For the tribulation saints.
Fear not, for God is with you.

INTRODUCTION

SCRIPTURES ARE COMPOSED of three parts: history, daily living, and prophecy. In other words, past, present, and future. One-third parts of each. But you wouldn't know it by walking into your typical church where daily living is 90 percent of the sermon and the past and the future are entirely forgotten about. There are several reasons for this; here are a few:

1. The teachers don't know the material, they couldn't tell a Hittite or an Edomite from an Egyptian. Or a Roman from a Greek for that matter. Too many times, I have walked into a church and listened to a sermon just to hear a preacher stumble over ancient historical words. And the sad part is the congregation doesn't do the research and diligence to check the facts. Too many times, the church relies on the teacher for all the biblical knowledge. It's up to each church member to verify the word; the health of your faith depends on it. It's far easier for those without knowledge to teach the dos and don'ts of daily living than it is to hold a sermon on the book of Revelations.

2. They do know the material, but they don't think it's important. Considering the times we live in, I find this to be incredulous. There are so many signs that we live in the end of this current age, that to withhold prophecy from the church is an injustice. We were told by Jesus himself to keep watch. I, for one, intend to do just that. Let me ask you something: why would the Lord lay out a step-by-step series of signs if we were not to watch for his return? Why would he go through the trouble of telling the apostles on the Mount of Olives in Matthew 24 if it wasn't important? Prophecy builds faith in the believers and also proves that the Lord exists. When Israel became a nation in 1948, this was a super sign for the church to know that Jesus is at the door. The return of Christ consciousness being near.
3. Prophecy is too controversial, too symbolic to be interpreted. This is a cop-out, pure and simple. Numerous times in history, the angels have given to the prophets' dreams and symbols to be interpreted. I myself have had several of these; this is how they communicate to us. The last time this happened to me, I was told that I would purchase two wolverines for 16 dollars and 55 cents. I did my research and found out that the only place in the Bible where there is a fifty-fifth verse to a sixteenth chapter is in Ezekiel where the daughters would return to their former state. Two months later, twin girls came to me in Michigan from the other side of the planet, returning to their former state, a wolverine being the symbol for Michigan. This is how they communicate to us so keep track of those dreams that seemingly make no sense. They can be quite important.

4. History is the past, nothing to be gained by teaching ancient Israel to the masses. Forget about the past, they say; after all, it's over. Nothing can be further from the truth. Rarely does anything ever happen just once, so read your history and you'll be much able at predicting the future. Over and over, we have forgotten our history and, therefore, made the same mistakes. Pure and simple, the reason to study history is to learn from it. A good example is the Jews have put up monuments to show the world the holocaust of World War II so that hopefully it never happens again.
5. We are all going to get raptured anyway so we don't need to know about the tribulation. My question to those that believe this is: are you sure? Are you proof positive that you will be raptured up before the seven seals of revelation are opened? Are you basing this belief on what you are being taught or the research that you've done yourself? What if they're wrong, will you be ready? Is your faith strong enough to withstand the greatest tribulation that mankind will ever endure? Don't base all your hopes on an imminent rapture, they could be wrong.

6. The main reason is it's much easier to teach people about daily living. After all, it makes the congregation feel better about themselves. They'll keep coming back and leaving more money for the collection plate.

Yet the second coming of Jesus is prophetic since it hasn't happened yet. Therefore, someone needs to teach prophecy and make sense of it. So this manuscript is my attempt at doing just that.

The book of Revelations is the most controversial book in scripture; like the book of Daniel, it was almost excluded from the canon for being too apocalyptic.

In my first book, The Great Awakening, I wrote of the Olivet Discourse, a prophecy that Jesus gave to his apostles while he was in the flesh. This book will be a prophecy that Jesus gave to one apostle while he is in the spirit. The message is the same: he comes quickly.

THE SON OF MAN

REVELATION 1

The Revelation of Jesus Christ, which God gave unto him, to show unto his servants things which must shortly come to pass; and he sent and signified it by his angel unto his servant John: Who bare record of the word of God, and of the testimony of Jesus Christ, and of all things that he saw. Blessed is he that readeth, and they that hear the words of this prophecy, and keep those things which are written therein: for the time is at hand. (Revelations 1:1–3)

REVELATION MEANS TO unveil or to reveal something. It is Jesus Christ who is revealing to his church, a message from the groom to the bride. The bride, or the church, awaits the groom so that the wedding can take place. “Things which must shortly come to pass.” In the view of the heavenly realm, time is insignificant. One day is as a thousand years and vice versa, time being meaningless to the heavenly point of view. So the word shortly here is spoken in heavenly terms. In God’s view, the crucifixion was yesterday and Jesus’s return is tomorrow. Since angels dwell in the heavenly realm, their perspective is the same. While the second coming may seem to be taking ages to us, it is imminent to them.

There has been debate over who received this vision, but in my opinion, it is the Apostle John.

John was the youngest of the twelve apostles; along with James, he is a son of Zebedee. A fisherman by trade until he received his calling to follow Jesus and become a “fisher of men.” Along with Andrew, Peter, his brother James, Philip, and Bartholomew, he was one of the original six apostles who were with Jesus at the beginning of the Lord’s mission. All were fishermen.

The original six apostles were truly a band of brothers who all grew up, ate, and prayed together; each helped each other in the tough times they all endured. They formed an impenetrable cordon around each other when any of them were attacked by an outsider. They all shared the type of camaraderie that is very unique. It was planned this way by the Father in the beginning. Only one thing could break them apart, but that is for another book.

Every one of them was marked by the Father on their foreheads so that only the Son could see. Jesus did not choose the apostles, the Father did. God chose every one of them by agreement with each before they even took the form of the physical body. The Father will not violate free will under any circumstances, so one by one, each agreed to this very special mission.

At his baptism given to him by John the Baptist, Jesus saw the markings on Philip's and Andrew's foreheads and knew they were his, purchased from the Father. On Andrew's forehead was the number 2, on Philip's the number 5. Jesus also knew that these two followers would lead to the next four. It was agreed upon a long time ago. He knew these men before he took up the body, and he looked forward to spending three years with them. He loved his disciples as no man had ever loved another as the Father had chosen well.

Each apostle knew that there would be hardships along the way. They all knew that sacrifice was the name of the game and that they would all have to keep the gospel of the kingdom of Christ unto death. All agreed, and all obeyed. That is except for one, number 12, Judas Iscariot, but that was also agreed upon beforehand. There had to be a betrayal or the mission wouldn't be fulfilled.

John, number 4, was more than likely in his late eighties or early nineties when he received this revelation. Every one of his brothers had been martyred. The last being Philip at Hierapolis and Philip's sidekick Bartholomew at Armenia in AD 80. John was the last of the original apostles. He missed his friends, thinking back it has been a long time since the Lord was with them. Lifetimes ago that Jesus had preached his sermon on the mount and held them all spellbound. Healing the sick, feeding the poor, raising the dead, and many more miracles witnessed through his eyes. The most important being the resurrection of the Christ that he was now looking at.

Much heartache and sadness accompanied this life, but it was needed as a ransom for many. Many were called, twelve were chosen.

John was very tired and in need of rest. He longed to be with his friends, but he knew that his time was not yet. He had one more mission to fulfill, and at the sight of the Lord this beloved evening, he knew this was it. A brilliant white light filled his damp cave and he again heard the familiar voice, the voice of love.

John to the seven churches which are in Asia: Grace be unto you, and peace, from him which is, and which was, and which is to come; and from the seven Spirits which are before his throne; And from Jesus Christ, who is the faithful witness, and the first begotten of the dead, and the prince of the kings of the earth. Unto him that loved us, and washed us from our sins in his own blood, And hath made us kings and priests unto God and his Father; to him be glory and dominion for ever and ever. Amen. (Revelations 1:4–6)

John, along with Paul, Philip, and others, spent a lifetime building up the churches of Asia, which is modern-day Turkey. With all the paganism that flourished in that day, that work was not for the faint of heart. They had been beaten, whipped, stoned, thrown into jail, and run out of many towns for the Gospel of the Kingdom.

While the churches were being persecuted time and time again, it was up to these men to keep strengthening the bride of Christ. They were the early church leaders, setting the example for others to follow, lest the wind blow the whole thing away.

Time and again, the enemy had tried to silence them. Thrown out of the synagogues, put to the torch by the Romans, all were bruised with scars of the whips on their backs. Yet the Kingdom of God which was within had sustained them.

The Lord Jesus identifies himself to John as the one who is, was, and is to come. The past, present, and future God. The one who is everything and is in everything. The beginning and ending of all things.

The seven spirits before the throne of God are spirits or angels who stand at the throne of the Creator of all things. These are the chief spiritual beings put in charge of all of humanity. These seven will be the fellow messengers, along with Jesus for this revelation. The seven spirits of God are also the Holy Spirit divided into seven parts. The seven aspects of the Holy Spirit. Love, forgiveness, compassion, faith, hope, joy, and peace. He who has ears to hear, let him hear.

Behold, he cometh with clouds; and every eye shall see him, and they also which pierced him: and all kindreds of the earth shall wail because of him. Even so, Amen. (Revelations 1:7)

The return of Jesus will be with the clouds. It will be a sign in the sky, which are orbs of light that every human on earth will see. This is the theme of this book, the return of the Christ. The saints of the future will be needing these words, so they know that in the end, no matter how bleak things may look, victory is assured.

It will be instantaneous. Like lightning that flashes in the east and shines in the west, so shall the coming of the son of man be. This is very important information for the tribulation saints. Many will come before Jesus's second coming to proclaim themselves the Messiah. They'll say, "Look here and look there, here is the Messiah," but they will all be counterfeits. If you have to go looking for him, then it is not the case. When the true return happens, all will know and all will tremble at the glorious sight.

When the true second coming happens, it will be golden orbs of light shining through all the clouds. Lights that shine throughout the entire earth. It will be the event of the ages so that no matter where you stand on this planet, you'll see the return. You'll have no doubt that your Savior is here.

The second coming will shake the earth's very foundations, so glorious it will be.

But for those who didn't keep their lamps lit, it will be a time of fear. They will not know what to make of it. They didn't keep watch; therefore, they will have no idea. They'll see it as an alien invasion on the earth and it will make their spirits wail.

The enemy will wail the loudest. They've run amok on this earth for millennium, but their time will be over through complete and total defeat. The concentrated negative energies which have run roughshod will scream in terror at the sight of this event. They've known it was coming, they just didn't know the hour. Only the Father knew when the clock was to strike twelve.

I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the ending, saith the Lord, which is, and which was, and which is to come, the Almighty. (Revelations 1:8)

Here is Jesus proclaiming himself to be God, the creator of all things. The source of everything that was, is, and is to come. It all stemmed from him. As he told Philip at the last supper, "The Father and I are one."

Jesus is the physical representation of the Father, it's as simple as that. The Father who is pure energy and spirit created a physical being called Jesus and enveloped that being and became one. Ever since that wonderful day when John the Baptist baptized Jesus and the Holy Spirit settled down on Jesus head like a dove, they have been one being. It's a declaration of the eternal. The first thought and the last action all wrapped up into one. What the verse says to me is that Jesus is Lord and has been all along. The firstborn child of God, who is God, who became flesh. The soul, which became spirit, which became mind and body. The example set for the rest of us to make this a heavenly planet. If we would only follow his teachings, we could surely make this world a better place.

But there is good news, the time will come when we will grow out of adolescence, move into maturity, and become one with the Father just as Jesus has.

I John, who also am your brother, and companion in tribulation, and in the kingdom and patience of Jesus Christ, was in the isle that is called Patmos, for the word of God, and for the testimony of Jesus Christ.
(Revelations 1:9)

John was exiled on the Island of Patmos in the eastern Mediterranean while Domitian was emperor of Rome. John had seen them come and go as rulers of Rome in his lifetime and not once did he waiver from his obedience to Jesus. He never bowed down to a foreign god. Like his brother apostles, persecution meant nothing to him, he was ready to give up his life if needed, as his brothers had done.

Rome had killed many Christians for not bowing down to their emperors, why was John spared? I know not. I'm sure they tried, but it wasn't John's time yet. He had one more vision to give to the churches.

Notice that John does not set himself above any others in the church but calls them “brothers.” Humility is a trait which we all need to answer our calling. Never should we set ourselves above others, but instead, we should strive to become servants of our brethren. The least is the greatest in the kingdom of heaven. That’s what Jesus meant when he said, “The first shall be last and the last first.” It’s the same as the humble shall be exalted and the exalted humbled. John could have very easily set himself above those left in the church; after all, was he not one of the originals? But that wasn’t this apostle’s way. John was always a humble man.

The early church looked upon the original apostles as if they were demigods, but they wouldn’t have none of it. They were servants, nothing else, who washed the feet of those just as Jesus had washed theirs. They were also eyewitnesses to the living God and they did their utmost to follow his example.

The saints leaned on each other in those early hours of persecution. John needed his churches he had help found and build as much as they needed him. The churches of Asia needed his guidance and wisdom; he needed their strength and endurance. He was an old man now, his time short, yet he needed to know that the church would be in good hands at his departure.

I was in the Spirit on the Lord’s day, and heard behind me a great voice, as of a trumpet. (Revelations 1:10)

In the spirit on the Lord's day meant it was a Sunday. The early church had already venerated Sunday as a holy day, the day of the week when Jesus rose from the grave. Up until that point event of mankind. The world changed on a Sunday, it will change again on another Sunday, but I'm getting ahead of myself.

In the spirit meant John was deep in meditation and prayer when the vision occurred. Have you ever prayed so deeply that answers were given you? Meditated to furthest reaches of your existence? Seen the light of creation within you? I have, and it's a glorious experience. It's an almost trancelike state of being, and when you can go within at that depth, all things come to those who listen.

When one lives in a cave, as did Elijah, John the Baptist, and now John the Apostle, there is ample time for deep meditation. This was the state of mind John was in when he heard the voice which sounded like a trumpet blast. I'm quite sure it startled our beloved John.

Imagine it, your fires are lit, your eyes are closed, you're rocking back and forth, entering a world of the unknown when all at once you hear a voice like a trumpet blast! Must have shaken him to the very foundation of his soul.

Saying, I am Alpha and Omega, the first and the last: and, What thou seest, write in a book, and send it unto the seven churches which are in Asia; unto Ephesus, and unto Smyrna, and unto Pergamos, and unto Thyatira, and unto Sardis, and unto Philadelphia, and unto Laodicea. (Revelations 1:11)

There were many more churches in Asia, but Jesus had these seven specifically in mind for this revelation. There is reason for that. Not only were these seven churches representative of all the churches of that time period, they represented the entire church history from that day to this. Each church symbolized an age of the church, from the first to the last. There was indeed method in the Lord's madness.

Also, there is a twofold meaning here. Not only do these churches symbolize the entire church age, they also symbolize each church from that point to this.

Many churches have strengths and weaknesses. There is a little bit of each one of these churches in all of them. Some evangelize more than others, some pray more than others, some are more persecuted than others, and so on.

Jesus used these seven churches to communicate to all churches from that day to this.

Two thousand years of the church symbolized by these seven churches of Asia. The first church age represented by Ephesus, the second Smyrna, the third age by Pergamos, the fourth Thyatira, the fifth Sardis, the sixth Philadelphia, and the last church age represented by Laodicea. Symbolism at its finest.

You'll find as we go along that this entire book is riddled with symbols and meanings.

These seven churches get the message of the vision first and then pass it on to others.

And I turned to see the voice that spake with me. And being turned, I saw seven golden candlesticks; And in the midst of the seven candlesticks one like unto the Son of man, clothed with a garment down to the foot, and girt about the paps with a golden girdle. His head and his hairs were white like wool, as white as snow; and his eyes were as a flame of fire; And his feet like unto fine brass, as if they burned in a furnace; and his voice as the sound of many waters. (Revelations 1:12–15)

As Jesus will reveal soon, the seven golden candlesticks are the seven churches of Asia. They being symbolic of the entire church age mean that they also represent the bride of Christ through the entire church age.

In the middle of the churches is Jesus. How do we know? Jesus, while in the flesh, often referred to himself as the “Son of Man.”

It must have been like looking directly into the sun when he saw this vision. His head and hair were white as snow, eyes like fire, and feet the color of brass. John did the best he could at describing the indescribable. Doesn't exactly look like the humble image of Jesus entering Jerusalem on a donkey, does it? I'm sure to John he looked more like the vision Peter, James, and himself saw at the Mount of Transfiguration. A being of pure energy, light, and power.

John, being one of Jesus's traveling companions for three years, would know what the Son of Man looked like so when he wrote these revelations to the churches describing the Son of Man, they would know exactly who he was referring to.

Son of Man while in the flesh, Son of God in his risen state. Two parts to the same being.

And he had in his right hand seven stars: and out of his mouth went a sharp two-edged sword: and his countenance was as the sun shineth in his strength. And when I saw him, I fell at his feet as dead. And he laid his right hand upon me, saying unto me, Fear not; I am the first and the last: I am he that liveth, and was dead; and, behold, I am alive for evermore, Amen; and have the keys of hell and of death. Write the things which thou hast seen, and the things which are, and the things which shall be hereafter. (Revelations 1:16-19)

The seven stars are the seven angels which keep watch over the seven churches. One angel for each church.

Certain angels are assigned for certain areas. Some angels are assigned for individuals, some for churches, and some for entire countries.

I had a conversation with the Angel Samuel who was appointed to me; he informed me that I was a lucky one, not everyone had an angel assigned to them. I don't know why I'm so fortunate, I certainly haven't done anything to deserve the honor. I just know of his name and the angel he serves, which is the Archangel Michael, whom we will be speaking of plenty in this book.

Angels are a peculiar race of beings. They are spiritual, so they aren't limited by physical matter. They see far more than we do. They know everything about the past including a person's past lives and everything about the present. What they don't know, unless it has been given to them, is the future.

When I had my discussion with the Angels Samuel, Thomas, and Elizabeth, they seemed concerned with our future. That we were under siege from dark demonic forces that we couldn't possibly fathom, but more on this later on.

Notice Jesus in this image says the right hand, the hand of power.

Out of his mouth, a sharp two-edged sword; again, we have more symbolism. His mouth is his greatest weapon. It's the tool he used to instruct his apostles, it's the tool he will use to cast away the enemies of humanity. It's double-edged, therefore it cuts both ways, front and back. Both sides equally sharp. Words that cut one way will also cut the other. Jesus hasn't showed up to this vision on a donkey, this time he has a sword. It's time for the long-awaited battle!

John did what all we would have done, drop to the floor on his face! It's what Daniel did when he saw Gabriel and Michael. If you've ever had an angelic visit, you will know what I am talking about here, a most magnificent presence.

A powerful positive presence permeates the scene at any angel's arrival. Your first thought is to worship. John was awe impressed at what he witnessed.

Jesus then told him two words that he used over and over again while he was in the flesh, “Fear not.” This is something we need to continuously remember, not to fear. No matter what trials and tribulations life brings upon us, fear not. No matter what negativity is lurking around the corner, fear not. “Fear not, for I am with you.” Words to live by.

John is then instructed to write down what he is shown.

The mystery of the seven stars which thou sawest in my right hand, and the seven golden candlesticks. The seven stars are the angels of the seven churches: and the seven candlesticks which thou sawest are the seven churches. (Revelations 1:20)

Remember what I told you about the seven churches representing the entire church age? The seven stars are the seven angels for each age. One angel for the first age, one for the second, and so on. A twofold meaning pertaining to the churches at that time and the churches which are to come. An angel assigned for each church and an angel assigned for each church age. Like running a relay race, angels handing off the batons to each other as one age ends and another begins until finally the baton is handed off to Jesus at the second coming.

Each age attacked from within and without by the enemy, yet each age persevering, the gates of hell not prevailing against it.

THE SEVEN CHURCHES

REVELATION 2

Unto the angel of the church of Ephesus write; These things saith he that holdeth the seven stars in his right hand, who walketh in the midst of the seven golden candlesticks; I know thy works, and thy labour, and thy patience, and how thou canst not bear them which are evil: and thou hast tried them which say they are apostles, and are not, and hast found them liars: And hast borne, and hast patience, and for my name's sake hast laboured, and hast not fainted. Nevertheless I have somewhat against thee, because thou hast left thy first love. Remember therefore from whence thou art fallen, and repent, and do the first works; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will remove thy candlestick out of his place, except thou repent. But this thou hast, that thou hatest the deeds of the Nicolaitans, which I also hate. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the tree of life, which is in the midst of the paradise of God. (Revelations 2:1-7)

JESUS FIRST GIVES credit to this church's positive traits. The Church at Ephesus is a very hardworking fellowship which has toiled long hours to keep the foundation of their church strong. This church is the example of the Apostle James quote, "Faith without works is dead." This was also a church which worked twenty-four hours a day, figuring they were going to work their way into the kingdom of heaven.

Yet herein lies a problem, works without love is dead. A new and exciting spiritual movement already becoming organized religion and succumbing to legalistic tendencies.

Christianity or "the way" as it was called was a very powerful idea to many people in the beginning. Here was the gift of life given to each believer. A way to begin anew, clear one's slate, and make all things equal. To erase all past errors by the blood of this Messiah from Galilee.

Many believers in the beginning were increasingly excited over this prospect of redemption and salvation.

You can't work nor legalize your way into the kingdom, it is a gift. As the Apostle Paul said, "You are saved by grace through faith." He couldn't have made it any plainer. Yet many of the early church were Jewish and used to a well-structured religion, and this was a habit that was quite hard to shake. They just needed commandments and they'd follow them to the letter. This doctrine of faith and baptism was quite a difficult one indeed for those who needed rules and regulations to go by. Where was the structure? Who were the chief priests? They believed this newfound church needed organization or it would not stand.

They've tested those that came along claiming they were apostles and found them lacking. I'm sure they questioned each false teacher who came along with so-called teachings of Jesus, putting them to the test against what the true Apostles who founded this church had told them to be true of the Lord. Remembering that those who clothe themselves in good deeds are well camouflaged.

Paul, Philip, Bartholomew, John, and others had sweated blood to begin this church, so the congregation compared these newcomers to the founders and finding them unworthy. The memory of the early church was strong in the teachings of the chosen twelve. Like bees to honey, they clung to the teachings of the early fathers of Christianity.

They hated the Nicolaitans. Now I am sure you are asking yourself, what is a Nicolaitan? A Nicolaitan is one who held on to the teachings of Balaam. Okay, so now we ask ourselves who is Balaam?

I could go on and on about Balaam, but the short version is that Balaam sabotaged the ancient Israelites by enticing them with prostitutes and eating “unclean” (non-kosher) food which had been sacrificed to idols. The Israelites fell into transgression due to this, worshipping statue and stone instead of a living God. All the way back to the time of Moses until now, we’ve had a fascination with worshipping idols, especially golden ones. Human living beings worshipping nonliving stone and statue, it seems to me an incredible waste of time.

Idol worship and sexual immorality is the best answer to the deeds of the Nicolaitans. Sacrificing calves to idols of Gold followed by an orgy of perversion afterward, it all seems so pagan to me.

The Church at Ephesus is a very good symbol of the early church.

They worked extremely hard to bring about this spiritual movement. In the beginning of the church history, there were divisions and debates between the original apostles. When you have a powerful teacher such as Jesus who spends three years with twelve students, you are going to have differing perspectives on what it all means.

On one side, you have those who felt that “the way” was just an offshoot of Judaism. The movement was called “the way” because that is the term Jesus used, before the term “Christian” was invented by the Romans to label this new belief system.

The Jewish-centered apostles were centralized at Jerusalem and were led by Jesus’s half-brother, James the Just. This sect of early Christians included but were not limited to Simon the Zealot, Matthew, and Jude.

These believers wanted a legalized version of Christianity. One complete with laws of do's and don'ts, choking the spirit to the point where it would take it completely out of the equation. This branch of Christianity felt that since Jesus observed the Jewish holidays that the new believers should as well.

When Jerusalem fell to the Romans in AD 70, so did Jewish Christianity. There was no longer a central hub for this brand of "the way." The Jewish Christians were being scattered to the four winds as their Jewish brothers were. A remnant remained but one without much significance.

The early Church was first getting itself established. Besides the Jewish version of Christianity, you had the gentile version led by Paul, Peter, Luke, and others. This version was centered in Rome. The Roman Christian sect would go on to become the dominant version of the faith throughout its history. All were welcome into this version, one had only to believe in the Lord and you'd be saved by grace through faith. The reason this version of Christianity survived when others fell was its main headquarters, the city of Rome was much stronger.

The third significant sect of early Christianity were the Gnostics led by at first Mary Magdalene, and then Philip, which included Thomas, and Bartholomew. This sect was scattered abroad with no central base or organized structure (which would be its demise at Nicea in AD 312). This version taught that the kingdom of heaven is within you and needed not any priests or bishops to intercede for the faithful.

All the sects, with the exception of the Gnostics, were becoming legalistic and, by doing so, were leaving their first love. Replacing the Lamb of God with laws of papyrus. This was the first wave of Christianity.

The twelve original followers of the Christ scattered themselves to the four winds, preaching the good news. Divisions began overnight due to separations among the people they were preaching to. Twelve begat thousands more, who were not unified in their theology.

And unto the angel of the church in Smyrna write;
These things saith the first and the last, which was dead, and is alive; I know thy works, and tribulation, and poverty, (but thou art rich) and I know the blasphemy of them which say they are Jews, and are not, but are the synagogue of Satan. Fear none of those things which thou shalt suffer: behold, the devil shall cast some of you into prison, that ye may be tried; and ye shall have tribulation ten days: be thou faithful unto death, and I will give thee a crown of life.
He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; He that overcometh shall not be hurt of the second death. (Revelations 2:8–11)

Many translations have substituted the word Jews for mine in verse 9.

Smyrna is the persecuted church. This congregation didn't have time to start becoming legalistic as the Church of Ephesus had, it was fighting for its very life instead. They were being burned, crucified, thrown into prison, fed to the lions in the Roman Coliseum, and all sorts of calamities.

Yet the Church of Smyrna held fast. They didn't forget their first love as the Ephesians had, it was all they had left to hang on to. This was a church of material poverty and spiritual richness. Smyrna is the exact opposite of the Church of Laodicea which we will get to.

The Church of Smyrna is also representative of the second stage of the Church's growth, which grew by the blood of the martyrs.

From the early church history until the Roman Emperor Constantine made Christianity the official Roman religion in AD 312, Christians had been martyrs. Thousands had died due to Nero blaming Christians for the fire that had engulfed a good part of Rome in AD 66. Domitian, Marcus Aurelius, and many others had made Christians the scapegoats for every ill Rome endured.

They were constantly going underground to escape the wrath of a Roman emperor. Dark, negative forces hell-bent on destroying the Church of Jesus.

At the beginning of this new spiritual movement, the church was just trying to find its own way. It had to determine what a Christian was. Therefore, the enemy was trying to take the Holy Spirit out of it by legalizing everything. Thou shall do this and thou shall not do that, etc. So these negative forces were trying to destroy it from within.

Yet the church held fast and would not waiver. So the next step in church history was to destroy it from without. To attack it from all sides. But this method only backfired on the truly faithful and they clung to their master like a newborn baby clings to its mother. No matter how brutal and widespread the persecutions were, the church only grew larger. Until finally, Rome decided that if you can't beat them, join them, as the old saying goes. That is when Constantine declared Christianity the official religion of the Empire.

The Lord had only words of encouragement for the Church of Smyrna. He knew this church would be attacked by his adversary. The Church of Smyrna and the second stage of church history can best be described as brutal. Martyrs clinging to their first love as the blood dripped to the ground by the savage beatings inflicted upon them.

As in all cases in history, one thing that the persecutions did for Christianity was that it unified it. Unification is always the result of having a common enemy.

Yes, there were many divisions in Christianity at this time, but the one common denominator they all had was that they were truly Christians. A Christian was a Christian in those days from the perspective of the Roman Empire. It mattered not what doctrine they held to, all were the enemy. The Roman Empire did its best to stomp out Christianity, yet it failed miserably.

And to the angel of the church in Pergamos write; These things saith he which hath the sharp sword with two edges; I know thy works, and where thou dwellest, even where Satan's seat is: and thou holdest fast my name, and hast not denied my faith, even in those days wherein Antipas was my faithful martyr, who was slain among you, where Satan dwelleth. But I have a few things against thee, because thou hast there them that hold the doctrine of Balaam, who taught Balac to cast a stumbling block before the children of Israel, to eat things sacrificed unto idols, and to commit fornication. So hast thou also them that hold the doctrine of the Nicolaitans, which thing I hate. Repent; or else I will come unto thee quickly, and will fight against them with the sword of my mouth. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches; To him that overcometh will I give to eat of the hidden manna, and will give him a white stone, and in the stone a new name written, which no man knoweth saving he that receiveth it. (Revelations 2:12–17)

Interesting that this is the city where Satan has his seat. Some have said that this is because Pergamos housed a temple to the Greek god of healing which was symbolized by a giant snake. I'm not sure I'm buying that, but it could be the truth. After all, a symbol of the snake is the symbol for deception all through the scriptures.

Notice once again we have the Nicolaitans rearing their ugly heads. So parts of this church would sacrifice animals to idols, eat, drink, and have sex all night long. I doubt that is what Jesus had in mind when he was building his church.

The enemy figured since it worked against the Israelites, let's try it with the Christians.

Yet some of this church did hold fast and be faithful to the end, as Antipas, who is mentioned by name, did. Their works were commended, and the faith of some were quite strong.

This church describes the third phase of church evolution. After AD 312, when the Roman Emperor Constantine declared Christianity the official state religion, martyrdom decreased. A council of Nicea was held in AD 325 and the first original canon was voted on as to what would be included into scripture. Everything else was declared to be heretical.

This was the end for the Gnostic sect of Christianity. Firstly, they were not invited to the party at Nicea so they had no vote as to what would be included. No Gospel of Thomas, Philip, or Mary would make it into Canon. Many scriptures were thus declared heretical and the Gnostic branch had to move underground. Copies of early Gnostic scriptures were thus burned.

Most were lost to time until 1945 in Egypt they were found at Nag Hammadi. These would end up being called the Gnostic gospels, and like their Jewish Christian brethren, they would end up losing out to the Roman Church who had total rule of the Christian faith.

Christianity would not be centered in Jerusalem, Alexandria, Asia (Turkey), or anywhere else. Rome would rule over the church the way it ruled over its Empire for a thousand years. At the Council held in Nicea, the Roman Catholic Church was thus born with all Christian power centralized in one place.

With the exception of the Eastern Orthodox split in the eleventh century, from the time of Nicea in the fourth century to the time of Martin Luther's protestant reformation in the sixteenth, Rome would rule the church with an iron fist.

The enemy couldn't defeat the church by legalizing it or persecuting it, so it simply in time took it over from within.

And unto the angel of the church in Thyatira write;
 These things saith the Son of God, who hath his eyes like unto a flame of fire, and his feet are like fine brass; I know thy works, and charity, and service, and faith, and thy patience, and thy works; and the last to be more than the first. Notwithstanding I have a few things against thee, because thou sufferest that woman Jezebel, which calleth herself a prophetess, to teach and to seduce my servants to commit fornication, and to eat things sacrificed unto idols.
 And I gave her space to repent of her fornication; and she repented not. Behold, I will cast her into a bed, and them that commit adultery with her into great tribulation, except they repent of their deeds. And I will kill her children with death; and all the churches shall know that I am he which searcheth the reins and hearts: and I will give unto every one of you according to your works. But unto you I say, and unto the rest in Thyatira, as many as have not this doctrine, and which have not known the depths of Satan, as they speak; I will put upon you none other burden.

