?” asked Eric.

“L don’t know how, but I will” said Adriela.

“Well I’ve got an idea, how about we work on this together” said Eric.

“That would be brilliant, then I wouldn’t have to do it alone” said Adriela happy.

“L know lets start today” said Eric.

“How should we start?” asked Adriela.

“Convince the black unicorns to come back to Moda” said Eric.

“How are we going to do that?” asked Adriela in shock.

“Well I don’t know but we’ll do it” said Eric.

“How about we also convince the white unicorns that black unicorns are not evil” suggested Adriela.

“That would be good too” said Eric.

“I’ll work on the black unicorns and you work on the white unicorns” said Adriela.

“Sounds like a great plan” said Eric.

Chapter 7- Meeting up with Elard

“Elard” called out Adriela.

“Yes Adriela” said Elard.

“I’ve got a plan” said Adriela walking towards him. “Don’t you get lonely up here?” asked Adriela.

“Yes” replied Elard who lived alone. “So tell me about your plan”

“Well I want to bring back the black unicorns to Moda and that is my plan” said Adriela.

“Well, I don’t know about that it seems impossible at this point” said Elard.

“What do you mean at this point?” asked Adriela strictly.

“Well there was a great fight and it would be a great shock if we came back” replied Elard.

“Surely you weren’t involved in the great fight” said Adriela.

“True, I wasn’t because I was only a young unicorn in those days” said Elard honestly.

“You must come back to Moda” said Adriela. “If you are ever to feel safe again” said Adriela.

“What safe? King Rudalia has banned unicorn hunting and now we are free” said Elard.

“No you’re not, just because it’s banned doesn’t mean you’re safe, they could still try to hunt even though it’s banned” said Adriela.

“L see what you mean but better to be hunted down than in a feud” said Elard.

“Elard” Adriela said crossly.

“Yes princess” said the unicorn twitching his ear.

“That feud was so long ago surely it has been forgotten in the minds of many” said Adriela softly.

“Believe me it hasn’t.

Eric had a go at trying to persuade the white unicorns to not fight with the black unicorns if they came back.

“So where does this unicorn Zirus live?” asked Eric.

“I don’t know, you will know him when you see him he is the unicorn without a horn” replied the unicorn that Eric was talking to.

“Okay bye” said Eric walking off. He asked another unicorn on his way to find Zirus “Do you know where Zirus is?” asked Eric.

“He lives not so far away from here” replied the unicorn.

“Thankyou” said Eric and when he found Zirus he said.

“Whoa, I found you”

“I know, have you been looking for me?” asked the red unicorn Zirus.

“Yes I wanted to talk to you” said Eric.

“Okay, whatever about?” asked Zirus.

“About your fight that you caused with the black unicorns” said Eric.

“Oh that” said Zirus nodding his head. “I might have a few secrets to tell about that”

“What kind of secrets?” asked Eric curiously.

“Well come close” said Zirus afraid of Anneliese. “Anneliese chopped off my horn and threatened to kill me if I told the truth” said Zirus whispering in a really quiet whisper.

“She sounds horrible” Eric whispered back.

“I know” said Zirus.

Chapter 8-A royal banquet

“So the plan is Elard you make an appearance at the royal ball tonight and see the unicorns’ reaction” said Adriela confident that her plan might work.

“Okay” said Elard whispering in Adriela’s room.

“And hopefully our little plan will work” said Adriela full with hope.

“So I go in” said Elard.

“After me, they will announce my name and then they will announce you” said Adriela.

“Okay sounds like a plan” said Elard. “So we go in now?” asked Elard.

“No in twenty minutes after the ball starts, I want the whole kingdom to see you” replied Adriela.

“Okay said Elard. So after the twenty minutes wait they both entered the ballroom.

“Guardian Adriela” announced the announcer. The announcer was shocked by the next entry.

“Prince Elard of Moda” the unicorns gasped shocked to see a black unicorn.

“My son, I’ve missed you” said Isibella affectionately joining heads with Elard.

“And I you” said Elard.

“Aww” said the crowd happy that they were together.

“Everybody let’s celebrate my son has come home at last” said queen Isibella joyously.

“Yeah” screamed the crowd and they started dancing excitedly.

“Well that’s good” said Elard to his mother.

“What’s good?” asked Isibella.

“That they are all happy at my return” said Elard.

“But how would they react if another black unicorn comes back, what do you think the reaction will be then” asked Isibella.

“I don’t know mother but if all of the black unicorns come home I hope there won’t be any fighting” whispered Elard.

“I hope so too” whispered Isibella. “Why did you come home?” asked his mother.

“Adriela convinced me so” replied Elard.

“Well she is a new guardian, the rest of the guardians were threatened by Corsatas into the secret forest” said Isibella.

“How horrible of Corsatas it must not happen again” said Elard determined.

“Yes I know it won’t happen again” said Isibella determined.

“So sparkle light what do you think of the black unicorns coming back to Moda?” asked Adriela to her breakfast bringer.

“Ooh scary” replied sparkle light

“Why so scary?” asked Adriela.

“Because black unicorns are evil including Elard” was sparkle lights reply.

“Elard’s not evil, he is my friend and as a friend I can protest that he is not evil” Adriela said to sparkle lights’ comment.

“I guess they are not evil if you say so guardian” said sparkle light.

“Excuse me sparkle light now I must go and see my friend Elard” Adriela said excusing her self.

“Elard do you think the time is right for the black unicorns to come home?” asked Adriela.

“Yes definitely” was Elard’s answer and the black unicorns came to Moda and lived in peace once again.

Chapter 9- School

So one month later Adriela and Eric were sent to school by Zion to learn how to defeat Corsatas. The school was the old castle that Rudalia had transformed into a school long ago when his reign had started.

“This place is a farce” said Adriela as she and Eric were in the room together. “I’ve never been surrounded by too much crowd and annoying teachers that boss you around please” she said annoyed.

“Well you’ll get used to it” commented Eric.

“L don’t see why I need to learn to use magic and other things as well, I have enough going on with Corsatas troubling the unicorns all day long” said Adriela.

“Grandfather will take care of that for us in our absence” pointed out Eric.