But that which ye have already hold fast till I come. And he that overcometh, and keepeth my works unto the end, to him will I give power over the nations: And he shall rule them with a rod of iron; as the vessels of a potter shall they be broken to shivers: even as I received of my Father. And I will give him the morning star. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches. (Revelations 2:18–29)

Out of the first four churches, Smyrna is the only one not condemned with worshipping idols and committing immoral fornications.

Paganism was thoroughly mixed in with the Christian religion and basically trying to hijack it from its very beginnings. Idol worship was a practice for thousands of years to many cultures and many refused to give it up. So they tore down their statues of their ancient gods and put in place crosses instead. Either way, you are worshipping dead stone. This practice goes on to the present day. Look around you and see all the statues that people worship. Crosses, statues of Jesus, the saints, Mary, symbols, you name it. They are all dead stone, nothing is alive in those statues that are worshipped.

They cannot answer prayer, they cannot produce miracles, and they cannot relieve you of your suffering. They are capable of nothing. Idol worship was practiced in the beginnings of our beloved church at its infancy, and it seems as though sadly it will continue to its dying days.

The kingdom of heaven is within you! If you wish to pray, then go within and pray to the Holy Spirit which is within each and every one of us. Yet sadly, we turn to marble statues instead.

The source, the Holy Spirit, has been with us all along. We don't need any other answer than that. All the answers to all the problems of the world lie within us. It's a gift given to us, yet we turn to anything other than ourselves.

The soul resides in all of us, if it didn't we wouldn't be alive. We wouldn't be breathing, talking, or walking. We'd be just like that dead stone that we love to bow down to and worship.

What is better? To go within and enter the kingdom of heaven within you or stand outside some monument and pray for your answer there? We all have the Holy Spirit at our disposal; that, my friends, is our true strength.

The name Jezebel comes up in this message to this church. I believe that wasn't her real name but a nickname as one who acts like the Jezebel of the Old Testament. Idol worship and sexual immorality was her forte. This seems to be a recurring theme.

Like the other churches before her, Jesus praises their works and charity, but that isn't enough. You can't work your way to the kingdom of heaven. It's a gift given each of us. You can only receive this from within by believing in it, nothing else. The price has been paid, all you need now to do is to believe and be faithful unto death as the saints of Smyrna had done.

The Church of Thyatira is symbolized as the church of the early middle ages. The power being concentrated in Rome and then its split with Constantinople. The church being set up like a kingdom with a figurehead on top. The kingdom of God being replaced by the kingdom of man, the spirit shrinking day by day.

Absolute power corrupts absolutely. The Christian church of the early middle ages was concentrating all power within itself. The masses of the people were extremely poor yet the church was becoming quite wealthy.

The church was becoming very large and extravagant buildings instead of the people who went to those buildings. Once again, we were worshipping dead stone instead of those that house the Holy Spirit. It's a sad state of affairs when we are more concerned about the buildings we worship at rather than those who do the worshipping.

Legalism runs amok with rules galore. Any one of them will get you excommunicated. As if Jesus would ever turn a wanting believer away, do you believe he would? I don't and never will.

Hell, heaven, purgatory, limbo, mortal sin, venial sin, unctions, confession, the list of rules were endless.

But wait, you could purchase your way to heaven through indulgences! Can you think of anything more corrupt than that? Selling a free gift that had been given to us by the blood of Jesus? I can only imagine what the Lord Jesus think of these indulgences. I doubt he died on the cross so that others could profit from it.

The enemy had by now complete and total control of Christ's church, but wait, it would only get worse before it got better.

REVELATION 3

And unto the angel of the church in Sardis write; These things saith he that hath the seven Spirits of God, and the seven stars; I know thy works, that thou hast a name that thou livest, and art dead. Be watchful, and strengthen the things which remain, that are ready to die: for I have not found thy works perfect before God. Remember therefore how thou hast received and heard, and hold fast, and repent. If therefore thou shalt not watch, I will come on thee as a thief, and thou shalt not know what hour I will come upon thee. Thou hast a few names even in Sardis which have not defiled their garments; and they shall walk with me in white: for they are worthy. He that overcometh, the same shall be clothed in white raiment; and I will not blot out his name out of the book of life, but I will confess his name before my Father, and before his angels. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches. (Revelations 3:1–6)

Sardis had few true believers, but not many. This was the type of church one wanted to avoid. Jesus calls this church all but dead. Sardis was on life support, breathing its dying breaths, and not watching for the return. Jesus said that there are a few “even in Sardis” who haven’t defiled themselves. That is like saying there are a few saints even in sin city. It doesn’t look good for Sardis at all, their faith hanging by a thread.

Looking along our church history timeline, this was the organized church at its most powerful, in the late middle ages. This was the time of the inquisition. When one who didn’t convert to Christianity were treated to all sorts of inhuman abominations. Burning at the stake, the Iron Maiden, the Rack. Does anyone recall Jesus teaching us to torture those who wouldn’t commit? I surely don’t. This was the time of terror upon God’s chosen people, the Jews. Millions of the sons of Abraham perished at the hands of this church. This is what absolute power does.

The church was so corrupt at this point in time that there was barely any spirit left in it, with suspicion and paranoia ruling the day.

The church during the late middle ages can be compared to Stalin’s Soviet Union or Hitler’s Nazi Germany. Just as those leaders annihilated their opposition, if one did not conform to the wishes of the all-powerful church, those subjects would be destroyed. Friends and neighbors telling on each other so that they could enhance their reputations in a completely corrupt church.

This is what happens when there is absolute power concentrated to a few, like a pyramid effect, with one on top and millions on the bottom. It goes straight to their heads, in time, drunk with power, they declare themselves to be gods over all.

This church was warned that if it didn't keep watch, that the Lord would come as a thief in the night. The same words were used by Jesus on the Mount of Olives. This is a central theme given by Jesus in his prophecies, to "keep watch." So when you are going to your church on Sunday, is your pastor, teacher, reverend, or priest keeping watch? If they are, then your church is in good shape, if not, then Jesus will come as a thief and take that candle from that church. If you aren't studying prophecy, then you should be. This book is a good place to begin.

This was the flat earth society in terms of science. If one like Galileo found out that science did not agree with church beliefs, then appropriate action would be taken. It may have been the middle ages for mankind, but this was the dark ages for the Godless church. But wait, change was soon to come in Germany by the name of Martin Luther.

And to the angel of the church in Philadelphia write;
 These things saith he that is holy, he that is true, he that hath the key of David, he that openeth, and no man shutteth; and shutteth, and no man openeth; I know thy works: behold, I have set before thee an open door, and no man can shut it: for thou hast a little strength, and hast kept my word, and hast not denied my name. Behold, I will make them of the synagogue of Satan, which say they are Jews, and are not, but do lie; behold, I will make them to come and worship before thy feet, and to know that I have loved thee. Because thou hast kept the word of my patience, I also will keep thee from the hour of temptation, which shall come upon all the world, to try them that dwell upon the earth. Behold, I come quickly: hold that fast which thou hast, that no man take thy crown. Him that overcometh will I make a pillar in the temple of my God, and he shall go no more out: and I will write upon him the name of my God, and the name of the city of my God, which is new Jerusalem, which cometh down out of heaven from my God: and I will write upon him my new name. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches. (Revelations 3:7–13)

Once again, substitute the words Jews for mine.

This is the evangelical church with an open door put before it because they have kept their word and have not denied the Lord. They are a patient church which has used every ounce of the strength they have to accomplish their mission. This is a very active working church which cannot be dissuaded from its objective.

Unlike the church previously mentioned, this is the type of church which will flourish in times of distress.

Keeping with our church history, this is the church of the sixteenth to the nineteenth centuries. The church that traveled the globe preaching the gospel of the kingdom to the masses. In our history books, this movement was called the great awakening.

It all started with Martin Luther and moved on to Calvin, Wesley, Knox and others.

Many told the church of old that they no longer needed priests as intercessors to communicate with the Almighty, they could have direct contact with the Holy Spirit themselves.

Before this awakening of the church, one would have to go through the church to pray. One would have a priest read them the scriptures because they didn't have access themselves. The church had all power over Christianity before this great awakening that changed with the protestant reformation. The church of Philadelphia symbolized this wonderful movement of the evangelicals. Many died breaking away their grip from the old church, but it was worth the price in blood. After centuries of tyranny, the faithful were finally free at last.

Because this church kept watch, he will keep them from the hour of temptation. This is the famous rapture many of us have heard of. The time when Christ comes in and sweeps away those who are his from the face of the earth. There have been hotly contested debates over the timing of this. Some say before the tribulation period, some say in the middle, some say at the end. I will show you my viewpoint on this when we get to that point of the seven sealed scroll. It's all here in the book of Revelations.

And unto the angel of the church of the Laodiceans write; These things saith the Amen, the faithful and true witness, the beginning of the creation of God;

I know thy works, that thou art neither cold nor hot: I would thou wert cold or hot. So then because thou art lukewarm, and neither cold nor hot, I will spue thee out of my mouth. Because thou sayest, I am rich, and increased with goods, and have need of nothing; and knowest not that thou art wretched, and miserable, and poor, and blind, and naked: I counsel thee to buy of me gold tried in the fire, that thou mayest be rich; and white raiment, that thou mayest be clothed, and that the shame of thy nakedness do not appear; and anoint thine eyes with eyesalve, that thou mayest see. As many as I love, I rebuke and chasten: be zealous therefore, and repent. Behold, I stand at the door, and knock: if any man hear my voice, and open the door, I will come in to him, and will sup with him, and he with me. To him that overcometh will I grant to sit with me in my throne, even as I also overcame, and am set down with my Father in his throne. He that hath an ear, let him hear what the Spirit saith unto the churches. (Revelations 3:14–22)

The Church at Laodicea is the materialistic church of that age and this one.

It is accused of being lukewarm, neither hot nor cold. It's not for nor against the kingdom of heaven. It's neutral in all respects as long as it has its possessions, which sadly is the church of today.

Enter your nearby church and you'll see people looking at each other, wondering what outfit they wore for the service, what kind of car they drove, and so on. It's extremely materialistic.

In several churches I've visited, I have had to fill out one of those visitor cards they'll give you if you are there for the first time. Then the church will do a follow-up on that person.

Once, in an evangelical church I had belonged to, we followed up on these cards on a typical Wednesday night. I sat and watched the leaders of this church go through these cards and mention things such as, "Oh, we aren't interested in this person, and he's only in retail." Or "Let's get this guy, he's a lawyer in a top firm in the city." If you had money, they were interested, if not, they drove right on by your house without a visit. Needless to say, I left this house of worship.

I wonder what Jesus or John the Baptist would think of such nonsense? One of those people's cards that were discarded may have turned out to be the next Billy Graham! The Lord works in ways we cannot see. When God chose David to be the king of Israel, he was Jesse's last choice. Often in scripture, God's choice is not man's choice. The Lord knows the hearts and minds of men and makes choices based on that, not their wallets. This has been the error of many churches who are interested in building these massive crystal cathedrals while many go homeless. "Money churches" as my grandfather used to call them, he was quite correct.

It's my opinion that when we reach the great tribulation period, many Christians will fall away from the faith. Many are called, few are chosen. They'll have to choose as the Church of Smyrna had to. Are we willing to give up our possessions to keep our faith? More on that later on.

Churches such as this one will have to face the valley of decision. We will all have a choice, serve God or serve a future counterfeit Christ. If we serve God, we will lose all our material possessions; if we serve the false messiah, we can keep our BMWs and our $300,000 houses. God or money? You cannot serve both or as it's written in the Gospel of Thomas, "You cannot ride two horses."

The Lord asks here that we "buy gold tried in the fire." This is not literal gold but the souls of men. To baptize people in the name of repentance as John the Baptist did. This is what it means here to buy gold tried in the fire.

It's sad that on this planet, gold is valued more than the souls of people. But there is good news ahead! This will be one of the many changes in the future New Jerusalem, money will no longer be needed. We will value the human heart and mind instead of treating each other as a disposable commodity. How many homeless people are there while billionaires abound? We truly are a primitive society, but that's about to change with the coming of the Son of Man.

The Holy Spirit stands at the door knocking and waiting for us to open up and let that spirit in so we can have supper together. Once this has occurred, nothing or no man can harm us.

THE THRONE

REVELATION 4

After this I looked, and, behold, a door was opened in heaven: and the first voice which I heard was as it were of a trumpet talking with me; which said, Come up hither, and I will shew thee things which must be hereafter. And immediately I was in the spirit: and, behold, a throne was set in heaven, and one sat on the throne. And he that sat was to look upon like a jasper and a sardine stone: and there was a rainbow round about the throne, in sight like unto an emerald. (Revelations 4:1–3)

JOHN SEES A door opened into heaven, a new dimension. He sees what is here all along, but now, his eyes are opened to it. He sees a portal to a higher realm.

I was told once when I pondered whether heaven was some kind of a planet at one time, I was immediately told, "Heaven is a place, not a planet." I looked around and saw nothing, but the voice was unmistakable. It was the same singsong melodic voice I heard before when I talked to the Angels Thomas, Samuel, and Elizabeth. Deep and soothing, although it shook me to my very foundation.

Immediately, John enters the heavenly realm filled with light and sees what he perceives as a throne shining like an emerald.

When one enters the realm of heaven, the first thing noticed is it's a world of light. All kinds of very bright colors that seem to change from green to blue to purple and so on. They don't stay the same, forever changing are these colors. This is the dimension that creates ours. A world of light which turns into matter. One mirrors the other.

Have you ever held up a crystal to the sunlight and noticed its colors constantly changing? That's what it's like in the kingdom of heaven. Depending on your perspective will depend on the colors you see, which are constantly in flux, forever in motion.

This kingdom of heaven is eternally around us, we just can't perceive it unless we open our eyes, yet it's always there. John's eyes were opened on this day, leaving the world of darkness and entering into the world of light.

Imagine if you will, look at the source of all things which is all light concentrated on a single throne. The throne of God which is at the center of this and every universe that exists. All power and energy stemming from a single source. This was the image to our friend John and from that source it permeates to all things.

And round about the throne were four and twenty seats: and upon the seats I saw four and twenty elders sitting, clothed in white raiment; and they had on their heads crowns of gold. (Revelations 4:4)

We've got a throne in the center and twenty-four chairs around that. The Creator of all things, the Source, the Soul, is at the center surrounded by twenty-four physical beings. I'm sure you're asking who these twenty-four are. Your guess is as good as mine. It could be prophets, priests, apostles, or saints. Truly, I have no idea. John didn't specify, he only called them elders, yet we have a few clues here given us.

They are clothed in white raiment with crowns of gold. White robes are handed out to believers at the end of their lives so we know that these are actual people who have lived. They've been given a crown which means they will rule when their time is at hand. They aren't angels, they're elders who've overcome this world. It's my guess that they will be there with Jesus at his second coming to help establish a truly new world order which is to come and not the false one being prepared for us on planet earth.

I find it amazing how often the number 12 is used in scripture.

Jacob had twelve sons which led to the twelve tribes of Israel. Ishmael had twelve sons which created the Arabian race. Jesus had twelve apostles which in turn created the spiritual movement that over two billion people follow today. There are twelve hours in the day and twelve at night, creating a twenty-four-hour day. There are twelve signs of the zodiac and so on with everything seeming to rotate in cycles of twelve.

And out of the throne proceeded lightnings and thunderings and voices: and there were seven lamps of fire burning before the throne, which are the seven Spirits of God. (Revelations 4:5)

These seven lamps are the Holy Spirit. The source or the soul which from it proceeds all things is in the center, and the spirit which emanates from that is the seven lamps of the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit is that which comes from the source and connects to the body and mind, namely Jesus. The divine aspects of God. The seven lamps are a conduit to all things; without them, God is only a concept, with them, all things are created.

Imagine if you will a power plant with seven conduits leaving the middle of the plant and heading out to the whole world. One conduit going this way and one going that. The source needs the conduits as a transference of power and the conduits need the source in order to give out everywhere.

And before the throne there was a sea of glass like unto crystal: and in the midst of the throne, and round about the throne, were four beasts full of eyes before and behind. And the first beast was like a lion, and the second beast like a calf, and the third beast had a face as a man, and the fourth beast was like a flying eagle. And the four beasts had each of them six wings about him; and they were full of eyes within: and they rest not day and night, saying, Holy, holy, holy, Lord God Almighty, which was, and is, and is to come. (Revelations 4:6–8)

This is pure symbolism. The four beasts with six wings and eyes before and behind symbolize the omnipotence and omnipresence of God. The Creator sees all things, knows all things, and is all things.

The four beasts being a lion, a calf, a man, and an eagle. There has been wild speculation as to the meanings of these beasts; therefore, I'll add my two cents to the discussion.

Jesus has been called the “Lion of the tribe of Judah, the root of David.” This is the royal genealogy of the Christ, to come from the kingly line of David which stemmed from Judah’s tribe. This is the first aspect of the Christ, the lion represented by the royal line chosen by God.

Jesus has been called by John the Baptist, “the lamb of God who comes forth to take away the sins of this world.” This was God’s sacrifice to redeem the world, to come into the flesh and show those the way to eternity. This is the second aspect of the Christ, the sacrificial lamb represented by the calf.

Jesus repeatedly called himself the Son of Man. The firstborn of the flesh to achieve Christ consciousness. God, who became man, who became God. This is the third aspect of the Christ represented by a man.

Jesus upon death of his physical body took on a new form and achieved the resurrection. On the third day, he rose from the dead and, like an eagle, rose to heights up until that point had not been achieved by anyone else. The eagle symbolizes the resurrection. This is the fourth aspect of the Christ represented by an eagle.

The Lion of the tribe of Judah, the Lamb of God, the son of Man, and the Eagle of resurrection, the four parts of our Lord, represented by the four beasts that surrounds the throne.

Notice it says, "Which was, and is, and is to come." That, my friends, is a clue to the identity of the Creator of all things. Jesus was in the flesh, he rose from the dead, he is, and he will come again. This is the spiritual and true version of Jesus in the middle of the throne. As John says in his gospel, "In the beginning was the word, and the word was with God, and the word was God. Substitute Jesus for the word and you'll have it. Jesus in the middle of the throne and the four aspects of Jesus surrounding the throne in the form of the four beasts. The whole complete Jesus on the throne with his four parts of himself surrounding him. It makes perfect sense to me anyway.

In this vision, John is seeing Jesus in all his glory. Quite a bit different than the man he broke bread with at the last supper.

And when those beasts give glory and honour and thanks to him that sat on the throne, who liveth for ever and ever, The four and twenty elders fall down before him that sat on the throne, and worship him that liveth for ever and ever, and cast their crowns before the throne, saying, Thou art worthy, O Lord, to receive glory and honour and power: for thou hast created all things, and for thy pleasure they are and were created. (Revelations 4:9–11)

You're going to have to stretch your minds for a minute here, but think in terms of Jesus, the Creator on the throne and the different aspects of Jesus in the four beasts, worshipping the Creator with the twenty-four elders doing the same.

This is a scene of eternal worship. The creator of the entire universe at the center with all living things adoring the source of all things.

Notice it says for the Creator's pleasure, all things are created.

The Creator or the Source had to create everything or it would only have a concept of itself, an idea. In the beginning, there was only the Source or the Soul. Then the Soul created the Holy Spirit which gave life to the physical or the flesh as it's described by Jesus. It needed the physical to experience itself. Without the flesh for experience, there is only a concept of itself and what it is.

It asked the eternal question of “Who am I?” And it has been answering that question ever since. The answer to the question as given to Moses is “I am that I am.” Which is a constant at the soul level but ever changing in the physical.

The Father, as Jesus called the source, or the Soul as the word I use, created itself to experience itself.

The vision of the throne here is Jesus at the soul level. The one who broke bread with John was Jesus at the physical level. Both parts of the same being, connected by the third part of that being, the Holy Spirit.

REVELATION 5

And I saw in the right hand of him that sat on the throne a book written within and on the backside, sealed with seven seals. And I saw a strong angel proclaiming with a loud voice, Who is worthy to open the book, and to loose the seals thereof? (Revelations 5:1-2)

A strong angel? Michael or Gabriel comes to mind. Since the scrolls are a message for mankind and Gabriel is the chief messenger angel, he would be my choice.

What John saw here was a scroll rolled up with seven consecutive seals. You had to break the first seal and read it before you could get to the second. Then break the second before you could get to the third and so on.

This scroll was written at the foundation of the earth. It is a nexus in time that mankind would have to pass through to get to the next stage of human evolution. Without the scroll, we couldn't advance.

Let me explain. A nexus is an intersection in time and space. No matter what route travelled, you will end up at this intersection. Let me give you an example of this. If a thousand ships were to sail across the Atlantic and their destination was the Pacific, sooner or later, they would have to enter through the Panama Canal. Or they would have to travel a very large distance and go south under South America. But for this illustration's sake, let's use the Panama Canal.

Now the thousand ships leave from many ports in Europe and head west. All taking differing routes, some take the southern route, some the northern, some the central route, but sooner or later, they will all end up in the same place, the Canal. The Panama Canal is the nexus between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans.

The seven sealed scroll is the nexus for mankind to leave from our current age to the future golden age that awaits us. It will be very painful but definitely worth it when the end results happen. Jesus described it in the Olivet discourse in Matthew 24 by calling it birth pains before a mother gives birth to her child. The pains are intense, but when the child is born, the pain is forgotten.

And no man in heaven, nor in earth, neither under the earth, was able to open the book, neither to look thereon. And I wept much, because no man was found worthy to open and to read the book, neither to look thereon. (Revelations 5:3–4)

Staying with our illustration, none of the ships were able to pass through the Panama Canal to cross and get to the Pacific Ocean. All fell short; no one was there to navigate the ships through.

And one of the elders saith unto me, Weep not: behold, the Lion of the tribe of Judah, the Root of David, hath prevailed to open the book, and to loose the seven seals thereof. (Revelations 5:5)

Great news! Jesus has overcome the world and prevailed to break the seals and open the scroll. The Lion of the tribe of Judah, the root of David, is symbolic of the royal bloodline of the greatest king in Israeli history. In both Joseph's and Mary's bloodline, as illustrated in the gospels, we find Jesus to be in that lineage. The Messiah had to be someone in that bloodline. When the Messiah returns, it will be someone from the same bloodline again. The lion being the symbol of royalty.

God, the Father or the Source, had to create God the son or the body, in order to have a spotless sacrificial lamb so that the spirit of that lamb could be poured out to the whole world in God, the Holy Spirit. This was the whole reason for the birth of Jesus, the event of all time. Not only could the Holy Spirit now be accessed to anyone who believed, but in order for someone to be able to open the scroll, they had to be spotless and achieve the highest state of consciousness which was achieved by the man called Jesus from Nazareth.

Staying with our illustration, Jesus crossed the Atlantic and purchased a visa to cross the Panama Canal so we could all enter the Pacific Ocean. This visa was purchased in blood at the cross of Calvary. He navigated the canal and showed us all the way so that we could all cross. Before he came along, no one knew the way; now he has given each and every one of us a visa to cross the canal and enter the Pacific.

All of us now have a way to enter the kingdom of heaven. He showed us how to do it in the gospels written about him. This is what he meant when he told his apostles, “Why do you marvel at these miracles, these things and more shall you also do.” We are all capable of achieving this high level of consciousness, he showed us.

And I beheld, and, lo, in the midst of the throne and of the four beasts, and in the midst of the elders, stood a Lamb as it had been slain, having seven horns and seven eyes, which are the seven Spirits of God sent forth into all the earth. And he came and took the book out of the right hand of him that sat upon the throne. (Revelations 5:6–7)

Jesus, the son, taking the book from Jesus, the father. This is the greatest event in human history; without it, we'd all be lost with no direction. Purchasing the right to open the scroll in blood.

People have asked throughout history why Jesus had to die. It's simple, the first reason is so that the Holy Spirit could be poured out onto humanity. The second reason is so that this scroll which will lift mankind into a new age could be opened. We were all held into bondage until this event. The enemy was the Lord of this world until a Friday afternoon in Jerusalem a long time ago.

This book of Revelations is packed with symbolism. One symbol after another here is presented. We have a lamb with seven horns and seven eyes. This is not to be taken literally, after all, have you ever seen a seven-eyed lamb with seven horns? The lamb represents the sacrifice that God gave to humanity, which is himself. The Jews would sacrifice a lamb on the Day of Atonement for forgiveness. The lamb had to be spotless without any imperfections. Thus, Jesus was a spotless sacrifice without sin or as the word I'd rather use, error.

Horns are represented as the symbol of power. The number 7 represents total or completeness. Therefore, seven horns represent total or complete power. The seven eyes represent all seeing and knowing. So we have a sacrifice here that is all powerful and all knowing. Nothing else would suffice to open the scroll.

And when he had taken the book, the four beasts and four and twenty elders fell down before the Lamb, having every one of them harps, and golden vials full of odours, which are the prayers of saints. And they sung a new song, saying, Thou art worthy to take the book, and to open the seals thereof: for thou wast slain, and hast redeemed us to God by thy blood out of every kindred, and tongue, and people, and nation; And hast made us unto our God kings and priests: and we shall reign on the earth. (Revelations 5:8–10)

Redemption is the theme here. Before the event which happened at Calvary, humans were in bondage to demonic forces. Concentrated beings of negative energy using mind manipulation, advanced technology, dream sequencing, deception, and all sorts of negativity to affect humanity to keep us from evolving into our true selves. Their sole mission being to destroy mankind and keeping the world for themselves.

Negative demonic forces have ruled this planet for a long time. It was never the Lord's intention for us to be at war with each other, murder, steal, covet, commit adultery, and accuse each other falsely and so on.

We are the children of the Creator, made in the image and likeness of God. Jesus showed us what every one of us is capable of if we live in our highest estate. The Father wishes all his children to be fulfilled in power and glory.

I believe as a parent that we all wish our children to reach their utmost potential. It's the same with the Creator and its creation. In the beginning was the Soul or the Source, and this spread to the spirit and mind and developed into the body. We are all created in the same way. There is the soul in each of us, and if we tap into that potential, we can all truly become sons and daughters of the living God.

This was hijacked by the enemy in the beginning and now the time for redemption is at hand.

Pride and jealousy are the enemy's biggest liabilities. They refused to bow down to the Creator's children, which was one of the reasons they were cast out of heaven. They first tried to sabotage this creation by hybridizing themselves with humanity, creating the Nephilim, but then along came the flood. Next they have successfully so far denied us our birthright through mind control. Tempting us with the flesh rather than seeking the spirit which is our true home.

And I beheld, and I heard the voice of many angels round about the throne and the beasts and the elders: and the number of them was ten thousand times ten thousand, and thousands of thousands; Saying with a loud voice, Worthy is the Lamb that was slain to receive power, and riches, and wisdom, and strength, and honour, and glory, and blessing. (Revelations 5:11–12)

Ten thousand times ten thousand is one hundred million. I'm not sure if this is a literal number or if it could be replaced by the term "great multitude." This is the entire multitude of angels who haven't rebelled who are worshipping Jesus. Two-thirds of all the angels created stayed loyal and faithful to the Creator. The number is a finite number, but it is in the millions. If one hundred million stayed faithful that means fifty million didn't. That is an enormous number to have as our enemy.

The rebellious or fallen angels who followed Lucifer have a very tough time worshipping Jesus, let alone when he was in human form, and therefore refused. One-third of all the angelic realm refused to bow down to Jesus and took up the rebellion. Lucifer felt that he should be the chosen one in the flesh instead of Jesus and vowed revenge—we will get into that later in this book. For now, just imagine this is a battle between Jesus and Lucifer for the soul of humanity.

And every creature which is in heaven, and on the earth, and under the earth, and such as are in the sea, and all that are in them, heard I saying, Blessing, and honour, and glory, and power, be unto him that sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb for ever and ever. And the four beasts said, Amen. And the four and twenty elders fell down and worshipped him that liveth for ever and ever. (Revelations 5:13–14)

Nature in all its glory bowing down to the Creator of nature. Giving thanks to the one living God which gave all things life. Amen.

It bothers me that I've no idea who the twenty-four elders are. I've read guesses that twelve of them are from the Old Testament and twelve from the new. I'll make a guess at their identity in a little while. The angels I've conversed with are silent as to their identity.

THE FOUR HORSEMEN

REVELATION 6

And I saw when the Lamb opened one of the seals, and I heard, as it were the noise of thunder, one of the four beasts saying, Come and see. And I saw, and behold a white horse: and he that sat on him had a bow; and a crown was given unto him: and he went forth conquering, and to conquer. (Revelations 6:1–2)

THIS IS THE first vision of the adversary to Christ who is called the Antichrist. An Antichrist is one who is against the true Christ, which is Jesus but also is a false Christ, a counterfeit.

I saw a vision of this man once in a dream. He looked exactly like the image on the Shroud of Turin. Complete with the high cheekbones and scars of the true Christ. The enemy will do whatever it takes to fool the masses into believing that Christ has returned and deceive the very elect as is written in Matthew's Olivet Discourse. This person will be altruistic in all his answers. He has been well rehearsed for this mission, prepared at birth for the capitulation of humanity.

In the beginning of his mission, he will seem like the next Gandhi, Martin Luther King Jr., Saint Francis, and Mother Theresa all wrapped up into one. He will be perceived as the great peacemaker.

He will, according to the prophet Daniel, establish a peace treaty between Israel and the many nations. My guess is that the many nations mean the Arab states of the Middle East. He will establish this in times of trouble and do what many will consider the impossible, a truce between the most bitter of enemies.

He will perform many signs, miracles, and wonders in order to deceive. Many will stand in awe of what this man can accomplish that no man has dared even attempt. Peace will be the watchword for the day.

He will make many technological advances for mankind including finding and establishing ways to grow food for the starving nations. What used to take twenty acres to grow a certain amount of food will now take a quarter of that.

One of his inventions will be an organic computer that will at first be a massive benefit to mankind, but in the end will be able to control all those who bow down to this man.

This supercomputer will be able to read thoughts of all those so that language is unnecessary. It will at first cater to your needs, but in the end, control your very thoughts. This man of deception will make all things transparent so that no one's thoughts can escape him.

He will be equipped with technology far beyond our present day. Technology to benefit at first and control soon after. It will be a trap, so be cautious.

Notice the rider is wearing a crown, therefore he will be the leader of a country. Either a president, a prime minister, or a king of a country, but he definitely is a ruler. He will begin in a small country and topple three others in his rise to power. His weapon at first will be his tongue, captivating massive amounts of people the way Hitler held the German nation spellbound. Tickling the ears with seduction of those who long for peace while making plans for war in the background.

Lucifer has been preparing for this event ever since Jesus ascended into heaven from the Mount of Olives. This leader will have all the negative powers of the universe at his fingertips. He will know everyone's individual weakness and use it against them. If someone desires wealth, it will be provided. If lust is your error, then sex will be furnished. He will make all your worldly dreams come true. You can gain the whole world, in return, it will cost you your very soul and as our Lord spoke, "What does that profit?"

Deception, deception, deception. As the Lord said in the Gospel of Matthew, "Be careful that no man deceives you, for many will come in my name saying I am the Christ and will deceive many.”

He will convince almost the entire world that he is Christ returned. He will look like Jesus, he will act like Jesus, and he will be like Jesus in the beginning of his bid for power. Many await the return of our Lord and he will use that against the faithful, so keep watch for the deceiver. Those that are not keeping watch will be easy prey for him. Those that are will be labeled outcasts and troublemakers, carted off to the nearest concentration camps for assimilation.

They will call good, evil and evil, good in these days. Any man who stands against this imposter will be shunned. His hooks will be in every established institution from Wall Street to Main Street.

He will give to those that are loyal to him and take from those that oppose his tyranny. The epitome of a wolf in sheep's clothing.

His first three and a half years of power will be unprecedented peace and prosperity followed by immediate war. “When they say peace, peace, then there will be war.”

Look for a ruler with strikingly good looks, extreme intelligence, passionate charisma, and the voice of seduction. Look for a genius with many inventions to benefit mankind. Look for a peacemaker that will make the most hostile of enemies wish to break bread with each other. Look for an orator that will make Martin Luther King Jr. look like an amateur. Look for a magician that will perform signs, miracles, and wonders to convince even those who've spent a lifetime of keeping watch for him. Look for a troubleshooter that can solve any problem both great and small. Look for a healer that can cure disease and famine. Look for a man who carries spirituality in one hand and technology in the other. Look for the perfect imposter of Jesus Christ.

The enemy has been waiting millennia for this moment in time. They've had massive time to prepare for this mission.

Notice that the first beast identified the first horseman. The first beast which surrounded God's throne was a lion which represented the royal line of David. The first horseman will also claim this royal Davidic lineage. Impersonating Jesus in every way, shape, and form.

A deal was struck a long time ago between God and Lucifer. God would send his son for a certain amount of time and Lucifer would send his for the same amount, not a day longer. God had his turn in the person of Jesus of Nazareth, now its Lucifer's turn to send his. A time period between three and a half and seven years to decide the fate of humanity. Jesus used love and forgiveness, the son of Lucifer will use deception and then fear.

Once the Antichrist's three and a half years of peace are finished, he will make war.

He carries a bow, which means his weapons will be long range in the beginning, in other words, missiles. He will either take control of a nation that is already nuclear equipped or develop them in a nation that isn't and use the threat of using them to hold other nations hostage. This will be his first tactic in battle. Threatening the world with nuclear holocaust if they don't give in to his demands.

Which leads us to the second seal.

And when he had opened the second seal, I heard the second beast say, Come and see. And there went out another horse that was red: and power was given to him that sat thereon to take peace from the earth, and that they should kill one another: and there was given unto him a great sword. (Revelations 6:3-4)

From the white horse which is the color of a false peace to red, the color of blood, which is the color of war.

The second beast around the throne, the sacrificial Lamb of God, which is the second stage of Christ, announcing the second horseman, which is the second stage of his counterpart, the Antichrist.

Hitler seduced the masses of Germany into convincing them that he was their Messiah and then in turn unleashed them in war. The counterfeit Christ will do the same with the exception that it will be on a much more massive scale.

This being (you really can't call him a man, he's a demon with very advanced technology) has seven years to accomplish his mission. The first three and a half years will be a false peace followed by three and half years of the great tribulation period. Three and a half years which was the same amount of time allotted Jesus for his mission on earth which he used to heal the sick, raise the dead, give the hopeless hope, and spread the good news of the way to the Father.

This ruler on the other hand will use his time to almost destroy the entire earth. He will murder, rape, pillage, and steal from those who aren't his. The exact opposite of our Lord.

The sign that will begin this time of war will be what Daniel called the abomination that causes desolation. He will stand in a holy place, which will be in Jerusalem, and declare himself to be God. In other words, he will once again mimic Jesus of Nazareth who declared that the Father and he were one. With Jesus, it was the greatest truth he ever spoke; with this abomination, it will be his greatest apostasy.

The Antichrist will lead his armies and ravage the earth. Those opposed to him will not be spared.

His lies and deception will continue so that many nations will be convinced that it is in their best interest to destroy each other. Jesus taught that the way to heaven is through peace by loving your God and loving your neighbor. He will be the exact opposite by telling those that the way to paradise is by destroying your enemy rather than loving them. Promising them riches on earth and in heaven for destroying his enemies. Think in terms of what would Jesus do and he will do the exact opposite in this three and a half year time period. Actually, it won't last the entire three and half years. Jesus spoke at the Mount of Olives that this time would be cut short or no one would be spared. So sometime between his abomination and three and a half years, we will see our Savior, but that's to come later.

This man was given power to take peace from the earth.

He is given a great sword, which means he will have an awesome amount of power at his disposal. No man in human history will approach the arsenal of this beast.

By the time he makes his bid to take over the entire world through force, his followers will be so seduced and brainwashed that they think they will be rewarded in heaven for doing his bidding. He will take people's faith and use it against them.

In the beginning of his mission, he will seduce and convince millions if not billions of people that he is Jesus returned to claim his kingdom. During this war, many will still believe they are fighting for a righteous cause for the Lord. It's a very hard thing for people to change their minds and realize that they were wrong about something. This will have to be the case if they are misled into believing at first of this disgrace. They will have to turn. Once people see the volume of bloodshed that this megalomaniac has produced, many will realize that they have been duped. It's going to take great courage to turn around and go in another direction, but it will have to be done. It's never too late for one's redemption.

One thing to keep in mind if you are in the middle of this great tribulation period is that the return of the true Christ is very near, even at the door, strengthen each other with these words. When all seems lost and hopeless, your redemption draws near. It will take great faith and patience to oppose this monster, but it will be completed. One other thing to always keep in mind during the dark trials of this time period is to fear not, for the Lord is with you, and in you. Never forget that and you'll be strengthened.

This will be humanity's greatest persecution, but always keep in mind that the victory is assured by the blood of the lamb.

The first horse is the great deceiver, the second will be the great warmonger, let's see what the third horse has in store for us.

And when he had opened the third seal, I heard the third beast say, Come and see. And I beheld, and lo a black horse; and he that sat on him had a pair of balances in his hand. And I heard a voice in the midst of the four beasts say, A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny; and see thou hurt not the oil and the wine. (Revelations 6:5-6)

The black horse, the rider of famine.

The third beast surrounding the throne of God, the Son of Man who fed the five thousand with fishes and loaves announcing the black horse of the Antichrist, his opposite.

Have you noticed yet that the four beasts which surround the throne are the exact opposite of the four horseman? The symbolic language of Revelation showing up to those who have eyes to see and ears to hear.

Once the Antichrist makes his bid for global power and attacks those opposed to him, all means at his disposal will be used. He's already well-established in many circles, the table being set. Military, governmental, and financial resources will direct an all-out assault on freedom and liberty. Tyranny will rule the day.

In his first three and half years of power, he will have set up a database with information about everyone on the planet. Today, the governments already record every e-mail sent, every phone call recorded, all movements of your life are cataloged. It will not be difficult for the Antichrist to hack into governmental databases and retrieve this information. Or on the other hand, they just may hand all this information over to him willingly.

He will have a list and target all those patriots who swore to defend their country's Constitution. Veteran groups will be considered a threat to this monster. All those who hold liberty sacred will be targeted for extinction.

"A measure of wheat for a penny, and three measures of barley for a penny," equates to a day's wage for a couple slices of bread. War will be so rampant that poverty will be at its most extreme.

The first horse represents conquest, the second, war, and the third, famine. All three of these are the qualities of a massive global conflict.

All throughout human history when war has occurred, famine has followed. Millions perished in World Wars I and II as a result of starvation. If not for the Berlin airlift, millions more would have died.

Farmers can't farm when their fields are the scene of battle instead of crops. Many people around the world depend on the American and European farmers to feed them. When both are being assaulted by this Antichrist and his minions, it will be next to impossible to conduct farming as business as usual. The seeds and fertilizer needed will not reach the farmer as a result of shipping being interrupted. Petroleum will be scarce. It will be like Germany in the 1920s when it took a wheelbarrow full of money to buy a loaf of bread. The Great Depression of America will seem like the golden age in comparison.

Food will become so scarce that man will become a man eater. Panic will grip the cities as grocery stores close business. Anarchy will rule the day. People will be looking out for themselves, therefore, crime will increase. Those who had power beforehand will watch it disappear as mobs run the streets.

Desperate times require desperate measures. Martial law will be instituted in Americas and Europe's largest cities. The rebellion against this, especially in America with its massive gun population will be enormous. Militias will rebel against the present form of government and you'll have civil war.

The herd mentality will be searching for leaders to take the masses out of their present situation and they'll cling onto any extremist who rises up. Fertile ground for the next Adolf Hitler.

Lack of food will make many insane. Death from starvation will reach into the hundreds of millions. The toll of human suffering will reach unfathomable heights. But wait, there's more.

It is spoken here that wheat and barley will be greatly affected, but oil and wine will be untouched. On the one hand, wheat and barley are basic necessities and oil (assuming this means olive oil) and wine are luxuries. Therefore, common people will be lacking in the basic goods while the rich still enjoy their luxuries. Or we could look at this another way. On the other hand, let's look at the largest producers of wheat and barley. China, India, Russia, the United States, and France produce the most amount of wheat while Russia, the Ukraine, France, Germany, and Spain produce the most barley. If we are to take this passage literally meaning barley and wheat are to be affected, then things are not looking good for Russia and a good portion of Europe.

In reference to olive oil and wine, Spain, Italy, Greece, Turkey, and Morocco lead the way in oil and Italy, France, Spain, the United States, and China lead the way in wine. If we are to go by this, then it seems part of the world will be affected and other parts left untouched. Personally, I believe the whole world will suffer during this famine.

And when he had opened the fourth seal, I heard the voice of the fourth beast say, Come and see. And I looked, and behold a pale horse: and his name that sat on him was Death, and Hell followed with him. And power was given unto them over the fourth part of the earth, to kill with sword, and with hunger, and with death, and with the beasts of the earth. (Revelations 6:7-8)

The horse with no color, the pale horse, the color of death.

The fourth beast which surrounds the throne, the Eagle of resurrection, the beast of life, announcing its counterpart, the pale horse of death. The Lord does work in symbols, doesn't he?

A quarter of the Earth will die during the period of the four horsemen. With eight billion people alive, that means that two billion people will die as a result of war, famine, and plague during this time period.

These four horsemen are not four different beings, they are the four characteristics of the Antichrist. Conquest, War, Famine, and Plague.

In the beginning of his tenure, he will dupe mankind into believing that he is their long-awaited savior. Believers have been waiting for the return of the true Christ ever since he left, so the enemy will take advantage of this.

The dark, concentrated, negative forces of the universe will be making their final bid for the throne of God by convincing mankind that they have all the answers to humanity's problems.

This will work for the majority of those who are alive on the planet at that time. They'll swear allegiance to this being, giving him body mind and soul in return. It will be just as it was when Adolf Hitler first rose to power. In the beginning, many Germans believed that he was the answer to all their many ills. He captivated the masses with his fiery tongue, promising them an unequalled empire that will bring prosperity to a people who had long since felt abandoned by their previous government. Hitler brought them food, housing, employment, which in turn gave the German people security.

Rallies were held to celebrate that which had previously been denied.

Millions saw Hitler as a Messianic figure in whom they could trust with their lives. The adoration of the people to this German leader could best be described as insane. It will be the same with this imposter. Curing many present ills, solving many problems, they'll throw themselves at his feet and give him everything in return as long as they have their false peace and prosperity.

But not everyone will buy into this megalomaniac. Many in the western hemisphere and a good portion of Western Europe will scoff at this. Those who've been keeping their lamps lit for the return of Jesus will see this man and say, "This is the one we warned you of," and be laughed at by the majority. The minority will be branded outlaws and vagrants and shipped to concentration camps in many countries. Eradicated because they refused to go with the flow or brainwashed and assimilated back into the general population.

Then in the height of his power, he will make his move to rule over the whole world. An army of millions will run rampant across many countries and exterminate all those who oppose. His brainwashed followers will justify all sorts of evil in the name of a false good. They'll say it's for "the greater good" that will give them license to commit these great evils on the world.

The Jews, being a tough nut to crack, will also oppose this man and pay the price. Hatred of the Jewish race has long been a trait of evil. From the Holocaust in Ancient Egypt of the Hebrews to the Holocaust in Nazi Germany during World War II. The sons of Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob have been targeted from the very beginning because of the covenant that God made with Abraham.

This monster will attempt to finish what Hitler started, the final solution to the Jewish race.

The difference being that the technology this man will have at his disposal will be literally otherworldly. The information age is a double-edged sword. It's a boon to mankind if used with discretion and a hindrance if used to control and rule the masses. It's wonderful when it comes to keeping inventory of products and terrible when it comes to the inventory of humans. Like cattle, we will all be stamped with a mark to identify us. Freedom will be a thing of the past. This will be a hard lesson for us to learn.

This is a vision of the gates of hell attacking the Lord's church.

Jesus brought love and forgiveness to the world, this counterfeit will bring death and destruction. Two billion plus people destroyed during this part of his mission. A number which truly boggles the mind.

And when he had opened the fifth seal, I saw under the altar the souls of them that were slain for the word of God, and for the testimony which they held: And they cried with a loud voice, saying, How long, O Lord, holy and true, dost thou not judge and avenge our blood on them that dwell on the earth? And white robes were given unto every one of them; and it was said unto them, that they should rest yet for a little season, until their fellow servants also and their brethren, that should be killed as they were, should be fulfilled. (Revelations 6:9–11)

This must have been an awe-inspiring sight for the Apostle John.

Millions and millions of those who kept the faith.

From a movement that begun in Galilee by Jesus and his twelve followers to the number that John is now witnessing.

He had to have been thinking to himself that what began with a preacher and a few fishermen would spread worldwide and become a faith so strong that these people had withstood Lucifer's power play for the throne of God. John saw the beginnings of a movement he helped found and now he was witnessing near the end of it. A massive number of people's lives had been affected by men who sat around the campfire at night talking about “the way.”

These people had been tempted by every evil trick known and had overcome. The world and all its possessions had not persuaded these loyal followers to turn. Tears must have been felt by this beloved apostle as he now knew that they had made a difference in people’s lives.

I’m quite sure John must have felt lonely as he thought of the past. All of his friends of yesterday had been martyred, none had faltered. Now he gazed upon a sea of them who had held fast to the belief in Jesus and his kingdom of heaven. The fishermen from Galilee had indeed made a difference.

This mass of humanity wanted vengeance and they wanted it now. “How long, O Lord?” But the patience of Jesus goes beyond ours. We are all to wait “a little season” until our fellow brethren would unite with those who had already kept the faith. The number of martyrs was not yet complete; unfortunately, more were to come.

All were given the white robes of victory. The bride of Christ was being assembled, yet it was not yet complete.

DAY OF THE LORD

And I beheld when he had opened the sixth seal, and, lo, there was a great earthquake; and the sun became black as sackcloth of hair, and the moon became as blood; And the stars of heaven fell unto the earth, even as a fig tree casteth her untimely figs, when she is shaken of a mighty wind. And the heaven departed as a scroll when it is rolled together; and every mountain and island were moved out of their places. And the kings of the earth, and the great men, and the rich men, and the chief captains, and the mighty men, and every bondman, and every free man, hid themselves in the dens and in the rocks of the mountains; And said to the mountains and rocks, Fall on us, and hide us from the face of him that sitteth on the throne, and from the wrath of the Lamb: For the great day of his wrath is come; and who shall be able to stand?

(Revelations 6:12–17)

THE PROPHETS ISAIAH and Joel spoke of this event. Luke also spoke of it in Acts, Paul in Thessalonians, and Jesus in the gospels of Matthew, Mark, and Luke.

This is the event of the end of the age.

Just when the Antichrist seems as though he will have the victory, the earth herself will rebel against him and create a pole shift.

At first, she will seem to wobble like a drunkard, creating massive earthquakes and tremblings felt throughout the entire planet. Quakes will occur in places thought beforehand to be safe. Humanity will be heading to the mountains, thinking they will be taken care of only to realize nowhere is safe.

It shall be like the days of Noah during the great flood.

Let me quote from my first book The Great Awakening and then expand upon that vision I had a few years ago.

I had a vision one evening. It went something like this. It was quite detailed so be patient with me.

New York City was hit by a massive tidal wave. I don't know if it was from a nuclear bomb that detonated in the harbor or what have you, but there was massive destruction. You could see the waves overtaking the tall buildings. It was a horrific scene. Manhattan Island was no more.

The United States economy then went into a tailspin. Inflation rates and unemployment were extreme, the banks were unable to loan any money out, many of them going under. America was crippled. The dollar was practically worthless. It was the same setting as 1920s Germany. The country was desperate.

Meanwhile, most of the rest of the world seemed to rejoice at America's folly. At least, at first they did, until some of those countries realized that America wasn't there anymore to protect them from foreign invasion.

The New York City event led to a domino effect first throughout the country and then the world.

Since the American farmer feeds so many and farmers couldn't borrow money from banks, the world was hit with massive famine.

The United States was unable to pay back all the money that China had loaned to it. So the Chinese decided to take matters into their own hands and invade.

Then of course, all hell broke loose. With nations choosing sides, most against the United States. America's main allies were busy trying to defend themselves so they were of no help. Nor was the United States any help to them in helping them defend themselves. (So those nations relying on the United States to defend them in the future, you better rethink your options).

The Chinese, along with their ally at the time, Russia, plowed their way through Siberia and into Alaska and then Western Canada down into the northwestern portion of the United States. Millions and millions of them.

The Chinese, Russians, Middle Easterners, North Africans, and Eastern Europeans made their alliance against the United States, Canada, Britain, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa, and Western Europe. This was a vision of World War III. East versus west. Nation against nation, kingdom against kingdom.

Nuclear bombs were dropped on each other. It was a holocaust that left hundreds of millions dead. World War II looked like a small skirmish in comparison.

Just as it seemed all was lost, in the sky appeared hundreds of spaceships. Everyone in the entire world who was left could see at least one of them. They all looked like golden orbs. They stood there in the sky motionless for at least twenty-four hours. Then they begin to reposition the planet. Instead of the present tilt, they repositioned the planet so that it was no longer tilted and seemed to face straight up and down. This repositioning caused the sun to appear dark, the moon to not give its light, and the skies seemed to fall. The heavens shook. It also caused the war to end. Thank God.

In the distant path of earth's history, there used to be 360 days a year, divided into 12 months with 30 days per month. Then a calamity struck the earth and repositioned it to where it is today. These will retilt the earth to where it originally was. Once the planet settles, temperate climate will be felt again throughout the planet.

At that same hour that this happened, a child was born. A female who would grow to be a future world leader, but more of a world teacher. She would, at birth, be filled with Christ consciousness. The same consciousness that Jesus possessed. This was what Jesus meant by his return. The return of Christ consciousness.

From that point forward, we realized we are no longer alone in this universe. The whole world had irrefutable proof and therefore brought us together.

After one day, the golden orbs left. And with it the end of my vision.

Now that is the type of vision one doesn't soon forget.

It is my belief that the sixth seal of revelations is the repositioning of the planet done by these golden orbs in the sky. Were that to happen, the north and south poles would geographically change. The earth being put back to its original position of long ago.

Mega earthquakes will shake the very foundation of the planet. Super volcanoes such as Yellowstone will blow their tops. Massive tidal waves will reach the shores and engulf entire cities by the coast. Mountains lay low as the planet takes on an entirely new shape. Areas below sea level will disappear under the waters.

This isn't the first time in human history this has happened. The lost continent of Atlantis was destroyed in the same fashion. A shifting of the poles. The difference being during their time, they created a power they couldn't harness and it created earth changes. This time, it will be because of our visitors from the skies. Hopefully, we won't have another for a while. Time will tell.

Once the waters recede, newfound islands will appear. Earth will look nothing like it does at present. North America will be a collection of islands, Europe will lose land in some places and gain land in others. Asia will shrink in size from its present condition, as new islands appear off the coast of Australia to its east and north. Africa will lose most of its northern half, while South America will gain lands to its east. A new continent will appear in the Pacific Ocean centered on Hawaii. The Atlantic will also claim new land between Florida and Africa.

It will be a massive shake-up for humanity. It will almost be as if we are starting over again with the exception that this time, we will be receiving massive amounts of help with the return of Jesus in the form of Christ consciousness. With all the destruction of the planet, the wars will finally cease once and for all, and it will finally usher in an era of peace.

This vision of mine seems to fall right in line with the sixth seal.

REVELATION 7

And after these things I saw four angels standing on the four corners of the earth, holding the four winds of the earth, that the wind should not blow on the earth, nor on the sea, nor on any tree. And I saw another angel ascending from the east, having the seal of the living God: and he cried with a loud voice to the four angels, to whom it was given to hurt the earth and the sea, Saying, Hurt not the earth, neither the sea, nor the trees, till we have sealed the servants of our God in their foreheads. (Revelations 7:1–3)

When Jesus began his ministry with his first two apostles, Philip and Andrew, he looked and saw that both men were marked on their foreheads by the Father. No other man could see the marks, not even the disciples themselves, but the Lord only. He saw number 2 for Andrew and number 5 for Philip. He knew there would be ten more marked along the way, pre-chosen from the kingdom of heaven. All Jesus had to do was look, knowing beforehand of the chosen twelve.

The apostles were numbered in this order. Simon Peter was marked 1, Andrew 2, James the son of Zebede 3, his brother John 4, Philip 5, Bartholomew 6, Matthew 7, Thomas 8, James the Just 9, Simon the Zealot 10, Jude 11, and Judas Iscariot 12. Yes, Judas was chosen as well. Someone had to play the part of the betrayer and Judas volunteered beforehand. Without his actions, the crucifixion and redemption doesn't occur. The important thing to remember was they were all marked from birth, chosen for a specific mission. Jesus the soul (the father) was not going to let Jesus, the body, teach for three years without a final say in who was going to accompany him.

In the same way, the saints on earth are about to be marked. My friends, the rapture is about to occur.

An instant, as in a millisecond before the golden orbs of light in the sky show up and the pole shift occurs, this event happens. Remember, we are still in the sixth seal, the day of the Lord, the seventh seal hasn't been opened yet. The rapture of the church and the pole shift happen at the same time. Well, that's not entirely correct, the rapture happens in the blink of an eye before the shift.

This is the epitome of the calm before the storm.

The sign of the Son of Man will occur in the sky during a dead calm and the saints of earth will be sealed in the same way the apostles were marked so Jesus could recognize them.

And I heard the number of them which were sealed: and there were sealed an hundred and forty and four thousand of all the tribes of the children of Israel. Of the tribe of Juda were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Reuben were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Gad were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Aser were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Nephthalim were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Manasses were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Simeon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Levi were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Issachar were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Zabulon were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Joseph were sealed twelve thousand. Of the tribe of Benjamin were sealed twelve thousand. (Revelations 7:4–8)

Many theologians have spoken of the “lost ten tribes.” They aren't lost to God, they are just scattered abroad. Twelve thousands of each of the twelve tribes are marked by the heavenly host. Even the “lost tribes” that were scattered by the Assyrians are marked.

God remembers his covenant with Abraham and knows where his people are. One hundred forty-four thousands of them marked with the seal of God on their foreheads just before the cataclysm.

Are these just what the scriptures say it is, one hundred forty-four thousand Jews who’ve been chosen to be marked by God? One thing is for sure, these are Jews who haven’t defiled themselves by bowing down to the Antichrist. They have not sold out but have clung on mightily to their faith in times of great tribulation knowing that their salvation draws near. Their long-awaited Messiah is at the door.

Something to think about: is twelve thousand a literal number for each tribe? Keeping in mind that the number 12 is such a significant number in scripture, this could mean the complete number of Jews since twelve seems to be the number of completion. One hundred forty-four thousand just may be a symbolic number. Personally, I’m not going to side either way in this argument, neither would surprise me.

Picture a clock with all twelve numbers on it. The center of the clock is the throne of God and the numbers are the twelve tribes. The angels will leave the throne and mark the Jews in the blink of an eye. As I said prior, time is meaningless in the spiritual world since they don’t have to obey the laws of physics.

The Jews will once again be targeted by a maniac. Unfortunately, since the days of Ramses targeting the Hebrews, this has been their legacy. Hatred for this chosen race has been an international phenomenon.

The dark forces of the enemy have done everything possible to commit genocide and extinguish this race of people. It's a miracle of God that they exist to this day. Sadly, the church has done its fair share. Misinterpreting verses of scripture to legitimize their claim to persecute the people of the covenant of Abraham. "Christ killers" they've been called. What they forget is that without the Jews, there is no Christ. Jesus was and is "King of the Jews," a title given to him that he didn't object to.

These are his chosen people, and he is their God, come from them out of the tribe of Judah, the root of David. Amen.

After this I beheld, and, lo, a great multitude, which no man could number, of all nations, and kindreds, and people, and tongues, stood before the throne, and before the Lamb, clothed with white robes, and palms in their hands; And cried with a loud voice, saying, Salvation to our God which sitteth upon the throne, and unto the Lamb. And all the angels stood round about the throne, and about the elders and the four beasts, and fell before the throne on their faces, and worshipped God, Saying, Amen: Blessing, and glory, and wisdom, and thanksgiving, and honour, and power, and might, be unto our God for ever and ever. Amen. (Revelations 7:9–12)

The last martyr is numbered and now it's time for the seventh seal. This group which cannot be numbered is all those who've lived prior to this age and held fast their beliefs, those who are in this age and never gave up and those who are still living and will be raptured up in the air. This is the bride of Christ.

And one of the elders answered, saying unto me, What are these which are arrayed in white robes? and whence came they? And I said unto him, Sir, thou knowest. And he said to me, These are they which came out of great tribulation, and have washed their robes, and made them white in the blood of the Lamb. Therefore are they before the throne of God, and serve him day and night in his temple: and he that sitteth on the throne shall dwell among them.

They shall hunger no more, neither thirst any more; neither shall the sun light on them, nor any heat. For the Lamb which is in the midst of the throne shall feed them, and shall lead them unto living fountains of waters: and God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes. (Revelations 7:13–17)

This is the ransom paid to redeem all these souls who stand before the throne of the Creator.

These are those who opposed tyranny. Those who believed that their salvation was near and kept their lamps lit waiting for the promised arrival of their Savior.

When times looked bleak, and you know they did during the four horsemen, these are those who wouldn't bend their knees to a madman. An all-out demonic assault was launched upon our planet by those who wish to claim it for their own and these are those who withstood the greatest tribulation period this world will ever know.

They'll try every trick in the book to make you betray your beliefs. They'll take your possessions, they'll split up your family, they'll throw you into camps, and if that doesn't work, they'll kill you. It will be the holocaust all over again.

It's not my intention to create fear by writing this book. Its intention is to create awareness and give hope to the tribulation saints who will endure these future trials.

No matter how bad the situation looks in the future, don't take the easier route and give in. Trust the angels of your better nature and ride it out and this will be your reward. The price has already been paid, this is your reward.

To those who stand fast, they'll be no more tears in your life. They'll be no more heartache, judgment, nor condemnation. The victory is assured, the ransom paid in full.

Serving God day and night means to be in paradise. It's not serving as a slave serves its master, not at all, it's to live where all your dreams come true. To anyone like myself who has a small taste of paradise, you'll never forget the experience. It's complete and total bliss that awaits us. It's a world of light where there are no wars, famine, disease, or any other negative result that has happened on the earth due to our ignorance of not knowing who we truly are.

This is the marriage supper. Jesus, who achieved Christ consciousness, is the groom, and those standing at the throne here are the bride. And there will never be a divorce from this union. It lasts for eternity. Amen.

John is being treated to an awe-inspiring sight, a multitude which could not be numbered, rejoicing in gladness with their fellow brethren. Those who are alive in Christ and those who have died for his testimony will all be assembled here. This will be a time of tremendous festivity for those who are wearing their white robes. A time of eternal celebration for being very much alive.

REVELATION 8

And when he had opened the seventh seal, there was silence in heaven about the space of half an hour. And I saw the seven angels which stood before God; and to them were given seven trumpets. (Revelations 8:1–2)

The last of the seven seals are opened and silence in heaven followed for half an hour. If we use the symbolism of Daniel as one day equates to one year, then a half hour is the same as a little more than a week. A half hour to a day is seven and a half days to a year. So we have silence for a half hour in heaven and a week on earth before the trumpets are blown.

The seven trumpets and seven bowls are all a part of the seventh seal. It's one very long event until the end of the age.

The first four seals are the four horsemen, which is the life of the Antichrist, the fifth seal is the martyrs asking how long must they wait for their vengeance, and sixth seal is the sealing of the 144,000, the rapture, and the pole shift. The seventh seal is the effects of that shift.

The seals are a broad outline of events to come. The trumpets and bowls are more detailed in those happenings.

And another angel came and stood at the altar, having a golden censer; and there was given unto him much incense, that he should offer it with the prayers of all saints upon the golden altar which was before the throne. And the smoke of the incense, which came with the prayers of the saints, ascended up before God out of the angel's hand. (Revelations 8:3-4)

One thing I've learned from conversing with the angelic host is that they can do nothing without the prayers of the saints. They must have our free will in order to act. The highest law in the universe is that free will not be violated; therefore, they need our blessing in order to act. To do so otherwise is considered a violation that the Creator of the universe will not tolerate.

This scene shows the prayers of the saints going up to the Creator so that its angels can follow through on its will. None of this is accomplished without the free will of humanity by way of the prayers of the saints.

The enemy wished to take all of humanity and make slaves of us, yet the Heavenly Host had other plans, but they needed our prayers.

Lucifer and his followers resented us to the point that he wished to extinguish us all. He felt that the Creator loved us more than himself which is one of the reasons for his rebellion and his power play to take the throne of God. This mission was thwarted two thousand years ago by the Son of Man, known as Jesus, and his followers. That which began at Jerusalem will end at Jerusalem with the second coming.

As long as we are talking of prayer, there is something extremely important I need to touch on here that was given to me by the angels.

The Angel Elizabeth, who works for Gabriel, told me that prayer is extremely important in the angelic realm. Prayers from us strengthen them, the lack of prayer weakens them. The more positive our thoughts, feelings, emotions, and prayer are expended, the more the angels are able to help us in our endeavors. When we pray to God, listen to God, and contemplate God, we are giving carte blanche to his holy messengers. This is because our free will can never be violated by angels. The Lord will not permit them to do this and this is another reason why Lucifer and his gang fell; they violated our free will and continue to do so to this day. For that transgression, they must pay the ultimate price.

This is why Lucifer has expended so much energy in attempting to control the minds of humanity. If he can get us to forget about God, then we take the angelic power away from ourselves. We have all this power at our disposal, and he knows this. By not praying, not listening, and not contemplating God, we give up our gifts from heaven and Lucifer would like nothing better. So by deception, he is able to take our minds off the Lord and give himself and his band of jackasses free reign. The greatest deception is by not believing that he exists and therefore giving himself free will over our will.

Elizabeth told me that prayer is extremely important. Those prayer warriors who spend hours in positive prayer are most holy beings to the angels. If we all did this, we would have ourselves a much different world. Angels rely on us just as we rely on them, focusing and transmitting positive energy to the universe even under the most trying circumstances such as the four horsemen will be vital in the days ahead. In other words, trust the Lord and keep your eyes on the prize.

And the angel took the censer, and filled it with fire of the altar, and cast it into the earth: and there were voices, and thunderings, and lightnings, and an earthquake. And the seven angels which had the seven trumpets prepared themselves to sound. (Revelations 8:5-6)

So who are the identities of these seven angels? The prophet Enoch lists them as the archangels, which are the equivalent of generals in an army. Uriel, Raguel, Sariel, Raphael, Phanuel, Gabriel, and Michael would be very good guesses. These are the chief angels of the Heavenly Host. The entire angelic realm is ruled by these, every angel there is, including the ones I've communicated with, Thomas, Samuel, and Elizabeth, serve one of these who serve directly for God. Michael and Gabriel are the two highest of these.