“This room is so” Adriela was cut off by her cousin.

“So blue” said Eric.

“Yes that’s right so blue” said Adriela. “And so pathetic it is so plain, my room back at home is pink and this is blue a boys colour” said Adriela angrily.

“L like blue don’t you?” asked Eric innocently.

“Yes I suppose so, hey you know what I’m going to give this room a makeover” said Adriela excitedly.

“Really how?” asked Eric.

“With a little bit of magic” replied Adriela.

“Are you even allowed to do that?” asked Eric.

“Why not?” asked Adriela to herself. “Actually I’m not going to do anything to this room, it deserves to be ugly” said Adriela.

“L get what you mean” said Eric.

“L will miss Elard and Isibella” said Adriela sadly.

“L will miss them too” Eric said to that.

“You don’t even talk to them” Adriela said innocently.

“Yes I do” said Eric. “Anyway tomorrow is the first day of classes for two weeks” Eric said.

Chapter 10- The first lesson

“This ought to be boring” said Adriela.

“Don’t say that” said Eric trying to stop her from her wringing.

“L know but I want to be at home” she said dreamily thinking of her times with her father, oh how she missed him and his company then she thought of Moda and the beautiful land she had just been introduced to and born in.

“So do I, so do I” said Eric. The teacher walked in and was Adriela’s great, great grandfather though she did not know this.

“Hello kids my name is Mr Hampton and I will be teaching you magic” he said blowing a blue bubble from his hand. Adriela raised her eyebrows and Eric rested his head on his elbow. Adriela was not impressed by this at all she had been taught by her father to do some magic but not a lot, she decided maybe she could learn something new out of this. “So what are your names?” asked Mr Hampton.

“My name is Adriela Hampton and this is Eric Hampton and we are cousins” Adriela said to her great ,great grandfather.

“Ahh are you a relation to the heart field royal family at all?” asked he.

“Yes my father is Zion” replied Adriela.

“That is my great grandson so that makes you my great, great granddaughter” said her kin happily.

“Give us a hug” he said hugging Adriela, after the hug Adriela felt embarrassed, my great ,great grandfather is embarrassing himself she thought sadly.

“Any way our first lesson today is”

At recess time Adriela and Eric had to have a pick from the food. Adriela choose everything of course and so did Eric.

“Let’s see we have some beef, mashed potato and peas, this won’t fill” she complained. Adriela was quite the complainer.

“And we have milk” said Eric who was very understanding of Adriela through her misery.

“L know but if this beef is too hard I will use my sugaring powers to make it nice and soft” she said.

“He, he” she did a fake laugh.

“Mashed potato is excellent” Eric said digging in.

“L know, I might just salt these peas” said Adriela.

“L know I might do that too” exclaimed Eric. At this school there was also a bunch of bullies, the bullies walked past them and exdaimed

“Look the new school pretties who think oh I am so perfect, I’m just so perfect” said the bully laughing at them.

“We are not the school pretties that is exactly what you are you common bully cow” said Adriela yelling.

“Don’t call me a cow prettie” said the bully and walked off.

“Just ignore, who cares what they think, you are you and you are more special than them because they just tease people” said Eric. Adriela smiled and laughed a bit and said

“I’ve never been bullied before, well maybe except by Haylem, I guess that’s what comes from a life of being stuck in castles all day” said Adriela.

“That girl is probably not loved” said Eric and that was the end of the matter.

Chapter 11- Doobers

“Mr Hampton?” asked Adriela.

“Yes Adriela?” replied Mr Hampton.

“This girl has been picking on me and Eric, she calls us the school pretties and every time she walks past us she calls out “oh look at the school pretties, oh I am so perfect” that is exactly what she says and it bothers me a lot” said Adriela truthfully.

“L know exactly who you are talking about, that girl is a jealous nuisance, she was abandoned by her parents and left at the castle steps when she was a baby “ Mr Hampton explained.

“Well that” said Adriela being cut off by her cousin Eric.

“No need to go there”

“Oh yes there is need to go there”

Two days later the bullies called out again

“Oh look at the pretties they are having their pretty ice cream” the bully Rebecca called out.

“That is enough Rebecca you stupid bully” she said getting out of her chair. “L think those you bully would appreciate it if you just shut up and mind your own business, does everybody agree with me?” asked Adriela loudly. Eric stood up out of his chair and clapped his hands and the rest of the school did the same even Rebecca’s friends.

“One time you called my mum ugly that’s a big no, no” said one of Rebecca’s friends Chelsea . Chelsea went up to Adriela and said “Thankyou for standing up for everybody now for you’re help I offer you my friendship” she said offering Adriela her hand.

“Friends” said Adriela smiling and shaking Chelsea’s hand.

“You called my face a monkey once, that is a big no no too” said Tracey walking away from Rebecca and offering Adriela her friendship.

“Friends” said Adriela again.

“Come sit with us at our table” the girls offered. Adriela followed and so did her cousin Eric.

“Um is he coming too?” asked Chelsea.

“Sure why not, he’s my cousin” Adriela said hoping that they would not bag out her cousin.

“Sure he can come, why not?” said Tracey. The group went to the table and enjoyed the rest of their lunch there.

Chapter 12- The prom

Adriela and her cousin Eric were getting ready for the prom.

“Do you think this dress looks good on me?” asked Adriela. Adriela was wearing a pink strapless dress with pink flowers all about the top of the dress as well as pink sparkles with pink roses on the skirt. Her hair was curled also as well as her having pink sparkles on her skin and hair.

“You look amazing Adriela, absolutely amazing” replied Eric looking at a stunning Adriela.

“You look stunning too” said Adriela. Eric was wearing a suit and tie and he looked handsome in it Adriela thought.

“Let’s go” said Adriela walking out the door with her cousin. Eric and Adriela were dates tonight. The castle ballroom was nice and beautiful tonight. There was dancing that night as well as modern music that the young people liked.

“Adriela” said Tracey excitedly. “You look great” she complimented.

“So do you” said Adriela hugging her friend. The friends danced for a while and then the king and queen of the dance were announced.

“King, Eric” called out Rebecca dreading Eric being king. “And Queen Adriela” she called out jealous of her.