In the beginning, Lucifer, Michael, and Gabriel were the three chief angelic beings. Lucifer rebelled and took his one-third of angels with him which left Michael and Gabriel at the very top. Michael is the warrior, Gabriel the chief messenger, each with their assigned roles.

The angels work in threes. Michael is in command of a third, Gabriel in command of a third, Lucifer in command of his third. That is the first tier of the Heavenly Host. Each of these three have three subordinates, the second tier under them. In other words, under those three are nine others. Then it moves on to the third tier, the fourth, and so on. And by no means are the lower-tiered angels powerless, all have extreme power, but it's given from God and from ourselves; remember that it's a very structured hierarchy.

The angels also gather power from each other, the energy travelling upward and downward. They close ranks and feed energy to and fro, stemming at first from the throne of God and ending with the energy fed from us. Consider the Heavenly Host an intersection between man and God. They do the will of the Father, but they also do the will of man if it coincides with the will of the Lord. They perform acts depending on how we are, how we feel, how we think, and how we act.

According to Elizabeth, this is very important for us all to learn. To control our feelings, thoughts, words, and deeds so that angels can have the green light sent from above. She said that we are living gods who don't know it, therefore we aren't living gods. Once we, like Jesus, come to that realization, then we can elevate our consciousness to the point of our origins and reclaim our birthright as children of the Most High as was intended from the beginning.

Lucifer has been very busy these thousands of years convincing us that we are not children of the Lord and therefore not deserving of his love. The rebel army knows that to keep us in the dark is very beneficial to them. By controlling our belief system, they are able to make us slaves of Lucifer and keep us in bondage.

Angels were created to serve, not control as the rebels are doing.

THE TRUMPETS

The first angel sounded, and there followed hail and fire mingled with blood, and they were cast upon the earth: and the third part of trees was burnt up, and all green grass was burnt up. (Revelations 8:7)

ALL OF THESE trumpets are of the seventh seal. The results of the poles shifting during the sixth seal.

The rapture has just occurred, the 144,000 Jews are marked on their foreheads, a millisecond later is the shifting of the poles.

As the poles shift, there will be massive earthquakes and tidal waves. This will cause volcanic ash to be released into the air and keep the sun from shining through to the fields of grass, thereby destroying it.

The scene of volcanoes erupting will look like hail and fire mingling with blood to destroy the trees and grass. It will be a massively frightening sight.

It will all begin slowly, then gaining momentum until it's finished.

And the second angel sounded, and as it were a great mountain burning with fire was cast into the sea: and the third part of the sea became blood; And the third part of the creatures which were in the sea, and had life, died; and the third part of the ships were destroyed. (Revelations 8:8-9)

Staying with the scene of the previous verse, it will look like large rocks are being thrown into the oceans which will kill a humongous amount of marine life. Earthquakes, volcanoes, the continental plates drifting together and smashing creating new mountains. Other land being destroyed by the sea. Massive amounts of marine life will become extinct.

It will be horrendous. No wonder that those who are on the earth at this time will be asking for the rocks to fall on them to save them from the event of the age.

And the third angel sounded, and there fell a great star from heaven, burning as it were a lamp, and it fell upon the third part of the rivers, and upon the fountains of waters; And the name of the star is called Wormwood: and the third part of the waters became wormwood; and many men died of the waters, because they were made bitter. (Revelations 8:10–11)

Notice that all things are a third part. In other words, a third part of the earth will be destroyed and unlivable for quite some time. The name “Wormwood” stands for bitterness. Some believe this is an asteroid or comet or some celestial being from the sky; personally, I believe it is the poisoning of a third of the fresh water on earth. Like most of the book of Revelation, this is symbolism.

With all the ash, soot, and fire thrown up into the sky from volcanoes and earthquakes, a third part of the rivers will be poisoned and be undrinkable. Finding good fresh water will become difficult and many will die from the poisonous waters. The first three trumpets are all from the same event, the pole shift of the sixth seal.

So far, the trees, the grass, the seas, and now the rivers are affected.

Think of it for a minute, if a shifting of the poles is to occur, then what part of the earth won't be affected? The entire earth will be shaken from its very foundation, nothing will be able to hide from it.

And the fourth angel sounded, and the third part of the sun was smitten, and the third part of the moon, and the third part of the stars; so as the third part of them was darkened, and the day shone not for a third part of it, and the night likewise. (Revelations 8:12)

Staying with the theme of a third part, the sun, moon, and stars do not shine.

The grass and trees which symbolizes all land, the fresh-water rivers and lakes, the seas and oceans, and now we have the celestial consequences.

If humanity also loses a third, then we will have another two billion deaths from this event. Personally, I believe it would be more than that. Between the Antichrist destroying a fourth part of the earth and now the pole shift wipes out another third, there will be a massive depopulation of earth. At least four billion dead, more than likely a far greater number.

The landscape of the planet would look nothing like it does today.

It will begin with a slow moving process that once it reaches the point of no return would just flip-flop around and create a new North and South Pole. According to the Hopi, this isn't the first time this has happened here.

The last North Pole was located at what is now the Hudson Bay area. The next one will be in the central Siberian region. You're probably wondering where I received this information from. This is what was given to me, I'm merely a messenger passing it along. As incredulous as it all may seem, I've learned from experience to just accept what is given to me and not attempt to figure it all out at an intellectual level. I'm at my best when I take my mind out of the equation and just let the information received flow through me. Or on those special occasions when I receive a visit from the angelic realm.

There are those who don't believe in such things. They say that there are no more prophets or people who receive visits from the angels. That John the Baptist was the last prophet. That because of the Holy Spirit given to Christ's believers, no more prophets are needed. To those, I say, did God stop talking to mankind at the death of our Lord at Calvary? It is because of the Holy Spirit that we receive visits today, especially in this the last days of this age. It's true that I have received visits from the angels I have named, I will swear by it on earth and in the kingdom of heaven. I'm put here on this earth to write manuscripts to help prepare the saints during this last hour, nothing more.

Back to the trumpet: once the shifting is over, there will no longer be a tilt creating the four seasons. All areas will become temperate once the planet has recovered from this apocalypse.

We all have to keep in mind that the kingdom of God will not be ushered in until the kingdom of man is ushered out. It will be a painful exit.

And I beheld, and heard an angel flying through the midst of heaven, saying with a loud voice, Woe, woe, woe, to the inhabitants of the earth by reason of the other voices of the trumpet of the three angels, which are yet to sound! (Revelations 8:13)

A warning to those left behind.

How many times in human history have we all been warned about future events and have not heeded their call? Harbingers have come and gone and been thoroughly ignored. Prophet after prophet of the Old Testament have warned ancient Israel of future doom only to be martyred by the authorities of that day.

It seems to be a human trait not to pay attention to those who warn that if we keep heading in the direction we are, that doom will follow. We seem to rather stick our heads in the sand and hope it all goes away. Prophets are looked at like they are crazy by the unbelieving masses and ridiculed.

A prophet lives a very lonely life; the first to reject them are their families. People generally reject what they don't understand, so those closest to them are the first to scorn a messenger of God. A prophet is never honored in his own country.

Next come their local towns that either throw them into prison or cast them away. Look at the reception Jesus received from Nazareth, it's no different for any prophet of today. The reason being that messengers of God challenge the authority of men. Those who hold the present power structure want nothing to do with someone who has vision and the keys of a doomed future.

Jesus warned the authorities of his day that the blood of all the prophets from righteous Abel to Zachariah (who was killed between the altar and the temple for refusing to reveal the whereabouts of John to Herod's temple guards) would fall upon that generation. In AD 70, Jerusalem fell to the Romans in a sea of blood.

Humanity will have to take a drastic change in direction to avoid this prophecy. But as I spoke of prior, this is a nexus in time that must be overcome for us to reach the golden age.

REVELATION 9

And the fifth angel sounded, and I saw a star fall from heaven unto the earth: and to him was given the key of the bottomless pit. And he opened the bottomless pit; and there arose a smoke out of the pit, as the smoke of a great furnace; and the sun and the air were darkened by reason of the smoke of the pit. (Revelations 9:1–2)

This looks like volcanic eruptions. It may be many super volcanoes such as Yellowstone.

A “star fall from heaven” sounds like an asteroid or a comet which smacks the earth. According to scientists, 65 to 70 million years ago, a very large asteroid struck what is now the Gulf of Mexico and exterminated the dinosaurs from the earth. Is this a repeat of that event? I’m not sure, but I can tell you that if one was to hit us again, it would indeed create a cataclysm that would devastate all of mankind.

Then again, a star falling from heaven may mean Lucifer being thrown out of heaven once and for all. The prophet Isaiah calls Lucifer “the son of the morning star.” Who else would be given the key to the bottomless pit? I'm not sure about this trumpet, it could be one or the other.

And there came out of the smoke locusts upon the earth: and unto them was given power, as the scorpions of the earth have power. And it was commanded them that they should not hurt the grass of the earth, neither any green thing, neither any tree; but only those men which have not the seal of God in their foreheads.
(Revelations 9:3–4)

Are these scorpions to be taken literally or is this an allegory? In my opinion this, like a good portion of revelations is to be taken symbolically. So what is the meaning of these scorpions of the earth that are released once an asteroid or comet strikes the earth? Is this sulfur and soot that will be released into our atmosphere blocking out the sun? If that is the case, then how is it that these “scorpions” hurt not the trees, grass, or any green thing?

It's my opinion that this is a continuation of the pole shift. Just more effects of that event. Think about it for a moment, a pole shift would have the direst consequences known in our history. Whole civilizations would be destroyed. Mountains would tumble, seas would produce gigantic tidal waves which annihilate coastal cities, a traumatic event indeed.

Yet this describes locusts that have the same power as the earthly scorpions have, which is by stinging. Therefore, men who don't have the seal of God on their foreheads are hurt by this sting.

So that begs me to ask the question, how on earth can these locusts, which are known by ravaging the land, tell the difference between a man who has the seal of God or one that doesn't? I believe the answer to that is that the men who have the seal of God on their foreheads can't be touched in the same way that the apostles couldn't be touched by demons back in the time of Jesus, due to him giving them the right and the power to cast away demons.

The apostles were all given this power by Jesus unto them by the Holy Spirit of God. It's in my opinion that those 144,000 Jews are sealed the same way by the Holy Spirit and therefore cannot be touched by these locusts. The power within these Jews is much greater than the power of the locusts just as the power within the apostles were much greater than the power of the demons they cast away.

And to them it was given that they should not kill them, but that they should be tormented five months: and their torment was as the torment of a scorpion, when he striketh a man. (Revelations 9:5)

There are so many codes and cyphers in this Book of Revelations. Five months? Now we have another puzzle to solve. Locusts flying out of middle earth to torment men for five months who don't have the seal of God on their foreheads?

Are these locusts demons? Are they a natural occurrence due to the shift? One can only imagine what is going on here at this point in time. Seems like a nightmare that these people won't be able to wake up from.

Is five months one hundred and fifty days? Or sticking with the Daniel “one day is the same as one year” theme, then it would be one hundred fifty years. Since the time period for the Antichrist is less than seven years, then one hundred fifty years seems impossible, therefore it's my belief that it's the literal one hundred fifty days. Truthfully, I'm not sure of the significance of the time period, yet it sure seems like an important clue.

And in those days shall men seek death, and shall not find it; and shall desire to die, and death shall flee from them. (Revelations 9:6)

Continuing on with this fifth trumpet, we've got a “star” falling from the sky, which opens up the earth and unleashes locusts who sting those not sealed, and the unfortunates desire to die but it will flee from them.

Could it be the author of revelations is describing a future army of men? Let's take a look at the next few verses to find out.

And the shapes of the locusts were like unto horses prepared unto battle; and on their heads were as it were crowns like gold, and their faces were as the faces of men. And they had hair as the hair of women, and their teeth were as the teeth of lions. And they had breastplates, as it were breastplates of iron; and the sound of their wings was as the sound of chariots of many horses running to battle. They had tails like unto scorpions, and there were stings in their tails: and their power was to hurt men five months. (Revelations 9:7–10)

This army looks like a tank division complete with foot soldiers, helicopters, jets and what have you. Imagine that you are a man like John and you just seen a vision of a modern-day army, how would you describe it? Many horses prepared for battle, breastplates of iron, the sound of wings, like many chariots.

Could this be a description of the Army of the Antichrist? Who is their ruler? We will find out shortly.

And they had a king over them, which is the angel of the bottomless pit, whose name in the Hebrew tongue is Abaddon, but in the Greek tongue hath his name Apollyon. One woe is past; and, behold, there come two woes more hereafter. (Revelations 9:11–12)

There is our answer. Abaddon and Apollyon mean destroyer or the angel of the abyss. The abyss, according to my sources, is a place of complete and total darkness. Whereas the soul or the source of all things, which is the Father is total and complete light, the abyss is its counterpart. You can't have up without down, left without right, and light without the darkness. The abyss is that place of darkness. This is difficult to imagine, but try to picture a place of complete darkness where nothing exists. Maybe this is the black hole at the center of our galaxy? I'm not sure, but I was told the abyss does exist. It's certainly not a place I'd like to visit let alone stay at; complete and total darkness would drive anyone insane. We will talk more about the abyss later on.

This Abaddon character is the lord of the abyss. During the reign of the Antichrist, Abaddon completely takes over the false Christ at the three and half year mark and declares himself to be God. His soul will enter that of our false messiah in what is known as a walk-in, and his mission from that point forward will be to destroy. He will take his army of locusts and cause massive destruction.

There is a ton of symbolism in this trumpet, but the final analysis shows that this will be an invasion of a very large army led by the imposter of Jesus against those that dwell on the earth.

And the sixth angel sounded, and I heard a voice from the four horns of the golden altar which is before God, Saying to the sixth angel which had the trumpet, Loose the four angels which are bound in the great river Euphrates.

And the four angels were loosed, which were prepared for an hour, and a day, and a month, and a year, for to slay the third part of men. And the number of the army of the horsemen were two hundred thousand thousand: and I heard the number of them.

(Revelations 9:13–16)

As I said prior, the trumpets and bowls are explanations of the seals. The seven seals are the end all of this age, the trumpets and bowls are more detailed in its explanation. Basically, more symbolism to explain the seals. Symbolism to explain symbolism, like a rather large puzzle with many clues.

We are shown here an army of two hundred million.

As of this writing, there is only one country with that amount of military, and that, my friends, is China. The People’s Liberation Army is a massive number and must be equated to this verse. There just simply isn’t any other entity with that kind of number.

In my vision that I discussed previously, I saw China invading the United States. This is the size of the invading army. Invading like “a swarm of locusts” unto a country. They will destroy everything in their path, just as locusts do. Scorched earth policy that was practiced extensively in World War II. I pray to the Father that this vision does not take place, but it might be a foregone conclusion at this point. This battle has been waiting for a certain “hour, day, month, and year.” It’s been prepared.

Four angels bound in the River Euphrates waiting for a certain hour to destroy the third part of men. Well, there goes another few billion souls. No wonder Jesus referred to this period in the gospel of Matthew as the great tribulation period. Now my question is this, what would destroy so many souls so quickly? I can think of only one weapon in human's arsenal to accomplish such a feat and that is nuclear weapons.

I read this trumpet as China attacking the United States and America responding with its arsenal of nuclear weapons. More on this in the next few verses of this dreadful trumpet.

And thus I saw the horses in the vision, and them that sat on them, having breastplates of fire, and of jacinth, and brimstone: and the heads of the horses were as the heads of lions; and out of their mouths issued fire and smoke and brimstone. By these three was the third part of men killed, by the fire, and by the smoke, and by the brimstone, which issued out of their mouths. For their power is in their mouth, and in their tails: for their tails were like unto serpents, and had heads, and with them they do hurt. (Revelations 9:17–19)

This is a nuclear and biological holocaust.

A third of all mankind destroyed with missiles. Inter-continental ballistic missiles, cruise missiles, biological weaponry, you name it. The entire arsenal of the United States landing on China and its allies.

Apparently, the president at this time decided that if China was going to invade the United States, that America would retaliate to the point where there would be no China for the Chinese to return to. In other words, if you invade us, you might as well stay because you'll have no homeland left. A sobering thought.

It would have been extremely difficult for a man like John in AD 90 to describe the war to end all wars. How would a man nearly two thousand years ago describe nuclear missiles? Fire, smoke, and brimstone seemed to be the words the author used. You've got to hand it to John, he did his best at describing the impossible.

And the rest of the men which were not killed by these plagues yet repented not of the works of their hands, that they should not worship devils, and idols of gold, and silver, and brass, and stone, and of wood: which neither can see, nor hear, nor walk: Neither repented they of their murders, nor of their sorceries, nor of their fornication, nor of their thefts. (Revelations 9:20–21)

To me, this is mind-boggling. No matter how bad things get, it's still business as usual down here. Jesus said it best, "It shall be as in the days of Noah, eating, drinking, marrying and giving in marriage." And then the flood came.

Look at all the things we worship today that isn't alive. Gold and silver have to be numbers 1 and 2 on the list. It's all about the money. The problem with currency is that for a lot of folks, it's here today and gone tomorrow. This will be the case during these trying times; you won't be able to count on it. But you will always be able to count on the Lord. Things may become bleak in your life, but you'll not be abandoned.

You can't ride two horses, it will never work. One will always be with you, but the other can kick you off at a moment's notice.

It will be absolute anarchy at this point in time on earth, every man fending for himself. Have you ever witnessed a riot? People running rampant without any sense of order in the streets. Looting, burning shops, and killing. It will be total panic in the cities and not much better in the country as the strong by sheer force take from the weak.

REVELATION 10

And I saw another mighty angel come down from heaven, clothed with a cloud: and a rainbow was upon his head, and his face was as it were the sun, and his feet as pillars of fire: And he had in his hand a little book open: and he set his right foot upon the sea, and his left foot on the earth, And cried with a loud voice, as when a lion roareth: and when he had cried, seven thunders uttered their voices. And when the seven thunders had uttered their voices, I was about to write: and I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me, Seal up those things which the seven thunders uttered, and write them not. (Revelations 10:1-4)

Now we have ourselves a mystery. What did the angel say whose voice sounds like seven thunders?

Firstly, this angel is either the Archangel Michael or Gabriel. These two angels are in a class by themselves.

When I had my communication with the three angels, Thomas, Samuel, and Elizabeth, I asked about those two angels and here is the answer I was given.

In the very beginning, there were just three angels: Lucifer, Michael, and Gabriel.

Lucifer was the firstborn, the son of the morning star. A beautiful and powerful created being, loved by his Creator. A being of pure light, the God of this world. The Lord of this dimension, power was given him to control all principalities of the physical world.

Michael and Gabriel had these same powers, but they refused to exercise them. Michael is the warrior for the Creator. He stands before the throne of God ready to attack all things that wish to thwart the soul's plans. According to my angelic guides, Michael never sleeps. He is constantly busy day and night doing the will of God. He carries in his hand the very long sword of truth. Gabriel, on the other hand, is messenger of messengers. Notice that it was Gabriel who announced to Zechariah that he was to father a son and his name was John. Notice that it was Gabriel who announced to Elizabeth that she was to mother that same child. Notice that it was Gabriel who announced to Mary that the Messiah was to be born from her womb. Gabriel, like Michael, never rests.

The angelic beings Thomas and Samuel work for Michael, Elizabeth for Gabriel. All three are very high up in the chain of command.

They told me Lucifer started to be prideful of his appearance and powers. He thought, Who is as wondrous as I am? Who is able to control all things like I can? He thought of himself as the Chief Angel and ruler of all things. He forgot he was a created being and not the Creator himself. He forgot that there were two other archangels with the same powers as himself.

Lucifer made a power play for the throne a long time ago. It's still going on today, but his time is very short. The seven seals are what will eventually destroy him.

I believe that John was told to seal up the words because it wouldn't be understood until the end of the age. I've read many explanations about what is in this little book, but I'm not satisfied with any of the answers. I've asked my friends, but they refuse to comment on the contents of this little scroll; therefore, it remains a mystery to me.

And the angel which I saw stand upon the sea and upon the earth lifted up his hand to heaven, And sware by him that liveth for ever and ever, who created heaven, and the things that therein are, and the earth, and the things that therein are, and the sea, and the things which are therein, that there should be time no longer. (Revelations 10:5–6)

This angel, being either Michael or Gabriel, did what Lucifer could never do, swear by him that lives forever. In other words, this archangel swore to Jesus.

This was the supreme obstacle for Lucifer: he could never bow down to Jesus, whereas Michael and Gabriel have no problem doing that. Lucifer wants the throne for himself, the other two know that isn't possible.

The major obstacle to Lucifer or anyone else who wants the throne of God is they can't master nature. They may be able to make hybrids or clones of beings, but what they cannot do is clone a spirit. They can create a body and program a mind, but they cannot create a spirit. Only God can do this feat. Demons are master genetic engineers when it comes to physical science, but in reference to the soul, they don't have a clue and never will.

Through the use of technology, Lucifer and his band of demons are able to make things appear out of thin air, but that is only advanced technology. Jesus was able to do that with his Christ-conscious mind. There is a big difference in those two. The only way one can accomplish what Jesus did by turning water to wine with the use of his mind is by going within and contacting the Christ consciousness that resides in all of us. Going within is the key to the development of the mind. This is something Lucifer and his gang will never do. Once you go within, you are giving of yourself to a higher power within you. Lucifer will never admit to a higher power; therefore, this act is impossible for him.

Jesus knew the soul of God resided within him and made constant contact with the same which produced results that the world still talks about to this day.

The soul of God or the source is within us all. I've talked extensively on this subject in my first book, The Great Awakening. From that source proceeds forth the spirit, mind, and body of us all. The soul is, the spirit feels, the mind thinks, the body does. Yet the soul is the source of all things both physical and nonphysical.

Jesus elevated his consciousness to the point where all four parts of himself worked in concert in a moment by moment basis and he never wavered in that. This is how one achieves this consciousness; it must be a moment by moment elevation.

Lucifer, on the other hand, can never accomplish this because he will not bow down to a higher power within himself. Through pride, he sees himself as that higher power.

But in the days of the voice of the seventh angel, when he shall begin to sound, the mystery of God should be finished, as he hath declared to his servants the prophets. (Revelations 10:7)

The mystery of God spoken to the prophets.

Throughout history, from Adam to the last prophets of this age, which are coming up in the next chapter of this book, God has spoken to his people.

It's been a mystery from the beginning of time.

Here is the mystery, God created this world for one reason and one only. To become one with its creation. To experience the physical aspect of itself instead of just having a concept of itself. And with the opening of the seven seals, this is accomplished.

God created humanity and all other species to experience itself. God created the first humans so that they could experience the divine within. In the beginning, that's who we were, living gods. We could create out of thin air whatever we wished. If we wanted to move a mountain with our minds, that would happen. We all had the faith of a mustard seed which is all that it took to manufacture such a miracle. Imagine it, an entire planet full of living gods in the flesh.

But that plan was temporarily thwarted when Lucifer and his band of minions decided to leave the spirit and take on the flesh to mate with these human gods. This created a hybrid race of half angel and half human.

The human race on planet earth was hijacked by Lucifer. They figured if they could disrupt the humans by this action that we would be enslaved to them forever. It was an ingenious plan.

Instead of focusing on things of the spirit, humans began to think in terms of the flesh and lowered their consciousness level. Something had to be done.

God's answer to this was to send a flood throughout the earth and start over. To wipe out save a few of this hybrid race of human/angels and begin again. So he found the most righteous man he could, Noah, and started over.

But there was still a problem, the race was still a hybrid race of humans. The DNA had changed and mankind was not what God had intended.

Meanwhile in heaven, there was literally hell to pay for this transgression put forth by Lucifer.

This is what I was told by my angelic friends. That angels must remain spiritual beings. Humans are of the flesh and angels are of the spirit. There are many people who seem to think when they pass away they become an angel, this is incorrect. They become spiritual beings until they take on the flesh again and are known as spirit guides, but they do not become angels. Angels are angels and humans are humans, they are two distinct separate beings. When Lucifer and his angels became flesh, they violated this law. As Jesus put it, "That which is flesh is flesh and that which is spirit is spirit."

To fix this problem, the Source, or God, interceded by becoming flesh in the name of Jesus. Teach those closest to him and pass on his gifts, such as casting out these demons and healing the sick. And then in turn ransom himself on the cross to pass on his Holy Spirit to all who would call on his name. By doing so, others could claim these same gifts and become one again with the Source. It was the way of redemption after the fall of man.

And the voice which I heard from heaven spake unto me again, and said, Go and take the little book which is open in the hand of the angel which standeth upon the sea and upon the earth. And I went unto the angel, and said unto him, Give me the little book. And he said unto me, Take it, and eat it up; and it shall make thy belly bitter, but it shall be in thy mouth sweet as honey.

And I took the little book out of the angel's hand, and ate it up; and it was in my mouth sweet as honey: and as soon as I had eaten it, my belly was bitter.

And he said unto me, Thou must prophesy again before many peoples, and nations, and tongues, and kings. (Revelations 10:8–11)

Could it be that the little scroll is the prophecy that is about to be shown to John?

That's the thing with prophecy, it's bittersweet.

The Lord's words can be so sweet tasting but in the end bitter. Most of prophecy you read about is judgment of nations, peoples, places, or things. This is what happened to John.

In the book was written down the next part of this prophecy. It's about two wonderful spirits who are wrongly treated on this planet. Let's take a look and find out.

THE TWINS

REVELATION 11

And there was given me a reed like unto a rod: and the angel stood, saying, Rise, and measure the temple of God, and the altar, and them that worship therein. But the court which is without the temple leave out, and measure it not; for it is given unto the Gentiles: and the holy city shall they tread under foot forty and two months. (Revelations 11:1–2)

THREE AND A half years shall this Antichrist tread onto the city of Jerusalem. The prophet Daniel speaks of the final seven-year period. He says in the beginning of the final seven-year period there will be a false peace treaty of the many nations. In the middle of this seven-year period or at the forty-two-month mark, he will break the treaty and declare war and tread on the holy city for forty-two months.

Three and a half years shall this man occupy the holy city, but only the outer court, the reason he does not control the inner court is coming up in the name of the two witnesses.

And I will give power unto my two witnesses, and they shall prophesy a thousand two hundred and threescore days, clothed in sackcloth. (Revelations 11:3)

During the time period when this Antichrist occupies the holy city, these two will prophesy the kingdom of heaven to the masses.

I have much knowledge on these two, I know who they were, who they are, and I know where they presently live. Let me tell you a story:

There is a woman who is alive today who is the reincarnated Elizabeth, the mother of John the Baptist. She could not have children; therefore, she thought of an alternative way via in vitro fertilization (IVF). For those not familiar with this, think in terms of test tube babies. She wanted one child, but God had other plans.

This woman is also of the royal bloodline of the King David. God does keep track of such things.

She had many complications during this pregnancy. Firstly, at around the sixteen-week mark, a vehicle from behind came smashing into her car at a very high rate of speed. The person driving the car blacked out and couldn't remember a thing about the accident. The mother almost had a miscarriage over this event.

Next at the twenty-six week mark, she had another terrifying event. She came home from work and entered her house after disabling her alarm system when she felt a presence behind her who put both their hands on her shoulders and slammed her down to the floor and proceeded to kick her in the belly. She remained unconscious from this for about an hour, woke up, and then called the police.

The back door was locked, the alarm hadn't been tripped, and the intruder left no fingerprints to speak of. No neighbors had seen a thing, and there were no clues to follow except that the intruder was a large man. She's five feet eleven inches and she said it felt like he towered over her from behind and that his hands were extremely large. This criminal hasn't been caught to this day.

The kicking of her stomach caused the woman to go into premature labor the next day.

The types of twins are rare; they are the monoamniotic type, which means that both twins are using the same sac. This can be dangerous because the twins can be wrapped around each other's cords. After a dangerous but successful delivery, these babies were two pounds six ounces for one and one pound four ounces for the other. Two children miraculously born of the royal bloodline, in other words, the Holy Grail.

Many complications ensued, but those twins were somewhat normal until the year and a half mark when they received their MMR vaccinations. After that vaccination, both were knocked back terribly. The conclusion was that the children's immune system was not ready for the shots. Both children were afterward diagnosed with autism.

After spending an incredible amount of money in rehabilitation and therapy, they both seem to be working their way back to normalcy again when the firstborn of the two (by two minutes) was knocked back again at the age of five. To this day, she is still fighting her way back. She is extremely intelligent but has speech issues. She's been diagnosed with apraxia. The other younger of the twins has been diagnosed with Asperger's. One has trouble communicating, the other has anxiety issues.

Let me tell you some more about these twins. They have a very well-developed sixth sense, like mind reading. They also hear things that most of us don't. If you put them in a crowded room, like an airport or a school, they can hear the thoughts of everyone there. There is good and bad to that. Think about it, would you like to be able to hear what everyone thinks? All at once? They have this gift. Often, when I interviewed them, I found myself thinking of something only to have one of them tell me what I'm thinking. I would pick a number between one and ten, and every time, they would answer correctly. Afterward, when I went back home to the other side of the planet, they could still read my mind. Distance means nothing to this gift of theirs.

They have the gift of remote viewing. They can look across the oceans and see what is going on in North America when they are on the other side of the oceans, and vice versa. Snapshot images will just appear in their minds. I talked with them on the telephone once, and one of them asked me what was wrong with my dog. I had no idea, the dog seemed well the night before, and I went to look in on it, sure enough, there it was vomiting. These two are extremely extraordinary children to say the least.

There is more, a lot more. These two converse with the angels regularly. And when I say regularly, I mean by the hour or minute if they so choose. This is how I ran into my angelic friends, Samuel, Thomas, and Elizabeth. They asked them to come forth, and boy, did they ever, a meeting I'll never forget as long as I live. On command, just like that, there they were. Their presence was the most awe-inspiring positive image I will ever experience. Beings of the brightest light you can possibly fathom. I was ready to throw myself down on the ground as the prophet Daniel had done when he had an angelic visit, but the twins just took it all in stride like it's an everyday occurrence. No big deal to them. Besides the three angelic beings, they also talk with spirit guides who've gone forth before us to the other side, such as their mother's grandparents. The twins draw great comfort from their grandmother.

On the negative side of these gifts, they also see demons. These twins are constantly being attacked by them since the time they were in the womb. These monsters do not want these twins alive and have put every obstacle at their disposal in their path. It really makes your heart really go out to them.

They've described the demons as such, some are small skinny pale beings with large, dark, and almond-shaped eyes. Some are skinny pale stick-like figures with the same almond eyes. And finally the most terrifying ones are the green giant lizard-type men. They would visit these two during the middle of the night usually between the hours of midnight and two a.m. The mother described that the room would suddenly have a very cold breeze run through it and then they'd come to frighten the children. Imagine it, two little girls woken up by the sight of these monsters at the foot of their beds. Makes me want to destroy these monsters limb by limb.

As a matter of fact, that is what happened one night. One of them was under attack when their mother called me, and as soon as I was on the phone with her, she described a brilliant white light enveloping the room and killing these monsters. Crushing their skulls, tearing them apart, needless to say, the demons didn't return for quite some time after that.

These twin girls have attracted a lot of negative interest through the years. The demons do not want these girls to mature, fulfill their mission, and seemingly will do anything to stop them. They are extremely afraid of these children.

As of this writing, the twins are nine years old. As they age, their spiritual gifts seem to grow. Last summer, in 2014, one of them told me I would be boarding a plane on September 29.