“Oh” said Adriela excitedly accepting her tiara and sash. The sash was pink and the tiara silver. Eric got a crown and a blue sash. After that happened Eric and Adriela talked.

“I can’t believe we got king and queen” she said excitedly to her cousin.

“I guess this is goodbye” said Chelsea sadly.

“What do you mean this is goodbye?” asked Eric.

“Well you were only going to our school for two weeks and we shall miss you when you leave” Chelsea explained.

“We will miss you too” said Adriela hugging them both. After the hugging Rebecca approached

“Hey I’m so sorry for all that I’ve said to you” she said apologizing to Adriela.

“It’s okay” said Adriela. “Give us a hug” they hugged and Rebecca ran away crying.

“Should we go after her?” asked Tracey to Chelsea.

“Hang on” said Chelsea running towards Rebecca.

“We forgive for all the things you ever said, I know it’s hard being abandoned and all but you don’t need to put other people down to make yourself feel better, do you know what I mean” said Chelsea.

“Do you really forgive me or are you just saying that” asked Rebecca.

“Yes we forgive you, friends again” said Chelsea.

“Friends” Rebecca said and they hugged.

Chapter 13- Return to Moda

“That was quite an interesting experience” said Eric to Adriela.

“Yes it was, and how the friends made up was just amazing” said Adriela.

“Want to go there again?” asked Eric.

“No” replied Adriela laughing taking a sip of rosy dreams.

“What are you talking about?” asked queen Isibella.

“Oh about how we went to magic school for two weeks and I won queen” said Adriela putting a hand up in the air.

“Wow, congratulations Adriela” said Isibella loudly.

“And the friends made up” said Eric putting up an eyebrow at Adriela. All of a sudden there was a horrible smell and queen Isibella fainted.

“Oh no” said Adriela. “Elard” she called out. “E” she stopped when she saw Elard lying on the floor. “Elard” she said crying into his mane, “Elard” she said banging her head with her hand.

“Stop it” said Eric pulling her up.

“Elard” she said weeping even more.

“Stop it, this is most likely Corsatas’ fault and we are out to get her aren’t we?” asked Eric raising an eyebrow.

“L suppose so” said Adriela. “We must stop her” she said tears in her eyes.

“Yes I agree” said Eric taking her to the cave of secrets.

They walked down to the cave of secrets together and decided to talk to the stone of Zion.

“Dear stone of Zion I request how to defeat Corsatas this time” she said tears in her eyes and starting to cry all over again.

“Don’t cry to me, what has Corsatas done this time?” the stone asked.

“Well there was this bad smell and the unicorns fainted” Eric replied for Adriela as she was upset and down on her knees.

“Well find a cure, first find a cause and then a cure” said the stone and finished.

“We will have to take a trip to the magical waterfall” said Eric.

“The what?” asked Adriela.

“The magical waterfall” said Eric again. Adriela must be new to this whole magical waterfall thing Eric told himself.

“Why is it called magical?” asked Adriela.

“Because it shows you whoever you want or what you want to see whenever you want it” Eric replied.

“Oh” said Adriela.

“Oh” Eric said mimicking her. “So let’s see what Corsatas is up to” said Eric cheerfully.

“Show me Corsatas” said Adriela guessing that was what she had to say. The waterfall showed Corsatas talking to herself.

“Oh do I look so good in this mirror, I bet I do because I’m Adriela and I’m so vain”

“That witch” said Adriela hatefully because Corsatas was pretending to act like Adriela.

“Don’t worry about her, you are way more better than she is cousin” said Eric.

“Let’s just, just” she said stammering. “Get on with the case” she ended.

“The case, you call this a case, well you’re very original” said Eric to his cousin.

“Look what Corsatas is doing now” exclaimed Adriela.

“Now that all the unicorns are lifeless my holiday begins” Corsatas said putting on some sunglasses in a bathing suit and going outdoors.

“They won’t stay lifeless for long you wicked witch” Adriela said determined.

“Let’s go to Corsatas’ tower, I have a feeling she might be out so let’s check out some of her spells” Eric said. Eric’s feeling was right, Corsatas was out.

“This tells us something” said Adriela looking at Corsatas’ spell book.

“What is it?” asked Eric.

“Telium, it has a bad smell and makes unicorns faint” replied Adriela.

“Does it have anything on how to undo the spell?” asked Eric.

“Um, eh yero, crozi yero,art wa” said Adriela saying the undoing spell. All of a sudden the unicorns woke up everywhere, each and every one of them woke up from their sleep.

“Where was I?” asked Isibella when she woke up. “Adriela Eric” she said calling out their names. “No use, they’ve disappeared on me” she said. All of a sudden she saw Corsatas on the balcony.

“Hello I’m here to party” said Corsatas.

“No you’re not, you’re here to cause trouble aren’t you, aren’t you?” asked queen Isibella.

“Yes you’re right I am here to cause trouble, until those guardians woke you all up” she encircled queen Isibella. “You know I was going to make myself queen since you were sleeping but I guess not anymore so I’m just going to chill here” Corsatas said sitting on a chair.

“Get out my castle, I don’t want you here, I waited more than nine hundred years for my husband and son because of you” she said.

“Okay I will leave, you will regret me leaving I swear Isibella” Corsatas said.

“No I won’t” Isibella secretly mouthed to herself.

Chapter 14- Corsatas’ plot to become queen

L am a useless Villain I have no minions Corsatas thought. If only I could change that she thought smartly. L still want to be queen, I know I will be queen when Zion is king but I just can’t wait, it will be soon but I just can’t wait so I must hatch up a plot to become queen.

“L can believe that Corsatas would try to make herself queen of Moda, but the question is what are her limits, what is she capable of” asked Adriela.

“L will kill Elard, Isibella and William and I will be queen” Corsatas said delightfully.

“She tried to kill you” said Adriela in shock.

“Yes she did, that was the point of making us unicorns sleep so she could take over Moda” Isibella said.

“My last attempt failed, but this next one will” Corsatas told herself.

“What if she tries again?” asked Adriela.

“This time even you can’t stop me Adriela, Eric and Trivan” Corsatas said evilly.

“Then we must stop her” was Trivans response.