Sure enough, that's when it happened, and I didn't try to set that date either, their mother told me of this afterward. This is just one of many examples. Their prophetic gifts growing, they told me who would be my publisher before my first book was written. Hoping that they stay at 100 percent correct, they told me I would be an extremely successful writer with many books. Time will tell, their faith in my ability to write greater than my own.

The Angel Thomas who's been assigned to watch over these twins has warned me never to reveal the identity of these two. He's also told me that these twins are one soul split into equal shares, two parts to the same being.

Theologians have argued the identity of the two witnesses. Some say Elijah and Moses, others think it's Elijah and Enoch. Both are wrong, it's Elijah split into two. In other words, it's Elijah and the one whom Elijah incarnated into at a later date, whom is John the Baptist.

In that test tube, these twins were created by the Holy Spirit. They share no characteristic of the supposed father, different blood type, hair color, skin color, nothing matches. From my knowledge, this is the third recorded case of Immaculate Conception, with John the Baptist being first, and Jesus the second.

The prophet Micah said that Elijah must come first before that great and dreadful day of the Lord. He was right, Elijah and John the Baptist, two parts of the same being will come first.

These twins are the two witnesses of this chapter. Performed by the Holy Spirit, in an IVF clinic in a test tube, the spirits of Elijah and John have reincarnated themselves back amongst us to preach the gospel of the Kingdom. Who else but Elijah and John the Baptist would be better qualified?

Lucifer doesn't like it because he surely knows now that with the arrival of these two that his time is indeed short.

These are the two olive trees, and the two candlesticks standing before the God of the earth. (Revelations 11:4)

The prophet Zachariah describes the two olive trees and candlesticks which stand before the throne of God. These twins are two very holy people. Like John the Baptist, filled with the Holy Spirit from birth, they are on a mission from heaven.

And if any man will hurt them, fire proceedeth out of their mouth, and devoureth their enemies: and if any man will hurt them, he must in this manner be killed. (Revelations 11:5)

Fire proceeding out of their mouth is the power of the Holy Spirit. There is no greater power in the universe; therefore, they won't be touched for a certain amount of time.

This is the type of power the twins spoke of when they saw demons being destroyed by a blinding white light. It engulfs and consumes the enemy with pure energy. Think about it for a moment, how would one destroy the darkness? With light of course. Pure, powerful light energy. This is what is meant by fire proceeding out of their mouths. The apostles of Jesus had this same power with their ability to cast out demons. Fire proceeding out of the mouth of Peter, Philip, Paul, John, and the others.

These have power to shut heaven, that it rain not in the days of their prophecy: and have power over waters to turn them to blood, and to smite the earth with all plagues, as often as they will. (Revelations 11:6)

In the time of Elijah, he prophesied that it wouldn't rain for three and a half years. Does that time period sound familiar? It's the same period of prophetic time we have here. Not only do these twins have the power of sight, of hearing, and the ability to cast away demons, they'll shut up heaven so it will not rain for a lengthy time period, just as in the days of Elijah.

It says here "in the days of their prophecy." What they will prophecy is the same prophecy that John the Baptist warned the people of, to repent and change their ways, for the kingdom of heaven is at hand.

Once one knows the identity of these twins as two parts to the same being, namely Elijah and John the Baptist, the rest of this falls into place. Elijah/John is and was the greatest prophet of all time. The Jews use Elijah to represent the prophets with good reason, he was their number 1 prophet.

As far as Elijah's incarnation as John, Jesus said, "Of those born of the flesh there is none greater than John," and Jesus also spoke in reference to John, "And if you receive it, this is Elijah who was to come." Let's face it, Elijah and John are one just as the twins of this prophecy are one, two parts of the same being.

And when they shall have finished their testimony, the beast that ascendeth out of the bottomless pit shall make war against them, and shall overcome them, and kill them. (Revelations 11:7)

This is going to be a very sad day for me. These two witnesses whom I've grown to love with all my heart will be killed by this mass murderer.

I've prayed and prayed that this event doesn't happen, yet God's will be done. I'm just not sure I'm willing to accept that these two angelic humans will be destroyed by this vicious monster.

As I said earlier, these two precious little darlings are only nine years old as of this writing, so you can guess when their ministry will begin. My guess is that it will begin at or around their thirtieth birthday. My reason being that Jesus and John begun theirs around that same time period of their lives. But keep in mind, I'm only guessing, I'm not going to be dogmatic about giving you a date, but if I were to make an educated guess, 2034 feels right. Yet remember that only the Father knows the actual date, the angels don't even know, and yes, I asked them.

And their dead bodies shall lie in the street of the great city, which spiritually is called Sodom and Egypt, where also our Lord was crucified. (Revelations 11:8)

Sodom and Egypt, in other words, Jerusalem.

I find it interesting that in spiritual terms, Jerusalem is called "Sodom and Egypt." Sodom means wicked, therefore spiritually Jerusalem is not thought of as the holy city of peace, it's thought to be wicked. The heavenly realm considering Jerusalem to be the city of wickedness. Interesting. Egypt means place, therefore Sodom and Egypt means "wicked place." Yet we humans consider this city to be the holy city, the Heavenly Host sees it otherwise.

Well, here's another reason for the Heavenly Host to consider Jerusalem a wicked place, the killing of God's twins. He created them by the Holy Spirit, and Lucifer destroyed them. One gives life, the other takes it.

And they of the people and kindreds and tongues and nations shall see their dead bodies three days and an half, and shall not suffer their dead bodies to be put in graves. (Revelations 11:9)

This is really beginning to make my blood boil.

The people of the earth don't even give them a proper burial. For three days and a half, these twin girls will be lying in the streets for all the world to see. They'll watch the events of their deaths on their cable news and see them laying there. Or maybe the Antichrist will make an example of them and put on some sort of demonstration with their bodies, who knows with that monster, God only knows what he's going to do. No wonder the angels think of Jerusalem as such a wicked place.

And they that dwell upon the earth shall rejoice over them, and make merry, and shall send gifts one to another; because these two prophets tormented them that dwelt on the earth. (Revelations 11:10)

This is just beyond any comprehension I can come up with.

How many prophets can you think of that haven't been killed? Not many I can assure you. They tell you of things to come and in return they receive death. Usually in a horrible fashion.

These two tormented those by causing drought for three and half years and bring fire down to the earth, as Elijah had done. They will also preach the gospel of the kingdom and for that they will be slain.

And now we have the whole world celebrating their deaths by giving gifts to one another? How sick is that? Firstly, they don't give them a decent funeral, and next, they act like its Christmas by giving each other presents. I can think of no greater evil.

Oh, but wait! We have a clue here as to the time period of their deaths! It's around Christmas time when our two beloved messengers fall. Therefore, if they preached for three and half years, then that would put their beginning testimony in June. Which would mean that the beginning of the reign of the Antichrist must happen in June! I could be wrong but watch those two months of June and December for these events to happen. Right around the summer and winter solstice, some food for thought.

And after three days and an half the Spirit of life from God entered into them, and they stood upon their feet; and great fear fell upon them which saw them. And they heard a great voice from heaven saying unto them, Come up hither. And they ascended up to heaven in a cloud; and their enemies beheld them (Revelations 11:11-12)

Well, thank God! The holy twins will be taken care of.

Can you imagine the scene? The whole world watching on their news networks over the dramatic scenes being played out in Jerusalem. When all of the sudden, the bodies of the twins come to life and then rise up to heaven!

Because it will generate great ratings, the news networks will replay this scene over and over again. It says "great fear" fell upon those watching from all over the world. I bet there is, it's not something you see on the news every day. Especially after these people had the nerve to celebrate their deaths. The celebrating will end on earth and begin in heaven when these two reach their home. These twins that I love with all my heart will be home with their Father, amen.

Like Jesus, they will ascend on the third day. Rarely does anything ever happen just once, even the supernatural.

And the same hour was there a great earthquake, and the tenth part of the city fell, and in the earthquake were slain of men seven thousand: and the remnant were affrighted, and gave glory to the God of heaven.
(Revelations 11:13)

When Jesus was slain, there was a great earthquake. The same thing happens here: two holy ones die, are called up, and once again we have ourselves a great earthquake. Seven thousand people perish, and the rest are so frightened they give the glory to the throne of God. I can imagine after seeing this supernatural event of the ascension, followed up by an earthquake, this might give one pause.

The second woe is past; and, behold, the third woe cometh quickly. (Revelations 11:14)

It's hard for me to fathom that two girls that I deeply love are considered a woe. I imagine that they are considered that to the enemy, but to us who love God they are the last prophets, Elijah and John, beloved by heaven.

And the seventh angel sounded; and there were great voices in heaven, saying, The kingdoms of this world are become the kingdoms of our Lord, and of his Christ; and he shall reign for ever and ever. (Revelations 11:15)

The seventh and last trumpet sounds.

There are more symbolism ahead describing the reign of the Antichrist and the terror he brings forth, but in essence, once the last trumpet sounds, it's over. The battle won at the cross at Calvary now being played out with the trumpets of the seven angels.

The Antichrist will reign for a short season, but when his time is up, it's up.

Those that followed Lucifer knew that when he struck his bargain with God, the clock started ticking until the last trumpet. They wagered that they could overcome the Lord and take over the throne, but their plans were foiled. It was a gamble, but in the end, they'll lose everything.

And the four and twenty elders, which sat before God on their seats, fell upon their faces, and worshipped God, Saying, We give thee thanks, O Lord God Almighty, which art, and wast, and art to come; because thou hast taken to thee thy great power, and hast reigned. (Revelations 11:16–17)

The victory is won, the enemy defeated. The twenty-four elders once again throwing themselves down on their faces to worship the source of all things. They cast their lots with a shining star and it all paid off for them.

As I spoke of previously, I've no idea the identity of the twenty-four elders. There have been some very good guesses made by some. One that caught my attention is that twelve are from the Old Testament and twelve from the New. Prophets from the Old and saints from the New. If that is the case, then there are several deserving candidates to be seated by the throne of God. I'll give you my guess in a little while.

And the nations were angry, and thy wrath is come, and the time of the dead, that they should be judged, and that thou shouldest give reward unto thy servants the prophets, and to the saints, and them that fear thy name, small and great; and shouldest destroy them which destroy the earth. (Revelations 11:18)

The crowns will be passed out to those that overcame the Antichrist. Those who weren't seduced by deception, those who kept watch for this day to come, and those who didn't bow down to this counterfeit God.

This maniac and his hordes will do everything possible to destroy that which God created, including the earth. It will truly be what Jesus called in the gospel of Matthew, "the great tribulation."

It's a shame that we have to go through all this, but I don't see us turning ourselves around. How can we escape all this when we are so divided presently? If we were at one, no enemy with negative intentions could possibly harm us. The gates of hell wouldn't have an effect on us.

And the temple of God was opened in heaven, and there was seen in his temple the ark of his testament: and there were lightnings, and voices, and thunderings, and an earthquake, and great hail. (Revelations 11:19)

To all those treasure hunters out there looking for the Ark of the Covenant, you can give up the quest, here it is, in the temple of God where it rightfully belongs.

THE WOMAN AND THE DRAGON

REVELATION 12

And there appeared a great wonder in heaven; a woman clothed with the sun, and the moon under her feet, and upon her head a crown of twelve stars.
(Revelations 12:1)

WE MOVE FROM the trumpets and the twins to further descriptions of the events surrounding the four horsemen. The book of Revelations is to be taken in sequence with occasional pauses for clarification purposes.

So far, we have moved from the arrival of the Son of Man, to the letters to the seven churches, to the scene at the throne, to the four horsemen, to the day of the lord, to the trumpets, then the twins, and now we peer deeper into that which has already happened in the timeline of events.

John looks into heaven and sees a symbol of a woman. She's "clothed with the sun, and the moon at her feet." This is John's way of telling us that she looks like a being of light, like an angel. Rays of light shine forth from this woman in all directions, which is exactly what angels look like. When you perceive one, you'll think you are looking at the purest light imaginable. It's really indescribable.

Upon her head is a crown of twelve stars. So who is this woman? The church with the twelve stars being the twelve apostles? I don't believe so. This woman is the nation of Israel with the twelve stars representing the twelve tribes.

And she being with child cried, travailing in birth, and pained to be delivered. (Revelations 12:2)

This is why I don't believe the woman represents the church, she's about to give birth to a child, the baby Jesus. Did the apostles ever give birth to a child? Well, symbolically, one could say yes; they gave birth to the church, yet I'm still holding to the opinion that the child is Jesus and the woman being the nation of Israel. Either could be correct or it could be a double meaning; if that is the case, it wouldn't be the first time in prophecy that has occurred.

The nation of Israel was created for one reason, to give birth to the savior of the world. God chose Abraham and made a covenant with him that out of his seed humanity would be redeemed. The actual agreement occurred before Abraham, the father of many nations, was even born. People choose their lives beforehand by agreement with the Father, the source of all things. I've done the same, and it took me fifty years to find out what it was. If I would have looked for the signs earlier I might have saved myself a lot of trouble.

And there appeared another wonder in heaven; and behold a great red dragon, having seven heads and ten horns, and seven crowns upon his heads. (Revelations 12:3)

Here we have an interesting character. A red dragon with seven heads and ten horns and seven crowns upon his heads.

A dragon fits right into the twin's descriptions of the demons being like giant lizards, the dragon being lord over them. Reptilian-like demons who conquer and rule by fear and deception. This red dragon is their head honcho, so to speak.

Notice the color of the dragon being red. What does that color represent, the Catholic church, communism? Or is it the color of Lucifer, the fallen angel? In my opinion, it is the color of Lucifer. His color being bloodred.

He has seven heads with ten horns with seven crowns upon his heads. Each head of this monster has a crown which symbolizes that each head is the ruler of country. Each of the heads has a horn and one of them has four horns.

In the seventh chapter of the prophet Daniel, we read about a little horn who displaces three other horns. So one of these heads has displaced three others on his way to power. What this dragon is symbolizing is a seven-leader, ten-nation confederation of power. One of the leaders is head of four countries while the other leaders just represent one country.

The dragon is Lucifer, one of the heads with a crown who has four horns on it is the Antichrist, and the other six heads are leaders in league with him. Quite a bit of symbology from this one image.

Also the seven heads represent the seven spirits of Lucifer. The seven deadly sins of wrath, greed, sloth, pride, lust, envy, and gluttony. The exact opposite of the seven spirits which stand before the throne of God.

And his tail drew the third part of the stars of heaven, and did cast them to the earth: and the dragon stood before the woman which was ready to be delivered, for to devour her child as soon as it was born. (Revelations 12:4)

Where did the dinosaurs have their power? In their tails! This dragon which is Lucifer drew his tail back and cast a third part of the stars which are angels unto the earth. This is a symbol of the rebellion in heaven.

Lucifer was so convincing that all of the angels who served under him followed him to his demise. That must be quite a mighty tongue of deception he has. Imagine it, there you are as an angel serving God day and night, and one night, your leader calls on you to rebel against that which created you. He did this by convincing them that he was about to perform a coup d'état on the throne itself. He promised his followers that when he would obtain that power that he would reward his loyal angels handsomely. If you were one of Lucifer's angels, you had two choices: stay put and serve the Lord or follow him and make an attempt at the throne. Lucifer's minions made the wrong choice.

The dragon's next move was an attempt to destroy this child.

These angels who became demons know when a special child is to be born. They have the technology to scan a spirit and know when one of distinction is on the way and will do anything they can to thwart that child. This happened with the twins, this happened with Jesus and John the Baptist.

Just as Lucifer sent someone in the middle of the night to knock down the woman who gave birth to the twins and kick her to try to destroy her children, so too did King Herod attempt to destroy Jesus and his prophet John. Herod ordered that all children under the age of two years old would be slain in what is known as the massacre of the innocents. The one man who knew the whereabouts of both, the priest Zachariah, wouldn't tell the temple guards so they slew the old man between the temple and the altar. Some legends say they sawed the man in half and still he wouldn't divulge their location. Now that is truly one of my heroes in scripture. A great man, the priest and prophet Zachariah.

And she brought forth a man child, who was to rule all nations with a rod of iron: and her child was caught up unto God, and to his throne. (Revelations 12:5)

No doubt the child is Jesus and the woman is Israel who gave birth to the man who will rule all nations. This has been the plan from the beginning of time. This is the reason Abraham was born, the reason Moses led the Hebrew out of Egypt, the reason King David was chosen to take the throne, and the reason Jesus was born.

Here we are taken to the scene of the beloved resurrection, which is when the victory over the enemy occurred.

And the woman fled into the wilderness, where she hath a place prepared of God, that they should feed her there a thousand two hundred and threescore days. (Revelations 12:6)

Now we jump way ahead in time from the resurrection. To the time period of the Antichrist slaying the twins and making war on Jerusalem.

Israel flees into the wilderness where God has a place prepared for them for three and a half years (there is that number again). Which begs us to ask the question, where is the wilderness?

Firstly, this reminds me of the time Elijah fled to the wilderness and was protected by God for that same time period of three and half years. Israel will go where Elijah went.

Secondly, is this the time period of the rapture of the 144,000 Jews? If that is the case, the woman will be raptured up to heaven. Either way, the wilderness is a place that the dragon can't touch. In verse 14 of this chapter, we will look into this matter further.

And there was war in heaven: Michael and his angels fought against the dragon; and the dragon fought and his angels, And prevailed not; neither was their place found any more in heaven. (Revelations 12:7-8)

Believe it or not, as of this writing Lucifer and his band of trouble still have access to the kingdom of heaven.

The Angel Samuel told me that what we consider heaven presently is under assault day and night. Lucifer spends his time accusing those whom God loves, which means everyone. Every error is logged, every sin shouted out to the faithful angels. And while we continue to be divided, their power grows. Samuel told me that Michael gets no rest defending us from this assault.

The fallen angels still hide in this other dimension and then make their attacks on people while being cloaked. They'll hide in dark places until they see a vulnerability and then they strike at its victim. These beings have no morals whatsoever, so great is their hatred toward humans.

That will soon change.

Samuel told me that while this corruption continues, heaven really isn't heaven and won't be until they are finally cast out by Michael and Gabriel.

Continually, these fallen angels accuse humans of all our inequities that they themselves have caused. They'll convince us through dream sequencing that what is good is evil and what is evil is good. Many a marriage has ended up in divorce due to this technique. A woman will go to sleep at night and the demons will show her a dream of her loyal husband having sex with a woman. The next step is she becomes suspicious, and from that point forward, trust is lost and the marriage is over. False dreams are one of their favorite techniques for placing mistrust in each other.

They have the technology to send images into our brains, causing us to believe things which aren't real. They'll do whatever is necessary to keep us from following the way to heaven. They have the ability to do this because they know our brain's frequencies. They'll tune into your brain at that frequency and generate a carrier wave with a video image riding on to that carrier wave that your brain receives as real. They'll send you an image of an oncoming car coming at you in your lane which isn't real causing you to slam onto your brakes which causes the person behind you to rear-end you. That's another example of their deception.

Another technique is by mind control. How they do this is they abduct humans in the middle of the night, plant a small implant device into that person, and through that implant, they will send signals, which are then sent into our brains to make things seem real which aren't. They can basically take over your brain through this device, tuning you to a lower vibrational frequency. Your moods will suddenly be lower than normal, creating all sorts of distress in your life.

Another assault on us is by their genetics. The demons are still hybriding themselves with us, just like the olden days of Genesis 6 when they did it out in the open. Now they come and abduct women in the middle of the night planting their seed, and then the woman is the incubator for about three months, then they will make a return visit to claim their prize.

They have successfully created a hybrid human/demon race here on planet earth. They read the same scriptures we do so they know their time is short. Their answer to all this is to create for themselves a new race of beings to achieve their salvation. This hybrid race is now in charge of many governments and financial institutions on earth, setting the table for the Antichrist. They look and act like us except they are tuned into a lower frequency.

It all seems so unreal to me. But according to my angelic sources, it is all true.

And the great dragon was cast out, that old serpent, called the Devil, and Satan, which deceiveth the whole world: he was cast out into the earth, and his angels were cast out with him. (Revelations 12:9)

Finally, at the appointed hour when God deems, they are all cast out of heaven. No longer will heaven have to hear the accusations placed against those whom God loves. Heaven will be shut up to Lucifer and his gang of demons.

And I heard a loud voice saying in heaven, Now is come salvation, and strength, and the kingdom of our God, and the power of his Christ: for the accuser of our brethren is cast down, which accused them before our God day and night. (Revelations 12:10)

The last thing Lucifer wants is grace for humans. He feels we don't deserve it because of our actions against each other. Every time there is any kind of discretion, he is at the throne of God shouting to anyone who will hear him the failures of mankind. After this event, there will no longer be any of this. The door to heaven will be shut to them that accuse, locked, and they will no longer gain any entrance to God's kingdom.

And they overcame him by the blood of the Lamb, and by the word of their testimony; and they loved not their lives unto the death. (Revelations 12:11)

Jesus is the reason that Lucifer and his mob are thrown out. He paid the price for any who love not their lives even unto their deaths.

Very soon, we will all come to the valley of decision. Either we will bow down to this false Christ and keep our lives or we will swear by Jesus and reject the counterfeit. The pressure will be very intense to keep your life and lose your soul, with many succumbing to the dragon. They'll use every conceivable trick in the book to make you lose yourself and swear allegiance to the imposter. They'll say you've had a checkered past and don't deserve God's gift. Don't do it, a crown of life and a white robe await you if you refuse, no matter how your life was up to that point. All of us are worthy of God's grace, no matter how wretched our lives have been, we only need to refuse to honor the wishes of the Antichrist. Stand fast, all you saints of the most high.

Therefore rejoice, ye heavens, and ye that dwell in them. Woe to the inhabitors of the earth and of the sea! for the devil is come down unto you, having great wrath, because he knoweth that he hath but a short time. (Revelations 12:12)

When Lucifer and his crowd are thrown down, there is great rejoicing in heaven. No longer will they have to listen to his lies about humans coming up short. As I said earlier, it doesn't matter how wretched we were, Jesus paid the price for all. Don't let them use your past against you. These deceivers will open up the books and try, but it won't matter, the debt has been paid for all.

And when the dragon saw that he was cast unto the earth, he persecuted the woman which brought forth the man child. (Revelations 12:13)

Israel is being persecuted, so what's new? This has been going on for millennia.

It states here the reason for all the persecution the Jews have received for the last two thousand years. Because Israel brought forth the man child, in other words, because Israel gave us the Lord Jesus.

It seems ironic to me that the nation which brought forth the Savior bore the whip of many Christians of the Middle Ages. Many held them responsible for the death of Jesus.

Let's get something straight here, Jews have not nor ever will crucify people, that's what Romans do. Yet the Jews as a race have been found guilty of deicide or "God killing." Lucifer has convinced the masses that it was the Jews who killed our Lord, and we took care of the rest. For 1,900 years, the charge of deicide has led to much violence against the Jewish race. Expulsions, forced conversions, and massacres in many countries in Europe while the church had a hand in it, or looked the other way while it was going on.

Wholesale slaughter of entire communities during the crusades. Expulsions from entire countries afterward. When the black plague hit Europe, guess who was to blame? That's right, God's chosen people were. Lucifer must have been smiling at all this rampant anti-Semitism.

Jesus was/is a Jew. He celebrated all the Jewish holidays, he was even declared "King of the Jews," a charge he didn't deny. How does he feel about his people being targeted?

I could go on and on about the millions who've been killed by Lucifer but I won't, that's for another book. The truth of the matter is that without the Jews, there is no Bible, and without the Jews, there is no Jesus, nor his apostles. It's that simple. God chose Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob and created himself a race of people that his son would come from. Because he did that, Lucifer has waged war against this race of people and it will not end until Lucifer is bound.

And to the woman were given two wings of a great eagle, that she might fly into the wilderness, into her place, where she is nourished for a time, and times, and half a time, from the face of the serpent. (Revelations 12:14)

To look at this verse, we have to go back to the throne of God.

Remember that there were four beasts which surrounded the throne of God. The first is a Lion, the second a Calf, the third a Man, and the fourth an Eagle. I established that these four represented the four stages of Jesus. The Lion of the tribe of Judah is the bloodline of Jesus and his first stage. The calf is the sacrificial Lamb of God which is the second. The Son of Man is the third stage, and the Eagle of the resurrected Lord is the fourth and final stage.

Therefore, if we use the eagle as a symbol of resurrection, then that means that the nation of Israel will be lifted up on resurrected eagle's wings for three and half years to keep her from the face of the serpent or Lucifer. After her long history, the nation of Israel will finally be saved from persecution. The Jews after being miraculously lifted up will finally believe in the Lord Jesus as their long promised Messiah. Glory, glory, hallelujah!

And the serpent cast out of his mouth water as a flood after the woman, that he might cause her to be carried away of the flood. (Revelations 12:15)

But before Israel is saved, Lucifer will make one last dash at trying to commit genocide against this race by raising up this massive army against her. Millions will come upon Israel like a flood, but it will be too late.

And the earth helped the woman, and the earth opened her mouth, and swallowed up the flood which the dragon cast out of his mouth. (Revelations 12:16)

So while this monumental army is poised to attack Israel, a giant earthquake follows and destroys Lucifer's army. The earth herself rebels at this madness perpetrated against Israel.

And the dragon was wroth with the woman, and went to make war with the remnant of her seed, which keep the commandments of God, and have the testimony of Jesus Christ. (Revelations 12:17)

Once Israel is lifted up on Eagle's wings, Lucifer will try to annihilate the rest of the Jews who are still left on the planet.

It says here that he is also making war against any Jewish Christians or any other Christians who may still be on the earth at this time. The time period of Revelations 12 is all just before the shifting of the poles and the rapture in the sixth seal. Don't be confused by that. What this chapter and the next is to describe the first four seals of the four horseman more vividly. In other words, Lucifer and his son, the Antichrist. It's a more detailed explanation of the horsemen, an interlude to the story.

THE TWO BEASTS

REVELATION 13

And I stood upon the sand of the sea, and saw a beast rise up out of the sea, having seven heads and ten horns, and upon his horns ten crowns, and upon his heads the name of blasphemy. (Revelations 13:1)

THIS BEAST RISES up out of the sea. The sea is symbolic for the nations. If it represents Israel or the Jews, it would say beast of the earth, but he will come later. Because it says beast of the sea, it means that this character is a gentile. In the tenth chapter of the prophet Daniel, there is a clue to the identity of this person. Daniel was praying and the Archangel Gabriel came to him and told him that the Prince of Persia withstood Gabriel for twenty-one days and that it took the help of the Archangel Michael to overcome him. The Prince of Persia must be one very powerful being in order to hold up a very powerful archangel such as Gabriel for that length of time. Iran is the modern-day name for Persia.

Therefore, it is my belief that this man will come from the area which was called Persia. Now keep in mind that the Persian Empire was much greater than the nation of Iran is today, so he may not come from Iran proper, but somewhere in that area is my best guess.

The dragon in the previous chapter is none other than Lucifer himself, and the beast here is his son, the Antichrist. The dragon has seven heads, ten horns, seven crowns, with the seven crowns upon the seven heads. The beast on the other hand has also seven heads and ten horns, but has three more crowns and those are placed upon the horns instead of the heads.

The dragon's seven crowns on its seven heads are the seven spirits of evil, the seven deadly sins. Which are the exact opposite of the seven spirits at the throne of God that was mentioned earlier. Each sin of the dragon has itself a crown on its head. These are that which give the dragon its power. Just as the prayers of the saints give more power to the angels, the sins of man help give the seven-headed dragon more power.

The Antichrist's ten crowns on its ten horns on the other hand are ten nations with ten king's coalition that ally themselves with him. Ten nations that will give him his power. In scripture, horns symbolize power. The dragon's crowns are on its heads of sin while the beast's crowns are on its horns instead. See the difference?

The seven heads symbolize sin, the horns symbolize power, the crowns symbolize royalty or a nation. The dragon has placed its royalty on the seven sins while the beast has its royalty on the ten-nation coalition instead, even though it still has the seven heads of sin upon it. Each has the seven heads of sin and the ten horns of power, but the dragon's crowns are on sin, the beast's crowns are on its ten nations.

Yet very similar. One other difference is that the dragon is red and no color is specified in the beast.

Upon his heads are the names of blasphemy. Just as in the dragon, the seven heads are the seven deadly sins of wrath, greed, sloth, pride, lust, envy, and gluttony.

And the beast which I saw was like unto a leopard, and his feet were as the feet of a bear, and his mouth as the mouth of a lion: and the dragon gave him his power, and his seat, and great authority. (Revelations 13:2)

In the seventh chapter of Daniel, the prophet had a dream of four beasts. The first beast in Daniel's vision was a lion with eagle's wings, the second a bear, the third a leopard, and the fourth different and more terrible than the others but it also had ten horns. These beasts have been interpreted to mean the different empires of mankind. The first Babylon, the second Persia, the third Greece, and the fourth Rome.

This beast is very similar, but these seem to be in the reverse order. Also Daniel saw four different beasts or empires rising up out of the sea and John here only sees one which seem to be the culmination of all the beasts. This beastly empire will strike very fast like Greece the leopard did, be very powerful like the Persian bear, and rule over all like the Babylonian lion. Seems all the human empires of the past all rolled up into one.

It says that the dragon gives this beast his power. This is the representation of both having ten horns.

And I saw one of his heads as it were wounded to death; and his deadly wound was healed: and all the world wondered after the beast. (Revelations 13:3)

The Antichrist appears slain by a head wound but is seemingly miraculously healed.

Can Lucifer do anything original? This sounds like the resurrection of Jesus. The only difference being that the son of God was crucified and the son of perdition was wounded in the head. I'd be willing to wager that he becomes healed on the third day. Any takers?

Lucifer has advanced technology that he will use to perform "signs, miracles, and wonders," as Jesus spoke in the gospel of Matthew. This is Lucifer's power play to try to deceive the very elect. Have the Antichrist slain and then “miraculously” heal him so that all the world will wonder. Ingenious, but unoriginal. Jesus rose from the dead by the power of the Holy Spirit, this clown will rise by use of advanced demonic technology. One by way of the spiritual, the other by way of the physical. Huge difference, and those keeping watch will not be fooled.

And they worshipped the dragon which gave power unto the beast: and they worshipped the beast, saying, Who is like unto the beast? who is able to make war with him? (Revelations 13:4)

Well, their plan worked against those who aren't keeping their lamps lit with the oil of the Holy Spirit. But for those of us expecting an event like this, we won't be fooled.

This entire sham will be staged, complete with directors and producers.

Can you imagine the television news coverage of this event? Ratings will go through the roof! Leader who is assassinated comes back to life! This would be like John F. Kennedy come back from the grave. The world will throw themselves at his feet after this Oscar award-winning performance.

And there was given unto him a mouth speaking great things and blasphemies; and power was given unto him to continue forty and two months. (Revelations 13:5)

Of course, this is the time when the beast declares himself to be God. That's because he seemingly died and came back to life that he is Jesus returned. He will deceive many, but it will all be a load of malarkey. This is the point where he stands in the holy place, declares himself to be the living God, and rules for three and a half years (there is that number again).

And he opened his mouth in blasphemy against God, to blaspheme his name, and his tabernacle, and them that dwell in heaven. (Revelations 13:6)

After this beast has fooled the world into thinking he's the next great peacemaker, then his true nature comes out. This counterfeit Christ declares himself Jesus returned and that the Father and he are one.