“But how do we know what she’s up to?” asked Adriela.

“The magical waterfall” replied Eric.

“This attempt will work” Corsatas said happily.

“No we won’t let her get away with it again” and that was the end of their conversation. Later Elard and Adriela decided to go to Corsatas’ loom and spy on her. Both of them were invisible and Corsatas could not see them.

“This attempt will work” said Corsatas. “L know it will” she said to herself.

“No it won’t” said Adriela determined.

“Now as for those bratty guardians they will suffer when I am queen” she then laughed to herself.

“You will never be queen” said Elard. “L will make sure of it, come on Adriela lets go home” he said flying off.

“So Corsatas wants to try again eh, we have got to stop this from happening” Adriela said.

“Oh, I am so sick of that witch” said Elard.

“So am I, so am I” said Adriela.

“L know but, why does she have to be so evil, why can’t she just be good like she used to” said Elard.

“She used to be good?” asked Adriela.

“Yes, her and Zion have had seven children together and lived happily until one day she made clouds gather in the sky and she said Moda I give you rain, those were her exact words” Elard explained.

“Have you ever been with anybody?” asked Adriela curiously.

“What do you mean?” asked Elard.

“Have you ever had a girlfriend?” she asked again.

“No” he replied. “Never bothered getting one” Elard said.

“I’ve never had a boyfriend either” said Adriela.

“You’re fifteen, too young” said Elard.

“L know” said Adriela. “But you’re not fifteen” she said to Elard.

“L know that I am very old compared to your fifteen years but I am very experienced and experience is good” he said.

“Yes you are a very wise, noble unicorn” said Adriela patting his mane.

“Stop petting my mane, I am your friend not your pet unicorn” said Elard defensively.

“Oh sorry but your mane feels so good” said Adriela apologizing.

“Does it?” asked Elard.

“Yes of course it does” replied Adriela.

Chapter 15- A failed attempt

There was a royal ball and Corsatas would attempt to kill the royals that night. Adriela got ready for the ball. She wore a purple gown with sparkles on it. She also wore mascara and silver eye shadow and purple lip gloss. When she was ready she went down the staircase to the royal ball and entered the ballroom.

“Hey Elard” said Adriela greeting Elard.

“Hi princess” said Elard.

“Well, how are you?” asked Adriela curiously.

“I’m great” he replied.

“So am I” said Adriela. “So what have you been doing?” asked Adriela.

“Just hanging out with you” said Elard.

“Well I know that” said Adriela smiling.

“So what have you been doing?” asked Elard.

“Composing songs all day, singing and playing music and hanging out in the forest with my cousin” she replied.

“That sounds great” said Elard.

“So when do you think Corsatas will strike again?” asked Adriela curiously.

“Hopefully never” was Elard’s answer.

“Do you feel a strange presence in this room?” asked Adriela to her friend.

“Yes a little bit, maybe you don’t think” Elard was cut off by Adriela.

“Corsatas is here” Adriela said.

“Well maybe” was Elard’s response. “Oh no” said Elard using his magical powers to detect an invisible person. “It is Corsatas indeed and she is holding a dagger and she is coming towards the royal table, MOTHER” he yelled out knocking the dagger out of Corsatas’ hands and making her visible to everyone.

“HOW DARE YOU, LITTLE UNICORN” yelled Corsatas angrily.

“What’s the problem Corsatas want to be queen?” asked Elard.

“Yes and you my little friend have just spoiled it for me” she said defensively.

“Well Corsatas, it looks as though to me like you have just lost your chance” said Elard. Soon all of the unicorns were laughing at this scene.

“Stop laughing all of you or I will turn you all to stone” Corsatas threatened.

“L don’t think so because you see there are guardians out here tonight and an heir to a kingdom called Zion” said Elard.

“What do I care about them?” asked Corsatas stubbornly.

“Corsatas I think that it is time for you to leave” Said Elard in a quiet low voice.

“Fine goodbye little unicorns” she said walking out the palace doors.

“Well it is obvious now what she thinks of us” said Elard.

“Fine goodbye little unicorns” mimicked an old black unicom.

“L know right, she totally wicked” said Adriela.

“We know” said King William.

“Let’s get back to partying woo” said Isibella happily.

Chapter 16- Under the influence

After the ball that night Corsatas decided her only hope of becoming Moda’s queen was through the guardians. She decided to pick on Trivan for raising the alarm when baby Anthony was kidnapped. Now even Adriela and Eric didn’t wouldn’t know they couldn’t trust Trivan the faithful guardian for many years. She decided to sneak into Trivans bedroom and sneak an evil potion into his mouth. A love potion and the love potion would make him do whatever she wanted because he would be solely in love with her. The next morning when Trivan woke up he felt different, he felt in love but not with his wife, he was in love with Corsatas. He decided to go to her that morning he felt as if he would do anything for Corsatas.

He knocked on Corsatas door with a bundle of roses for Corsatas.

“Hi honey Trivan, I see that you have brought me flowers” said Corsatas. Corsatas took the flowers and took Trivan into her arms and kissed him. Trivan kissed her back with all the passion in the world. Corsatas then dragged him over into her bedroom and they both got naked because Corsatas started undressing Trivan and he undressed her. Then they kissed together on the bed and were about to have sex when Trivan asked

“Do you want me to do anything for you my lady?” he asked whispering.

“Kiss me, love me, want me”

“L love you I want you” said Trivan kissing her. Corsatas loved the attention of a man, too bad this man was revolting to her because she loved Zion the most and Trivan was her descendant. Corsatas decided to start talking about her plans to become queen of Moda.

“If you love me and want me make me queen, your queen, queen of Moda” said Corsatas.

“Of course what shall I do to fulfil your wishes my queen Corsatas” he said stroking her hair.

They were both sitting up on their knees naked and Corsatas said.

“Get rid of the royals and the guardians for me” she said quietly.

“As you wish my queen” he said getting up and putting all of his clothes back on.

“Be careful my love” warned Corsatas hiding her breasts and body with the blanket on the bed.

Chapter 17- Corsatas takes over

Get rid of the royals and the guardians for me those words repeated themselves in Trivan's head over and over again. How to get rid of those royals and guardians, how hard would that be for Trivan who was under a spell. He decided to send his grandkids off to Moda to Rudalia and imprison the king and queen.

“Isabella, William” he said urgently.

“What is it?” Isabella asked.

“Corsatas wants to kill you so please hide” he replied.

“Hide, hide where?” said Isabella.

“In the dungeon under a magical lock” said Trivan. “Come with me” he said. There was a dungeon in the castle a big dungeon but it had never ever been used before because nobody had committed any crimes in Moda yet.

“Let's go, if this will keep us safe from Corsatas well go” said William. “She tried to kill us before what will stop her again” William questioned.

“Nothing” Trivan replied nervously hoping they did not know of his and Corsatas' plot.

Trivan took them down to the royal dungeon and left them there. Next he saw the guardians and told them to go to Rudalia.

“Why grandfather why?” asked Adriela with tears in her eyes.

“Because your grandfather the king commands it so” said Trivan sympathetically.

“We'll go” said Eric taking Adriela to Heartfield. Trivan satisfied with his work ventured back to Corsatas.

“You got rid of them?” asked Corsatas.

“Yes” said Trivan kissing her.

“Thank you, oh thank you” she said crying to him and hugging him and kissing his cheeks. She took a deep breath then whispered “Thank you for making me queen”

Chapter 18- Isabella in dungeon

“Couldn't we just have jailed Corsatas instead of us?” questioned Isabella.

“It is important that Corsatas stays away from us and we from her” said William firmly.

“I just hope we are not in here forever” said Isibella.

“So do I, so do I” said William. A guard came in and gave them dinner.

“Oh dinner” said Isibella optimistically. The guard bowed his head low.

“You were a good queen, but to me you will always be the queen that everybody loved” said the unicorn crying.

“What do you mean, I am your queen now” the guard shut the door and Isibella got angry.

“Were a good queen, I am a queen” said Isibella.

“Calm down honey, this isn’t like you acting like this” said William.

“Sorry honey but I just think that something is up” said Isibella.

“I know, but what would be up?” asked William.

“Corsatas is queen” suggested Isibella.

“How could that happen?” asked William.

“Remember what I told you before about Corsatas wanting to make herself queen” said Isibella.

“Yes” said William.

“I think she already has” and Queen Isibella burst into tears.

“Why so sad?” asked William.

“Sad, I am sad because of the horrible things she might do to us unicorns” replied Isibella bowing her head.

“Don’t be sad, the guardians will make it all better” said William.

“I wish” said Isibella.

The very next day the guard that came in the day before explained everything.

“Corsatas calls herself queen now but she isn’t really, she’s just another stupid usurper because you are our true king and queen” the unicorn said bowing. The unicorn lifted up its head and said “If we didn’t call her our queen she threatened to turn us all into stone” the guard explained.

“That horrible witch are you in her service?” asked Isibella.

“No, but somebody has to feed you, I do not guard you under Corsatas’ orders I guard you to keep you alive while I can” sadly explained the guard.

“It’s okay” said Isibella. “I can feel what you feel” she said comforting him. The unicorn who loved her.

Chapter 19- Adriela to the rescue

Once Corsatas had falsely called herself queen of Moda Elard came to see Adriela in Heartfield.

“She did what?” asked Adriela shocked.

“Just as I said” was Elard’s response.

“That witch, Trivan was in league with her the whole time, how can I ever trust him again?” questioned Adriela.

“He was apparently under a love potion that only lasted 24 hours that made him do stuff for Corsatas” was Elard’s reply to not trusting her grandfather.

“So he was under a spell eh, I wonder where he is now” said Adriela.

“He is Corsatas’ servant she forced him to it by threatening to make all the unicorns into stone, in fact she forced everybody into being obedient and loyal to her” Elard explained.

“As if they are loyal to her, I may be eighteen but I know where their true loyalties lie” said Adriela.

“So do I and I am older than you” said Elard.

“You must be very wise” said Adriela.

“L am thank you very much princess” said Elard replying to this compliment.

“We must stop her” said Adriela.

“And I will stop her with you” said Elard.

“You don’t have to” was Adriela’s response to that.

“Oh I must, if my friends and family’s happiness is in danger I must come to help” said Elard.

“Alright you can join me, why not it will be fun” said Adriela optimistically.

When they got to the castle Elard said “Lets kick some butt”

“Yeah let’s do exactly that Elard. They made themselves invisible to get into the castle as Corsatas was guarding the place.

“Oh Trivan it is good to be a queen isn’t it?” she asked him sweetly.

“Yes your majesty” said Trivan. Corsatas thought it was sweet to be queen. Her moment was spoiled when she saw Elard and Adriela.

“WHAT ARE YOU DOING HERE?” she asked angrily.

“YOU ARE NO QUEEN, YOUR’E A FAKE A USURPER” screamed Adriela.

“No the usurper is you” Corsatas was cut off by Adriela.

“Really I was never a queen but Corsatas wait your turn” reminded Adriela.

“Wait my turn, you can go wait your turn” said Corsatas. “As for you Elard I thought you were dead” she said meanly.

“I am here nice and healthy and alive” smiled Elard.

“I’m going to turn you into stone” Corsatas threatened.

“No you won’t” said Adriela “I’ll do that to you if you do it to him” Adriela said threatening her.

“Get out of here” said Elard.

“Fine then I will leave, goodbye little unicorns and keep in mind who really rules you” she said walking out of the castle back to her loom.

“Queen Isibella rules us that’s for sure not you” said a castle guard as she was walking out.

“You’ll never see your precious queen again” said Corsatas.

“So what?” said the guard. The same guard who was guarding Isibella and William. “Time to release their majesties” said the guard.

“Where are they?” asked Elard.

“In the dungeon” replied the guard.

“Who put them in there?” asked Elard.

“I did, when I was under Corsatas’ spell” said Trivan.

“What did she do to you?” asked Elard.

“Made me fall in love with her” replied Trivan.

“Oh how horrible grandfather” said Adriela giving him a granddaughterly hug.

“I know” said Trivan releasing her.

“Let’s just hope something like this never happens again” said Isibella walking in with William.

“You’re out” said Adriela.