The miraculous healing will give him the ultimate authority over the masses. They'll be so convinced that the Lord has returned that anything he desires he will receive. For those reading this during that time period, don't be duped. This man is a programmed hybrid demon. He may look like and act like a human, but there will be no soul in him. It's all in the programming, and the enemy has been rehearsing this monster for a long time.

And it was given unto him to make war with the saints, and to overcome them: and power was given him over all kindreds, and tongues, and nations. (Revelations 13:7)

At this point in time, he becomes the leader of the whole world. The people living during this time period will be so mesmerized by this tyrant that they will pledge allegiance to anything he says.

On the other hand, there will be some resistance. There will be those who say, “This is the one we warned you about,” but they will be in the small minority. They’ll be the voices crying in the wilderness. These will be those who will be saying, “Repent, for the kingdom of heaven is near,” and they’ll be answered by those that believe in this counterfeit, saying, “The kingdom of heaven isn’t near, it’s already here in this man.”

And all that dwell upon the earth shall worship him, whose names are not written in the book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.
 (Revelations 13:8)

There seems to be a “book of life of the Lamb slain from the foundation of the world.”

By saying “slain from the foundation of the world” means that this has been planned from the beginning of time. Also, these are those spirits who have volunteered for this mission and made an agreement with the Father at the very beginning of this world’s creation. I was told by the Angel Samuel that I for one also made an agreement “a long time ago,” were the angels words. To the rest of you reading the words of revelations, you also agreed. We all volunteered to come to the earth at this point in time to take the blinders off and redeem the many.

Those written in the book of life will be those who do not buy into this nonsense of demon worship.

If any man have an ear, let him hear. He that leadeth into captivity shall go into captivity: he that killeth with the sword must be killed with the sword. Here is the patience and the faith of the saints. (Revelations 13:9–10)

This tyrant will be rounding up all those who don't swear allegiance to him. It will be like the concentration camps of World War II. Forced labor through the use of slavery, torture, and extermination for those who refuse to bow. The Jews will tell you from their history that this is not a pretty sight.

I'm sure he will keep this all hush-hush to the majority of the population. He won't be broadcasting on the news his many atrocities committed against those true believers who are rounded up like cattle.

And I beheld another beast coming up out of the earth; and he had two horns like a lamb, and he spake as a dragon. (Revelations 13:11)

Just as Jesus had John the Baptist as his prophet, so shall the beast have his in the name of this two-horned beast. This beast completes the unholy trinity of the ten-horned dragon as Lucifer, the ten-horned beast as his son the Antichrist, and this two-horned beast as the false prophet.

Notice this beast comes out of the earth unlike the sea that the first beast came from. This symbolizes that this man will come from the Israel/Palestine area. It could be from Israel proper, or the West Bank, or Gaza.

And he exerciseth all the power of the first beast before him, and causeth the earth and them which dwell therein to worship the first beast, whose deadly wound was healed. (Revelations 13:12)

I have some inside information on this man (if you could call him a man, he's not actually human) that I wish to share. He is the first beast's biological uncle.

When the first beast, the Antichrist was born, this man had his parents murdered so that he could become the legal guardian and groom this child to fulfill his destiny.

He has an unlimited amount of wealth at his disposal and has sent the first beast to the finest educational institutions in the world for refinement.

This two-horned beast is a priest of his religion. I've seen him in my dreams and he wears a black robe with silver linings.

Looking into his coal-black eyes is like looking into the abyss.

A tremendous amount of concentrated negative energy emanates from him.

And he doeth great wonders, so that he maketh fire come down from heaven on the earth in the sight of men. (Revelations 13:13)

How does he make fire come down from earth? I've seen it, by use of advanced demonic technology. I'm sure you're asking what is "advanced demonic technology?" Well, it's complicated, but let me try to explain.

I had a visit a few months ago with the three angels I mentioned earlier, Samuel, Thomas, and Elizabeth. This is what they told me about demons.

We consider demons to be fallen angels and that is true. But what demons are presently is a hybrid demon/reptilian race of beings that have advanced technology such as cloaking, instant transportation, changing dimensions, genetic engineering, mind control, and space travel. This is a conquering race throughout our galaxy, and they consider earth to be a mighty prize with all its resources.

The reptilian side of this hybrid considers earth to be their genesis planet.

An asteroid struck the earth approximately 65 million years ago and our scientists consider this event to have wiped out the dinosaur species. This is only partly true as it did wipe out many different types of dinosaurs but not all. The most intelligent of the dinosaurs, the troodon, went underground. Millions of years of evolution later, the fallen angels or demons as we call them mated with this species to create a troodon/demon hybrid. Seems farfetched, doesn't it? It did to me when I heard this story, but I'm considering the source who gave me this information and I believe it.

They developed advanced technology through millions of years of evolution. They went out conquering through space travel, this being a race of warriors. These demon/reptilians are a mighty foe.

Their genetic engineers now have the ability to create what looks to be humans but aren't. This Antichrist and false prophet figures are two such beings.

To cut a long story short, their agenda is to conquer heaven and earth. The demon side of them wants heaven back and the reptilian side of them wants earth back. That is their sole mission.

It took my mind quite some time to wrap itself around all this information. It's going to take time for you as well. I wondered whether or not to include this information into this book, but in the end, I needed to tell the truth of what I've been given.

And deceiveth them that dwell on the earth by the means of those miracles which he had power to do in the sight of the beast; saying to them that dwell on the earth, that they should make an image to the beast, which had the wound by a sword, and did live.
(Revelations 13:14)

Now we know that these aren't miracles at all. It's just advanced technology.

And he had power to give life unto the image of the beast, that the image of the beast should both speak, and cause that as many as would not worship the image of the beast should be killed. (Revelations 13:15)

This beast is going to perform many “miracles” for deception purposes. Creating an image or a statue that will somehow come to life. Once again, nothing more than technology. Advanced, for sure, but it's still just technology. They are trying to mimic Jesus's miracles of bringing Lazarus back to life. By showing the masses that they can perform miracles such as this, they figure that people will believe that Jesus has returned; don't buy into it, it's just technology.

This will be the valley of decision, whether to worship the beast and keep your life, or not and lose it. Choose wisely.

And he causeth all, both small and great, rich and poor, free and bond, to receive a mark in their right hand, or in their foreheads: And that no man might buy or sell, save he that had the mark, or the name of the beast, or the number of his name. (Revelations 13:16–17)

At this point in time, the beasts have complete and total control. For those that choose to live and bow down to this idol, they'll be given a mark. It will be on their right hands if they are of the lesser class or on their foreheads if they are higher up.

Without the mark, you won't be able to buy or sell. That means the true believers will have to go underground and use the time-honored barter system for trade.

Once again, the unholy alliance of the beasts will mimic the true King of kings. The twelve apostles all had marks as I've discussed previously, numbers on their foreheads which marked them as gifts from the father to the son.

Here is wisdom. Let him that hath understanding count the number of the beast: for it is the number of a man; and his number is Six hundred threescore and six. (Revelations 13:18)

I doubt there has been a verse of scripture so scrutinized. The number is 666 and many have guessed at what that number means. Some say it's the Roman Emperor Nero, others say it's the Papacy, still others have guessed from anyone from Ronald Reagan to Attila the Hun. The truth is that they are all just guesses. I've given this much thought and I believe that we won't know for sure who it is until it happens. But if I had to make an educated guess, I would say it's the reincarnated Roman Emperor Nero who can best be described as a beast during his lifetime.

REVELATION 14

And I looked, and, lo, a Lamb stood on the mount Sion, and with him an hundred forty and four thousand, having his Father's name written in their foreheads. (Revelations 14:1)

Jesus with his 144,000 sealed Jews from the twelve tribes of Israel. The King of kings with his chosen people. Like the apostles, these also have marks on their foreheads. This seems to be a recurring theme in revelations. They have the Father's mark due to the covenant of Abraham and the Father.

And I heard a voice from heaven, as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of a great thunder: and I heard the voice of harpers harping with their harps: And they sung as it were a new song before the throne, and before the four beasts, and the elders: and no man could learn that song but the hundred and forty and four thousand, which were redeemed from the earth. (Revelations 14:2-3)

Here they are with the four beasts, the lion, the lamb, the man, and the eagle, along with the twenty-four elders. A new mysterious song is sung.

These are they which were not defiled with women; for they are virgins. These are they which follow the Lamb whithersoever he goeth. These were redeemed from among men, being the firstfruits unto God and to the Lamb. And in their mouth was found no guile: for they are without fault before the throne of God. (Revelations 14:4–5)

Well, here is a clue to the identity of the 144,000, the first fruits unto God.

In Ancient Israel, the farmers would bring their first fruits as an offering to God. It began when Abraham gave his first fruits to the Priest Melchizadek and continued on. It was generally considered to be 10 percent of your crop was that given to the temple. The first fruits were therefore your best 10 percent.

These 144,000 are God's first fruits given to Jesus but not the final offering. These are the best of the crop.

And I saw another angel fly in the midst of heaven, having the everlasting gospel to preach unto them that dwell on the earth, and to every nation, and kindred, and tongue, and people, Saying with a loud voice, Fear God, and give glory to him; for the hour of his judgment is come: and worship him that made heaven, and earth, and the sea, and the fountains of waters. (Revelations 14:6–7)

Those who face the valley of decision need to remember this always, that it is God that created heaven, earth, the sea, and the waters. The counterfeits will perform many miracles to deceive the masses, but it's not real. Only the source of all things, God, can create the universe.

With all the beast's technology, the one thing they haven't conquered is nature. They can create through their genetic engineering, but they can't create the spirit. The beasts can create the body, but not the spirit. Only the soul or the source can create the spirit, which then creates the mind and the body. The beasts or the body can only create the body, not the mind nor spirit.

Only the Father can create all things, no one else.

And there followed another angel, saying, Babylon is fallen, is fallen, that great city, because she made all nations drink of the wine of the wrath of her fornication. (Revelations 14:8)

Babylon will be central headquarters for the Antichrist. More on Babylon later in this book, but for now, just think of it as a symbol for the Kingdom of Man. You cannot usher in the Kingdom of God until you first usher out the Kingdom of Man.

And the third angel followed them, saying with a loud voice, If any man worship the beast and his image, and receive his mark in his forehead, or in his hand, The same shall drink of the wine of the wrath of God, which is poured out without mixture into the cup of his indignation; and he shall be tormented with fire and brimstone in the presence of the holy angels, and in the presence of the Lamb. (Revelations 14:9–10)

Those that bow down to this counterfeit Christ will receive his mark and not be raptured up during the pole shift. Which means that when the earth shifts, they'll be here to watch the mountains fall down and the seas rise up. It will be a horrible event to witness.

Imagine it, the poles shifting into a new position. Great amount of waters reaching the coasts and swallowing them up. Giant volcanoes spewing ash for as high as the eye can see. It will be a time of the greatest tribulation this world has ever seen.

And the smoke of their torment ascendeth up for ever and ever: and they have no rest day nor night, who worship the beast and his image, and whosoever receiveth the mark of his name. (Revelations 14:11)

It is the same as the previous verse. It will be a terrible time for those who are left on the earth. The main lesson here is don't bow down to these clowns. Don't give up your faith, help is truly on the way.

Here is the patience of the saints: here are they that keep the commandments of God, and the faith of Jesus. (Revelations 14:12)

This is one of the many reasons that I believe that the rapture doesn't happen before the sixth seal. The saints will have to face the decision of life or death. Everyone's faith will be put to the test. Don't count on yourselves not being here for this time period, to do so is folly. I've heard many preachers tell their congregations not to worry, that they'll be raptured up before the great tribulation period. What if they're wrong? Then what? Then you'll have what Jesus called a "falling away" of the faith because their congregations were unprepared.

The preachers will tell you that the saints spoken of here are the "tribulation saints," which they say are different than the "raptured saints." How can they be so sure? I wouldn't count on it. Prepare yourselves and keep watch instead of counting on preachers who may be wrong.

And I heard a voice from heaven saying unto me,
Write, Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord from henceforth: Yea, saith the Spirit, that they may rest from their labours; and their works do follow them. (Revelations 14:13)

Here is a blessing unto the martyrs who didn't give up their faith even unto the death. Those who held on to their true love and didn't waver from the Lord.

And I looked, and behold a white cloud, and upon the cloud one sat like unto the Son of man, having on his head a golden crown, and in his hand a sharp sickle.
And another angel came out of the temple, crying with a loud voice to him that sat on the cloud, Thrust in thy sickle, and reap: for the time is come for thee to reap; for the harvest of the earth is ripe. And he that sat on the cloud thrust in his sickle on the earth; and the earth was reaped. (Revelations 14:14–16)

This is Jesus gathering his elect from the four winds before the pole shift.

No one knew the time of this, not the Son of Man, nor the angels, but the Father only. The angel coming out of the temple of God is a messenger that has been told that it is time for the rapture. Those who held fast during these trying times are lifted up to heaven with the sickle from Jesus. This is the first gathering. The next gathering is about to happen.

And another angel came out of the temple which is in heaven, he also having a sharp sickle. And another angel came out from the altar, which had power over fire; and cried with a loud cry to him that had the sharp sickle, saying, Thrust in thy sharp sickle, and gather the clusters of the vine of the earth; for her grapes are fully ripe. And the angel thrust in his sickle into the earth, and gathered the vine of the earth, and cast it into the great winepress of the wrath of God. And the winepress was trodden without the city, and blood came out of the winepress, even unto the horse bridles, by the space of a thousand and six hundred furlongs. (Revelations 14:17–20)

The rapture which just happened in verses 14–16 occurs immediately before the pole shift. The next gathering in verses 17–20 is due to the pole shift. These are those who were slain as a result of the massive shifting of the poles here on earth. One gathering occurs just a blink of an eye in front of the next. To us, it will seem to happen at the same time, but in heaven, one happens before the other.

For those who are curious, 1,600 furlongs is approximately 200 miles. That is a lot of blood. It will be an unprecedented tragic event here on earth.

THE SEVEN PLAGUES

REVELATION 15

And I saw another sign in heaven, great and marvellous, seven angels having the seven last plagues; for in them is filled up the wrath of God. (Revelations 15:1)

THE WRATH OF God described here is the pole shift and all of its effects.

In my dream that I spoke of earlier, when all seemed lost, orbs of light appear and surround the planet and then retilt the earth. They will take the tilt out of the earth and “straighten up the poles” to their natural condition. The earth will look up and down instead of its current condition.

A long time ago, the earth had twelve equal months of thirty days each totaling 360 days for the year. This is this planet's natural condition.

Then a cataclysm, a collision with another celestial object, occurred which tilted the earth to its current condition. This present tilt of our planet causes natural occurring pole shifts to happen from time to time. The last time this happened was the destruction of the lost continent of Atlantis.

It's a present cycle of ice building up and ice melting on the poles. It's our current cycle, but it's not a naturally occurring one.

This will all be rectified when these "orbs" of light I saw in my dream retilt the planet to its natural location. The problem is that it will be quite painful for those of us who are currently on the planet. Mountains will be laid low, new land will arise out of the oceans, and so on. It will be the event of the ages, and thankfully won't ever have to happen again.

And I saw as it were a sea of glass mingled with fire: and them that had gotten the victory over the beast, and over his image, and over his mark, and over the number of his name, stand on the sea of glass, having the harps of God. And they sing the song of Moses the servant of God, and the song of the Lamb, saying, Great and marvellous are thy works, Lord God Almighty; just and true are thy ways, thou King of saints. Who shall not fear thee, O Lord, and glorify thy name? for thou only art holy: for all nations shall come and worship before thee; for thy judgments are made manifest. (Revelations 15:2–4)

Once again, we refer back to the kingdom of heaven with the saints who've overcome the beast and been raptured up before the pole shift occurred. All of those who chose not to receive the mark of the beast will be within this crowd. Remember this if you are one of those in the valley of decision, don't succumb to the temptation of taking the easy way out.

These saints are an extremely happy crowd, singing the songs of praise to God.

And after that I looked, and, behold, the temple of the tabernacle of the testimony in heaven was opened: And the seven angels came out of the temple, having the seven plagues, clothed in pure and white linen, and having their breasts girded with golden girdles. And one of the four beasts gave unto the seven angels seven golden vials full of the wrath of God, who liveth for ever and ever.

And the temple was filled with smoke from the glory of God, and from his power; and no man was able to enter into the temple, till the seven plagues of the seven angels were fulfilled. (Revelations 15:5–8)

Continuing the theme of the pole shift, these seven plagues are a result of the works of the Antichrist and the ensuing shifting of the earth's poles.

One of the beasts that surround the throne, I wonder which one, the Lion, Lamb, Man, or Eagle, gives the seven angels vials or bowls. These are the last seven plagues this earth will ever witness. Thank God for that!

REVELATION 16

And I heard a great voice out of the temple saying to the seven angels, Go your ways, and pour out the vials of the wrath of God upon the earth. (Revelations 16:1)

This is the voice of one of the archangels, either Michael or Gabriel. I must say that these two characters have been quite busy in this book of Revelation. They both do the will of God and nothing else, a nice example for the rest of us to follow. I can't describe either because I've never seen either of them, only heard of them described by other angels. Magnificent beings that they are, truly other worldly. When one of these two command, the rest of the angelic hierarchy listen and obey.

Day or night, they never rest from their duties. They are beings of pure love, who love us as equally as they love the Lord. Concentrated beings of pure light and love, never wavering from their calling. When Lucifer rebelled and tried to take the throne away from the Creator, it was these two who held fast and defended the Lord. God bless them.

And the first went, and poured out his vial upon the earth; and there fell a noisome and grievous sore upon the men which had the mark of the beast, and upon them which worshipped his image. (Revelations 16:2)

Noisome means a foul odor, grievous means severe. So what we have here is a severely foul-smelling sore which breaks out.

This mark of the beast given to those who followed this beast will be either an implant or a tattoo or both. It will have all your information needed for anyone who wished to scan your vital statistics such as your financial or medical status. The governments will tell you that this is the efficient way to go, and that it will rid the world of needless paperwork. We are already heading very much in this direction with our checkout scanners at the supermarket. All that is needed is a bar code for humans instead of products. Is it just me or does this seem like the branding of cattle to anyone else?

The underlings of the Antichrist will use every evil necessary to convince those that this is the way of the future. They'll call those who don't wish to be subjected to this treatment, dinosaurs, and that time has passed us by.

All sorts of peer pressure will be applied to those who wish to stand fast. Families will be your worst enemies. This is what Jesus meant when he said he would turn a father against a son and vice versa.

This mark will turn against those who received it; in time, it will cause those people sores on their bodies. Implants are not a natural item in the human body; sooner or later, the body is going to react to it. Notice that only those who took the mark will be affected. Does that mean that there aren't any people left on the planet who refused the mark or does it mean the sores have something to do with the mark? It's my opinion that after a certain time period that the marks on people are what creates the sores. Remember this as you're standing in line to get your mark.

And the second angel poured out his vial upon the sea; and it became as the blood of a dead man: and every living soul died in the sea. (Revelations 16:3)

Every living thing dies in the sea!

As the poles shift, volcanoes will erupt with lava spewing all over the planet, including bodies of water. When lava interacts with water, huge explosions occur which spew forth molten over a wide area.

Thousands of volcanoes erupting in the oceans will cause an enormous amount of sea life to die.

And the third angel poured out his vial upon the rivers and fountains of waters; and they became blood. (Revelations 16:4)

Along with the sea life from the oceans being affected by this pole shift, the drinking water from rivers and inland lakes turn blood red and destroy life. It all makes sense to me, a massive shifting of the earth's poles are going to affect everything on the earth. There won't be one spot of this planet unaffected.

It won't be just the earth's skin or crust that moves, it will be the entire planet shifted by the orbs in the sky. One minute you're surrounded by snow, the next minute you're baking in the sun. Meanwhile, everything on the planet becomes affected.

And I heard the angel of the waters say, Thou art righteous, O Lord, which art, and wast, and shalt be, because thou hast judged thus. For they have shed the blood of saints and prophets, and thou hast given them blood to drink; for they are worthy. And I heard another out of the altar say, Even so, Lord God Almighty, true and righteous are thy judgments. (Revelations 16:5-7)

I try to keep from becoming vengeful, it's not a healthy way to think and feel. Generally, when someone has wronged me, I try to let it go, but that doesn't always work. On the other hand, the angel of the waters is telling Jesus that judgment here is fine because those left on the planet shed the blood of the saints and the prophets. It's increasingly looking like the only ones left on earth at this moment in time are those who accepted the mark of the beast.

And the fourth angel poured out his vial upon the sun; and power was given unto him to scorch men with fire. (Revelations 16:8)

I'm not sure if we are to take this plague literally. The sun scorching men with fire? For that to happen, we would have to lose our ozone layer, which might be a byproduct of the pole shifting. It may be an allegory for the use of nuclear weapons. Either way, it doesn't look so good for those left behind.

And men were scorched with great heat, and blasphemed the name of God, which hath power over these plagues: and they repented not to give him glory.
(Revelations 16:9)

It seems amazing to me that with all these plagues going on that, men would cry for mercy. Instead, they blaspheme God's name.

This is a common trait with us humans; when times are tough, what do we do? We blame God, of course! It's never our faults, it's the Lord who is to blame.

It seems that there is still time to repent to give God the glory. Amazing after all that has gone on, the seals, the trumpets, the plagues, and yet God wishes that none would be lost.

So far in these plagues we've had sores on men, the seas becoming foul, the rivers turning to blood, and now intense heat. Let's find out what is next.

And the fifth angel poured out his vial upon the seat of the beast; and his kingdom was full of darkness; and they gnawed their tongues for pain, And blasphemed

the God of heaven because of their pains and their sores, and repented not of their deeds. (Revelations 16:10–11)

The fifth angel pours his out on the seat of the beast, making his kingdom one of darkness, which gave them much pain. Still following the flow that all of these plagues are due to the shifting of the poles, we go from intense heat to one of darkness. This makes sense to me because if the earth is in a transition period of being moved, there will be a point where the sun is closer than it is now and then a point afterward where the moon is closer.

Also keeping in mind of all the soot and volcanic ash that is in the air. Imagine what it will look like with all the commotion going on around the people on the earth. Massive tidal waves, volcanoes spewing great ash, earthquakes galore, mass hysteria, it's not a pretty sight at all.

And the sixth angel poured out his vial upon the great river Euphrates; and the water thereof was dried up, that the way of the kings of the east might be prepared. (Revelations 16:12)

You would believe that with all the earth changes that people would change their swords into plough shares by now.

It's my belief that the two witnesses had a hand in the drying up of the River Euphrates. For three and a half years of their preaching, there shall be no rain.

The kings of the east must mean the Asian continent, namely China and their hordes. They are getting ready for a massive battle.

And I saw three unclean spirits like frogs come out of the mouth of the dragon, and out of the mouth of the beast, and out of the mouth of the false prophet. For they are the spirits of devils, working miracles, which go forth unto the kings of the earth and of the whole world, to gather them to the battle of that great day of God Almighty. (Revelations 16:13–14)

The earth is changing with the shifting of the poles, so what do men do? Gather up for battle against God, of course. This verse just absolutely amazes me.

This is a very interesting verse saying there are three unclean spirits “like frogs” coming out of the mouth of the dragon and the two beasts.

Once again these three do exactly the opposite of what Jesus would do. The Lord had a double-edged sword of truth in his mouth, so of course, this unholy trinity uses lies and deception to convince what is left of mankind to gather its forces and make a last stand against God’s forces. This isn’t a battle of man versus man, it’s against God because we are told to “gather them to the battle of that great day of God Almighty.” How foolish of them to think they can stand against the Heavenly Host! Jesus himself could destroy a whole army with his words, yet they think these devils can win.

It's my opinion that the Antichrist, Lucifer, and the false prophet all know their time is very short indeed, and if they are going to go down, it will be by kicking and screaming instead of quietly.

Behold, I come as a thief. Blessed is he that watcheth, and keepeth his garments, lest he walk naked, and they see his shame. (Revelations 16:15)

Jesus has always said he will come as a “thief in the night” and that we should all “keep watch.” He warned us that many would try to deceive us through miracles, signs, and wonders claiming they were the Christ. He told us to not believe them because “as lightning strikes in the east and shines to the west so shall the coming of the son of man be.” In other words, Jesus will come suddenly like a thief in the night. When he shows up, we will all know that the true Christ has arrived. There will be no doubt of who the real Messiah is when Jesus shows up to the party.

And he gathered them together into a place called in the Hebrew tongue Armageddon. (Revelations 16:16)

Armageddon is a plain in northern Israel. In ancient times, it was used as a trade route between Egypt and Syria. Many battles have taken place here through the annals of history. Today, the area is known as Meggido, which is 25 miles southwest of the Sea of Galilee in the Kishon River area.

This is Lucifer and his cohort's last stand against the Lord and his army of angels.

This battle began when Lucifer went to claim the throne from the Father and ends here at Armageddon. Millions upon millions of men will be here for this final onslaught. The earth is breaking up around them, but it doesn't matter to them, they still want blood. To me, I still can't wrap my mind around the thought that instead of repenting, they'd rather fight in a battle they can't win.

And the seventh angel poured out his vial into the air; and there came a great voice out of the temple of heaven, from the throne, saying, It is done.
(Revelations 16:17)

The first time Jesus uttered these words were on the cross at Calvary when he was taking his last breaths as the Son of Man. Just before he expired that day, he said, "It is finished."

Jesus took on the flesh as a pure sacrifice for the many. He didn't want to die, he sweated blood and begged the Father to spare him the night before and pleaded for his life, but it was the will of the Father that his son be offered up as a way to pour out his Holy Spirit on those who believed in him. Think about that for a moment, would you be willing to give up your child for the benefit of others? It had to be done, there was no other way. Would you be willing to sacrifice yourself for the benefit of the many? To be killed in such a brutal way as the whip and then the crucifixion? That's the kind of ultimate love we are looking at here.

After the angel poured out the seventh vial, the voice of Jesus said, "It is done." It will take 2,000 years from the time he first muttered the words, "It is finished," on Calvary until he says, "It is done," from the throne. That's a long time to wait for us, but in his world, it more than likely seemed like yesterday.

And there were voices, and thunders, and lightnings; and there was a great earthquake, such as was not since men were upon the earth, so mighty an earthquake, and so great. (Revelations 16:18)

This is the conclusion of the pole shift. Some think that the pole shift is a blink of the eye event, it is not. It's a gradual occurrence that begins slowly, picks up momentum, and then comes to a halt. What began with the sixth seal concludes with the seventh vial. Actually, all the seven trumpets and the seven vials or bowls as they have been called are all a part of the seventh seal.

And the great city was divided into three parts, and the cities of the nations fell: and great Babylon came in remembrance before God, to give unto her the cup of the wine of the fierceness of his wrath. (Revelations 16:19)

This verse is the ushering out of the Kingdom of Man. The old ways are gone and the new ways will be ushered in.

The great city divided into three parts is Jerusalem. Or as the angels call it, Sodom and Egypt, which as spoken before means “wicked place.”

We will discuss the city Babylon shortly in the next chapter, but think of it as the “city of man.” Jerusalem is not Babylon by the way, another great city of the ages is.

And every island fled away, and the mountains were not found. And there fell upon men a great hail out of heaven, every stone about the weight of a talent: and men blasphemed God because of the plague of the hail; for the plague thereof was exceeding great.
(Revelations 16:20–21)

As I spoke of prior, this is the end of the pole shift. It begins with an earthquake or two and ends with the complete retilt of the axis of earth. The old earth will be gone replaced by a new one.

MYSTERY BABYLON

REVELATION 17

And there came one of the seven angels which had the seven vials, and talked with me, saying unto me, Come hither; I will shew unto thee the judgment of the great whore that sitteth upon many waters. (Revelations 17:1)

THERE IS SOME strong language coming from an angel, a whore! We all know what a whore means, a prostitute who sells their body for money. Obviously, what we have here is an entity that has sold themselves for riches. Sitting upon the many waters equates to sitting upon the whole world.

With whom the kings of the earth have committed fornication, and the inhabitants of the earth have been made drunk with the wine of her fornication. (Revelations 17:2)

Whoever this entity is, they're in bed with many leaders of the earth. What we are being shown so far is we have an entity who has prostituted themselves to the many leaders of the world for money and riches. Also, what this whore has created with that money has made the inhabitants of the earth drunk with her pleasures.

So he carried me away in the spirit into the wilderness: and I saw a woman sit upon a scarlet coloured beast, full of names of blasphemy, having seven heads and ten horns. (Revelations 17:3)

Once again, John is carried away into the wilderness. John the Baptist preached in the wilderness. Jesus spent forty days there, but that was near the Jordan River in Judea. If you remember correctly, this is the same place the 144,000 Jews were carried to on wings of eagles for three and half years. My best guess is that this is a place that isn't on earth nor in heaven. If it was in heaven, John would say so, and since you won't see many seven-headed ten-horned beasts in the desert of Judea, I doubt it is there. It seems a place that is full of symbolism.

Does this beast sound familiar? Seven heads and ten horns? It should, it's the same number of heads and horns that the dragon Lucifer and the beast the Antichrist has. The beast here is scarlet-colored, the dragon of Lucifer is colored red. Scarlet is a variation of red, so I'm assuming that this woman is riding the dragon of Lucifer, which also says is full of names of blasphemies. In other words, this beast, like the Luciferian dragon, is declaring itself to be God. Then again, this beast could also be Lucifer's son, the Antichrist.

In the first and second verses, she is called a whore, here she is called a woman.

And the woman was arrayed in purple and scarlet colour, and decked with gold and precious stones and pearls, having a golden cup in her hand full of abominations and filthiness of her fornication.
(Revelations 17:4)

The woman is wearing purple, the color of royalty, and scarlet, the same color as the beast she rides. All dressed up in the finest of jewelry, she has a golden cup in her hand which declares abominations. Anytime I see the word blasphemy or abomination, it's my opinion it is someone declaring themselves to be God. Heaven's opinion of her fornicating or being in bed with the leaders of the world to be filthy. There is nothing clean about this woman: she rides the beast and commits fornications with world leaders and declares herself to be God. This is not a respected woman in heaven's opinion.

And upon her forehead was a name written,
MYSTERY, BABYLON THE GREAT, THE MOTHER OF HARLOTS AND ABOMINA-
TIONS OF THE EARTH. (Revelations 17:5)

The name of this woman is in capital letters so they are placing special emphasis on this.

Here is a very short summary of Babylon's history. Babylon was a city founded in 1894 BC by the Amorites in the area known as Mesopotamia along the Euphrates River. It's been estimated that Babylon was the largest city in the world in the eighteenth and seventeenth centuries BC. It was destroyed and then rebuilt and controlled by the Assyrians from 911 to 609 BC until it fell to the Chaldeans. The Chaldeans then named Babylon the capital of the Babylonian Empire from 609 to 539 BC with a population of 200,000 or more. When the Babylonian Empire under Nebuchadnezzar destroyed the first temple in Jerusalem in 587 BC, they captured and carried away many Jews to Babylon.

The city was captured by the Persians under Cyrus in 539 BC, and many of the Jews were returned back to Israel. The city was later captured by Alexander the Great in 331 BC. With Alexander's death in 323 BC, his empire was divided into four parts and decades of fighting soon followed by the generals who took over the city and deported the inhabitants to Seleucia. After this deportation, the city never recovered.

After looking at the history, I doubt that the name Babylon on her forehead is to be taken as a literal name for this woman. After all, the city became insignificant due to infighting among the Greeks long before John's time. It's to be used symbolically, but what does the name mean and whom does it represent?

In the apocryphal books of Ezra and Baruch and the Sibylline oracles, Babylon is a cryptic name for Rome.