“I know I am” said Isibella smiling.

“And so am I” said William.

“Oh mother” said Elard joining his head with hers.

“I’m glad to see you son” said Isibella happily.

Chapter 20- The dark days

Adriela woke up one day, the sky was clear, everything was beautiful and cheery and she felt happy. The unicorn served her breakfast in bed.

“Good morning sparkle light” said Adriela happy. Adriela noticed that sparkle light was not as cheery as usual.

“Good morning Adriela” said sparkle light.

“So what’s for breakfast” said Adriela trying to cheer up sparkle light.

“Some biscuits, some fruit and some tea” replied the unicorn.

“Sounds great” said Adriela happily. “Thankyou” she said dismissing the unicorn. Adriela thought, sparkle light did not seem too good, she decided to see sparkle light after breakfast and ask her what was wrong with her this morning.

“Nothing’s wrong, I just woke up and felt sad” was the unicorn’s response.

“Are you sure?” asked Adriela again.

“Yes I’m sure” was her response again. Next Adriela decided to see her friend Elard and talk to him.

“So Elard good morning to you” said Adriela greeting him.

“Good morning” said Elard.

“You seem... unhappy” said Adriela.

“I am unhappy” said Elard.

“Why are you unhappy?” was Adriela’s question.

“Because I woke up this morning and felt sad” was Elard’s response to the question.

“There is a pattern going on here, I’m sure Corsatas has something to do with it” said Adriela.

“What do you mean there is a pattern going on?” asked Elard.

“Well the unicom that served my breakfast today sparkle light was sad and so are you, there must be something going on here” said Adriela.

“Yes, there must be something going on here, my mother and father seemed sad this morning too” said Elard truthfully.

“I must check on them” said Adriela and left him. When Adriela checked on Isibella and William she noticed that they were sad.

“Why so gloomy?” asked Adriela greeting them.

“We woke up like this, we don’t know why though we are so depressed” said Isibella princess.

“We must do something to make you happy again” said Adriela.

“No, I don’t think your plan would work, this depression must be caused by that wicked witch Corsatas” suggested William.

“Well in that case I must find the cause of the problem” said Adriela.

“I’ll be back later” said Adriela leaving them. Adriela decided to face Corsatas alone. She was not scared of Corsatas, she knew more tricks than that witch because of her time at wizard school many years ago. She knocked on the door and waited.

“Hello there little one” Corsatas said answering the door.

“Hello Corsatas, do you have anything to do with the unicorns’ depression as I call it?” asked Adriela.

“Sorry but I don’t do secrets, especially to enemies like you” she said slamming the door on Adriela’s face. Well she was very rude to me thought Adriela. Later on she decided to visit the stone of Zion to talk to her father.

“Oh stone of Zion, what is the cause of all this depression?” asked Adriela with ease.

“You’re talking about the unicorns aren’t you Adriela?” asked the stone.

“Yes I am” replied Adriela.

“So Corsatas sent out a mist of Reiter to make the unicorns sad, give a dose of Rosy dreams to each and every unicorn and they will be healed from this depression” said Zion.

“Great, a royal ball shall be held tomorrow or today and each and every unicorn shall have his or her share of rosy dreams” said Adriela walking off.

“You want to do what?” asked queen Isibella.

“Hold a royal ball tonight” said Adriela.

“Well I don’t think so, we must prepare, the kitchens must prepare” said Isibella.

“I know but this is the only way you unicorns will ever be happy again” said Adriela.

“Well I’m guess you’re right but how will holding a royal ball make us happy again?” asked Isibella suspiciously.

“Well you are to drink Rosy dreams and that will cure you” said Adriela.

“Well then give me some Rosy dreams Adriela please, I really don’t like feeling sad” requested Isibella.

“Okay then” said Adriela taking out Rosy dreams of her magical tiara. “Here you are your majesty” she said giving the cup to Isibella. Isibella took a sip and was joyous again.

“Thank you so much Adriela, I really appreciate your love and caring for us unicorns” said the queen in gratitude.

“It’s okay” said Adriela wanting to touch her mane but dared not. Later on that day a feast was held and all the unicorns drank Rosy dreams and were no longer sad.

“Thank you that I am no longer sad” said Elard to Adriela in appreciation.

"It's okay" said Adriela looking at him and smiling.

"Hey want to dance with Eric?" suggested Elard.

"Sure"

Chapter 21- In the secret forest

Two years later Adriela and Eric set off to the secret forest to meet up with their grandfather Trivan. They were taking a holiday to the secret forest.

"This holiday had better be good" said Adriela.

"L assure you it will be" said Eric. When they arrived at the secret forest the first thing they noticed was no flowers.

"Well this place has a certain style" commented Adriela.

"It sure does" said Eric to Adriela's comment.

"So this is the place as Trivan said" said Adriela.

"Sure it is" said Eric. Eric knocked on Trivan's door.

"Hello kids" said Trivan greeting them.

"Hello grandpa" said the both of them.

"Come on in" he said inviting them in. Adriela and Eric both came in.

"So welcome to my secret forest home" said Trivan.

"Thankyou" said Eric saying a word before Adriela could speak.

"So you kids are going to have a fun time, story books every night, walks in the secret forest, sleeping in a cottage" Trivan said excitedly. The two young guardians looked at each other with a disagreeing look on their faces.

"What's the matter, this is your holiday you should enjoy it, I know what those looks you gave each other were and I don't like it so please appreciate what I am doing for you" he said.

"We do appreciate what you are doing for us" said Adriela smiling hugging Trivan.

"Okay, I get that I really do" said Trivan hugging her back. He let go of her and said. "You kids are in for a treat"

"So where do we sleep?" asked Eric.

"Oh worry about that later" said Trivan. "L have a little surprise for both of you" said Trivan inviting them into the kitchen. "See I have watermelon, choc chip cookies, fruit, continental cake which is the best cake you will ever try in your whole entire forever" said Trivan optimistically.

"Okay" said Eric.

“Thankyou grandfather” said Adriela.

“Now dig in” said Trivan inviting them to eat. Adriela got into the watermelon first while Eric got into the continental cake first.