The early Christians of that day used cryptic code words to have certain meanings that only they and not the authorities would know. Since the Roman Empire was the ruler of the day, they would use the term Babylon to mean Rome so that the Romans would have no idea what these Christians were talking about. It makes sense to use Babylon as that symbol since Babylon did rule the Jews for seventy years in Israel's past and Rome ruled them at the time of the apostles, so the symbolism fits well.

Therefore, it's my conclusion that the name Babylon on the woman means Rome. So if we substitute the title, we have "Rome the mother of harlots and abominations of the Earth."

But wait, it doesn't stop there. This woman has been labeled a harlot. So let's take a look at what a harlot means. A harlot means a prostitute or a whore. It's my belief we are getting into symbolism when the term harlot is being used.

Jesus referred to his true church as the bride of Christ, which would mean a woman dressed in white. This Roman woman here wears the color scarlet instead of white. Scarlet is the color of the college of cardinals of the Roman Catholic Church.

An abomination is something which causes disgust or detestation, it's something repugnant. An example of this would be to declare yourself to be God in heaven's view. The kingdom of heaven would be repulsed by anyone other than Jesus who declared themselves to be the Lord. This is what the Antichrist will do three and half years after confirming a peace treaty with the many, declaring himself to be the Lord of lords and King of kings. Daniel calls it the abomination which causes desolation.

Also anyone declaring themselves to be the "Vicar of Christ" which means Christ's earthly representative would also be an abomination. The reason being that Christ's representative on earth is the Holy Spirit, not any mortal man, such as the pope of the Roman Catholic Church. A vicar or representative for Jesus must be perfect as Jesus was and that can only be accomplished by the Holy Spirit, not an imperfect man. So declaring yourself as Christ's vicar is an abomination in the sight of heaven.

What we have here with this woman is a Roman whore who commits abominations. Mystery Babylon is the Roman Empire who later became the Roman Catholic Church.

And I saw the woman drunken with the blood of the saints, and with the blood of the martyrs of Jesus: and when I saw her, I wondered with great admiration.
(Revelations 17:6)

Another reason to believe that Babylon refers to Rome. How many saints were fed to the lions at the Roman Coliseum? How many Christians were set on fire and used as lamps by the Roman Emperor Nero? How many were crucified?

From the time of this new religion called Christianity until the Roman Emperor Constantine declared Christianity the official state religion in AD 312, the followers of Jesus were under constant and unceasing persecution from the Roman Empire. This woman is definitely drunk with the blood of the saints.

Once the council of Nicea was held and Rome became the official religion of the empire, they went after the “heretics” such as the Gnostic Christians and anyone who didn’t bow down to their Roman beliefs. More bloodshed. From then on, we have the Crusades and the inquisition of the Middle Ages. From there, the Protestant Reformation and more blood. The Roman church cannot deny the amount of blood they have spilt in their name.

Keep in mind there are many good Christians who call themselves Catholics today. But the history of their church leaves a lot to be desired, and they’ve spilt a hell of a lot of blood in the name of Christ.

And the angel said unto me, Wherefore didst thou marvel? I will tell thee the mystery of the woman, and of the beast that carrieth her, which hath the seven heads and ten horns. The beast that thou sawest was,

and is not; and shall ascend out of the bottomless pit, and go into perdition: and they that dwell on the earth shall wonder, whose names were not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world, when they behold the beast that was, and is not, and yet is. (Revelations 17:7–8)

“The beast that thou sawest was, and is not; and shall ascend out of the bottomless pit.” This is another reason that I believe it’s the reincarnated Nero, who was, and is not in John’s time. On the other hand, this beast who was, and is not, could refer to our times. A future leader who has a head wound who is miraculously healed as was discussed previously. Either case would fit this description.

It could also be both. A reincarnated Nero who comes to life in the form of someone else, suffers a head wound, and comes back to life under the power of Lucifer.

Notice those that wonder will be they whose names are not written in the book of life from the foundation of the world. In other words, those that are keeping watch will not be fooled by any of this. The true believers will know all about this deception beforehand. Hopefully, this book helps with that, which is the sole intention of this manuscript, to help those saints who are enduring the tribulation.

And here is the mind which hath wisdom. The seven heads are seven mountains, on which the woman sitteth. (Revelations 17:9)

This is another reason to suspect Rome. It's always been called the city of seven hills.

A prostitute centered in the city of Rome. Gee, I wonder who that may be. Any guesses?

And there are seven kings: five are fallen, and one is, and the other is not yet come; and when he cometh, he must continue a short space. (Revelations 17:10)

The list of Roman emperors and their reigns are as follows:

Augustus from 31 BC to AD 14

Tiberius from AD 14 to AD 37

Caligula from AD 37 to AD 41

Claudius from AD 41 to AD 54

Nero from AD 54 to AD 68

Three intermediate emperors for one year.

Vespasian from AD 69 to AD 79

Titus from AD 79 to AD 81

Domitian from AD 81 to AD 96

Nerva from AD 96 to AD 98

Here we can begin with the Roman emperors starting with the man who was the first emperor, Augustus. If that is the case, the list of the five who was would be from Augustus to Nero, and the one who is would be one of the three intermediates or Vespasian, and Titus would be the one who is to come.

Or we can make our list beginning with the first emperor after the founding of the Christian church. That list would be from Caligula to Titus as those who was, Domitian as the one who is, and Nerva as the one who is to come. Since most theologians list the writing of revelations during the reign of Domitian, I'm going with the latter list.

And the beast that was, and is not, even he is the eighth, and is of the seven, and goeth into perdition.
(Revelations 17:11)

This list tells us the identity of the Antichrist. The beast is one of the seven Roman Emperors of yesteryear.

Nero fits on either list. He was, is not, and is of the seven. Number 5 on the list if you begin with Augustus and number 3 if you begin with Caligula.

The eighth which is the Antichrist is of the seven which is a good reason to select Nero.

And the ten horns which thou sawest are ten kings, which have received no kingdom as yet; but receive power as kings one hour with the beast. (Revelations 17:12)

The ten horns are ten leaders of our future who haven't received power yet but will when the Antichrist comes to power. A ten-nation confederacy allied itself with the beast who will rule the last seven years of this age.

It says here the kings here will receive power for "one hour." Personally, I don't believe that is literally for one hour. If we go by the Daniel's interpretation of one week is the same as seven years, then one day is a year. Then that would place one hour of a twenty-four-hour day as the equivalent of 15.2 days out of a year, and I doubt that is correct as well. That would mean the ten kings would only rule a little more than two weeks with the beast. Therefore, I believe one hour to be a figure of speech, he could have easily said a short season instead, or just a little while.

These have one mind, and shall give their power and strength unto the beast. (Revelations 17:13)

A ten-nation coalition shall give all their power and strength to the Antichrist. They will hand over the keys to these nations and will be ruled by one man.

These shall make war with the Lamb, and the Lamb shall overcome them: for he is Lord of lords, and King of kings: and they that are with him are called, and chosen, and faithful. (Revelations 17:14)

This ten-nation confederacy makes war with Jesus and his true Church. He throws them into prison, kills them, and makes many martyrs, but in the end is defeated because Jesus is Lord and this counterfeit isn't. This is a battle of the two sons. The son of Lucifer versus the son of God and it will be a massacre. When times look their bleakest for the tribulation saints, remember this passage of scripture, be assured, the victory is ours.

And he saith unto me, The waters which thou sawest, where the whore sitteth, are peoples, and multitudes, and nations, and tongues. (Revelations 17:15)

The prostitute, which is a false religious system as well as a false social system, will be in control of the entire world during the time period of the Antichrist for a season, until...

And the ten horns which thou sawest upon the beast, these shall hate the whore, and shall make her desolate and naked, and shall eat her flesh, and burn her with fire. (Revelations 17:16)

Until the Antichrist and the ten-nation confederacy burns Rome to the ground.

In the beginning, the whore and the ten nations of the Antichrist will be in league with each other. It will be a sellout of this church in order to protect itself. This will buy this harlot time until the ten nations do a double cross and in the end destroy her.

For God hath put in their hearts to fulfil his will, and to agree, and give their kingdom unto the beast, until the words of God shall be fulfilled. (Revelations 17:17)

This isn't the first time God has used the enemy to fulfill his will. This happened quite frequently in the Old Testament. The Assyrians sacked the northern Kingdom of Israel for transgressions and then he turned around and sacked them with a massive earthquake. The Babylonians sacked Jerusalem and then were sacked by the Persians. The Romans sacked Jerusalem and they in turn were sacked by the Visigoths. Now the Roman Catholic Church will be burnt to the ground and those who burnt her will be themselves destroyed. This is how God works. As you give so shall you receive. Those whom take up the sword shall be killed by the sword. Those who persecuted the righteous shall in turn be persecuted. It's the universal law of whatever you send out you receive.

And the woman which thou sawest is that great city, which reigneth over the kings of the earth.
(Revelations 17:18)

The Roman Empire ruled in the time of the Apostle John, the Roman Catholic church ruled during the Middle Ages and rules one billion today, and Rome will rule the economic world in the future of the Antichrist. Until of course, it is turned into ashes. Rome is most assuredly Babylon.

REVELATION 18

And after these things I saw another angel come down from heaven, having great power; and the earth was lightened with his glory. And he cried mightily with a strong voice, saying, Babylon the great is fallen, is fallen, and is become the habitation of devils, and the hold of every foul spirit, and a cage of every unclean and hateful bird. (Revelations 18:1–2)

This is not a very rosy picture for the city of seven hills. It will be totally annihilated.

This is the Lord's vengeance for every martyr down through history from the early Christians who were fed to the lions, the apostles who were beheaded, crucified, and skinned, down to those who bled red of the inquisition. It seems a bit extreme, but let me ask you how many saints down through history have begged for mercy from Rome and received none? Millions have perished at the hands of Rome and who knows what kind of evil will come from that city in the future.

For all nations have drunk of the wine of the wrath of her fornication, and the kings of the earth have committed fornication with her, and the merchants of the earth are waxed rich through the abundance of her delicacies. (Revelations 18:3)

This is a continuation of the first two verses of this chapter. They have filled up their cup with idol worship, declaring themselves to be gods, sexual immorality, and selling God to the masses when the gift has been free all along.

This is the prostitution of the Church down through history, God for sale. How many times have we seen preachers in Brooks Brothers suits and Rolex watches asking the faithful for their 10 percent tithe from those who are already taxed to death and can barely pay their bills? Just so they can hop into their Lear jets and head off to their fancy mansions.

Some of the most beautiful buildings on this planet are churches which are surrounded by huts of squalor. I doubt that is what the Lord had in mind.

The worst part of it all is that the gift of salvation is free! The debt has been paid by Jesus on the cross at Calvary. There is no need for any guilt from the loyal faithful because they didn't have the money for their weekly tithe. God doesn't charge you for his free gift, so why should the church?

What started out as a wonderful movement by Jesus and his twelve faithful apostles became corrupt after it acquired power.

Power and corruption go hand and hand. One look at the history of the Christian church is your best example of this.

And I heard another voice from heaven, saying, Come out of her, my people, that ye be not partakers of her sins, and that ye receive not of her plagues. For her sins have reached unto heaven, and God hath remembered her iniquities. (Revelations 18:4-5)

The voice here is telling the faithful to leave this system of adultery. To not partake in her errors.

This false Messiah known as the Antichrist will command a religious and economic system centered in Rome. Before he burns the city to the ground, he will corrupt the entire world with her materialistic riches and her counterfeit religion. The voice here is telling the saints not to be a part of any of this and leave it before the judgment comes. Sort of like Abraham rescuing Lot from Sodom and Gomorrah before it was burnt to the ground. This is the saint's last chance to leave the city.

Reward her even as she rewarded you, and double unto her double according to her works: in the cup which she hath filled fill to her double. How much she hath glorified herself, and lived deliciously, so much torment and sorrow give her: for she saith in her heart, I sit a queen, and am no widow, and shall see no sorrow. (Revelations 18:6–7)

This is the false pride of Rome. She sits a queen among the nations and is no widow and sees no sorrow. She rules the world with an iron fist and laps of the luxuries of those whom she takes from.

She steals from the poor and gives to the rich. She brands the people like cattle and demands complete and total obedience. This city will be the ultimate tyrant in the last days before the end of this age.

As Jesus said, "Pride comes before the fall."

Therefore shall her plagues come in one day, death, and mourning, and famine; and she shall be utterly burned with fire: for strong is the Lord God who judgeth her. (Revelations 18:8)

Ancient Sodom and Gommorah burnt in one day, Troy burnt in one day, Ancient Jerusalem burnt in one day, and so shall great Rome. For over the last 2,500 years, Rome has ruled in one way or the other, in one day, it will be gone.

It will be a horrific sight to see. All those ancient marble buildings and statues gone up in flames. For those of you reading this who are in Rome during this time period, all I can tell you is act like Lot did and get out of there as soon as you can.

And the kings of the earth, who have committed fornication and lived deliciously with her, shall bewail her, and lament for her, when they shall see the smoke of her burning, Standing afar off for the fear of her torment, saying, Alas, alas, that great city Babylon, that mighty city! for in one hour is thy judgment come. (Revelations 18:9–10)

It will happen in one hour! A city of millions destroyed by the torch.

And the merchants of the earth shall weep and mourn over her; for no man buyeth their merchandise any more: The merchandise of gold, and silver, and precious stones, and of pearls, and fine linen, and purple, and silk, and scarlet, and all thyine wood, and all manner vessels of ivory, and all manner vessels of most precious wood, and of brass, and iron, and marble, And cinnamon, and odours, and ointments, and frankincense, and wine, and oil, and fine flour, and wheat, and beasts, and sheep, and horses, and chariots, and slaves, and souls of men. (Revelations 18:11–13)

An entire chapter of the book of Revelation written for the destruction of one city, so stupendous is this event in the sight of heaven.

Those here on earth will mourn for her, those who've lost their lives and are now in heaven will be rejoicing over this event.

And the fruits that thy soul lusted after are departed from thee, and all things which were dainty and goodly are departed from thee, and thou shalt find them no more at all. The merchants of these things, which were made rich by her, shall stand afar off for the fear of her torment, weeping and wailing, (Revelations 18:14–15)

Those that cast their lots with Rome will be crushed by this turn of events. These merchants invested everything they had into this city, and in one hour, their entire fortunes will be gone.

Not in modern history will the destruction of a large city like this be so total. The cities bombed in Germany during the Second World War will be of no comparison to the destruction seen here. It will be just as Jerusalem was in AD 70. Complete and total annihilation. The ten kings putting this city out of her misery.

And saying, Alas, alas, that great city, that was clothed in fine linen, and purple, and scarlet, and decked with gold, and precious stones, and pearls! For in one hour so great riches is come to nought. And every shipmaster, and all the company in ships, and sailors, and as many as trade by sea, stood afar off, (Revelations 18:16–17)

As an ex-sailor, I can tell you it's a beautiful sight to see a city lit up at night while you're on the deck of a ship. This will be the complete opposite, the flames of Rome reaching the skies at night so that all the sailors on the ships at sea can only watch with horror.

And cried when they saw the smoke of her burning, saying, What city is like unto this great city! And they cast dust on their heads, and cried, weeping and wailing, saying, Alas, alas, that great city, wherein were made rich all that had ships in the sea by reason of her costliness! for in one hour is she made desolate. (Revelations 18:18–19)

Those ships that were ready to pull into port at the Tiber River might as well turn around and go home for there is no one there to buy their goods.

Rejoice over her, thou heaven, and ye holy apostles and prophets; for God hath avenged you on her. And a mighty angel took up a stone like a great millstone, and cast it into the sea, saying, Thus with violence shall that great city Babylon be thrown down, and shall be found no more at all. (Revelations 18:20–21)

Babylon, the city of man, code word for Rome by the ancient Christians, cast down because of what she did to those Christians. It seems God has long memory.

And the voice of harpers, and musicians, and of pipers, and trumpeters, shall be heard no more at all in thee; and no craftsman, of whatsoever craft he be, shall be found any more in thee; and the sound of a millstone shall be heard no more at all in thee; And the light of a candle shall shine no more at all in thee; and the voice of the bridegroom and of the bride shall be heard no more at all in thee: for thy merchants were the great men of the earth; for by thy sorceries were all nations deceived. And in her was found the blood of prophets, and of saints, and of all that were slain upon the earth. (Revelations 18:22–24)

You get the picture. Rome will be forever desolate after this event.

During the first stages of the Antichrist, when he sets up shop in Rome, they will slay many saints and prophets during the tribulation period. It is because of this and all the other saints this city has slain down through history that it will be completely destroyed.

THE MARRIAGE SUPPER

REVELATION 19

And after these things I heard a great voice of much people in heaven, saying, Alleluia; Salvation, and glory, and honor, and power, unto the Lord our God.
(Revelations 19:1)

THE FAITHFUL GIVING praise to the one who redeemed them. They didn't cling to their lives nor their possessions, but instead, they hung on to the truth that they would be redeemed. Jesus promised these people that he wouldn't abandon them in times of trouble, and he didn't.

Every material possession was taken from them. All hope of material life on earth was ripped out of their lives, yet they didn't flinch and believed that Jesus would come and rescue them.

For true and righteous are his judgments: for he hath judged the great whore, which did corrupt the earth with her fornication, and hath avenged the blood of his servants at her hand. (Revelations 19:2)

This whore who is named "Mystery Babylon" whom we have decided is the city of Rome, the counterfeit church, and the false economic system, slew many saints during her time period. She corrupted the leaders of the world by going to bed with them. She declared who was to be the leaders of the countries who were in allegiance with her. She was truly the one world government who ruled all nations with an iron fist and those saints who didn't bow down to her tyranny were murdered.

And again they said, Alleluia. And her smoke rose up for ever and ever. (Revelations 19:3)

Those saints looking down from heaven on the site of the city who took their lives from them because they wouldn't bow down to her giving praise because that city is no more to be found. It's merely ashes now with smoke rising up from her forever.

And the four and twenty elders and the four beasts fell down and worshipped God that sat on the throne, saying, Amen; Alleluia. (Revelations 19:4)

The four beasts that surround the throne, the Lion, Lamb, Man, and Eagle, along with the twenty-four elders giving praise as well.

The Lion, the genealogy of Christ. The Lamb, the sacrifice of Christ. The Man, the testimony of Christ, and the Eagle, the resurrection of Christ. It's my belief that the four beasts that surround the throne are the four stages of Jesus.

As far as the twenty-four elders, this is merely a guess, but I would venture to believe that twelve are from the Old Testament and twelve are from the New.

The twelve from the New Testament would be an easy guess. Peter, Andrew, James, John, Philip, Bartholomew, Matthew, Thomas, James the Just, Simon the Zealot, Jude, and Paul who replaced Judas. The twelve apostles chosen by God to be with Jesus during his testimony.

The twelve from the Old Testament would be a bit more difficult to determine. I'm sure three of them would be Abraham, Isaac, and Jacob. Moses would have to be included. What about the kings, David and Solomon? If they are, then that is six. No list would be complete without the greatest prophet, Elijah, so now we have seven. Are we to leave out the prophet Samuel? I doubt it so now our list is up to eight. Isaiah, Jeremiah, Ezekiel, and Daniel would complete our list, but that leaves out many deserving prophets of old like Zachariah, Job, Joshua, Jonah, Malachi, and others.

Now what I am about to say is my opinion and mine only.

I believe that the New Testament apostles are reincarnated from the prophets of old. I base this theory on the fact that the prophet Elijah and John the Baptist are the same being. Jesus declared it in the eleventh chapter in the gospel of Matthew when speaking of John the Baptist. “And if you will receive it, this is Elijah, which was to come.” Two different bodies but the same spirit that gives life to that body. In other words, the same spirit, mind, and personality. The same soul. The prophet Elijah and John the Baptist are the same being and they will come again in the bodies of the two witnesses that we spoke of in the eleventh chapter of this book of Revelations.

God chose twelve men to preach the gospel of his son to the whole world. Twelve apostles chosen from twelve prophets of yesteryear. Every one of them volunteered for this important mission with an agreement between the Father and these men.

This is just my opinion.

And a voice came out of the throne, saying, Praise our God, all ye his servants, and ye that fear him, both small and great. And I heard as it were the voice of a great multitude, and as the voice of many waters, and as the voice of mighty thunderings, saying, Alleluia: for the Lord God omnipotent reigneth. Let us be glad and rejoice, and give honour to him: for the marriage of the Lamb is come, and his wife hath made herself ready. (Revelations 19:5–7)

This event has been planned from the foundation of the earth.

In the twenty-second chapter of Matthew, it is written from the King James Version beginning with verse 2:

The Kingdom of Heaven is like unto a certain king, which made a marriage for his son, And sent forth his servants to call them that were bidden to the wedding; and they would not come. Again, he sent forth other servants, saying, Tell them which are bidden, Behold, I have prepared my dinner: my oxen and my fatlings are killed, and all things are ready: come unto the marriage. But they made light of it, and went their ways, one to his farm, another to his merchandise. And the remnant took his servants, and entreated them spitefully, and slew them. But when the king heard thereof, he was wroth: and sent forth his armies, and destroyed those murderers, and burned up their city. Then saith he to his servants, The wedding is ready, but they which were bidden were not worthy. Go ye therefore into the highways, and as many as ye shall find, bid to the marriage. So those servants went out into the highways, and gathered together all as many as they found, both bad and good: and the wedding was furnished with guests.

These here are those who showed up to the wedding.

At first, the king invites just the remnant or the elect. After they slew his servants, the prophets, then he invites everyone to the marriage supper between Jesus, the groom, and his bride, the church.

And to her was granted that she should be arrayed in fine linen, clean and white: for the fine linen is the righteousness of saints. (Revelations 19:8)

Here we see the bride of Christ, arrayed in white, the color of purity. The saints, by the blood of Jesus, have overcome the world and are now ready for the marriage between themselves and the Lord.

And he saith unto me, Write, Blessed are they which are called unto the marriage supper of the Lamb. And he saith unto me, These are the true sayings of God. (Revelations 19:9)

Everything is prepared and ready for the greatest marriage of all time. Blessed are those which are in attendance to this ceremony.

There won't be any major news networks here as there was during the ceremonies of the royal families. You won't find this broadcast on earth. Those in attendance will be the groom Jesus, the bride his church, God the father, and his holy angels in heaven. It will be the greatest event of all time as God marries the bride to his son with the angels as witnesses. I'm sure God will be one proud papa.

And I fell at his feet to worship him. And he said unto me, See thou do it not: I am thy fellow servant, and of thy brethren that have the testimony of Jesus: worship God: for the testimony of Jesus is the spirit of prophecy. (Revelations 19:10)

John throws himself to the ground of the angel giving him this message. This is a natural tendency for those who've witnessed these glorious beings of light. Angels are the most magnificent-looking creatures in God's kingdom, emitting rays of light in all directions. They literally are beings of light, energy, and power. Trust me, if you ever witness one, the first thing you'll want to do is to throw yourself down and worship it.

John is told not to, that we are equal with the angels and they are not to be worshipped. We are both equal because we both worship the same being, Jesus. This is why Lucifer and his gang rebelled, because they would not bow down to Jesus as these angels do. Lucifer wanted the throne for himself and made a play for it, but failed miserably.

And I saw heaven opened, and behold a white horse; and he that sat upon him was called Faithful and True, and in righteousness he doth judge and make war. (Revelations 19:11)

Faithful and true to the Father, who sent him. God himself became flesh and the flesh swore to him that created that flesh and declared themselves to be one through the Holy Spirit. It's not that difficult to conceive as some would make it. The Soul (who is the Father) created through the Mind and the Spirit (which is the Holy Spirit), the Body (which is Jesus). Then the Body by elevating himself to the level of Christ consciousness attained the level of the Soul and became one with the Soul. "The Father and I are one."

The firstborn child of God, but not the only one, just the first to achieve this level of consciousness and an example for the rest of us to follow. Once Jesus marries the bride, they too will become one with the father. What a glorious thought that is!

Notice he rides a white horse. This isn't the same as the first of the four horsemen who also rides a white horse. The first of the four horsemen who rides a white horse tells us that he will try to portray himself as the true Christ by riding a white horse. This will be a counterfeit white horse.

The true Christ will ride the true white horse of truth and power given him from the Father, not the counterfeit given from Lucifer.

His eyes were as a flame of fire, and on his head were many crowns; and he had a name written, that no man knew, but he himself. (Revelations 19:12)

Pure energy coming out of his eyes. All-seeing flames of fire that pierce through any man whom he looks at.

Many crowns on his head since one of the labels given him is “Lord of Lords and King of Kings.” The Father created the Son to rule over all things.

Now we have ourselves another mystery. The name Jesus was the name used while he was on the earth but this is not his real name. Only he knows his real name, but for purposes of this book, we shall call him by the name used when he was alive here with us. A clue to his real name is in the next verse.

And he was clothed with a vesture dipped in blood:
and his name is called The Word of God. (Revelations 19:13)

In the first chapter of the Gospel of John it is written:

In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God. The same was in the beginning with God. All things were made by him; and without him was not anything made that was made. In him was life; and the life was the light of men. And the light shineth in darkness, and the darkness comprehended it not. (John 1:1-5)

The name of Jesus is “the word of God.”

His vesture or his clothing is dipped in blood from the cross at cavalry where the victory over Lucifer was won.

And the armies which were in heaven followed him upon white horses, clothed in fine linen, white and clean. (Revelations 19:14)

The blood that is on Jesus's garment allows those here to wear the white robes of truth and power. Their robes were dirty, but they have been washed by the blood of the lamb.

Now that we have had the marriage between Jesus and his bride, we have the faithful bride here following her groom.

And out of his mouth goeth a sharp sword, that with it he should smite the nations: and he shall rule them with a rod of iron: and he treadeth the winepress of the fierceness and wrath of Almighty God. (Revelations 19:15)

This is that double-edged sharp sword of truth we saw in the beginning part of this vision. It is with this sword which comes out of his mouth that he will destroy the enemy with. The "word of God" will use the sword out of the word's mouth to lay low all those who oppose him. For all those tribulation saints who are in the valley of decision, keep this image in mind when they are testing you. Always remember and never forget that the victory belongs to our Lord.

And he hath on his vesture and on his thigh a name written, KING OF KINGS, AND LORD OF LORDS.
(Revelations 19:16)

Capital letters used here by John for emphasis that Jesus is lord of all.

And I saw an angel standing in the sun; and he cried with a loud voice, saying to all the fowls that fly in the midst of heaven, Come and gather yourselves together unto the supper of the great God; That ye may eat the flesh of kings, and the flesh of captains, and the flesh of mighty men, and the flesh of horses, and of them that sit on them, and the flesh of all men, both free and bond, both small and great. (Revelations 19:17–18)

Here we have the King of kings and Lord of lords with his army, the angels of heaven, and the bride of Christ on one side getting ready for battle, when one of these angels, more than likely the Archangel Michael shouting out to the vultures to be ready for they are about to partake in a great feast. This is the angel taunting the enemy, telling them that it is of no use to oppose what is coming, they will be annihilated. The greatest massacre of all time is about to happen, and the vultures are gathered for a great feast.

And I saw the beast, and the kings of the earth, and their armies, gathered together to make war against him that sat on the horse, and against his army. (Revelations 19:19)

On the other side of the battlefield, we have the Antichrist and his leaders of the world and all their armies getting ready for battle. This is that great battle of Armageddon, the mother of all battles. Michael has told the vultures and scavenger birds of the air to get ready, they are in for a treat.

And the beast was taken, and with him the false prophet that wrought miracles before him, with which he deceived them that had received the mark of the beast, and them that worshipped his image. These both were cast alive into a lake of fire burning with brimstone. (Revelations 19:20)

Brimstone means sulfur.

Sulfur is a chemical element whose symbol is S and atomic number is 16. Sulfur when burned melts to a blood red liquid and emits a blue flame with a suffocating odor.

Sulfur can be found near hot springs and volcanic regions here on earth especially along the Pacific Ring of Fire region.

It's spoken here that the beast and the false prophet are taken alive and thrown into a lake of fire burning with sulfur. So what are we to make of this? Is this a literal hell here on earth that these two are thrown into? Or is this the great earthquake that causes volcanic activity and swallows these two up? My guess is the latter of these two.

Revelations 16:18 is the pouring of the final vial which describe the massive earthquake unprecedented in human history. This is the same event here. It's my belief that the army of the beast will be destroyed by that great earthquake which is the final conclusion of the shifting of the poles which destroy the beast and his false prophet. Massive volcanoes will spur forth brimstone (sulfur) and annihilate those which oppose the Lord and his armies.

And the remnant were slain with the sword of him that sat upon the horse, which sword proceeded out of his mouth: and all the fowls were filled with their flesh. (Revelations 19:21)

The battle is finished and won by the Lord and his mighty army, the bride of Christ, and the Heavenly Host of Angels.

REVELATION 20

And I saw an angel come down from heaven, having the key of the bottomless pit and a great chain in his hand. And he laid hold on the dragon, that old serpent, which is the Devil, and Satan, and bound him a thousand years, And cast him into the bottomless pit, and shut him up, and set a seal upon him, that he should deceive the nations no more, till the thousand years should be fulfilled: and after that he must be loosed a little season. (Revelations 20:1–3)

ON MARCH 31, 1996, I experienced a horrific car crash. I was coming up a hill when I saw two deer standing in the middle of the road. I swerved to avoid them in my pick-up truck and ended up losing control of my vehicle and therefore ran into the ditch. I was thrown from my vehicle at a fairly high rate of speed, roughly fifty miles an hour. I proceeded to do a barrel roll down the road and ended up on the other side of the road roughly one hundred yards from my truck.

I lay there motionless and was lucky enough to have what they call a “first responder” live nearby. A first responder is one whom listens to the police scanner and rushes to accidents hoping to help before the EMTs get there. They are life savers to say the least, God bless them. She rushed to where she found me laying in this ditch, then called the ambulance and proceeded to put a neck brace on me. If not for her, I wouldn’t be here today to write this book.

I was knocked completely unconscious when she found me, and moments later, I quit breathing. She then performed CPR and saved my life. I can’t thank this woman enough.

The ambulance came and my heart stopped and I quit breathing again. During this time, I had what is called a near-death experience. Let me tell you what I saw.

My first experience was looking down at my body lying there. I thought this was very odd; if I am down there, then who am I now? It definitely changes one perspective. I looked around myself and saw what appeared to be a very bright light off in the distance to the north. I then looked and saw what appeared to be a black hole to the south. I felt very much attracted to that bright light to the north and repulsed by the black hole to the south. To the north lay a world of light and to the south a world of darkness. Positive energy to the north and negative to the south of me.

I found myself getting pulled in both directions, but I slowly began my trek to the north. I was beginning to make my way there when I found myself lying on an operating table in my local hospital, the doctors there having resuscitated me.

Now as I read these verses of scripture, I am reminded of that black hole that was to the south of me in my near-death experience. Also, in my conversations with the angels, I talked of that black place that I saw and here was there response.

There is a place that is called the abyss. It is a place of complete and total darkness. We live in a universe of opposites, you can't have right without left, up without down, light without darkness and so on. You must have one or the other won't exist. For every action, there is an equal and opposite reaction as our science has already shown.

In order to have a world of light such as the kingdom of heaven, you must also have a world of darkness such as the abyss. You can't have one without the other. It's a place where there is absolutely no light to speak of, complete and total darkness rules it.

When we die, we all go to the Father, but that part of your spirit that is positive stays with you in heaven and the part of you that is negative goes to the abyss. The abyss is what some people have called hell. This is what is meant when Jesus said, "Gold tried by fire." The gold remains and the slag gets removed through the process of heat or fire. The positive energy of yourself remains in heaven and the negative goes to the abyss through the process of fire.

We live in a universe of pure energy, both positive and negative. The positive energy accumulated through the actions of us all go to this world of light known as the kingdom of heaven and our negative energy goes to this abyss. The energy we transmit out to the universe gets accumulated in one place or the other. The more positive you are, the more you accumulate “treasure in heaven,” and the more negative you are, the more you accumulate in the world of darkness. Your thoughts, deeds, and actions go to one place or the other. There is no in between place such as purgatory or anywhere else like that.

It’s my opinion that the bottomless pit spoken of here is the abyss. I could write a whole book on this subject, maybe I will someday. But not today, therefore, let’s get back to the angel throwing Lucifer into the bottomless pit.

Once again, I believe we have the Archangel Michael here with us. After all, what other angel is powerful enough to toss Lucifer into the bottomless pit? He takes with him a great chain and lays hold of Lucifer and bounds him to this world of darkness 1,000 years and seals the abyss up. In other words, Michael locks the door to this abyss so that no more negative energy can be released unto us for 1,000 years. Thank God!

From time immemorial, this abyss, which is headquarters for those angels who have fallen from grace, have deceived humanity. Negative energy transmitted to earth from this place of perdition. The more negative we think, say, and act the more powerful this abyss becomes. Like a complete circle, we transmit energy to the abyss and the abyss transmits energy back to us. On the other hand, the more positive energy we send to heaven, the more energy it sends back in our thoughts, words, and acts.

Lucifer has been sending dark negative energy to this planet for a long time and we humans weren't helping much. Darkness begets darkness and so on.

Two thousand years ago, the abyss was getting more powerful; therefore, God made itself flesh, in the body of Jesus, and created the most powerful energy ever known emanating from here on earth. God made manifest to create this powerful positive energy in the name of the Holy Spirit to offset the ever growing abyss from Lucifer. When Jesus died on the cross at Calvary, this was accomplished. An unlimited amount of positive energy or light to overcome the negative or dark energy. That's why Jesus said, "It is finished." He knew then the victory was his.

Lucifer's response to that is to send his own son in the person of the Antichrist to offset the amount of positive energy coming from the earth in the name of Jesus through the Holy Spirit.

Lucifer's power play is to create a massive amount of negative energy through the Antichrist and his false prophet. With this action, the abyss and the darkness will grow. But in the end, it won't be enough, as no amount of negative energy is enough to overcome the power of the Holy Spirit. Also remember that Jesus is Lord of lords and King of kings and he will send Michael to seal up the darkness.

With this act here played out by Michael in throwing Lucifer into the abyss and sealing it up, they'll be no more negativity coming from it, at least for a millennium.

And I saw thrones, and they sat upon them, and judgment was given unto them: and I saw the souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God, and which had not worshipped the beast, neither his image, neither had received his mark upon their foreheads, or in their hands; and they lived and reigned with Christ a thousand years.
(Revelations 20:4)

It looks like the Antichrist is going to use beheading as a tool to persuade the populace to take his mark. Maybe they will break out the guillotines again like they did back in the days of the French Revolution.

Notice it says the “souls of them that were beheaded for the witness of Jesus, and for the word of God.” It looks to me that we have two groups here. Christians for the witness of Jesus and Jews for the word of God.

Many Jews will not accept this man nor his mark, their faith in the Father far too strong to bow down to anyone else. I'm quite sure the stiff-necked Jews will be opposed to this counterfeit or anyone else who claims to be their Messiah, until of course Jesus returns and then they will finally bow to him.

These tribulation saints will live 1,000 years with Jesus in a place that has no abyss to create negativity toward it. It will truly be the golden age we've all been waiting for.

But the rest of the dead lived not again until the thousand years were finished. This is the first resurrection.
(Revelations 20:5)

The first resurrection is those saints who perished in the times of the great tribulation period. They'll be caught up in the air with the Lord and will spend 1,000 years of peace and prosperity on earth.

Imagine how far humanity will climb with 1,000 years of peace! Especially with one who has Christ consciousness leading the way. It will be like the great genius is at the head of all mankind. Personally, I intend to be around for this time period, it will be the best this planet has ever offered.

Blessed and holy is he that hath part in the first resurrection: on such the second death hath no power, but they shall be priests of God and of Christ, and shall reign with him a thousand years. (Revelations 20:6)

Look at how much the apostles grew in the three plus years they spent with Jesus. Now take that amount times more than three hundred and you'll see the growth for mankind during the golden age.

Let's talk about growth for a minute.

When we think of growth, we tend to think in technological terms. We look around us we think we went from barely flying off the ground to landing a man on the moon in sixty years. We've went from inventing the telephone to creating these smart phones in little more than a century of time. From the television sets of the fifties to the ones we currently use. The list of technological growth is endless.

Yet when it comes to spiritual growth, we are quite lacking. We are like children with matches creating devices like the nuclear bomb and genetic engineering. We've grown so fast on a technological level that we haven't taken a pause and asked ourselves if we should push on with some of this growth.

Should we pursue the genetic engineering we are now pushing toward? Will it come a time when we mix humans with another being that we shouldn't? Might also that we create super bugs with all these pesticides we are spraying in the fields? Advanced technology without advanced thinking creates advanced destruction.

During this golden age, that will all change as we will be taught to use our God-given gifts of the spirit. We will have the best teacher of all time showing us how to make these miracles purely through the use of our minds. What an exciting prospect that is. When Jesus said, "Why do you marvel at these miracles, these things and more shall you also do," he was referring to this age of humanity.

A whole race of beings with Christ consciousness will be all powerful for any invader to earth.

Yes, we will still use technology but only to suit our spiritual purpose in life, nothing else. Only if it serves our spirit will we create advanced new technologies.

And when the thousand years are expired, Satan shall be loosed out of his prison, (Revelations 20:7)

After the 1,000 year clock has run out, Lucifer will be set free of the abyss for a short season. Which means the abyss is now opened up again and negative energy will once again be let loose upon the earth.

And shall go out to deceive the nations which are in the four quarters of the earth, Gog and Magog, to gather them together to battle: the number of whom is as the sand of the sea. (Revelations 20:8)

This battle is described in the thirty-eighth chapter of the prophet Ezekiel. It is as follows:

And the word of the Lord came unto me, saying, Son of man, set thy face against Gog, the land of Magog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal, and prophecy against him, And say, Thus saith the Lord God; Behold, I am against thee, O Gog, the chief prince of Meshech and Tubal; And I will turn thee back, and put hooks into thy jaws, and I will bring thee forth, and all thine army, horses and horsemen, all of them clothed with all sorts of armor, even a great company with bucklers and shields, all of them handling swords: Persia, Ethiopia, and Libya with them; all of them with shield and helmet: Gomer, and all his bands; the house of Togarmah of the north quarters, and all his bands: and many people with thee: Be thou prepared, and prepare for thyself, thou, and all thy company that are assembled about you, and be a guard for them. After many days thou shalt be visited: in the latter years thou shalt come into the land that is brought back from the sword, and is gathered out of many people, against the mountains of Israel, which have been always waste: but it is brought forth out of the nations, and they shall dwell safely all of them. Thou shalt ascend and come like a storm, thou shalt be like a cloud to cover the land, thou, and all thy bands, and many people with thee. Thus saith the Lord God, It shall also come to pass, that at the same time shall things come into thy mind, and thou shall think an evil thought And thou shall say, I will go up to the land of unwalled villages; I will go to them that are at rest, that dwell safely, all of them dwelling without walls, and having neither bars nor gates To take a spoil, and to take a prey; to turn thine hand upon the desolate places that are now inhabited, and upon the people that are gathered out of the nations, which have gotten cattle and goods, that dwell in the midst of the land. Sheba, and Dedan, and the merchants of

Tarshish, with all the young lions thereof, shall say unto thee, Art thou come to take a spoil? Has thou gathered thy company to take a prey? To carry away silver and gold, to take away cattle and goods, to take a great spoil? Therefore, son of man, prophesy and say unto Gog, Thus saith the Lord God; in that day when my people of Israel dwelleth safely, shalt thou not know it? And thou shalt come from thy place out of the north parts, thou, and many people with thee, all of them riding upon horses, a great company, and a mighty army: And thou shalt come up against my people of Israel, as a cloud to cover the land; it shall be in the latter days, and I will bring thee against my land, that the heathen may know me, when I shall be sanctified in thee, O Gog, before their eyes. Thus saith the Lord God; Art thou he of whom I have spoken in old time by my servants the prophets of Israel, which prophesied in those days many years that I would bring thee against them? And it shall it come to pass at the same time when Gog shall come against the land of Israel, saith the Lord God, that my fury shall come up in my face. For in my jealousy and in the fire of my wrath have I spoken, Surely in that day there shall be a great shaking in the land of Israel; So that the fishes of the sea, and the fowls of the heaven, and the beasts of the field; and all creeping things that creep upon the earth, and all the men that are upon the face of the earth, shall shake at my presence, and the mountains shall be thrown down, and the steep places shall fall, and every wall shall fall to the ground. And I will call for a sword against him throughout all my mountains, saith the Lord God: every man's sword shall be against his brother. And I will plead against him with pestilence and with blood; and I will rain upon him, and upon his bands, and upon the many people that are with him, an overflowing rain, and great hailstones, fire, and brimstone. Thus will I magnify myself, and sanctify myself; and I will be known in the eyes of many nations, and they shall know that I am the Lord. (Ezekiel 38:1–23)

Yes, it looks like the prophet Ezekiel saw all this coming more than 2,500 years ago.

I'm sure you are all wondering who is Gog, Magog, Meshesh, Tubal, Gomer, Togarmah, and so on? These are all old names of certain areas. You don't have to know them all just think of Russia and Northern Asia, the Middle East, North and Central Africa, and Eastern and Central Europe. That's quite a land area.

Remember that Israel has been living safely for 1,000 years before this event, so there was no need to defend yourselves when this takes place. The planet had been living in peace for a millennium, but all it took was for Lucifer to be let out of the abyss and look at the kind of destruction he causes. He doesn't waste time trying to destroy the land of Israel, something he has been trying to do since before they became a nation in the land of Egypt so long ago.

And they went up on the breadth of the earth, and compassed the camp of the saints about, and the beloved city: and fire came down from God out of heaven, and devoured them. (Revelations 20:9)

So you have many nations surrounding the land of Israel getting ready to exterminate God's saints. Jerusalem will be under siege by an army that numbers well into the millions.

And that raises up God's fury and he takes care of Lucifer himself by casting down fire to the earth and destroying this invading army.

And the devil that deceived them was cast into the lake of fire and brimstone, where the beast and the false prophet are, and shall be tormented day and night for ever and ever. (Revelations 20:10)

The Lord himself will take care of Lucifer himself and destroy him. Once again, we have huge volcanic eruptions, and once again, we have lakes of fire. After 1,000 years, Lucifer will join his son, the Antichrist, and the false prophet. It's not very often that a spirit is destroyed, but that will be the case here. Lucifer, like his son the Antichrist, and the false prophet before him will be destroyed. There shall be no more negativity or darkness let loose on the earth from that point forward.

And I saw a great white throne, and him that sat on it, from whose face the earth and the heaven fled away;

Here we have the great white throne of God. Judgment day.

And I saw the dead, small and great, stand before God; and the books were opened: and another book was opened, which is the book of life: and the dead were judged out of those things which were written in the books, according to their works. And the sea gave up the dead which were in it; and death and hell delivered up the dead which were in them: and they were judged every man according to their works. (Revelations 20:12–13)

This is the second resurrection. One thousand years after the first resurrection, we have the second.

The first resurrection was the saints being raised up to rule with Christ for a thousand years. Then Lucifer gets loose from the abyss and makes a last stand on earth and is destroyed by God. After that, we have the second resurrection and all those not raised up for the first resurrection are raised up for the second.

The books are opened and each are judged according to their works.

And death and hell were cast into the lake of fire. This is the second death. And whosoever was not found written in the book of life was cast into the lake of fire.

(Revelations 20:14–15)

The lake of fire is that which burns off the negative energy from you when you meet the father. Your negativity gets thrown to the abyss and your positive energy stays with the light. It's the same as gold tried in the fire, the slag is burnt off.

NEW JERUSALEM

REVELATION 21

And I saw a new heaven and a new earth: for the first heaven and the first earth were passed away; and there was no more sea. (Revelations 21:1)

AS THE LORD said in his prayer, “Thy Kingdom come, thy will be done, on earth as it is in Heaven.” The key words being on earth as it is heaven.

Folks, this is what the plan has been all along, to bring heaven to earth. Imagine it if you will for a moment, no more negative energy interfering with our race, no more Lucifer tempting us constantly, no more enemy striking us constantly with deception. It’s a wonderful thought to bring heaven to earth.

And I John saw the holy city, new Jerusalem, coming down from God out of heaven, prepared as a bride adorned for her husband. (Revelations 21:2)

This will be the capital of our New Earth, New Jerusalem, a true city of peace.

Old Jerusalem has been considered a holy city by three major religions, Islam, Judaism, and Christianity. But it has been the scene of violence from time immemorial. It was mankind's attempt to create a city of peace, instead, because of divisions, we've created a city of blood. As the Heavenly Host called it, Sodom and Egypt, the wicked place.

On the other hand, New Jerusalem will truly be a holy city with God setting up its abode there. The Kingdom of Man has been replaced by the Kingdom of God with this new city.

And I heard a great voice out of heaven saying, Behold, the tabernacle of God is with men, and he will dwell with them, and they shall be his people, and God himself shall be with them, and be their God. (Revelations 21:3)

This will be the greatest time in human history! The planet earth being protected by God himself. No more will we be intruded upon by powers who do not have our best interest in mind. This will be the most wonderful of times to be alive on planet earth. It shall be as living in heaven except it will be here on earth. Mankind's attempts to create a better world here have fallen short, and now God will show us how it's done. Earth will become heaven forevermore.

And God shall wipe away all tears from their eyes; and there shall be no more death, neither sorrow, nor crying, neither shall there be any more pain: for the former things are passed away. (Revelations 21:4)

The former things are passed away. Sadness, death, sorrow, and pain will all be things of the past. Think about that for a moment, no more death! We shall be physically living eternal beings on earth. It's one thing to be eternal in the spirit but yet still another to be eternal in the flesh. We shall be as living gods! Instructed by the father himself. What a glorious future this planet holds, it's too bad it has to be more than a thousand years ahead in our future.

And he that sat upon the throne said, Behold, I make all things new. And he said unto me, Write: for these words are true and faithful. (Revelations 21:5)

The Lord has made a promise to mankind to make all things new. We are told that we can put our faith in it, he has given us his word that these things will happen.

This isn't something that might happen, it will happen, you can count on it. Jesus gave us his word that he will return, and he will. The Father is giving us his word that he will make earth a new heaven and he will. It's a covenant between man and God, created from the foundation of this world. It's the sole reason for our existence.

And he said unto me, It is done. I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I will give unto him that is athirst of the fountain of the water of life freely. (Revelations 21:6)

People down through history have searched for the fountain of youth. Well, presently, you aren't going to find it on earth because it is in heaven. But in the future, you will be able to drink of it any time you wish. The fountain of the water of life is what will keep us eternal. It will cleanse us of all impurities and make our bodies whole.

He that overcometh shall inherit all things; and I will be his God, and he shall be my son. (Revelations 21:7)

Did you hear that? He shall be my son! In other words, we shall be like Jesus and become sons and daughters of the living God. Here's the thing, we already are! We just don't act like it. When this time period arrives, we shall be shown all things of whom we truly are and begin to act like the living gods we truly are. We are all created in God's image and God's likeness; when we self-realize this, the world will become a better place. The Father and his children will be one once and for all. Amen.

But the fearful, and unbelieving, and the abominable, and murderers, and whoremongers, and sorcerers, and idolaters, and all liars, shall have their part in the lake which burneth with fire and brimstone: which is the second death. (Revelations 21:8)

This is something to think about for those tribulation saints entering the valley of decision. He that loses his life shall save it and he that saves his life shall lose it. Don't ever give up your faith, the victory is ours, and an eternity of bliss awaits all those who hold fast and keep watch.

And there came unto me one of the seven angels which had the seven vials full of the seven last plagues, and talked with me, saying, Come hither, I will shew thee the bride, the Lamb's wife. (Revelations 21:9)

We are about to see a glorious and magnificent sight. The new capital of the new earth, New Jerusalem.

And he carried me away in the spirit to a great and high mountain, and shewed me that great city, the holy Jerusalem, descending out of heaven from God, (Revelations 21:10)

This is the city in heaven where God dwells presently, the city of peace.

Having the glory of God: and her light was like unto a stone most precious, even like a jasper stone, clear as crystal. (Revelations 21:11)

The city of New Jerusalem's power comes from within. There is no outside electric power plant such as we have presently for our cities on earth, it's not needed. This place shines like a jasper stone. A jasper stone is like a quartz crystal, shining in all directions when it's held up to the light.

And had a wall great and high, and had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written thereon, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel: On the east three gates; on the north three gates; on the south three gates; and on the west three gates. (Revelations 21:12–13)

If we follow in order the list of the twelve tribes corresponding to the gates listed, the names of the gates will be as follows:

The three gates on the East will be named Reuben, Simeon, and Levi.

The three gates on the North will be named Judah, Zebulun, and Issachar.

The three gates on the South will be named Dan, Gad, and Asher.

The three gates on the West will be named Naphtali, Joseph, and Benjamin.

Twelve gates guarded by twelve angels with flaming swords. How do I know they have flaming swords? Because any time an angel is guarding anything such as the Garden of Eden or the Kingdom of Heaven, it is with a flaming sword.

The following is from the Acts of Philip verses 131 to 137. Prior to this setting, the people of Hieropolis were crucifying the apostles Philip and Bartholomew. Philip was ready to take revenge out on the people of the city, and then the apostle John showed up and this is what happened:

The people said: We took you for a fellow citizen, but you are in league with these men. The priests are going to wring out your blood and mix it with wine and give it to the Viper. When they came to take John their hands were paralysed. John said to Philip: Let us not render evil for evil. Philip said: I shall endure it no longer. The three others dissuaded him; but he said: Abalo, arimouni, douthael, tharseleen, nachaoth, aeidounaph, teleteloein, which is (after many invocations descriptive of God): let the deep open and swallow these men: yea, Sabaoth. It opened and the whole place was swallowed, about 7,000 men, save where the apostles were. And their voices came up, crying for mercy and saying: Lo, the cross enlighteneth us. And a voice was heard: I will have mercy on you in my cross of light. But Stachys and his house, and Nicanora and 50 others, and 100 virgins remained safe. Jesus appeared and rebuked Philip. But he defended himself. And the Lord said: Since you have been unforgiving and wrathful, you shall indeed die in glory and be taken by angels to paradise, but shall remain outside it forty days, in fear of the flaming sword, and then I will send Michael and he shall let you in. (Acts of Philip 131–137)

The Apostle Philip was not about to let these citizens of Hieropolis get away with the injustice of crucifying himself and his sidekick, the Apostle Bartholomew. The Apostle John showed up and tried to talk Philip out of rendering evil for evil, yet Philip was unmoved by his fellow apostle's words. He therefore put 7,000 people into the ground up to their necks with his curse. Jesus shows up and rebukes Philip and tells his beloved apostle that he will remain outside the gates of paradise, guarded by an angel with a flaming sword for forty days until the Archangel Michael lets him in.

The people would end up being let out of the ground and saved, then let Bartholomew off his cross, but at that point, the Apostle Philip was already dead. An interesting story about the last three apostles who were alive at the time, but my point is paradise is being guarded by an angel with a flaming sword. The twelve gates of this holy city of New Jerusalem will also be guarded by angels with flaming swords.

And the wall of the city had twelve foundations, and in them the names of the twelve apostles of the Lamb.
(Revelations 21:14)

The foundations of the city laid by the twelve apostles of Christ. They would be as follows:

The first foundation, Peter.

The second foundation, Andrew.

The third foundation, James of Zebede.

The fourth foundation, John, the author of this book of Revelations.

The fifth foundation, Philip.

The sixth foundation, Bartholomew.

The seventh foundation, Matthew.

The eight foundation, Thomas.

The ninth foundation, James the Just.

The tenth foundation, Simon the Zealot

The eleventh foundation, Jude

The twelfth foundation, Paul, who replaced Judas Iscariot.

How do I know the twelve apostles and their true identities? When I was speaking with the three angels, Samuel, Thomas, and Elizabeth, I asked them. They told me that Peter and Andrew were brothers from Bethsaida as the scriptures say. That James and John were brothers from Capernaum. Philip was from Bethsaida, Bartholomew was from Capernaum. Matthew and Thomas were from Cana. James the Just, Simon, and Jude were all half-brothers of Jesus from Nazareth, and Paul was from Tarsus. I'm certainly not going to argue with them.

And he that talked with me had a golden reed to measure the city, and the gates thereof, and the wall thereof. And the city lieth foursquare, and the length is as large as the breadth: and he measured the city with the reed, twelve thousand furlongs. The length and the breadth and the height of it are equal. (Revelations 21:15–16)

What we have here is a cubed city. The length, width, and height are all the same. Twelve thousand furlongs are the equivalent to 1,400 miles! Not only is it that long and that wide, but it's also 1,400 miles high! That is amazing!

If this city was in the United States, it would stretch from Canada to Mexico and from the Appalachian Mountains to California. That's roughly two million square miles. Wow! It's as Jesus said, "In my father's house are many mansions."

And he measured the wall thereof, an hundred and forty and four cubits, according to the measure of a man, that is, of the angel. (Revelations 21:17)

144 cubits are 65.8 meters or approximately 200 feet thick.

And the building of the wall of it was of jasper: and the city was pure gold, like unto clear glass. (Revelations 21:18)

This is a remarkable city. The walls are jasper like quartz. It shines different colors as light passes through it. The city is made of translucent gold. You can see through it. John must have been awestruck when he saw this glorious sight.

And the foundations of the wall of the city were garnished with all manner of precious stones. The first foundation was jasper; the second, sapphire; the third, a chalcedony; the fourth, an emerald; The fifth, sardonyx; the sixth, sardius; the seventh, chrysolite; the eighth, beryl; the ninth, a topaz; the tenth, a chrysoprasus; the eleventh, a jacinth; the twelfth, an amethyst. (Revelations 21:19–20)

Peter's foundation is jasper. Andrew's foundation is sapphire. James's foundation is chalcedony. John's foundation is emerald. Philip's foundation is sardonyx. Bartholomew's foundation is sardius. Matthew's foundation is chrysolite. Thomas's foundation is beryl. James the Just's foundation is topaz. Simon's foundation is chrysoprasus. Jude's foundation is jacinth. And Paul's foundation is amethyst.

I'm trying to picture the beauty of this New Jerusalem, but it's more than I can comprehend.

And the twelve gates were twelve pearls; every several gate was of one pearl: and the street of the city was pure gold, as it were transparent glass. (Revelations 21:21)

The gates are made of pearls and the streets made of gold.

And I saw no temple therein: for the Lord God Almighty and the Lamb are the temple of it. (Revelations 21:22)

Unlike the city of Jerusalem here on earth, this New Jerusalem doesn't need a temple. In the old city here, the holiest place in the temple was known as the Holy of Holies. This is where it was said that God dwelt on earth. Since God has changed his dwelling place from heaven to earth, there is no need for a temple. The entire city will be considered the Holy of Holies.

And the city had no need of the sun, neither of the moon, to shine in it: for the glory of God did lighten it, and the Lamb is the light thereof. (Revelations 21:23)

This isn't going to be anything like it is here presently. There will be no day nor night, just the constant light of the presence of the Lord. The entire city will be a source of light which will light up the entire planet. Imagine how you perceive heaven to be presently and that is what earth will be like in the future.

And the nations of them which are saved shall walk in the light of it: and the kings of the earth do bring their glory and honour into it. And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day: for there shall be no night there. And they shall bring the glory and honour of the nations into it. And there shall in no wise enter into it anything that defileth, neither whatsoever worketh abomination, or maketh a lie: but they which are written in the Lamb's book of life. (Revelations 21:24–27)

New Jerusalem will be a busy place of people coming to and fro.

No sin will ever enter into this city, it will be a true city of peace, joy, and tranquility.

REVELATION 22

And he shewed me a pure river of water of life, clear as crystal, proceeding out of the throne of God and of the Lamb. (Revelations 22:1)

Whoever drinks of this water will never again thirst.

In the midst of the street of it, and on either side of the river, was there the tree of life, which bare twelve manner of fruits, and yielded her fruit every month: and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations. (Revelations 22:2)

Whoever eats of the tree of life will never die, not physically, spiritually, or any other fashion.

And there shall be no more curse: but the throne of God and of the Lamb shall be in it; and his servants shall serve him: And they shall see his face; and his name shall be in their foreheads. (Revelations 22:3–4)

Just as the twelve apostles were marked, so shall everyone else have the mark on their foreheads, showing whom they belong to.

And there shall be no night there; and they need no candle, neither light of the sun; for the Lord God giveth them light: and they shall reign for ever and ever. (Revelations 22:5)

As we've established previously, there will be no night nor day. Just the constant brilliance of the Lord shining from the throne and on to the ends of the earth.

And he said unto me, These sayings are faithful and true: and the Lord God of the holy prophets sent his angel to shew unto his servants the things which must shortly be done. (Revelations 22:6)

Something I learned from my communications with the angels. They don't know the future except what is shown to them. The Lord shows his angels what he wants shown to his prophets, that's how it all works. From the Lord to an angel to you or me. Angels are privy to the present and past but not the future since it has the ability to change at a moment's notice. We collectively determine our future and create our own destinies.

Behold, I come quickly: blessed is he that keepeth the sayings of the prophecy of this book. (Revelations 22:7)

Jesus will return like a thief in the night. He has given us the signs which are in this prophecy and others to watch for, so we know when the time is near. Trust me, my friends, it's near, even at the doors.

And I John saw these things, and heard them. And when I had heard and seen, I fell down to worship before the feet of the angel which shewed me these things. Then saith he unto me, See thou do it not: for I am thy fellowservant, and of thy brethren the prophets, and of them which keep the sayings of this book: worship God. (Revelations 22:8-9)

Once again, John falls to his face to worship at the feet of these magnificent beings, the angels. If you have ever seen one, you'll understand why this occurs so often. They are the most glorious beings ever witnessed. Rays of light with pure positive energy emanate from them which envelop John.

It's always the same message from them, don't worship them, worship the Lord instead as they do. Day and night, the Heavenly Host worships God; they are a wonderful example for the rest of us to follow.

And he saith unto me, Seal not the sayings of the prophecy of this book: for the time is at hand. (Revelations 22:10)

John was told earlier to seal up the words from the little book. Daniel was told by an angel to seal up a vision he witnessed.

This is not the case here. John is told to make seven copies of this vision for the seven churches of Asia “for the time is at hand.” This time that is at hand has been going on for over 1,900 years now as this manuscript is written.

From the time of Adam to the time of Noah, these thousand years is the time of the fall of man, the Pre-Flood stage. From the time of Noah to the time of Abraham, these thousand years is the time of the Post-Flood stage of repopulation. From the time of Abraham to the time of David, for one thousand years, this was the age of the Patriarchs. From the time of David to the time of Jesus, for one thousand years, this was the age of Israel. From the time of Jesus to the time of the second coming, this almost two thousand years is the age of the Church. From the time of his second coming to the time of New Jerusalem, these thousand years is the Golden Age. From the time of New Jerusalem to eternity, this time will be the age of Heaven on Earth. “Thy Kingdom come, thy will be done, on Earth as it is in Heaven.”

He that is unjust, let him be unjust still: and he which is filthy, let him be filthy still: and he that is righteous, let him be righteous still: and he that is holy, let him be holy still. (Revelations 22:11)

This is a warning to those who do not heed these words of this prophecy. If you are going to be unjust because the Lord delays his coming, then stay unjust. Yet if you are righteous, then stay righteous and watch for the coming of the Lord.

And, behold, I come quickly; and my reward is with me, to give every man according as his work shall be.
(Revelations 22:12)

The gift given will be the gift of life on earth and in heaven. After we pass from this world a first time, we will be given the gift of life in heaven. Then during the golden age, we will be given the life on earth during this age for a thousand years. After the defeat of Gog and Magog, we will inherit the earth forevermore with the coming of New Jerusalem. These are the gifts which will be given us from Jesus, the gift of life.

I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end, the first and the last. (Revelations 22:13)

Jesus is Lord, pure and simple. He is the eternal God almighty made into the flesh. He is the first thought and the last action.

He is the right and the left, the up and the down, the positive and the negative, and all things in between these two polarities. Jesus is the soul, which created the spirit, the mind, and the body. The soul of Jesus is, the spirit of Jesus feels, the mind of Jesus thinks, and the body of Jesus does. All things rolled up into one being, the beginning and the end, amen.

Blessed are they that do his commandments that they may have right to the tree of life, and may enter in through the gates into the city. (Revelations 22:14)

The tree of eternal life, his gift to us. The city here is the New Jerusalem which now lies in heaven but will soon be on earth, the city of paradise.

For without are dogs, and sorcerers, and whoremongers, and murderers, and idolaters, and whosoever loveth and maketh a lie. (Revelations 22:15)

This is that part that will be burned off in the fire and not let into the Kingdom of God. When a spirit leaves its life, it will enter up to the Father and the negative part of that being will be burned off as slag is burned away from pure gold. The part that is not burned off is not allowed into the kingdom.

I Jesus have sent mine angel to testify unto you these things in the churches. I am the root and the offspring of David, and the bright and morning star. (Revelations 22:16)

Jesus, who now knows the future, then gives it to the angel to give to John. The angel knows only what is given it and then transfers this to John in a language the apostle can understand and then translate to his churches. Angels are messengers who are sent to give us messages that they are supposed to give, nothing more, to do so would be a violation.

And the Spirit and the bride say, Come. And let him that heareth say, Come. And let him that is athirst come. And whosoever will, let him take the water of life freely. (Revelations 22:17)

The water of life, like the tree of life, gives us our nourishment from above. We can do all things through Christ, who strengthens us with the water and tree of life. Thus, we receive our food and water for the day from these two sources of heaven.

For I testify unto every man that heareth the words of the prophecy of this book, If any man shall add unto these things, God shall add unto him the plagues that are written in this book: And if any man shall take away from the words of the book of this prophecy, God shall take away his part out of the book of life, and out of the holy city, and from the things which are written in this book. (Revelations 22:18–19)

This was a warning to those seven churches and those down through history that wanted to edit John's prophecy.

He which testifieth these things saith, Surely I come quickly. Amen. Even so, come, Lord Jesus. (Revelations 22:20)

This is a promise given to all those saints who from the time of John to the tribulation saints. The Lord's promise is that he will come quickly.

I know what you're saying: it's almost been 2,000 years since these words were given to the tribulation saints. That doesn't sound very quickly, does it? Well, the Lord's time is not our time; to heaven, this 2,000 years has been but the blink of an eye. The main thing to remember in all this is that he will come like a thief in the night, so those who are called and chosen need to remember that just because Jesus has delayed his arrival doesn't mean he's not going to keep his word. He will arrive and gather his faithful from the four corners of this planet like a farmer gathers his crop.

In our future here on planet earth, there will be trying times for the faithful. No matter how bad times will get, always remember Jesus's words that he will return. Even so, come quickly, my Lord. Amen.