“Oh Adriela you have to try this cake it is so good” said Eric thoroughly enjoying it. Adriela made a noise and then tried a piece of the cake.

“You are so right Eric this cake is so awesome” she said enjoying it.

“I hope you kids are having fun I am” said Trivan eating a chocolate cookie.

“Who made all this?” asked Adriela. “You grandfather?” she asked.

“No my daughter Anastasia” he replied.

“She must be my aunt” said Adriela.

“Yes you are right, she is your aunt” Trivan lied knowing the truth.

“Okay” said Adriela taking another bite of cake.

“Hey one more surprise, I’m going to give you kids a tour of the house” he said. But the biggest surprise was yet to come. “So this is the garden” he said introducing them to the garden.

“Oh, it is nice” said Adriela nicely. The garden Adriela noted was surrounded by a wooden fence and was small. It had watermelons, lemons, apples, cherries and a plum tree.

“That watermelon you ate today came from this very garden” said Trivan with ease.

“Okay” said Eric looking down at the watermelon.

“Next I will show you your bedrooms” he said taking them upstairs.

“This ought to be good” said Adriela. But when they saw the bedrooms they were quite small, not like the big fancy bedrooms in Moda’s palace. “This is different” Adriela solemnly commented.

“L know its small but you won’t be spending most of your time in there apart from your sleep” he said revealing the truth about the whole thing.

“Okay” said Adriela studying the bedroom. The bedroom was painted white with a bed made out of wood and red bed sheets put out just for her and a blue quilt and a plain white wooden mirror and dressing table.

Later that day Trivan decided to go for a late night walk.

“This my grandchildren is the secret forests top secret waterfall” he paused and said “Joking it isn’t really that top secret” he commented.

“It is beautiful” said Adriela who loved a good waterfall.

“It just needs unicorns” said Eric.

“Unicorns don’t live in this part of the forest, I guess that’s why it is called secret” said Trivan with a big wide smile on his face.

“Oh” said Adriela head down.

Chapter 22- Affair

The next day Trivan decided to show Eric and Adriela some of the family.

“This is my daughter Anastasia and her husband Bradley” said Trivan introducing them.

“Hello unde Brad” said Adriela and then Bradley offered her a handshake and they shook hands.

“Hello Adriela” said Anastasia hugging Adriela tight but was sad to let go of her.

“And this is Danielle and Julius” Said Trivan again introducing his family.

“Hello Danielle, hello Julius” said Eric. Danielle hugged Adriela and Julius shook hands with her. When Trivan was finished introducing them they left.

When Anastasia and Bradley were alone he said

“What is with you, was that your precious daughter” he said to his crying wife.

“Forgive me please I haven’t seen her since she was a little baby” she cried even more.

“You didn’t have to cheat on me and leave me just because we had a fight on our wedding night” said Bradley.

“I know but I couldn’t help myself, I was young and stupid and didn’t know I was making a fool of myself” she said finishing her cry and wiping her deep purple eyes.

“Yes you were stupid just as I was in marrying you what was I thinking” said Bradley walking out the door.

“Don’t leave me or I will go back to Zion” she threatened angrily.

“I don’t care” he said walking out the house. Anastasia went down on her knees and cried.

Bradley decided to take a walk to Trivan’s house and seduce that Adriela to give Anastasia a taste of her own medicine.

“Hello may I see Adriela alone?” asked Bradley to the unsuspecting grandfather.

“Of course, come in” said Trivan inviting the man in.

“Adriela there is somebody here to see you” said Trivan smiling at her door.

“Really who?” asked Adriela.

“Uncle Brad” said Trivan bringing him in suspecting nothing on Brad’s part.

“Hello Adriela” he said sitting down next to her.

“Hello unde Brad” said Adriela greeting him.

“Want me to kiss you?” asked Bradley.

“Yeah sure” said Adriela not wanting to disappoint him.

They kissed sweetly and gently but Adriela stopped it.

“Stop this is wrong, you’re married aren’t you.

“Yes well, let me tell the story of how you were born”

Chapter 23- the truth is revealed

“What do you mean?” asked Adriela suspiciously.

“Anastasia is your mother” revealed Bradley.

“What how?” asked Adriela.

“Well on our wedding night she and I had an argument and she left and turned to Zion and then they had you and that is your story” he said.

“That must be true” said Adriela believing him.

“But that makes my father an, I don’t even want to say it” said Adriela.

“I won’t say it either”

Chapter 24- The sceptre

The very next day Zion visited Adriela’s bedroom in the secret forest.

“Boo” he said trying to scare her.

“What is it father?” asked Adriela feeling weird around him.

“My sceptre has gone missing and I can’t find it, can you please help me?” asked Zion.

“Yes of course” Adriela said getting up.

“We must come to the dark castle quickly” said Zion. Adriela got up and went with her father.

“What is this dark place, it is like Corsatas’ loom” said Adriela suspiciously.

“It is my place, oh I had my sceptre locked in a most powerful magic we must see my father he must have it” said Zion.

“Okay then let’s go to Grandfathers then” said Adriela in her bedclothes.

“Adriela you must change first you can’t go there in bed clothes” Zion pointed out.

“Okay I will change into a red gown” said Adriela. Adriela changed into a red gown and came with her father to Rudalia’s.

“Oh father” he said greeting his dad.

“What is it this time Zion you just can’t keep on coming to me when something goes wrong” Rudalia said.

“Well the Moda Sceptre has gone missing” Zion said.

“What who stole it?” asked Rudalia.

“I don’t know maybe Corsatas or Anneliese or any old hunter” said Zion.

“Well this is terrible, oh” said Rudalia putting a hand on his head as if he was stressed out.

“We must get it back, but where is it?” asked Zion.

“At last the sceptre is mine” said Corsatas.

“I only just discovered it in Zion’s house today I was looking around and I saw a purple sceptre I tried to get it out of its place and I couldn’t until I realized it was locked with a very powerful magic “ Anneliese was stopped by her mother.

“Yes do go on darling” said Corsatas nicely.

“I used the strongest magic I could and I unlocked it, it turns out this is the charm sceptre to Moda” she was stopped by her mother.

“Then we must bring the hunters to Moda at once” said Corsatas.

“Yes mother I agree” said Anneliese taking sides with her mother.

“Let’s go to Heartfield” and they both vanished into thin air.

Chapter 25- Heartfield here we come

“Remind me again why we are here” commented Eric to Adriela.

“To retrieve my father’s sceptre” she said.

“Oh” said Eric.

“We must find them before they bring the hunters into Moda” said Trivan coldly.

“Yes I agree, we can’t have that happening” said Adriela.

“Have what happening?” asked Zion’s brother Peter.

“The hunters going into Moda, it is not on” said Adriela to her uncle on a black horse.

“What is Moda?” asked Peter.

“Can’t say” was Trivan’s response. Peter got suspicious and told his father all of this.

“Father what is Moda?” he asked.

"The land of the unicorns" was his father's reply.

"L saw Adriela talking about it along with two other men" said Peter.

"What men?" asked Rudalia raising an eye brow"

"One had shoulder length brown hair and the other one had straight brown short hair" was Peters response.

"L don't know them you see I think they are here because of a sceptre that allows you access into Moda" was Rudalia's comment hoping that he had not said too much.

"That makes perfect sense, thanks for all your help father" Peter then walked off and told this to his brothers.

Chapter 26- Zion's brothers

Zionessa and Rudalia had eleven children. Ten of them were boys so Zion had nine brothers and one sister called Minstrona. Zion's brothers names were Cygmous, Danous, Minimous, William, Rufus, Peter, Regal, liege and George. Peter called them all together in their secret meeting spot.

"There is this sceptre and it takes you to the unicorn world Moda and I want to get it for you see it is missing and it belongs to Zion too" said Peter.

"Well in that case we must find it" said Cygmous.

"L agree" said Danous.

"Let's look around Heartfield for it" said William.

So the brothers went out on a quest, to find the missing sceptre.

"Have you seen a sceptre ma'am" asked Rufus to a married lady.

"Umm, I think it is in that house right there" the woman said pointing to a house.

"Thank you for your help" said Rufus in appreciation.

"Did you find anything" asked William.

"Yes, in that house there" pointed Rufus to the very house that the lady said it was in.

"Let's go" he said coolly entering the house.

"Now we shall be able to" Anneliese was stopped by the sight of her undies. "Excuse me one sec" she said with the sceptre in her hand. William blinded her for a minute and kicked her down and took the sceptre.

"We have the sceptre now not you idiots" said William happily and disappearing into the hiding spot.

"Okay so now we have the sceptre let's go to Moda" said Peter.

“Oh that’s a good plan, I haven’t seen a unicorn in ages” said liege. The brothers all took a charm with Peter holding the sceptre and they were transported into the magical world of Moda.

“Oh this is beautiful” said Peter when they were at the magical waterfall. The brothers all agreed and decided to explore this world some more.

“Oh look at these flowers, the ladies love flowers” said liege.

“We know” said Peter.

When they were finished looking around they decided to go home and return the sceptre to Zion.

Chapter 27- An end

Peter found Zion alone in his bedroom, he knocked on Zion’s door and Zion answered.

“Hello little Peter how are you, I see you have brought something for me” he said.

“Yes I have, here” Peter said handing the sceptre over.

“Thankyou” Zion whispered and hugged his brother.

“Anyway me and the gang discovered Moda today, it is so beautiful even more beautiful than here, how long have you been hiding this?” asked Peter stubbornly.

“Since I first got married” was Zion’s response.

“So ready to be crowned king today” asked Peter excitedly.

“Yes I am” Zion said spinning around in his kingly gear. His kingly gear included a black long fur coat and a black silk robe with tights.

“You look great” said Peter smiling.

“So do you” Zion commented.

“We have to stay somewhere for the night” said Adriela.

“L know eh it is getting dark” said Eric shivering.

“Let’s stay at that cottage there, let’s ask the man where we can stay” suggested Trivan. “Let me talk to him” said Trivan coming towards the man.

“Hello there, I haven’t seen you before around here my name is Zynes and I am heart field’s healer” Zynes said cheerfully.

“Well I need a place to stay for the night and I was wondering” he was cut off by Zynes.

“If you could stay with me, course you can tonight is Zion’s coronation and the sky will be many different colours” said Zynes taking off his sunglasses.

“When is Zion’s coronation?” asked Trivan.

“Midnight tonight” replied Zynes.

“Okay I will sit with you and watch it”

“Good idea, bring three chairs out here for your friends over there and watch it with me and we’ll talk” said Zynes.

“Okay I will” said Trivan going inside Zynes cottage.

Meanwhile Eric and Trivan walked into his front yard.

“Hello may we join you?” asked Adriela.

“Yes of course you may” replied Zynes, “Your friend is bringing out chairs now” Zynes pointed out.

“Here we go” said strong Trivan putting the chairs down.

“Tonight is Zion’s coronation and the sky will be many different colours” said Zynes to the two younger guardians. “So who are you all, tell me your names, now I know you Adriela but I don’t know the other two.

Trivan talked first, “I am Trivan and this is my grandson Eric” explained Trivan.

“Oh hello Eric, I’m Zynes and I’m Heartfield’s healer” he explained.

“Great to meet you Zynes” said Eric.

“Oh tonight is going to be great, a once in a thousand year event”

“So father I am ready for this coronation” said Zion when it was almost midnight. Rudalia put his crown on Zion’s head and the colours appeared in the sky.

“Whoa” said Adriela.

“At last Zion is king” said Zynes.

“Don’t you want to Rudalia to be king?” asked Adriela. “Oh the sky is so beautiful” Adriela commented and it was beautiful too.

“Rudalia has ruled his thousand years and now Zion has taken over” said Zynes. “Zion is one of my friends” said Zynes.

“Oh” said Trivan.

Seven hours later Zion saw Corsatas and Anneliese.

“Corsatas you can be a fairy godmother for a month since you risked the lives of many unicorns” said Zion.

“Okay husband, I will be” she said smartly.

“Corsatas, I’m being serious you know” he said looking at her with crossed arms.

“Okay” said Corsatas.

“And here is your wand, you can’t do black magic with this only white spells” he said smiling seriously at her.

“Okay fine” said Corsatas following the kings order.
